

BULLETIN OF THE ST. PAUL GLOBE.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 10, 1897. Weather for Today—Fair and Colder.

PAGE 1. Affairs in Crete Are Serious. Rebels on Weyler's Flank. Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher Very Low. The Bradley Martin Ball. Collapse of the Steel Rail Pool.

PAGE 2. Queer Attempt at Suicide. Burglars on the Hill. The Catchism Too Antiquated. Social News of St. Paul.

PAGE 3. Mind Reading in Benson Case. The News of Minneapolis. Winona Normal School Inspected. A Congressman Sows the Wind.

PAGE 4. Editorial. Populists Vote for Pickler. Arbitration Treaty Debated.

PAGE 5. Civil Service for Big Cities. The Anderson Bill's Quietness. Minnesota to Continue Hanging. Reeves' Primary Bill.

PAGE 6. Bar Silver, 64 3/4c. Cash Wheat in Chicago, 75 3/4c. Stocks Weak With Slight Changes. Society for Prevention of Cruelty.

PAGE 7. Great Northern-Northern Pacific. Giant Engine Arrives in St. Paul. Wants of the People.

PAGE 8. Decisions Affecting Cities. The St. Paul Poultry Show. Meeting of American Wheelmen.

EVENTS TODAY. Metropolitan—Ingham, 2.30. Richelieu, 8.15. Grand—Shaft No. 2, 2.30, 8.15. Capitol—Legislature, 10.

MOVEMENTS OF STEAMSHIPS. NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Sailed: Nomadic, Liverpool; Aller, Bremen. Arrived: Pennsylvania, Baltimore. NAPLES—Arrived: Olympia, New York.

All eyes are on Carson City. Now, Kandyoh, will you be good?

A mystery goes with every Minneapolis murder. The Bradley Martins will be the star of the East tonight.

Tom Platt finds no trouble in governing New York from Florida.

You will note, however, that Lyman J. Gage hasn't said anything since.

The United States navy had a Texas of a time on its way to Charleston.

The gunpowder war in San Francisco is over without the firing of a shot.

Crete announces boldly that it doesn't care for Abdul Hamid's society any more.

Times must be getting better in Pennsylvania. Rioting has been resumed.

It is pretty evident that there are lots of happier politicians than Mark Hanna.

Lexow or no Lexow, the "sugar" schedule will not be forgotten by the congressmen.

Representative Foss is struck very much oftener than the late lamented Billy Patterson.

Make no mistake about it! The biggest man in the ball field this summer will be Mr. Umpire.

An Alabama girl shot her lover twice and then married him. This looks a little like intimidation.

Mr. McKinley got his first real social call in weeks on Monday. Bourke Cockran stopped off in Canton a little while.

The man with the poorest memory has been found. He is John F. Searles, secretary and treasurer of the sugar combine.

Pingree never sleeps. He is now scheming with other citizens of Detroit to remove the capital from Lansing to that city.

After he finds out today that he is surely elected, Maj. McKinley will proceed to name the other two members of his cabinet.

The birds began to sing at Canton yesterday. Among the callers on Maj. McKinley was William Henry Eustis, of Minneapolis.

The farmers of the Red river valley will raise a great wheat crop this year if the spring boat races do not last too far into May.

Maj. McKinley, Wayne MacVeagh has danced with the queen of Italy and is ready to be recalled as soon as you get a firm hand on your job.

Alden J. Blethen is editor of a newspaper at Seattle. His whiskers were sidetracked somewhere as excess baggage or something, as they did not reach Seattle.

The gentlemen of Nebraska have decreed that the ladies of Nebraska shall not vote. Whereat, the ladies of Nebraska say the legislature of Nebraska is not composed of gentlemen.

Lincoln's birthday anniversary is to be celebrated by both the Republicans and free silver Democrats of St. Paul. Our war president had so many admirable traits that he can safely be remembered by all parties.

The Chicago Inter Ocean grows more and more moody as time passes. Although it is already out of office, Grover Cleveland retires soon, and its pet prize of the shell, Martin B. Madden, is on the shelf. In a few days it will have nothing to attack; nothing to favor upon.

