EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE MINNESOTA STATE EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION DISCUSS MUTUAL INTERESTS.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE ANNUAL MEETING WHICH IS TO BE HELD SOON.

THE NORTH STAR DAILY PRESS.

Some Members of That Association Also Have a Little Con-

A meeting was held last night at the Windsor hotel of the officers, executive committee and some other members of the Minnesota State Editorial Association...

The Ferris-Dare combine has apparently organized its section of the state with whip hand uppermost.

If the morning train brings the right kind of people in the right number, the Ferris-Dare and Underleaf factions will try to get together at the Windsor this afternoon to form an offensive and defensive alliance.

I am going to sit in this caucus and take it that two candidates in the race, the strongest of the three comprising the field, and Mr. Jones, it is being said that we propose to form a combination to beat out Jones.

There was a general interchange of views and suggestions made for the consideration of the legislative committee.

Under the constitution of the association the meetings must be held in St. Paul during legislative years, and the members seem to feel that the coming gathering will be the largest and perhaps the most important in the history of the association.

TO SAVE LIVE GAME

MINNESOTA, WISCONSIN AND MICHIGAN MAY FORM A TRIPLE UNION FOR UNIFICATION OF LAWS

RELATING TO THE KILLING OF THE FURRED AND FEATHERED CREATURES.

OTHER MATTERS TO COME UP.

Legislators Will Be Asked to Pass a New Code to Govern the Wilds.

One of the most important subjects that has come before the state game and fish commission in a number of months will come up today when that body meets.

The adjoining states on the west have had an amicable understanding in respect to the enforcement of the game laws against such violators as may cross the boundary line, but the states on the east have been less fortunate.

There is at present a difference of about two weeks in the open seasons of Wisconsin and Minnesota, and at today's meeting there will be present Charles T. Osborne, from Michigan, and T. Ellerson, from Wisconsin, who will ask the Minnesota commission to prepare a memorial to the legislature asking for such changes in the game laws as may make the laws uniform throughout.

It is desired to get the game authorities of the three states together first, and then agree upon a basis of protection, which shall be submitted to each of the three legislatures in the states involved.

By this means, it is thought, much of the trouble that has been experienced in the past with respect to the difficulty of holding game near the boundaries at seasons of the year between the one state and the other will be avoided.

The movement has gained widespread enthusiasm in Wisconsin, and if any agreement can be reached by the respective commissions, there seems little likelihood of the bill prepared falling of passage in the legislature.

The Wisconsin law has been kept constant before the voters of that state, and in many quarters it was almost as prominent as the national party issues.

In Michigan, too, there has been a lively interest, and the Minnesota Game and Fish Protective association has, by dissemination of literature and the exertion of considerable personal influence on the part of its members.

There are number of other matters to come before the commission which have accumulated since the last meeting.

There have been some heavy seizures of game lately, and Executive Agent Fullerton will have an interesting report to present.

The commission will also have some suggestions to make to the legislature, whether the tri-state agreement is adopted or not.

SOMETHING IN THE NAME.

So Ramsey County Medical Society Will Not Change.

The December meeting of the Ramsey County Medical Society was held last evening at the Lowry Arcade which street when the assembly first place of meeting for the association.

The owners of the building offered a free use of the quarters for a term of five years, and the society decided to accept the proposition by an overwhelming vote.

A proposition to change the name of the society was introduced, but the society was not in favor of it.

Many of the members believed that the name of the society should remain as it is, and the proposition was rejected.

The society will continue to meet at the Lowry Arcade, and the members are pleased with the arrangement.

HAD TO CALL IT OFF

CARNIVAL DIRECTORS HAVE TO GIVE UP THE EVENT THIS YEAR.

NOT ENOUGH COLD WEATHER TO MAKE ICE WITH WHICH TO BUILD THE PROPOSED ICE STRUCTURE.

PROSPECTS WERE NEVER BETTER EXCEPT THAT THE WEATHER FAILED TO CO-OPERATE WITH THE CITIZENS OF ST. PAUL.

The weather king could not be appealed and consequently the great carnival project for 1897 has been officially declared off by the executive committee.

The action was taken yesterday at the noon meeting of the committee, and the announcement will cause regret. The conditions which made the abandonment necessary, however, were such as could not be obviated.

