THE BALANCE OF TRADE.

It is only a year since Republican papers were pointing derisively to the paltry $23,000,000 of excess of our exports over imports as another proof

Another year has rolled around, with its summary of our sales and purchases abroad, and our Republican friends are dumfounded by the revelation made that they are, for the most part, as silent as McKinley was on the money question until after his nomination,

What our views are as to this balance of trade theory, and whether we agree or differ with our fellow workers on the Republican press, is immaterial to our consideration of it from their point of view.

And, retaining the favorable balance-of-trade tariff, does it not open to the coming administration a happy escape from our financial and currency problems?

THE CANADIAN WAY.

Canadian tariff methods of gaining information for the Dominion ways and means committee differ quite materially from those adopted in this country people, might be emulated here. A Winnipeg news item says that Premier Greenway has sent each of the forty members of the Manitoba legislature a letter authorizing them to select from among their constituents "one good, intelligent farmer to give evidence before the Dominion tariff commission" at Ottawa.

In another phase this Canadian method differs very materially from our own copyrighted and patented "American system." Mr. Greenway authorizes the members to assure their delegate constituent that his expenses will be defrayed by the province or the general government, it is immaterial which.

If the gentleman is so callow as to suppose that the treasury would be made to bear the expenses of these gentlemen on their annual excursions down to Washington to advise the honorable ways and means committee

The annual banquet and entertainment given to the grand and local officers and members of Columbia Lodge I. O. O. F. by District Deputy Grand Master W. F. Dyer was held last night, Mr. Dyer presiding over the guests present, prominent among whom were Grand Master F. L. Powers, Past Grand Master H. J. Strouse, Grand Secretary G. W. McMillan, and others.

A bill has been introduced into the legislature for the consideration of our grave and worthy signers, our "most approved good masters," providing a state board of what shall we call it, tensors? whose duty it shall be, for a moderate compensation, to examine into the qualifications of those who now practice the art tonsorial, and for those who may in the hereafter aspire to that ancient and honorable vocation.

The objects of the measure are, we are assured by its promoters, twofold; first, the preservation of the health of the public who get shaved from the dangers of those numerous ills of the flesh to which they are now subjected when undergoing the manipulations and operations of the tilting and revolving chair.

ARE GLAD TO SEE HIM.

Members of "New County Fair" Welcome Mr. Burgess. Nell Burgess arrived in St. Paul last evening in search of the company, or rather the manager of the company, which has been playing "The County Fair." Manager Brinkerhoff agreed to pay $150 per week royalty to Burgess, but neglected to forward the amount until after the closing of the fair.

IS DUE TO GO BACK.

John O'Brien has been out of Como a Day. "If it was again, John?" queried Capt. Roulston, as the central pipe station last evening, and a tough specimen of humanity was brought in by the conductor of the patrol wagon.

We do not believe that these among these dissenters who sit in the chair of honor more or less frequently appreciate the resulting advantages to themselves from the passage of this bill through all the stages of committee sittings, general orders, calendars, engrossment and enrollment to the consummation of the gracious signature of his excellency.

Clarence Gardner, a brakeman in the employ of the Soo road, living with his parents at 1029 Fauguet street, died at Manistique, Mich., Sunday afternoon last. He was about 35 years of age. His death was caused by a fall from the train.

DAIRY AND FOOD REPORT.

Mr. Anderson's Review of His Department's Work. Bert Anderson, state dairy and food commissioner, in his biennial report, which has just been issued, states some interesting facts about the work in Minnesota.

The farmers of the state are rapidly discharging the scrub cows and are replacing them with the best dairy breeds. They are also purchasing improved machinery and appliances for the manufacture of butter and cheese.

It is certainly very gratifying to me to be able to state authoritatively that the sale of oleomargarine in this state, as far as Minnesota is concerned, there never was a time in the history of this department when the state was so free of the article as during the past year.
