MOVEMENTS OF STEAMSHIPS. NEW YORK—Arrived: Servia, Liverpool; Lahn, Bremen; Spaarndam, Rotterdam; British, Liverpool; Normanna, Hamburg; Weimer, Bremen.

LIVERPOOL—Arrived: Teutonic, New York. NAPLES—Arrived: Werra, New York. BREMEN—Arrived: Willehad, New York.

QUEENSTOWN—Sailed: Rhyland, Philadelphia; Germanic, New York.

Perhaps it is your turn to move tomorrow. The government crop report is as full of errors as an amateur base ball game.

This is the weather clerk's chance to give Jupiter Pluvius the frozen face.

The Dingley tariff will neither act nor retroact until it is covered with moss.

Canton is forgotten, Carson is dead, and now Frankfort is added to the list of has-beens.

The Jersey mosquito and the Maryland green apple are preparing to get in their work.

The new libel bill of Illinois is a bird. It makes the truth libelous when disagreeable.

Has it come to this? Rev. Thomas Dixon charges the McKinley administration with lack of patriotism.

Now that he is elected, Senator Deboe can make up his mind as to how he stands on the silver question.

If Russia Moustapha Bey in Crete, why does not the sultan send his present minister to this country there?

The new game law does not cover fish. That is because there was an unusually large number of one kind of fish in the legislature.

It is almost two months since McKinley became president, and yet Senator Chandler hasn't driven the Spaniel over a single Cuban trocha.

The new Greek cabinet will include Messrs. Carapanos, Teotoki and Simopoulou. The Greeks very much need such names as Smith, Jones and Brown.

It is now plain that considerable of the money of the University of Illinois in the Globe Savings Bank of Chicago went for millinery for "the woman in the case."

Maj. McKinley may as well arrange for his summer vacation. It is now admitted by Republican senators that the tariff bill will probably not be passed before August.

The powers will intervene in the Graeco-Turkish affair about the time the United States senate passes the tariff bill. One man's guess as to the date is as good as another's.

A Jefferson, Io, preacher delivered a powerful sermon Sunday attacking the Iowa legislature. Suppose the preachers of the North Star state should let go on the Minnesota legislature.

WINTER'S OUT.

President of the Northern Pacific Resigns the Position

DECLARES THE FACT HIMSELF.

Explains That the Interests of His Road and Those of the Great Northern Have Become So Allied That He Decided to Sever His Connections—News of the Action From New York.

President Edwin W. Winter, of the Northern Pacific, has resigned as the governing head of that immense system, his resignation being the direct result of the negotiations whereby Great Northern interests have secured the control of the Northern Pacific stocks. Mr. Winter's resignation was voluntary. It was filed before he left New York, and was made public on his return to St. Paul yesterday morning.

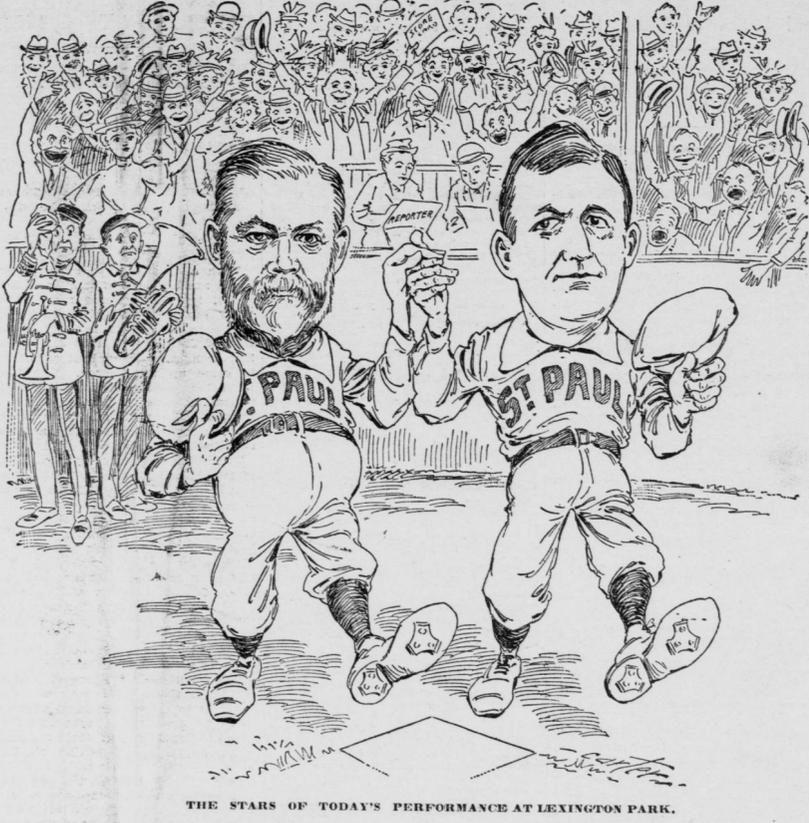

It cannot be said that Mr. Winter's resignation caused any great surprise for the reason that New York press dispatches for several weeks past have given substantial confirmation to the current rumor that the Great Northern interests were becoming closely allied with those of the Northern Pacific. It was not until yesterday that the confirmation of the deal was officially made. Locally, it was first announced by Mr. Winter himself. A reporter for the Globe asked Mr. Winter yesterday afternoon if it was true he had resigned.