GREECE IS WARNED

INFORMED BY THE POWERS THAT CANEA MUST NOT BE BOMBARDED.

ISOLATED ACTION BARRED.

NOT EVEN THE LANDING OF TROOPS IS NOW TO BE PERMITTED.

CRETE COMPARATIVELY QUIET

All the Available Warships of the Greek Fleet Ordered to the Island.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—A special dispatch from Canea says that the commanders of the foreign men-of-war now concentrated off the island of Crete have notified the captains of the Greek warships that no isolated action on the part of the Greeks such as bombarding Canea, or the landing of troops, will be permitted.

The Times this morning says that a Vienna newspaper contains an interview with Minister Delanyanis, the Grecian representative at Paris, to the effect that unless the powers compel the sultan to execute Cretan reforms, affairs may take a turn endangering the peace of Europe. The Greek government, according to Minister Delanyanis, has done and will do nothing to complicate affairs, but he claims the present situation seriously embarrasses it. During the course of his interview, Minister Delanyanis asserts that the comedy, or so-called conference of the ambassadors at Constantinople must be discontinued and the European powers must decide to extricate Christians from their intolerable position.

Canea, Feb. 9.—The town this morning was quiet and some of the stores were open. Provisions are being brought in from the country. Maj. Bor, an Englishman, and some Italian officers are organizing a new gendarmerie. The Greek ironclad has now saluted the Turkish flag.

ATHENS, Feb. 9.—The Official Gazette today publishes a royal decree, commissioning all the available warships of Greece and ordering the immediate dispatch of additional ships to the island of Crete.

Advices from Canea arrived here this afternoon say that the Turkish troops and armed Mussulmans had had a fight with Christians in the environs of Canea. Sixteen soldiers were killed. The Greek cruiser Hiaoulis has started for Retimo, where the Mussulmans have occupied the Christian quarters and are pillaging the stores and houses. Three thousand Turkish troops have been concentrated at Salonica in readiness to embark for the island of Crete, but the Steam Navigation company refuses to convey them to their destination until the money for their passage is paid. It is announced here that a decree will be issued here ordering the entire Greek fleet to be made ready for service at sea.

Today's session of the legislative chamber was a stormy one. Deputy Stais making a violent attempt upon the ministry because of the government policy with reference to Crete. There was a lively scene during the discussion on the subject, tremendous excitement followed the exchange of words between Deputy Stais and Col. Smolentis, the minister of war. Personal encounters between the various deputies were only prevented by the intercession of friends.

CRITICAL IN CRETE. Whole Island in a State of War and Turmoil.

ATHENS, Feb. 9.—According to the reports from Canea, the situation on the island of Crete is critical, to say the least. In Canea it is said the Christians have hoisted the Greek flag and invited the commander of the Greek fleet to train his guns on the city in the name of the king of Greece. It is also stated that the Greek squadron, on arriving at Canea, did not salute the Turkish flag. It is rumoured that true, the whole island is probably

GEORGE OF GREECE, WHOM THE CRETANS WANT AS THEIR RULER.

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

1863. King George has never had a perfectly satisfactory reign since the Bulgarian trouble in 1875, but he has sat on the throne of his father's time without going to war. The life of the man has not been remarkable. At least it has been no more remarkable than the life of a ruler backed by all the powers of Europe and occupying a throne in one of the most insignificant countries on the continent. George is a man of a very ordinary character and is much admired among his subjects for his equanimity and his calmness of spirit.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

1863. King George has never had a perfectly satisfactory reign since the Bulgarian trouble in 1875, but he has sat on the throne of his father's time without going to war. The life of the man has not been remarkable. At least it has been no more remarkable than the life of a ruler backed by all the powers of Europe and occupying a throne in one of the most insignificant countries on the continent. George is a man of a very ordinary character and is much admired among his subjects for his equanimity and his calmness of spirit.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

IN WEYLER'S REAR

INSURGENTS MAY ATTEMPT TO CUT OFF THE CAPTAIN GENERAL'S RETURN.

