HAUGAN INDICTED.

Ex-Treasurer Pleads Not Guilty on Charge of Embezzlement.

Andrew C. Haugan, three elected city treasurer of Minneapolis, was arraigned on two indictments before Judge Simpson, in the criminal branch of the district court, to which he pleaded not guilty.

The indictment of Mr. Haugan was brought about by the many peculiar circumstances surrounding the shortage in the funds of the city and the bank failures in which he was involved. He left the city some weeks ago, and afterwards there were rumors that he did not intend to return, a rumor which he contradicted by coming to Minneapolis as expected, and he explained with him as he expected to be obliged to face such accusations. He came to the city on the morning of Monday last, and was taken to the sheriff's office by Deputy Sheriff Gleason and Frank M. Nye, whom he had engaged as his attorney.

Deputy Clerk of the Court Royce read the indictment, although Mr. Nye wished to waive the reading of the indictment, and the court ruled that it should not be waived from, so Mr. Haugan listened to the charge against him and moved the court to dismiss the indictment. The court refused to do so, and the indictment was read.

A specific crime of misappropriation of public funds was charged against him, and appropriation to his own use of $1,375 of money belonging to the board of directors of the city, which was when he delivered over his office to his successor, that amount of the specified fund was missing. A second charge was made against him for the appropriation of $626.25 of the public money in his hands as treasurer, which was not accounted for by his successor in office. The dates were given in both indictments as March 19, 1897.

The court postponed the trial until the 26th, the date of trial, which satisfied both the plaintiff and the defendant. At the time they moved there and since then they have been known as Mr. and Mrs. Gordon. Witness stated that on Lincoln's birthday she had seen Minnie Mortenson with a valise riding out on a car arriving from the city in the next week she had seen her throwing out a dishwater from the Gordon house. She last saw her about Feb. 15 or 16. Mrs. Colquhoun also stated that her husband was a curly and had known Mr. Gordon for three or four years.

B. H. Schriber took the stand to tell of serving of the subpoena upon Minnie Mortenson, who resides at 2325 Eighth street, and the defendant. At the time they moved there and since then they have been known as Mr. and Mrs. Gordon. Witness stated that on Lincoln's birthday she had seen Minnie Mortenson with a valise riding out on a car arriving from the city in the next week she had seen her throwing out a dishwater from the Gordon house. The county commissioners wrestle with the dam proposition.

The county commissioners held a long session yesterday afternoon on the dam proposition, but were unable to agree upon the matter. They will meet with the county attorney and try to decide which plan to pursue.

County Surveyor advised the building of the dam across the Mississippi river at a cost of $5,000. This dam could be used for a wagon bridge by a little additional expense. Several other propositions were made, and the members could not vote intelligently without considering the matter for a longer period.

There was a wrangle over the offer of the Mississippi Valley Telephone company, which offered to sell the company for five years he made with the company, which it was stated was used in compiling the directory of 1896, and contained information as to the occupants of the house No. 1410 Eighth avenue north, in the directory of 1896, was also offered to show that the person living in that house was John F. Gordon.

FIN SURRENDERS.

Troubles of the Football Manager Compromised.

The trouble between the university faculty and G. A. E. Finlayson, manager of the football team, has been settled by a compromise. Finlayson, with other of the strong men on last year's team, had refused to acknowledge the authority of the faculty, and had been suspended from the team.

Finlayson was impeached on April 10 of his position of manager until the faculty should be satisfied with his conduct. After a long and bitter discussion Saturday night he was exonerated. He stated that he had been insulted by Prof. Denton, of the advisory committee in "dunning" him for the bill. He still would not acknowledge the justice of the claim.

The members of the committee resented this and a faculty meeting was called. The committee refused to strike out the name of Finlayson, and the faculty refused to do so. The plaintiff then rested and the case was opened for the defense, by Victor H. Welsh. From the argument of Mr. Welsh it was clear that the defendant would make any effort to contradict the testimony as to the relations of the defendant and co-defendant, but that they were unable to do so.

HOW FOR GOODNOW

EVIDENCE FOR THE PLAINTIFF IN THE DIVORCE CASE ALL IN.

WERE FEW DEVELOPMENTS.

NON-APPEARANCE OF THE WITNESS MINNIE MORTENSON OCCASIONS SOME HAGGLING.

TESTIMONY RELATING TO HER.

Court Refuses to Order Stricken Out—Plaintiff on the Stand Again.

Hagglings between the attorneys as to the admission of evidence characterized the proceedings in the Goodnow divorce case yesterday, and although there were no very startling developments, the interest among the spectators did not appear to flag, and the court room was crowded all day. Considerable importance was attached to the non-appearance of the witness, Minnie Mortenson, who is said to have been employed as domestic in the house of Abbie Goodnow, her father, being ascribed by the plaintiff to influences exerted by the defendant. Christina Hanson stated that she had been a domestic in Mrs. Gordon's house, her term of service being subsequent to that of the Mortenson girl. Mrs. Carrie Sather testified that she had been visited by the attorneys and others during the search for Minnie Mortenson.

Mrs. Lena Peterson, of 2325 Eighth street south, was placed upon the stand and questioned as long as length. She remembered that Mr. Schriber, the attorney for the plaintiff, had called at her house last January for the purpose of serving a subpoena on Minnie Mortenson, who was then in her employ. She remembered that Minnie left her employ and on the following day called with Christina Hanson and took away her clothing. Mrs. Peterson also remembered that a certain woman whom she did not know had called upon Minnie while the girl was at her house, but she did not know what conversation was held between them, as she had left the room at their request. She was sent to jury room No. 6 to see if she could recognize any one there as the woman who had called upon Minnie, but failed to do so and the witness relating to the visitor was stricken out.

In reply to a question from the court the witness stated that it was just about a week before the time when the case was first set for trial that Minnie left her house.

Mrs. Ann Colquhoun, who resides at 2325 Eighth street, also testified that she knew the house occupied by Abbie Gordon and the defendant. At the time they moved there and since then they have been known as Mr. and Mrs. Gordon. Witness stated that on Lincoln's birthday she had seen Minnie Mortenson with a valise riding out on a car arriving from the city in the next week she had seen her throwing out a dishwater from the Gordon house. A. R. Durose was a member of Company Fifth Minnesota Cavalry and served a "dishonorable" discharge during the war.

A very heavy wind storm prevailed all of Sunday, and did great damage. Rafts lying in the lake were broken up to some extent. It is surprising that the damage was not greater, considering the high wind which would break up nearly all the rafts in the lake because of the high water, but the damage is only trifling, and will be repaired easily.

BUTLERS OPPOSED.

The National Chairman Will Not Go to Nashvill.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—If the Populist party, or any portion of it, assumes in connection with Nashville on the 22nd of July, as is now proposed, Senator Butler, national chairman, will not be present. "And that is the only reason," said Senator Butler, "that any Populist who does attend defies the regular organization of the party."

Butler said that he had received the resolutions adopted at the Memphis conference suggesting a general convention to be held in Nashville, and that he had submitted it by mail to each of the 145 members of the national committee. The response has been overwhelmingly in favor of the action, no less than 75 taking the adverse position, while six straddled, and only 14 were in favor of the convention.

"If the national committee," said Senator Butler, "had been in favor of a convention I should have certainly gone. I have no desire to do anything except what a majority of recognized leaders of our party want in this case, and they want a convention."
