The committee appointed by Mayor Duran to arrange for an exhibit for the negro department of the Tennessee Centennial is to have a meeting and organize for work Friday night.

Several of the members of the committee yesterday, said there was a question as to what the exhibit should consist of.

The proposition to have the exhibit include part of the work done by the children in the public schools was not considered practicable, as few colored children attended the public schools and it would be hard to sift the particular work done by them.

It is probable that the exhibit will include fancy work done by colored women from the Twin Cities and the productions of the colored races from various parts of the state.

A special meeting of the retailers' union was held at the Ryan last evening. A committee of business men from Minneapolis attended and the evening was spent in passing resolutions.

The meeting was an executive one and nothing more of public importance was transacted.

IS MACAULAY OUT?

JOSEPH KING ELECTED TO A POSITION THAT WASN'T DECLARED VACANT.

STOOD BY THE CAUCUS VOTE.

AROSIN, WHO HAS CHAMPIONED THE PRESENT INCUMBENT, WEAKENED AT LAST.

HON. TIM ON PARLIAMENTARY LAW.

J. E. Markham Elected Corporation Attorney Without Any Opposition.

Members of Board of Equalization and Abatement—Assemblyman Albrecht and Aid. Kaldanski.

This sums up the action taken by the members of the common council at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

All the moves had been agreed upon in caucus a week ago.

There was a doubt that the action of the caucus might be broken as to the election of superintendent of the police telegraph system.

Those of the council who favored Macaulay's retention on account of his fitness and ability entertained the suspicion that there might be a chance to knock King out, but it proved to be only a suspicion, as King received ten votes and was declared elected.

After the resolution declaring King superintendent of the Police Telegraph—Joseph King was elected.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10 to 9, the point was raised that it required a majority vote of the common council to elect.

President Reardon held the point not well taken, and Assistant Attorney Phillips sustained the decision of the chair.

The meeting was called to order at 5:30 o'clock by President Reardon, and the seventeen of the members answered to their names, the absentees being Messrs. Daly, Shepard and Stutzman.

Assemblyman Kirke moved that the body proceed to the election of a corporation attorney. Aid. Kenny wanted the election by ballot, and President Reardon announced that as the charter so provides it must be done that way.

Messrs. Kirke and Arosin were appointed as tellers to pass the hat around, and all of the seventeen votes cast were for James E. Markham.

The tellers conducted Mr. Markham to the clerk's desk, where he was duly sworn in by City Clerk Jensen. This formality having been gone through with Mr. Markham was introduced to the gathering by President Reardon and made a short speech.

Mr. Markham thanked the members for the unanimity with which he had been honored and announced that he would endeavor to faithfully carry out the oath of office which he had taken.

Following this, he said, was most gratifying to him, for the reason that he had not requested the members of the council to vote for him on personal grounds and the election had come to him voluntarily.

The duties of the position were arduous and burdensome, but he would do his best and give to the council his best energies and abilities.

The legal department would be at the call of the council both as a body and individually at any and all times, and each member of the council would be welcome in the department.

The resignation of Aid. Bigelow, as a member of the board of equalization and abatement, was read and a resolution passed naming Assemblyman Albrecht and Aid. Kaldanski as representatives of the council in the absence of Aid. Bigelow and Assemblyman Krahmer.

The resolution received eighteen votes, Aid. Shepard, who had been absent from the meeting up to this time, putting in an appearance.

Then the resolution was sent up a resolution to the effect that the board of council resolved that Joseph King be the superintendent of the police patrol and telegraph system.

Mr. Arosin moved that the board of council resolve to elect a superintendent, and then there was a slight tangle.

Mr. Arosin was asked to how the question was raised as to how the members could vote for a resolution by ballot, and the resolution to lay the resolution on the table.

Mr. Thompson objected and insisted that the resolution be acted on.

The president announced that the resolution introduced by Mr. Thompson, and no ballot was necessary.

The other members at this juncture asked for information, and the resolution was read again.

Mr. Allard moved that the resolution on the table, and it was seconded by Aid. Kaldanski.

Mr. Arosin made a short speech in which he stated that he was a friend of Mr. King, but the council had caused and he knew he was Joseph King for the position.