The soft weather of the past three weeks has left the site for the proposed carnival festivities in a miserable condition. There is much water over the spot.

There has not been sufficient clear ice formed with which to construct the palace and the other buildings. The committee therefore decided to return all the liberal subscriptions which have been made to the carnival fund and to pay for the expenses already incurred.

The beautiful plans for the Parthenon prepared by Read & Stem will be preserved until another year, when it is hoped the conditions will be more favorable.

Chairman Bowley, of the finance committee, presented a very flattering report. It showed that there had been an unusually generous response and that the fund collected would have been ample sufficient to carry out the most elaborate winter program.

The total subscribed was greater than that of any previous year. It was shown that thirty-five or forty days of hard labor, in very cold weather, would be needed to complete the great enterprise, and there is not sufficient time left to do the work, even if the weather should become favorable.

The weather in its entirety was immense and quite overshadowed any attempt ever made in this country, and probably in any other.

Outside of the beautiful Parthenon, which was to be roofed and floored, so that masquerade balls, band concerts and other entertainments might be held there, there was to have been a trotting track, twelve toboggan slides, a corso, where the parade of equipages was to have been held, a grand stand, with a seating capacity of 10,000, the largest skating rink ever built in the Northwest, a football field on ice, polo and hockey rink, a midway pavilion, with all the latest novelties and portions of which were to have been taken by charitable institutions with a full display of handsome wares; and the directors also had the refusal of a trained moose from the Duluth, which, as its master facetiously put it, was ready to trot against any horse in the world for "money, marbles or chalk."

A most elaborate plan for illuminating the grounds and palace had been arranged, thanks to the St. Paul City Railway company. Owing to the fact that the carnival was to be held down town, the money found to have been more promptly than ever freely given, which at Charles H. Oster, and so far as the funds were concerned, there was absolutely no uncertainty. Between Third and Eighth streets, on Robert street alone, the committee raised $4,100, which is the highest terms of praise for the public spirit shown by the merchants.

The fireworks were to have been more elaborate than those of the two other carnivals combined. All the attendants on the grounds were to have been dressed in Greek costumes in keeping with the structure. Eighteen clubs have been registered, and any number of suits have been bought and ordered by Chicago, which has been watching the costumes worn here in winter carnivals, sent for a series of suits, and they have been sent and will be worn during the winter festivities in that city.

NEBRASKA WANTS ONE. May Copy Minnesota's Board of Corrections and Charities.

Secretary Hart of the state board of corrections and charities, yesterday received a notice from Lincoln, Neb., that the home of William Jennings Bryan would, on the 26th inst., convene a state conference of people interested in charities looking to the establishment in that state of a board of corrections and charities similar to that in operation in this state.

Mr. Hart will probably be unable to attend on account of the meeting of the legislature here during the time.

PHONES USED BY THE CITY. Committee on Streets is Seeking Some Information.

The committee on streets of the assembly held an executive session yesterday afternoon. Comptroller McCarran was summoned, and the matter of what the city received from the Northwestern Telephone company and what it should receive was discussed. Present at the session were Assemblymen Thompson, Dix, Craig, Reardon and Day. Chairman Thompson, after the session adjourned, said the comptroller did not have ready the data about the number of phones used by the city in the various departments, and the amount paid the company. For this reason no action was taken, nor would there be any until the comptroller had submitted a detailed report.

GOV. CLOUGH IN THE SHADE. His Excellency Marked His Fiftieth Birthday Yesterday.

Yesterday was the fiftieth birthday of Gov. Clough, and the women who had passed up the governor coldly Christmas day atoned for their neglect by the dainty courtesy of the presentation of a magnificent bouquet of fifty roses, fifty count 'em, fifty. The presentation of the flowers was entrusted to a committee consisting of Misses Baker, Brackett and Gibbons, and while a few of the horrid men about the building insisted on being present at the presentation, it is reported that the ceremonies were as admirable as the exclusive exercises planned by the male contingent when they gave the governor his loving cup.

The flowers were accompanied by the following appropriate verse: Fifty roses bright and fair, Fifty years of governor's chair; Fifty maidens' glances bring To Gov. Clough—better than a king.