PINAR IS NOT "PACIFIED."

FACTS DO NOT CONFIRM THE FAIRY TALES FROM OFFICIAL SOURCES.

REFORM SCHEME UNSATISFACTORY

Government at Madrid Urged to Radically Enlarge the Scope of the Autonomy for Cuba.

HAVANA, Via Key West, Feb. 9.—The various reports and statements of Capt. Gen. Weyler announcing the pacification of the province of Pinar del Rio and the almost complete disappearance of the insurgents in that part of the island are far from being borne out by facts. As intimated in these dispatches, when the Spanish commander made the remarks cited, Pinar del Rio was as quiet as he alleged it to be, what has become of the arms, horses, ammunition and stores, etc., of the 7,000 men whom he admitted were under arms there. As a matter of fact, the insurgent forces in Pinar del Rio seem better off than at any previous stage of the campaign. In support of this assertion, the following statements have been gathered from the most reliable sources:

In the neighborhood of Catalina and Las Cuevas are the insurgent leaders Varona Rivero and Luis Perez, with about 1,200 men well armed and having plenty of ammunition, though poorly clad. In the Zone of Jauca and Mula is the insurgent leader Lazo with 600 men. In the districts of Bayas, Rio del Medio, Mangonacos, Pena Blanca and Pan de Azucar, there are over 500 insurgents under Vidal Ducaet.

At the heights of Gobernador de Gobernadora and the Sierra del Rosario, the insurgents are under command of Brig. Gen. Luis Rivera and the leaders Jose Manuel Barrio and Perico Delgado, and consist of infantry and cavalry to the number of about 800. At Sorosa is a force under Antonio Nunez, though Nunez is said to be wounded. At the Loma heights and at Bayate and in the district of Punta Brava, the insurgents are under Garayza and Lucas Martinez. The leader Federico Nunez is at Las Mangas, and near Arabia la Carlota and Artemisa are insurgent forces under Lorau. These forces alone, those of the known leaders of the insurgents in the field, are estimated to number about 5,000 men, and yet the captain general claims that Pinar del Rio is "pacified."

In addition to these is a strong body of insurgents which seems to have mysteriously disappeared from the neighborhood of Havana. Their whereabouts is not known, but the Spanish staff, considerable anxiety. The friends of the insurgents intimate that a big surprise is being prepared for the return to Havana when he tries to return to Havana.

On Feb. 1 the insurgents destroyed by dynamite a culvert near here, at the moment that an exploring train from Pinar del Rio was passing over the culvert, and the engine fell through. The culvert was TOTALLY DESTROYED and one passenger on the train was killed. The engineer, two firemen, an American, and five soldiers of the battalion of Asturias were seriously injured, two of them having since died. Eight of the insurgents were slightly wounded. The line was interrupted on Tuesday.

Some Question as to Whether They Were "Jobbed."

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 9.—Opinions differ as to whether the heavy losses sustained on the Oakland roads by local pool rooms yesterday were the result of a bit or poor judgment on the bookmakers' part. Every bookmaker in town vows with emphasis that he was "jobbed," and most have not been there since the first two races, and only saved themselves on the third race by rubbing their noses in the dirt. Experts, however, declare there was no "jobbing" about the winnings. They say the St. Louis bookmakers used a cinch that they yell "the wires are tapped" and if they are not, they are not, but doubt is expressed as to whether this was done.

CRITICAL IN CRETE. Whole Island in a State of War and Turmoil.

ATHENS, Feb. 9.—According to the reports from Canea, the situation on the island of Crete is critical, to say the least. In Canea it is said the Christians have hoisted the Greek flag and invited the commander of the Greek fleet to train his guns on the city in the name of the king of Greece. It is also stated that the Greek squadron, on arriving at Canea, did not salute the Turkish flag. It is rumoured that true, the whole island is probably

GEORGE OF GREECE, WHOM THE CRETANS WANT AS THEIR RULER.