For this reason he intended to stand by and support the resolution, and he thought Mr. King questioned the action taken by other caucuses had not been broken.

There was no answer to the question that the board of council should take the resolution on the table.

The vote showed the following line-up: To Lay on the Table—Allard, Bell, Bigelow, Donahower, Kenny, Kaldanski, Larsen, Lindstrom, Reardon, Thompson, Sanborn, Arosin, Shepard, Stutzman.

was stated that Assistant City Attorney Phillips had reversed himself on the question as to the number of votes necessary to elect a city attorney to the position.

The reports of the meeting in May, 1895, at which Macaulay was elected to succeed E. B. Birge show that the action of the city attorney at that time rendered the same opinion as he did yesterday, namely that a majority of a working quorum was all that was necessary to elect or discharge or elect any one from or to the office.

It was only a mistake made yesterday, so far as could be learned, was in not passing a resolution discharging Macaulay before King was elected. It had been held that there could be no election until a vacancy had first been made in any office, but the friends of King claim that the resolution yesterday makes him superintendent and that of itself removes Macaulay without a formal resolution to that effect being passed.

Corporation Attorney Markham will take charge of the legal department of the city this morning. Seen last evening, Mr. Markham said he had as yet decided on his staff. He was under pledge to no one in the make-up of his force, and had arrived at no decision in the matter.

The position seemed, however, to be better acquainted with the action which the new official would take and gave out the following names for the assistants in the legal department:

First assistant, H. W. Phillips; second assistant, Earl Taylor; third assistant, Harvey E. Hall; chief clerk, W. Finehout; stenographer, J. W. Clancy.

Mr. Phillips, it is claimed will be retained for a while, but the politicians insist that these who have done the hustling must be provided for, and for this reason some staunch Republican will in the course of a few weeks be placed in the position of first assistant city attorney and Mr. Phillips left out.

SHEEP RALLY AT CARVER. Minnesota Farmers to Be Advised to Feed Sheep.

A sheep rally will be held at Carver on Friday, the 13th inst. There will be two sessions, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The former will commence at 10 a. m.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad will carry passengers to and from the fair for one and one-half rates for the round trip. These reduced rates will be available at all points, including Albert Lea, New Ulm and Minneapolis.

The chief object of the meeting is to impress upon the farmers the value of the giving attention to the feeding of sheep. To the westward, on the ranges, millions of sheep are being raised, and the industry is becoming more and more important.

It is in this line, notwithstanding our greater nearness to the market, that we are in a position to do better than the farmers of other states.

Practical men who have made a success of growing and fattening sheep in our state will be present to give the benefit of their experience to the farmers.

From the annual report of City Clerk Jensen the following figures are taken: The common council during 1896 held seven meetings and the average attendance of the members was sixteen.

The assembly held thirty-one meetings during the year, of which twenty-four were regular, thirteen adjourned and sixteen special. The average attendance of the members was fifteen.

The number of preliminary orders sent by the council to the board of public works was 205; final orders, 102; ordinances passed, 107; miscellaneous resolutions passed, 114.

The assembly held 144 committee meetings and the board of aldermen 23. There were fifty-four joint committee meetings and fourteen meetings of the police pension fund board.

The city clerk sworn in seventy-three regular policemen and 88 special policemen. The receipts of the office from fees and dog licenses amounted to $7,773.

ADVISED BOTH WAYS. Water Board's Advice About Paying City Assessments.

At a meeting of the water board held yesterday claims to the amount of $25,000 were presented for interest on bonds due April 1.

A committee of three was appointed to revise and make a new rate for the rate of service pipes and making connections.

The assessment against the board for the paving of Fifth street, amounting to $137,700, was voted on and the street sprinkling, amounting to $3,55, was brought up and discussed.

The board is in receipt of two opinions from the corporation attorney's office. One given in Oct., 1896, advises the board not to pay the assessments and the other of a more recent date advises that the same be paid.

It is the practice of the board to pay all assessments made on property owned by it the same as private property holders. Recently there has been a change in the part of the city to pay bills for water furnished the various departments and the board is of the opinion that if the city owned the city for assessments.

