Several pictures of Satan are on exhibition in the British museum. They look like the devil.

With Peffer out of it, the next United States senate will at least be considerably less hirsute.

Ambassador Bayard merely gave the British a tip that he was still able to buy his own books.

Does it occur to anybody that too many Ohio men are laying pipe for places in the cabinet?

Our navy is getting into such prime fighting shape that probably no nation will dare to hazard tackling it.

Mark Hanna and Tom Reed met yesterday at the national capitol. Ice froze in the room while they were talking twenty minutes.

The most sensitive horses in the world live in Indiana. A high-bred equine at Lawrenceburg committed suicide on being hitched to a cart.

George Gould has not yet joined a temperance society. He has just obtained by personal application a license for the sale of liquors in a New Jersey club house.

The young people of this nation must be telling each other by word of mouth how seriously love affects them. There was a postal deficit of over $8,000,000 last year.

The fighting editors of the South have their war paint on all the time. A Louisiana journalist has just killed a man who was a little too aggressive on short acquaintance.

A Colorado lawyer named Elliott declares that the old original Garden of Eden was located in Colorado. Give a Colorado lawyer a little room and he will claim everything.

Mr. Lorimer, of Chicago, says he will resign his seat in congress to run for mayor of his beloved town. Suppose Mr. Lorimer, you should run for mayor of Chicago and be defeated.

There is always sunshine somewhere. It will only look for it. In spite of the fact that the whole celery crop of Kalamazoo has been ruined, the price of celery will remain the same as last year.

There are more ways than one to get the girl one loves. A young Kentuckian got a license to marry, the girl's mother objected, and he got out a writ of habeas corpus to secure possession of his prize.

Light is breaking in Indiana. Benjamin Harrison says he is not a candidate for the senatorship, does not desire the nomination and could not accept it. That ought to be sufficiently explicit.

A Wisconsin man has made a will which is a novelty of the first water. He gives $4,000 to a lodge with a stipulation that its members meet once a year, read his will and drink two kegs of beer at his sitting.

St. Louis is in a position to shake hands with St. Paul. The Republic yesterday morning said: "During the past forty-eight hours the criminal element of this city have run the entire gamut of crimes prohibited by the statutes."

The Hon. Wash Hensley is running for mayor of Chicago, but the honorable gentleman positively refuses to permit his mail carriers to wear Hensley buttons because they loved Mr. Hensley or Mr. Hensley's whiskers, and not because they wanted to see the handsome postmaster become mayor of the wicked city of Chicago.

FORGE TARIFF ISSUE

DINGLEY REVENUE-SILVER BILL TAKEN UP BY DECISIVE SENATE VOTE.

THEN ALLOWED TO LAPSE.

ACTION NOT SO IMPORTANT AS INDICATED BY THE ROLL CALL.

SOME SHARP PERSONAL REMARKS. The Republicans Taunted by Allen, of Nebraska, for a Lack of Good Faith.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate today, by the decisive vote of 35 to 21, adopted a motion to take up the Dingley tariff-silver bill. Unexpected and surprising as this action was, it did not have the significance which the vote itself appears to convey. Immediately following it, Mr. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, one of the Republican members of the finance committee, moved to recommit the bill to the committee, and the morning hour when, at 2 o'clock, the entire matter lapsed as though no vote had been taken.

Neither the bill nor the Aldrich motion to recommit enjoys any privilege or precedence as a result of the action today. It served, however, for some lively parliamentary fencing between Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.), the author of the motion, and Messrs. Chandler, Hale and Aldrich, as well as for an exhibition of the uncertain and shifty elements within the senate when a vote is precipitated on an important public question. The debate was at times sharp and personal. Mr. Allen is very blunt in his expressions, and he taunted the Republican senators for shrinking from the Dingley bill after conducting a tariff campaign.

"It has come out from the powers that be in the Republican party," said Mr. Allen at one point, "that with the incoming administration we are to have an extraordinary session of congress for the purpose of revising the tariff laws."