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

1863. King George has never had a perfectly satisfactory reign since the Bulgarian trouble in 1875, but he has sat on the throne of his father's time without going to war. The life of the man has not been remarkable. At least it has been no more remarkable than the life of a ruler backed by all the powers of Europe and occupying a throne in one of the most insignificant countries on the continent. George is a man of a very ordinary character and is much admired among his subjects for his equanimity and his calmness of spirit.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

THE BRADLEY MARTIN BALL.

INSURGENTS MAY ATTEMPT TO CUT OFF THE CAPTAIN GENERAL'S RETURN.

PINAR IS NOT "PACIFIED."

FACTS DO NOT CONFIRM THE FAIRY TALES FROM OFFICIAL SOURCES.

REFORM SCHEME UNSATISFACTORY

Government at Madrid Urged to Radically Enlarge the Scope of the Autonomy for Cuba.

HAVANA, Via Key West, Feb. 9.—The various reports and statements of Capt. Gen. Weyler announcing the pacification of the province of Pinar del Rio and the almost complete disappearance of the insurgents in that part of the island are far from being borne out by facts. As intimated in these dispatches, when the Spanish commander made the remarks cited, Pinar del Rio was as quiet as he alleged it to be, what has become of the arms, horses, ammunition and stores, etc., of the 7,000 men whom he admitted were under arms there. As a matter of fact, the insurgent forces in Pinar del Rio seem better off than at any previous stage of the campaign. In support of this assertion, the following statements have been gathered from the most reliable sources:

In the neighborhood of Catalina and Las Cuevas are the insurgent leaders Varona Rivero and Luis Perez, with about 1,200 men well armed and having plenty of ammunition, though poorly clad. In the Zone of Jauca and Mula is the insurgent leader Lazo with 600 men. In the districts of Bayas, Rio del Medio, Mangonacos, Pena Blanca and Pan de Azucar, there are over 500 insurgents under Vidal Ducaet.

At the heights of Gobernador de Gobernadora and the Sierra del Rosario, the insurgents are under command of Brig. Gen. Luis Rivera and the leaders Jose Manuel Barrio and Perico Delgado, and consist of infantry and cavalry to the number of about 800. At Sorosa is a force under Antonio Nunez, though Nunez is said to be wounded. At the Loma heights and at Bayate and in the district of Punta Brava, the insurgents are under Garayza and Lucas Martinez. The leader Federico Nunez is at Las Mangas, and near Arabia la Carlota and Artemisa are insurgent forces under Lorau. These forces alone, those of the known leaders of the insurgents in the field, are estimated to number about 5,000 men, and yet the captain general claims that Pinar del Rio is "pacified."

In addition to these is a strong body of insurgents which seems to have mysteriously disappeared from the neighborhood of Havana. Their whereabouts is not known, but the Spanish staff, considerable anxiety. The friends of the insurgents intimate that a big surprise is being prepared for the return to Havana when he tries to return to Havana.

On Feb. 1 the insurgents destroyed by dynamite a culvert near here, at the moment that an exploring train from Pinar del Rio was passing over the culvert, and the engine fell through. The culvert was TOTALLY DESTROYED and one passenger on the train was killed. The engineer, two firemen, an American, and five soldiers of the battalion of Asturias were seriously injured, two of them having since died. Eight of the insurgents were slightly wounded. The line was interrupted on Tuesday.

Some Question as to Whether They Were "Jobbed."

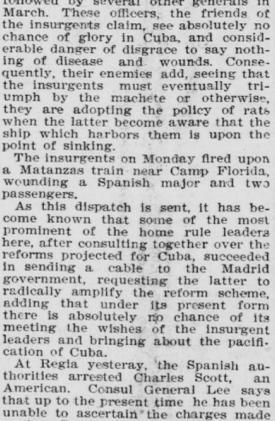

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 9.—Opinions differ as to whether the heavy losses sustained on the Oakland roads by local pool rooms yesterday were the result of a bit or poor judgment on the bookmakers' part. Every bookmaker in town vows with emphasis that he was "jobbed," and most have not been there since the first two races, and only saved themselves on the third race by rubbing their noses in the dirt. Experts, however, declare there was no "jobbing" about the winnings. They say the St. Louis bookmakers used a cinch that they yell "the wires are tapped" and if they are not, they are not, but doubt is expressed as to whether this was done.