ZIMMERMANN IT IS THE FIFTH WARD GENTLEMAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

TOOK TWO BALLOTS FOR IT. RE-ELECTED ITS OFFICERS.

H. C. McNair Re-elected Vice President, But Declines the Place.

WHICH FELL TO ANTHONY YOERG. James P. Henley Continues Secretary for Another Year, With Thomas Mullane Assistant.

The St. Paul school inspectors, at their meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Central High school building, elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President—Bernard Zimmermann, vice president—Anthony Yoerg, Jr., secretary—James P. Henley, treasurer—Thomas Mullane.

In the election of president, two ballots were necessary. Mr. Zimmermann receiving but three votes on the first ballot, while Mr. Yoerg received one and the Scholle one.

After the casting of the second ballot, in which he received four votes, his election was made unanimous. Henry C. McNair, the present vice president of the board, was re-elected to that position by acclamation, but declined most emphatically to serve, stating that he wished to be entirely foot-loose during the coming year.

Mr. Yoerg was elected to the position on the third ballot, receiving four of the six votes. The first two votes Mr. Yoerg received, three and the others were scattered.

After the election of Mr. Zimmermann, the newly elected president assumed his position and conducted the remaining elections, which were all unanimous.

He asked the permission of the board to defer the appointment of the standing committee for a few days, as the duties he had assumed were all new to him and he wished to study the matter carefully before making his selections.

A request from the Ramsey school district asking for an additional teacher in that district was referred to Superintendent Curtis for investigation.

It was stated that while there are only 100 pupils in the district, all the grammar grades are represented and the work is too much to expect of the three teachers now there.

Miss Grace B. Whitridge had a petition before the board, asking for the use of a room in the Van Buren school in which to deliver a course of lectures on physical training to the public school teachers and members of the board.

The petition was not granted, as Miss Whitridge makes a charge for those attending her lectures, and it is not the intention of the board to have any of the school buildings by private individuals who would reap a pecuniary benefit.

The request of several teachers, who have completed their course in the training school, that they be graduated from that institution, was granted.

The following gentlemen were selected to serve on the executive committee: Rev. J. W. Cook, W. L. Tilton, J. H. Hester, H. R. Brink, G. M. Hillman and Gregory Bolt.

The reports of the officers showed that more than 200 homes had been visited in the city during the past year in which there were no family Bibles, and that the needs had been supplied.

The treasurer reported about $275 on hand, and that more than cover the money owing by the society and leave it entirely free from debt.

It was declared that the work of the society would be pushed more vigorously than ever during the coming year, and especially along the line of city mission work.

JUDGE ELL TORRANCE READS A PAPER ON THE MILITARY CAREER OF GEN. G. H. THOMAS.

LOYAL LEGION ENTERTAINED WITH A CAREFUL BIOGRAPHY OF THE HERO. GAVE UP HOME AND KINDRED TO TAKE PART IN THE CAUSE OF THE UNION—MONTHLY BUSINESS MEETING.

Judge Ell Torrance, of Minneapolis, entertained his fellow companions of the Loyal Legion last evening in a very interesting paper upon the military career of Gen. George H. Thomas.

The paper was very complete and brought out the life of the distinguished leader in something of a new light. Although the speaker had never served under Gen. Thomas, he was always an admirer of him, and was always a defender when others accused him.

The reading of Judge Torrance's paper occupied nearly two hours. An excellent dinner was served to 150 members of the order in the ordinary of the Ryan hotel at 7:30 o'clock.

At 9 o'clock the companions of the order listened to the address of the evening. Among other things Judge Torrance said in part:

George H. Thomas was born in Southampton county, Virginia, July 21, 1816, and died at San Francisco, Cal., March 28, 1870, in the 54th year of his age.

His father, John, was of Welsh-Irish descent. From his father he inherited the rugged, steadfast traits of the Welsh character, and from his mother she inherited the gentle and patient disposition which made him beloved by all who knew him.

His father died when he was only two years old, and he was reared by his mother and his paternal grandfather, both of whom he loved dearly.

His father's death was a great calamity to the family, and he was left to the care of his mother and his paternal grandfather, both of whom he loved dearly.