Mr. Chandler reminded Mr. Allen that not only had tariff work, but free silver in the recent election, had been lost by the Republican party. He urged Mr. Allen to aid in a genuine effort to execute the will of the people. Mr. Hale took occasion to state with frankness that the Republican senators expected an actual majority in the next senate, which would make tariff legislation more easy of accomplishment than it is now.

Mr. Aldrich's first move was to ask to have the bill brought back to the floor with instructions to strike off the silver amendment, but later he accepted the suggestion of Mr. Harris to omit the instructions. It was in this form that the question of recommitment was pending when 2 o'clock arrived and cut off the debate.

When asked to explain the motive of his motion in this way, Mr. Aldrich replied: "I had no motive except to be used to say in the army, to feel the pulse of the country as to the attitude of the Republicans towards the tariff. I am so anxious to become a lawyer, and I think I have at least succeeded in demonstrating that they have no intention of trying to do anything."

Mr. Aldrich's motion was referred to a committee of the senate, but he intimated that he probably would not be in the senate next year.

Mr. Frye (Rep., Me.), president pro tem of the senate, followed the chair today, in the absence of the vice president, Mr. Platt (Rep., Conn.), president of the joint select committee of congress on the question of alcohol used in the arts, etc., and offered a resolution for a continuation of this committee. After this came a flood of bills, covering every phase of legislation, including an anti-trust bill and a measure to withdraw small notes from circulation, by Mr. Shoup; for the territorial officers of the United States, by Mr. Sherman; for the resolution for the continuance of the joint committee inquiring into the question of alcohol used in the arts was adopted.

Mr. Morrill (Rep., Vt.), offered a resolution evidently directed against the next congressional library for proposed. The resolution recites that the new library shall not be used for any purpose than library purposes. The resolution was referred to a committee.

Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.), offered a resolution reciting that it is the settled doctrine of this senate that no state has the power to effect the repeal of contracts by legislation or otherwise.

Mr. Chandler (Rep., N. H.), secured the adoption, without comment, of a sweeping resolution directing the committee on interstate commerce to inquire into the prevention of competition by the Joint Traffic Association, among the public lands of the country; also the reported combination of the flour and milling interests of the country; also the reported combination of the wheat and flour interests on public lands in Oklahoma territory for actual and bonafide settlers, and the refusal of the public lands to be made a special order for the low immigration bill. The calendar was then taken up, the first bill being an appropriation of $60,000 for representatives of Erskine S. Allen for an invention in breech loading guns. The bill was passed.

In this part, Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.), made an unexpected move, by proposing to take up the Dingley tariff bill, with its pending free silver substitute. Mr. Aldrich's objection, Mr. Allen moved to take up the bill. There was much commotion at the unexpected appearance of the Dingley tariff bill, and the leaders of the various elements.

Mr. Platt gained time by having the bill read in full. After a whispered conference between Messrs. Platt and Aldrich, the latter withdrew his objection to taking up the bill.

"I renew it and object," interposed Mr. Aldrich.

"Then I move to take up the bill," said Mr. Allen with emphasis. This precipitated a roll call, the question being, shall the Dingley tariff bill, with its substitute, be taken up. The roll call proceeded amid the closest attention and interest. It resulted as follows:

Yeas—Republicans: Aldrich, Cameron, Chandler, Clark, Davis, Edmonds, Eyer, Gannett, Gurn, Hale, Hambridge, Hays, Lodge, McMillan, Mitchell (Or.), Morrill, Nelson, Perkins, Platt, Prichard, Quay, Sherman and Wolcott. Democrats: Gordon, Morgan, Murphy, Pugh, Ross, Smith. Populists: Allen, Butler, Kyle, Peffer, Stewart. Independents: Pettigrew, Tola.

Nays—Republicans: Baker, Carter, Democrats: Blackburn, Blanchard, Daniel, Faulkner, Gibson, Gorman, Harris, Hill, Jones (Ark.), Martin, Mills, Palmer, Parco, Turpie, Vest and Withall. Independents: Gannon, Dubois.

