KELLER AS A STRATEGIST.

State Senator Henry Keller is known of every one. His fame extends from Grand Marais to Luverne, and from Robber's Roost, above the sloughs of the Mississippi in Houston, to where Jud Lamourre is just now paddling a canoe around the streets of Pembina.

The argument for this lumber tariff has not a leg to stand upon. It has sheltered itself heretofore behind the frail barrier of an alleged Canadian competition. The Globe has punctured this bubble thoroughly.

Still others know him as the large-hearted, brainy, wide-eyed philanthropist, with broad ideas of humanitarian improvement of the conditions of his fellow men.

the prominence given to the sugar tax. A great scheme entered Henry's brain. If he could knock out that source of revenue Mr. Dingley's tariff would also be "a tariff for deficit only."

splitting a steal. We observe that a sense of decency has so far penetrated the United States senate that a proposition is discussed to reduce the proposed tariff of $2 a thousand to $1, as far as white pine is concerned.

Every man who takes up a claim and attempts to turn it into a home, every farmer who wants to build a bin for his grain or shelter for his stock, every workman who rents a house, is interested in low-priced lumber.

Some quick work. The Globe desires to give proper credit to Senator Nelson, of this state, for securing the substitution in the senate of his bankruptcy bill in place of the measures on that subject that have been pending heretofore.

The tariff on their product, outrageous as it is when imposed upon the toilers of the country, becomes doubly odious and criminal when it is stripped of the garb of alleged necessity for protective purposes, and stands forth in its naked shamelessness as a proposition to tax the whole people in this country directly, not for protection, not for revenue, but solely for swelling the profits of men already worth their millions.

"WILL MAKE IT EASY FOR ME." "Lucky" Baldwin, of San Francisco, the notorious "plunger" of the race tracks, has been plunging about until he owes the Hibernia bank $1,670,000 and has just put a mortgage on hotels and residences and ranches to secure a further loan of $85,000 with which to plunge some more.

Gov. Clough has signed the bill by which city councils and boards of county commissioners are empowered to authorize the use of voting machines. We believe that this is the beginning of an important reform.

that they will pay if their foreign rivals are only taxed high enough. And how? They do not pay now because Mr. Baldwin cannot get enough for their products to pay for producing them.

strated to be entirely practical. By the use of the machine we get rid of the slow work of counting the vote, with all its possibilities of error and contests.

AT THE THEATERS. Nat. C. Goodwin and his clever company delighted another large audience at the Metropolitan last night in the charming comedy, "An American Citizen."

Some strong features are promised for the second week of the summer season at the Grand. The roster already includes for its leaders, Wood and Shepard, the acknowledged premiers of black-face musical comedy.

SAW THE FREAKS.

West St. Paul Museum in Force. Barnum's circus sank in the estimation of those who attended the aggregation of "Freaks" gathered from the remote parts of West St. Paul, at the museum last evening.

SEVERAL NEW ONES. Articles of Incorporation Filed at the Capitol. The Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent society filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday.

SAYS HE WILL SUE.

Farmer Whose Rig is Smashed by a Trolley Car. An electric car on the Jackson street line collided with a farmer's rig at the intersection of Gordon streets at 9 o'clock last evening.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES.

There will be a meeting of the Hamline Citizens' union at Hamline hall this evening. Hospital Steward August Nickel has been transferred from Fort Snelling to Fort Harrison, Mont.

Gov. Clough has signed the bill by which city councils and boards of county commissioners are empowered to authorize the use of voting machines. We believe that this is the beginning of an important reform.

Factory Inspector Marsh, of the state labor bureau, has gone to Duluth to inspect the mills and factories, and also to look up facts regarding the enforcement of the child labor law in that city.

THE HELRS ARE DEFEATED, NOT BEING IN THE 145 BILLS SIGNED BY GOV. CLOUGH.

Only three of the bills passed by the last session of the legislature were so misguided as to be subjected to the "pocket veto" of Gov. Clough, and of these one, and the most important, was the bill legislating State Fire Warden Andrews out of office.

SORE AT THE SENATE.

MEMBERS OF THE MINNESOTA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ARE PUT OUT AT THE CO-ORDINATE BRANCH.

THEY SAY IT WAS SELFISH IN DISPOSING OF ITS OWN BILLS.

TAX ON EXPRESS RECEIPTS.

Promises No End of Trouble in the Courts Before It Can Be Collected.

Since the adjournment of the house early Wednesday morning relations between the members of that body and the state senate have been seriously strained, as a result of what the members of the larger house are pleased to term the selfish conduct of the members of the other branch.

There were nearly 700 bills originating in the senate, as compared with over 1,000 in the house, and yet of the 382 bills which went to the governor for his signature, 190 were from the senate and only 192 from the house.

Just what the net result of the passage of the Dyer bill for a gross earnings tax on express companies is, it seems probable that the courts will have to determine.

Status of the Nickel-in-the-Slot Machine Dubious.

The case of George W. Dayton, proprietor of the cigar store in the market house, who is charged with violating ordinance No. 424 by keeping "nickel-in-the-slot" machines in his place, was argued yesterday before Judge Twoby.

John Karke, living in the rear of 573 Broadway, hitched a broncho to a buggy last evening and started out for a drive.
