DEAD CAME TO LIFE

BATE COURT ROOM YESTER-DAY AFTERNOON.

MRS. HARTMAN SURPRISED.

SHE HAD TOLD ABOUT HER HUS-BAND'S DEATH AND HER SUB-SEQUENT MARRIAGE.

ALL THE SAD DETAILS GIVEN.

Husband From an Adjoin-

The dead practically came to life in the probate court yesterday afternoon, when Joseph Hartman confronted his wife just as she concluded a recital of his death and her subsequent marriage to a man named Smith. Hartman's presence proved not only that the woman had perjured herself, but if she told the truth about Smith was also a bigamist. The appearance of her first husband completely disconcerted Mrs. Hartman, or Smith, which-ever she may be, and she was allowed to leave the witness stand without further questioning. The denouement was the result of a well laid plan, and so wholly unexpected by all concerned with the case, except Attorney Daniel W. Doty, that it produced a scene unusually dramatic. For Mrs. Hartman, it was a case of "Lazerus, come forth," but unlike the Biblical character, the resurrected husband was not swathed in grave clothes. On the other hand. he was attired in natty garments of a late cut, which gave him an altogether alive and up-to-date appearance as he rehearsed his story to the court. The preliminary proceedings which led to the startling finale came about through the efforts of E. P. Savage, secretary of the Children's home, to secure the guardianship of a three-yearold girl belonging to the Hartman woman. Application for papers in the matter were made to the probate court a week ago, when Mrs. Hartman asked for a continuance until yesterday. In support of the request Mrs. Hartman, claiming to be Mrs. Smith, told the court at that time that her first husband had died at Montevideo, Minn., last July, detailing the circumstances of his death and burial with the exactness of an eye witness. The place of burial was named and the circumstances of the husband's last illness reviewed with a pathos which moved even the feelings of those used to the sad tales. After the grief over the loss of her first husband, Mrs. Smith told how she had subsequently mar-ried Smith at Hudson, Wis., and displayed a marriage license which she claimed was the document of legal sanction to the union. Mr. Smith, she said, was a traveling man at that time in another part of the state and a continuance was desired until yesterday when he would be home to aid the mother in securing possession of her child, for which she declared she was perfectly able and anxious to care was perfectly able and anxious to care. The case went over, but in the meantime Mr. Doty, in the capacity of counsel for the children's home, ascertained that Joseph Hartman, father of the child and the woman's first husband, was alive and residing in St. Paul. Some investigation located him in the employ of the Ohio Coal company, and when the case came up in the probate court yesterday, Mr. Hartman was in a side room to listen to the testimony of his wife and ready to confront her of his wife and ready to confront her at the proper moment The woman had reiterated her story of a week ago concerning her husband's death, when Mr. Doty beckoned Hartman forth. Dismay, surprise and anger plainly showed themselves in Mrs. Smith's features as they worked con-vulsively for a few moments and then she "threw up the sponge." She ad-mitted that Hartman was her husmitted that Hartman was her husband, but claimed that the story of his death as related to the court had been told her by a brother-in-law who was now in Wisconsin. The interests of the parties connected with the children's home had been served and Mrs. Hartman was not further interrogated as to her history. Index Willight has as to her history. Judge Willrich then delivered a severe lecture to Hartman regarding his duty to the child in ques-tion, and upon the latter promising to support the baby, constituted Mr. Say.

Smith did not appear in the proceedings yesterday as the woman stated he was at Anoka superintending the work of a construction crew. Mrs. Hartman is only twenty years old.

Second Application for a Receiver for Topliff Denied.

A second application for the appointment of a receiver for the firm of George R. Topliff and Frederick L. Topliff, co-partners as the Topliff Jewelry company, was denied by Judge Kelly yesterday. The petition was made by Jacobson Brothers, of New York, to prevent the Gorham Manufork, to prevent the Gornam Manufacturing company from entering into possession of the stock of the Topliff company, alleged to have been received by preference which debarred other creditors. The allegations were the same as in the application in the De Puy case which Judge Kelly denied the previous day, and he based his action of vesterday on the same grounds tion of yesterday on the same grounds then stated that the petition had been

Vill Come Up at the New Term of Court.

Assistant County Attorney Domnelly appeared before Judge Brill late yesterday afternoon and secured a continuance of all criminal cases still untried until the December term of court which opens Monday. At that time the case of John Adler, accused of killing Bernard Nellis, June 28 last, will come Bernard Nellis, June 28 last, will come on for a preliminary hearing as to the mental condition of the prisoner. It is claimed that Adler is at present insane and incompetent to be tried for his crime. Whether or not he was mentally responsible when he killed Nellis is another issue in the case which may not be decided at this time should it be established that Adler is for the present, at least, insane. It was the belief ent, at least, insane. It was the belief in some quarters at the time of the killing that Adler was mentally un-sound, and should it be shown that such was the case, the charge of mudder in the first degree will not be pushed by the state.