"It is true that I have resigned," replied Mr. Winter readily. "Will you state what led up to your resignation?" "I have resigned because President Hill of the Great Northern, and those associated with him have succeeded in gaining control of sufficient stock, which, combined with friendly holdings on the continent, entitle him to a strong voice in the management of Northern Pacific affairs."

"Was your resignation asked for?" "It was not. It was wholly voluntary. I will say here that I trust the best of personal feelings exist between Mr. Hill and myself. I have the highest respect for his ability. Nearly as long as I have been engaged in railroad service, I have always regarded him as a friend. But upon his securing him as a friend. But under the changed circumstances, I deemed it wise to resign. I have simply conformed to new conditions that make my resignation satisfactory to myself as well as to others."

"When does your resignation take effect?" "Just as soon as my successor is chosen. Until then, I shall endeavor to perform my whole duty to Northern Pacific property, and will render any aid in my power to my successor when he is elected, which I trust, will be in the near future."

Mr. Winter was asked if he had any idea as to who his successor would be. The president replied that he had no knowledge on the matter at all. Asked if he had any plans for the future, Mr. Winter stated that he looked forward to the prospects of an indefinite vacation with the keenest pleasure, as

ON TO ATHENS. Turkish Army Follows Up Its Advantage at Larissa.

ATHENS, April 30.—A dispatch just received from Pharsalos dated yesterday (Thursday) at 4 p. m., says that a Turkish army corps from Larissa has occupied Trikala unresisted.

LONDON, April 29.—The Athens correspondent of the Standard says: "The Turkish army or its advance guard, has followed up the success before Larissa, and at 6 o'clock this evening (Thursday) began an attack in force on the Greek positions at Pharsalos."

ATHENS, April 29. (11 p. m.)—According to a dispatch from Pharsalos, Gen. Smolenski's brigade has been engaged since 1 o'clock this afternoon in a fierce conflict with a Turkish army corps beyond Velesino, in the direction of Alivale. A battalion of Evzones and a battery of artillery have been sent to reinforce the Greeks, whose position appears to be favorable.

ATHENS, April 29.—A member of the diplomatic corps of high standing in an interview is quoted as saying: "While Greece will not ask for intervention, it is impossible for her to prolong resistance, owing to the condition of her finances. Therefore it is probable that the Greek government will now obey the summons of Europe that the Turkish evacuation of Thessaly and the Greek evacuation of the island of Crete will be carried out simultaneously."

ROME, April 29.—The Secolo, of Milan, publishes a dispatch from Athens saying that peace between Turkey and Greece has been concluded.

a censure upon the government's policy. Judgment would be formed as to that after the new cabinet had been tried." Mr. Delyannis added "I cannot divulge the policy which I considered necessary. I can only say that the country would have emerged from its trial without loss of territory, and could have obtained a rectification of the Northern frontier by abandoning Crete, according to the demands of the powers."

BERLIN, April 29.—The Frankfort Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Constantinople saying that, owing to the Greek foreign minister having made the request to the Russian minister at Athens, the ambassadors of Great Britain, France and Russia at Constantinople have asked the Turkish government to grant to Greece an armistice.

LONDON, April 29.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Rome says that the powers will oppose, by force if necessary, the blockade or bombardment of Salonica, in view of the damage that would be done to foreign commerce. It is believed in Rome that the new Greek ministry will treat for peace, in the hope of preserving the territorial integrity of Greece.

All the talk now, says the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent, is of the intervention of the powers. Even Germany wishes to save Greece from the consequences of defeat, and it is stated in Berlin official circles that the powers will intervene of their own initiative, if Greece does not invite them. According to a dispatch from Constantinople to the Lokal Anzeiger, the sultan will accept the following conditions as the basis for peace: The withdrawal of the Greek troops from Crete and the re-establishment of the frontier of 1831, Greece to be excluded from all the advantages of capitulations, and to pay indemnity.

PARIS, April 29.—A member of the diplomatic corps of high standing in an interview is quoted as saying: "While Greece will not ask for intervention, it is impossible for her to prolong resistance, owing to the condition of her finances. Therefore it is probable that the Greek government will now obey the summons of Europe that the Turkish evacuation of Thessaly and the Greek evacuation of the island of Crete will be carried out simultaneously."

ALL KINDS OF RUMORS Follow the Announcement of Mr. Winter's Resignation.

