

MINNEAPOLIS

OFFICE 29 SOUTH FOURTH STREET.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Rev. E. C. Clemens spent last week at Glenwood, assisting in holding revival meetings.

The City Union Epworth league will meet tomorrow evening at the Park Avenue M. E. church.

A dwelling house at 2222 Monroe street northeast was burned last evening last evening. The loss will be about $150.

Miriam Lodge No. 37, Degree of Honor, will give a New England supper and dance at the Camden Place pumping station Thursday evening.

The Juniors of the North M. E. church held a social last Wednesday evening at the home of J. T. Robinson, Forty-first avenue north and Sixth street. A pleasant social time was had.

A. L. Wood, the waiter arrested Friday for disorderly conduct, has his case set for Monday morning when it was called in the police court. Saturday, Mr. Wood was able to secure the necessary bail.

Mrs. Eunice Melville, secretary of the Rebekah Bazaar, will lecture on "The Day We Celebrate," at the Fremont avenue Congregational church, tomorrow evening.

The valedictorian of the South Side High school will be Harry Libby, with an average of 85. The highest honor was given to the valedictorian in this institution, Miss Dagna Sunnie is second in rank with an average of 82.

H. A. Seales, an old settler of Minneapolis, died at his residence, 222 West Twenty-eighth street, last yesterday afternoon. The cause of death was kidney trouble. It is expected that the remains will be taken to the funeral home of J. A. Seales, 1000 Hennepin avenue, for interment. Deceased leaves a wife and two children.

At the Forest Heights M. E. church yesterday, love feast was held at 9:30 a. m. The service was held in the morning and administered the sacrament in the morning. The evening service was attended by a large number of people.

Veterans, the pastor preaching on "Abraham Lincoln, His Public Life and Services."

Ex-convicts of this city, and Officer E. J. Dwyer, of the central station, have recently patented an invention known as the "Fingerprinting" device. By using this device, a fingerprint can be taken from a person's finger and used to identify him.

The seventeen-year-old daughter of Officer Arnold, of the North side, was accused by two men in a car on her way home on Bryant avenue north, near Twentieth avenue, Saturday night. Upon her refusing to take a ride on the car, she was taken to a nearby drug store on Twentieth avenue and the two men disappeared.

PREFERRED DEATH TO DULUTH.

Prisoner Rhodes Makes an Attempt to Hang Himself.

Carl Rhodes, arrested by the Minneapolis police and held in the central station, made an attempt to hang himself from a beam in the central police station yesterday afternoon. Across the corridor from Rhodes' cell were two young boys and a woman, who were watching him. During the day they made considerable fun of Rhodes, who is about 30 years old, telling him that his crime was a serious one and that he would be likely to have a long term in the penitentiary to serve. This morning he was taken to the central station and held in the same cell.

N.YE WANTS NO BONDS MEN.

Will Furnish a Surety Bond or Release.

The statement made by one of the Republican aldermen present at the caucus in Ald. Webster's office Saturday night, that Wallace C. Nye would qualify as city treasurer under the Kilbuck amendment, proves not to have been well founded, if the word of Mr. Nye himself can be relied upon.

"As I have already stated," said Mr. Nye last night, "I will not qualify as city treasurer under the Kilbuck amendment. I am not moved by selfish motives when I say that I think the personal bond of a city treasurer should be a bond of a government which is under absolute protection. The investigation which a surety company makes before granting a bond to any corporation is one of the strongest in favor of a surety bond. A man must have a clean record in order to secure such a bond, and if a city were to require of all its officers and employees a bond of this character, the city would be filled with the very best class of men. No man could afford to become a candidate for an office who did not have a clean record, as he would not wish to be turned down when he applied for bonds."

"I have already stated," said Mr. Nye last night, "I will not qualify as city treasurer under the Kilbuck amendment. I am not moved by selfish motives when I say that I think the personal bond of a city treasurer should be a bond of a government which is under absolute protection. The investigation which a surety company makes before granting a bond to any corporation is one of the strongest in favor of a surety bond. A man must have a clean record in order to secure such a bond, and if a city were to require of all its officers and employees a bond of this character, the city would be filled with the very best class of men. No man could afford to become a candidate for an office who did not have a clean record, as he would not wish to be turned down when he applied for bonds."