CRITICAL IN CRETE. Whole Island in a State of War and Turmoil.

ATHENS, Feb. 9.—According to the reports from Canea, the situation on the island of Crete is critical, to say the least. In Canea it is said the Christians have hoisted the Greek flag and invited the commander of the Greek fleet to train his guns on the city in the name of the king of Greece. It is also stated that the Greek squadron, on arriving at Canea, did not salute the Turkish flag. It is rumoured that true, the whole island is probably

GEORGE OF GREECE, WHOM THE CRETANS WANT AS THEIR RULER.

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

1863. King George has never had a perfectly satisfactory reign since the Bulgarian trouble in 1875, but he has sat on the throne of his father's time without going to war. The life of the man has not been remarkable. At least it has been no more remarkable than the life of a ruler backed by all the powers of Europe and occupying a throne in one of the most insignificant countries on the continent. George is a man of a very ordinary character and is much admired among his subjects for his equanimity and his calmness of spirit.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

THE BRADLEY MARTIN BALL.

INSURGENTS MAY ATTEMPT TO CUT OFF THE CAPTAIN GENERAL'S RETURN.

PINAR IS NOT "PACIFIED."

FACTS DO NOT CONFIRM THE FAIRY TALES FROM OFFICIAL SOURCES.

REFORM SCHEME UNSATISFACTORY

Government at Madrid Urged to Radically Enlarge the Scope of the Autonomy for Cuba.

HAVANA, Via Key West, Feb. 9.—The various reports and statements of Capt. Gen. Weyler announcing the pacification of the province of Pinar del Rio and the almost complete disappearance of the insurgents in that part of the island are far from being borne out by facts. As intimated in these dispatches, when the Spanish commander made the remarks cited, Pinar del Rio was as quiet as he alleged it to be, what has become of the arms, horses, ammunition and stores, etc., of the 7,000 men whom he admitted were under arms there. As a matter of fact, the insurgent forces in Pinar del Rio seem better off than at any previous stage of the campaign. In support of this assertion, the following statements have been gathered from the most reliable sources:

In the neighborhood of Catalina and Las Cuevas are the insurgent leaders Varona Rivero and Luis Perez, with about 1,200 men well armed and having plenty of ammunition, though poorly clad. In the Zone of Jauca and Mula is the insurgent leader Lazo with 600 men. In the districts of Bayas, Rio del Medio, Mangonacos, Pena Blanca and Pan de Azucar, there are over 500 insurgents under Vidal Ducaet.

At the heights of Gobernador de Gobernadora and the Sierra del Rosario, the insurgents are under command of Brig. Gen. Luis Rivera and the leaders Jose Manuel Barrio and Perico Delgado, and consist of infantry and cavalry to the number of about 800. At Sorosa is a force under Antonio Nunez, though Nunez is said to be wounded. At the Loma heights and at Bayate and in the district of Punta Brava, the insurgents are under Garayza and Lucas Martinez. The leader Federico Nunez is at Las Mangas, and near Arabia la Carlota and Artemisa are insurgent forces under Lorau. These forces alone, those of the known leaders of the insurgents in the field, are estimated to number about 5,000 men, and yet the captain general claims that Pinar del Rio is "pacified."

In addition to these is a strong body of insurgents which seems to have mysteriously disappeared from the neighborhood of Havana. Their whereabouts is not known, but the Spanish staff, considerable anxiety. The friends of the insurgents intimate that a big surprise is being prepared for the return to Havana when he tries to return to Havana.

On Feb. 1 the insurgents destroyed by dynamite a culvert near here, at the moment that an exploring train from Pinar del Rio was passing over the culvert, and the engine fell through. The culvert was TOTALLY DESTROYED and one passenger on the train was killed. The engineer, two firemen, an American, and five soldiers of the battalion of Asturias were seriously injured, two of them having since died. Eight of the insurgents were slightly wounded. The line was interrupted on Tuesday.