A sequel to the arrest of O. E. Barrett in this city last summer on the charge of conducting a fraudulent banking institution at McIntyre, Iowa, was begun in the district court yesterday when the Diebold Safe and Lock company filed the complaint in an action against Barrett and George C. Carpenter to recover posession of a safe valued at $675. The complaint charges that Barrett represented to plaintiff that he was an officer of the McIntyre bank and also cashler of a branch institution at Maple Lake, Minn, stating that he wished to purchase a safe for the latter place. The safe was purchased in March with the promise that it should be paid for in May, and subsequently shipped to Maple Lake. Since the sale plaintiff has frequently demanded payment, and now alleges that Barrett contemplated fraud when the purchase was made. Carpenter is a party to the action in that he is said to claim a lien on the safe.

SELF-DENIAL WEEK. Important Period to Members of

Salvation Army, Friends and soldiers of the army are armed with collecting cards, and by all

no small amount of good for itself financially.

The local division has observed the week with the rest of the army and donations from members and friends have been forthcoming, sometimes to the amount of $5. This often times means real self-denial on the part of the contributor, many of the members of the army going without that which they need for the sake of serving the of the army going without that which they need for the sake of serving the cause in this way. Wednesday the local army held a half-night prayer meeting at the headquarters on Wacouta street and had an attendance of over sixty people most of the evening. The week's observance ends Monday, but contributions will be received till Wednesday and should be sent to Ensign Jewell, 441 Wacouta street, or mailed to Commander Booth-Tucker, 120-124 West Fourteenth street, New York city.

At the present time the condition of the Salvation Army in St. Paul is in all points stronger and better than it has been for some time. During the last four months there have been about forty-five conversions. About half of this number the army will be able to enroll as soldiers. There have been two young women rescued during that time who came from the very lowthat time who came from the very low-est of the slums, and who are said to be living at present the very best of lives. It is expected the army will be able to open two more local posts, one in West St. Paul and one in East St. Paul. These will be English posts and will make in all three English corps and one Swedish. The number of subscriptions to the War Cry for the local army have been raised from 66 to 225 during the summer. The band is not on the streets at present evilon to the on the streets at present owing to the absence of one of the members, who returns after Christmas. Retrenchment Committee Questions Rundlett About Expenses

The special joint committee on re-trenchment held another session yes-terday afternoon. City Engineer Rund-lett was called in and questioned con-cerning the expenses of his depart-ment. The committee first inquired as ment. The committee first inquired as to the necessity of employing sprinkling inspectors. During the past season five sprinkling inspectors were employed at a salary of $60 a month each, for a period of about six months, the total cost amounting to $2,160.

Mr. Rundlett was asked if he did not hink that the expiraliting inspectors.

Mr. Rundlett was asked if he did not think that the sprinkling inspectors could be dispensed with and the work done under the supervision of the police. Mr. Rundlett said that he did not believe that the work could be done as satisfactorily under the supervision of the police. It required considerable knowledge and experience to judge of the amount of water to be used on the streets in accordance with the variastreets in accordance with the varia-tions in the weather and the condition of the various streets. The sprinkling contract, Mr. Rundlett said, was the most troublesome of all in his depart-

Questioned concerning the necessity of the assistant engineers, Mr. Rundlett said that they were absolutely indispersable to the department. Moreover, the entire expenses of the city engineer's department had been reduced over fifty per cent.

class of service. In the interior arrangement special attention has been given to affording ample room for the convenience of guests, the arrangement of the tables being such as to promote that desirable consideration. The sliverware, glassware, china and napery are of an excellent character, and in every detail the appointments are of the highest standard of excellence. Meals are served from a menu replete with the substantials and delicacles of the season, and the service in all respects challenges criticism."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

More California passengers travel in Tourist cars under Mr. Phillips' management than in any other way. The Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad has the exclusive right to operate Phillips Tourist Cars, which makes that the Itavorite line. They combine cheapness in ticket rates, superior finish of cars, select class of patrons, excellency of road bed, the best route and gentlemanly and experienced managers to look after the travelers.

Cars now leave St. Paul at 9:15 a. m. every Tuesday, via the Southern Route, arriving at Los Angeles Saturday afternoon: and at 7 p. m. every Thursday via the Scenic Line of the World, reaching California in four days.