"I have already stated," said Mr. Nye last night, "I will not qualify as city treasurer under the Kilbuck amendment. I am not moved by selfish motives when I say that I think the personal bond of a city treasurer should be a bond of a government which is under absolute protection. The investigation which a surety company makes before granting a bond to any corporation is one of the strongest in favor of a surety bond. A man must have a clean record in order to secure such a bond, and if a city were to require of all its officers and employees a bond of this character, the city would be filled with the very best class of men. No man could afford to become a candidate for an office who did not have a clean record, as he would not wish to be turned down when he applied for bonds."

"I have already stated," said Mr. Nye last night, "I will not qualify as city treasurer under the Kilbuck amendment. I am not moved by selfish motives when I say that I think the personal bond of a city treasurer should be a bond of a government which is under absolute protection. The investigation which a surety company makes before granting a bond to any corporation is one of the strongest in favor of a surety bond. A man must have a clean record in order to secure such a bond, and if a city were to require of all its officers and employees a bond of this character, the city would be filled with the very best class of men. No man could afford to become a candidate for an office who did not have a clean record, as he would not wish to be turned down when he applied for bonds."

Injured Firemen Recovering.

John Thies and James Laughlin, the firemen who were injured in going to the fire Saturday afternoon, are resting as comfortably as can be expected. They are suffering a broken collar bone, is up and about with his shoulder in a sling, but Laughlin, who had two ribs broken, experiences considerable pain.

Murder Mystery Unsolved.

The condition of Mrs. Hansen remained about the same yesterday. Hansen himself, who was shot in the back, is in a very bad condition, and he still has nothing to say. The mystery surrounding the murder of Neil Peterson showed no new developments today.

The Indian

Danger Signal.

Consisting of a column of smoke, which when it appeared at the top of a high hill acted as a signal and warned the Indian that an enemy was approaching, or imparted other information to him.

Just as readily were they with their keen perception able to perceive the signal of the approach of that most dreaded of all enemies, death, noting on the human face the shadow of the approach of this greatest of foes. A face that was sallow or blotched, a head that was listless eye, loss of flesh and many other symptoms that proclaim the presence of disease was apparent to them. Their knowledge of the body was specially restored to health, thus insuring to them as a race, lives proverbially long and free from sickness.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and other of their remedies can be bought today at all druggists, and continue to do for civilized man what the Indian has obtained by use for centuries.

For Delicacy,

For purity, and for improvement of the complexion nothing equals POZOSKI'S POWDER.

ROAST FOR MINNE

SOME RED-HOT STATEMENTS MADE IN THE LAW ENFORCEMENT MEETING.

CHANCE FOR A LEXOW INQUIRY

FATHER CLEARY THINKS SOME SURPRISING THINGS WOULD BE UNEARTHED.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS.

Resolutions Adopted Calling Attention of Officials to Glaring Evils in City Government.

"Law Enforcement" was the theme about which oratory wound its graceful in an effulgent manner yesterday afternoon at the Lyceum theater.

The subject, as pertaining to Minneapolis, was divested of anything which might lead to a misunderstanding, and the naked truth laid before an audience that more than filled the lower floor and balcony of the theater. Statements were vouchsafed for a true and deplorable facts were presented by ministers of the city and came as a thunder clap from a clear sky to such of those present as supposed that everything governed by ordinances was run on a perfect basis.

The meeting was the result of an agitation that has been going on for some time. At a meeting recently held at the Y. M. C. A., by parties interested in the matter facts that were brought forth warranted further action in the matter. It was then decided that a mass meeting be called and facts presented.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was called to order by David C. Bell, who introduced Dean Pattee, of the state university, as chairman of the meeting. Mr. Pattee upon being introduced spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

P. B. Winston, president of the Municipal league, was introduced as the first speaker.

Mr. Winston considered it as the first duty on the part of citizens to see to it that there is a just enforcement of the laws of the municipality in which they reside. The speaker believed that, while the general laws of the country were respected and lived up to, there was a tendency to overlook those of a municipality.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

Mr. Pattee, upon being introduced, spoke a few words of commendation of the work of securing a thorough enforcement of laws.

them upon violation. We owe this to the laboring man, the man addicted to strong drink, who, upon being arrested for getting drunk, is fined, while the saloonkeeper escapes. The man is fined for going to the saloon, and the saloonkeeper is not. The law should close. To think that in our fine city there should be such a burlesque as this.