Some Question as to Whether They Were "Jobbed."

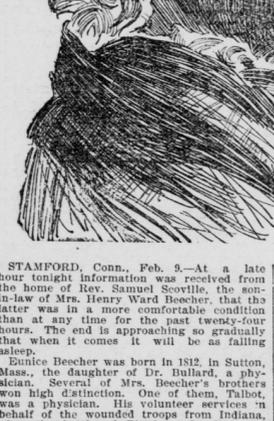

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 9.—Opinions differ as to whether the heavy losses sustained on the Oakland roads by local pool rooms yesterday were the result of a bit or poor judgment on the bookmakers' part. Every bookmaker in town vows with emphasis that he was "jobbed," and most have not been there since the first two races, and only saved themselves on the third race by rubbing their noses in the dirt. Experts, however, declare there was no "jobbing" about the winnings. They say the St. Louis bookmakers used a cinch that they yell "the wires are tapped" and if they are not, they are not, but doubt is expressed as to whether this was done.

CRITICAL IN CRETE. Whole Island in a State of War and Turmoil.

ATHENS, Feb. 9.—According to the reports from Canea, the situation on the island of Crete is critical, to say the least. In Canea it is said the Christians have hoisted the Greek flag and invited the commander of the Greek fleet to train his guns on the city in the name of the king of Greece. It is also stated that the Greek squadron, on arriving at Canea, did not salute the Turkish flag. It is rumoured that true, the whole island is probably

GEORGE OF GREECE, WHOM THE CRETANS WANT AS THEIR RULER.

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

King George of Greece, whom the Turkish-soured Cretans want for their king, is the second son of the King of Denmark and a brother of the czarina and of the Princess of Wales. Although not very popular among the Greeks, who would prefer his son as their ruler, the Cretans would be well satisfied if he could attach himself to the kingdom of the Hellenes. King George in his youth (he is 52 years old) served as an officer in the Danish navy. In 1867, after the abdication of King Otto, the majority of the Greeks tendered the throne to Prince Alfred of England. The English government refused to accept the nomination and it was offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg. He declined it. Prince Christian of Denmark accepted the office, and when he entered on his reign he took the kingship of Greece under the name of George I. This was on June 6,

1863. King George has never had a perfectly satisfactory reign since the Bulgarian trouble in 1875, but he has sat on the throne of his father's time without going to war. The life of the man has not been remarkable. At least it has been no more remarkable than the life of a ruler backed by all the powers of Europe and occupying a throne in one of the most insignificant countries on the continent. George is a man of a very ordinary character and is much admired among his subjects for his equanimity and his calmness of spirit.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

Such a man, who is always weak as a ruler, that in severe times he is despised by his subjects. His son, who is sterner and more energetic, is far more popular and his accession to the throne has been often discussed during recent years. King George sympathizes with the Cretans in their struggle for liberty.

THE BRADLEY MARTIN BALL.

INSURGENTS MAY ATTEMPT TO CUT OFF THE CAPTAIN GENERAL'S RETURN.

PINAR IS NOT "PACIFIED."

FACTS DO NOT CONFIRM THE FAIRY TALES FROM OFFICIAL SOURCES.

REFORM SCHEME UNSATISFACTORY

Government at Madrid Urged to Radically Enlarge the Scope of the Autonomy for Cuba.

HAVANA, Via Key West, Feb. 9.—The various reports and statements of Capt. Gen. Weyler announcing the pacification of the province of Pinar del Rio and the almost complete disappearance of the insurgents in that part of the island are far from being borne out by facts. As intimated in these dispatches, when the Spanish commander made the remarks cited, Pinar del Rio was as quiet as he alleged it to be, what has become of the arms, horses, ammunition and stores, etc., of the 7,000 men whom he admitted were under arms there. As a matter of fact, the insurgent forces in