The report that the same interests now control the destinies of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific set the entire railroad world in St. Paul yesterday speculating as to what the future would bring forth in the way of changes. There are a number of men holding high positions whose interests might be at variance with those of the interests in control, and these heads of departments would possibly be affected. A prominent official said to a reporter for the Globe that he had reason to believe for the past two months, that Mr. Kendrick would resign, as general manager of the Northern Pacific. Another rumor said that General Traffic Manager Hannaford would resign. Mr. Hannaford was asked concerning this rumor.

"It is not likely that I will resign from a position that I have been working to obtain for twenty-five years," replied Mr. Hannaford promptly. Chief Engineer McHenry also said he had no idea of resigning, and knew of no reason why he should.

M. Ralli the task of forming a new cabinet. Following is the official list of the new ministers, as corrected this evening: Premier and minister of marine, M. Ralli. Minister of war, M. Tsamavos. Minister of finance, M. Simopoulou. Minister of education, M. Carapanos. Minister of the interior, M. Teotoki. Demetrius Ralli, the new premier and minister of marine, was the leader of the opposition. He has been minister of justice and minister of the interior, and is well known throughout the country as an able lawyer and orator. He is fifty years old and studied at the university of Athens and at Paris.

SAINTS VERSUS BREWERS

Opening of the New Lexington Ball Park This Afternoon.

It Will Mark an Epoch for the Local Fans.

Glorious Street Pageants and Fierce Battle by Ball Players.

With Eloquence by Private and Public People Anent It All.

St. Paul Turns Out En Masse to Greet the Heroes of Peace.

Weather for today for Minnesota, fair and warmer, southerly winds.

Lexington park will be opened today and such an opening as it will be. From 1.30 when the grand procession of base ball experts—city officials, magistrates, and thirty-third degree frat. leaves the Windsor hotel, until 3.30, when E. A. Jaggard reads the circumambient air of the finest ball park in the world with his eloquent comment on its grandeur, there will be but one direction in St. Paul, and that will be towards the corner of Lexington and University avenues. Foot, horse, trolley and bicycle, every method of locomotion will be pressed into service, and the revellers who have not heard the umpire's hoarse "Str-i-ke one" for lo! these many moons, will hie themselves one and all, to the new arena.

After Mr. Jaggard has told the assembled multitude what ought to be comprised in a good ball park, and has pointed out that every one of these requisites is in full view of the audience Mayor Doran will take a handsome horse-hide ball from a package bearing the signature of Ban Johnson, and wildly pitch it toward Tim O'Rourke, who will be wielding a supple willow in the immediate vicinity of the home plate.

The mayor was formerly the star in a college team, and if Mr. O'Rourke thinks he is going to have any chance to swat that first ball out of the lot, then he has not seen the lot.

The mayor is expected to retire after one ball is pitched, whereupon the teams will proceed to the plate in the following batting order: St. Paul—O'Rourke, 3b. Parrott, cf. Nye, 2b. George, rf. Glasscock, lb. Shugart, 1b. Nichol, lf. Speer, c. Baran, p.

There are some faces on the home team that are new. Tom Parrott, who is scheduled to play center, where the local fans had hoped to see McBride, whom they took a liking to last year, is an old-timer who has many friends who have seen him play in the big one, and he may expect a cordial reception.

Nye, who was with Kansas City last year, is not a stranger to St. Paul crowds, although it will look rather queer to see him in a St. Paul uniform. Sammy Nichol, with his "get away" off there, will also be seen for the first time in one of Comiskey's brand new suits, which, by the way, are said to be "hot babies."

The Milwaukee team is considerably changed from last year, the only remnants of 1896 being Barnes and Speer, the "midget" batter, Eugene Nicol, equally midget-like, and old Buck Weaver. Some interest will attach to the first appearance here of Delehanty, the youngest brother of the world renowned batsman of the big league, and, while Connie Mack's countenance may be conspicuous by its absence from the game, he will be on the bench in a managerial capacity.

Rastus Wright, who lead the Western league in batting a few years ago when with the Grand Rapids weaklings, will be in right field for the Brewers, and Stafford, who also played a short date with the Gold Bugs, will ambulate about first base.

Daly and Myers, who are strangers here, are to fill out the nine which is scheduled to go in. The Saints have made an enviable record, winning considerably better than a majority of the games on a trip, which is certainly a fair testimonial to ball playing ability, and the games with "Milwaukee" especially, have been characterized by a swift article of play which augurs well for the entertainment of the local friends of the game this season.

The suspicion that was entertained in wide circles previous to the opening of the season that the Comiskey aggregation was weak, has been fully dispelled and the local throng will go to the dedication of the new park without hesitancy or fear for the result of the game.

Country on which fine ball should be played, it is this. Every preparation has been made by Treasurer P. H. Comiskey for the proper entertainment of the crowds today. Excellent street car service is assured by the management of the Twin City Rapid Transit company, and the seating accommodations at the new park are admirable. In order that even the greatest rushes of the season shall result in no discomfort, however, work was begun yesterday on an entirely new bleacher, which had not been included in the original plans. The handsome new grand stand, provided as it was with 2,000 opera chairs, will be continued on Fifth Page.