Following Rev. Hunter's address, a set of resolutions were presented by John Day Smith, calling the attention of the authorities to evils known to exist, and which were sent to Mayor Pratt, with a request that an answer be made, making known what his intention is in the matter.

A similar resolution was also presented by C. N. Smith. Both resolutions were adopted by rising vote, whereupon Rev. M. Falk Gjertsen submitted a statement which showed that nearly every ordinance governing the liquor traffic of the city was being violated by the saloonkeepers. The report even went so far as to designate certain places where the most open violations were made.

Considerable of the report also tended to show a laxity on the part of the officials in the enforcement of the laws governing saloons.

ANTIDOTES FOR CRIME

Pointed out by Prof. White in an Interesting Address.

"Criminology in the United States" was the topic upon which Andrew D. White interestingly spoke to a large audience last evening at Plymouth church.

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

The speaker commenced with making the statement that the United States was the country in which the crime of murder was most common. The daily items as chronicled by the press and a careful research of statistics would establish this fact.

"Speaking of crime in general," said the speaker, "it might be said that in many of the greater cities of the country there is a certain class of men whose profession is crime. This criminal class is present in all of our cities and is as much a part of the same as wild beasts are in India. Jungles are prepared for them from which they go forth. Legislatures show a strong disposition against exterminating them."

BY USE OF DYNAMITE

RIVERA HAS SUCCEEDED IN PRACTICALLY LAYING ARTEMISA IN RUINS

MASTER OF PINAR DEL RIO.

HIS ARMY NOT DISPERSED, AS CLAIMED BY THE SPANISH LIAISON.

WEYLER'S WORK IN SANTA CLARA.

Spanish Commander Hopes to Pacify the Province Before Returning to Havana.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 14.—Col. Frederico Perez Carbo, late dispatch chief general to Maceo, received a letter from Gen. Lucas Rivera from the Pinar del Rio section today. It spoke in the highest terms of his men, their enthusiasm in the cause and denied in the strongest terms that that province was pacified.

"The Spanish do not come out of their entrenched camps," wrote the general, "and when we want to fight them we have to go down to them. We have full control of all the open country."

His army consists of over 5,000 men all well armed, and the health of the troops is generally good. General Rivera's important engagements have taken place and in every one the Cubans have been victorious.

While the men regretted the death of Maceo, yet they were full of patriotic fire, and the fight was being continued on the plans outlined by that great general. One exception had landed there and long was in good spirits over the outlook for Cuban independence. Rivera spoke of the good work accomplished by their dynamite gun, commanded by young John Lunn, of Jacksonville and said that he wanted another. In one of the last expeditions an ample supply of ammunition for it had come down and it was being used very often to the damage of the Spanish. Artemisa has been laid in ruins almost by the gun, and other places and camps had felt its power. Important information was also sent Col. Carbo to be forwarded to the New York Junta.

GROUND OUT BY WEYLER.

An Interview Giving His Version of the Cuban Situation.

HAVANA, Feb. 14.—The war correspondent of La Jirga, Senor Canarte, and the union civil governor of the province of Santa Clara, Senor Vidal, arrived yesterday from Pinar del Rio, bringing with them a letter from Gen. Weyler, the civil governor and Gen. Solana had breakfast with Gen. Weyler, Senor Canarte joining the party during the course of the breakfast.

He said that from the railroad lines of Cienfuegos and Sagua columns and brigades were reconnoitering to invade the province of Pinar del Rio. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious. He said that the situation in Pinar del Rio province was very serious.

Leut. Carbo: "Seems to me that your face is not that of a buyer of old copper."

"Why?" asked Scovel. "Because," replied Carbo, "Americans that travel like you with a clean and an old straw hat and without a valise come from the insurgent camp."

Scovel, along with Senor Tome, who was arrested at the same time, were placed in the cell where Scovel still remains, Senor Tome having been released in a short time.

Scovel was confined alone, and not allowed to communicate with any one. On the night of the 13th his testimony was taken, and he was then allowed the privilege of communicating with Consul Agent Senor Rafael Madridrigal de la Cruz.

The correspondent of La Lucha says: "Wishing to know personally the World correspondent, I went early in the morning to the jail. He praised the treatment he had received in the jail, saying it was a palace compared with Managua. He