The announcement of the vote was no less a surprise than Mr. Allen's first move. Mr. Aldrich quickly interposed a motion to refer the bill to the committee on finance, with instructions to report back the bill without the free silver amendment. This brought Mr. Allen to his feet.

ENERGETIC PROTEST. He said the Republican party had prevailed at the recent election and was now looking forward to enacting tariff legislation. Throughout the campaign they had promised the people tariff legislation. Why, therefore, should they hesitate now? The Nebraska senator declared that the senator across the aisle did not want to take up the tariff question.

Mr. Chandler responded, suggesting that the recent election had not only brought forward the tariff question, but had also brought forward the question of independent action by the United States was alone concerned. He asked, therefore, whether Mr. Allen was really acting in good faith in his desire to take up the Dingley bill and free it from the silver amendment. Mr. Allen replied that the silver question was far from settled by the recent election. Six million votes had registered for silver. So far as the tariff was concerned, he wanted the Republicans to get into the saddle. Mr. Allen declared that the Republicans had abandoned the Dingley bill.

"Nothing of the kind," remarked Mr. Callaghan, sitting from his seat. "It is so announced in Republican newspapers today," declared Mr. Aldrich.

"Let me ask the senator," interposed Mr. Chandler, "if he is so anxious about tariff legislation, will he aid to rid this bill of the silver amendment so that the original tariff measure can be acted upon?"

"I will act in my own way," responded Mr. Allen, without bowing his neck to the Republican party. Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Allen indulged in a further colloquy, the former endeavoring to secure time for a final vote.

PAYNE HAS THE CALL HIS DEATH IN DOUBT

REASON TO BELIEVE HE WILL GET THE OFFICE OF POSTMASTER GENERAL.

EVANS MUST SEEK OTHER PIE.

ALLISON TOO INDEPENDENT TO BECOME SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

MIGHT DECLINE A PREMIERSHIP. New Light on the Hunters Island Boundary Secured From an Old Map.

Special to the Globe. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—When Harrison's administration began Henry C. Payne was anxious to be postmaster general, but John Wannamaker was the recipient of that distinction. Payne has ever since desired the position. Last spring he was regarded as an Alliston man, because of his close relations with his month until the Republican national committee convened in St. Louis last June. On that occasion it was he who made the motion that Hanna be made chairman. After some discussion of pressing matters, it was Payne who moved that full power be given to Hanna to manage the campaign. When the headquarters were established in Chicago, it was Payne who became Hanna's alter ego. He now travels with Hanna, and is undoubtedly on the inside of the national Republican organization. He seems to have the call on the postmaster generalship.

They who place Henry Clay Evans, of Tennessee, in the postoffice possibilities and name Payne for the interior department port folio, forget that a lawyer must be at the head of the interior department. It is not a clerical position. He is slated for this management of the postoffice department, and Evans must look for something else at the pie counter.

An Iowa man of rank, who is a long-time personal friend of your correspondent, says: "Allison will undoubtedly state at the position of secretary of state, and look to the postoffice department when it was offered him by Garfield, Arthur and Harrison. Allison gave no reason for declining the cabinet position, but he is reported to have said to Harrison: 'If I were assured that I would be secretary of the treasury, without any possibility of being secretary of the treasury, too, and the average secretary is only a clerk, I could only accept with a safe assurance that I would have absolute charge of the department, and that I would interfere whatever.' Allison will look at the state department in the same manner, and will, of course, decline the proffered honor."

HUNTERS ISLAND IS OURS. Heatwave Receives a Map Which Conclusively Proves the Fact.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Representative Heatwave today received a map of the island of St. Ignace, Alaska, showing the true northern boundary of the United States at Hunters Island and all the water course that it occupies. The island is a narrow strip of land, continuous water course around Hunter's island is at the northern side. Around the opposite side there are two narrow water courses, one of which is the boundary between the United States and Great Britain provides that the boundary between the United States and Canada shall be along the line of the water course, and this shows conclusively that Hunter's island, the ownership of which has long been in dispute, belongs to the United States. The map also shows that the settlement rights where two or more persons settle on the same land, and the survey; to adjust the accounts of John Y.
