

STILL AT THE BANKS

GRAND JURY SENT THE AFTERNOON INQUIRING INTO THE ALLEMANIA'S AFFAIRS.

NOT THROUGH WITH OTHERS.

REPORT THAT CONGRESSMAN STEVENS HAS BEEN REQUESTED TO CALL AROUND.

TO TELL JURY WHAT HE KNOWS.

Rumor That the Germania Will Be Left Alone and Another That It Will Not.

The grand jury resumed its investigation of the banks and bankers yesterday afternoon. The body was in session from 2:15 p. m. until almost 6 o'clock. Most of the time was devoted to examining into the affairs of the Allemanian bank and the transactions of its officers, through the grand jury has not finished with the Minnesota Savings bank and the Bank of Minneapolis. In fact, it was reported yesterday that the grand jury had sent word to Congressman Stevens that it would like to have a talk with him about the affairs of the Minnesota Savings bank before it got through its work.

The witnesses in attendance in the matter of the Allemanian bank were C. S. Bunker, the expert accountant employed by Receiver Auerbach to assist in preparing the schedules; William Hamm and Paying Teller Devitt, of the Allemanian bank. Mr. Bunker and Mr. Hamm were each before the grand jury for a considerable length of time. Mr. Bunker had with him a bundle of books.

The West Side bank is also to be investigated, judging from the presence in the witness stand of Charles F. Stearns, the president and assignee, and George H. Hosmer, the cashier of that bank. Neither of these gentlemen, so far as could be learned, appeared before the grand jury. Receiver Frank A. Seymour was on hand as usual with the books of the Bank of Minneapolis, but was not called in. T. D. Sheehan, an expert accountant employed by the Germania bank, was also present, but did not testify yesterday.

It is understood that the grand jury proposed to take a trip into the matter of the Germania bank, and thereby hangs a tale. Rumor has it that the movement in this direction is not inspired by the county attorney, but that it has its origin among two or three members of the grand jury itself. The truth or falsity of the rumor may never be ascertained and certainly will not be known until after the grand jury is discharged.

On the other hand it is reported that the Germania bank's officers have received assurance that the grand jury will not examine into its affairs. Whether this report has any foundation for the future will reveal.

THOMAS CAMPBELL'S WILL.

It is Filed in the Probate Court by His Widow.

The will of Thomas B. Campbell, who died May 5, was filed in the probate court yesterday. The petition for probate of Louisa L. Campbell, the widow of deceased, alleges that the deceased value of the personal property of the estate is $115,000, and that the real estate value of the real property is $38,000, of which $35,000 worth consists of unimproved city property.

The heirs, legatees and devisees are, Louisa L. Campbell, aged sixty-four years, widow of testator; Frank G. Campbell, aged thirty-nine years, a son of testator, and Frederick H. Campbell, aged thirty-seven years, also a son of testator.

The will, which bears date Aug. 1, 1884, is in substance as follows: The testator bequeaths unto his wife, Louisa L. Campbell, the family household, together with all horses, carriages, furniture and personal property used or contained in the house. The sum of $15,000 is bequeathed to Louisa L. Campbell and to Charles L. Tracy, of St. Paul, who are named as executors of the will, to be invested by them in trust for the benefit of the testator's sister, Mary Campbell, during her life, and to pay to her support and maintenance during the remainder of her life. Upon her death the said $15,000 is to be divided equally between the testator's widow and his two sons.

The rest and residue of the estate is bequeathed share and share alike to the testator's lot in Oakland county, which shall not cost to exceed $2,000.

MR. DARRAGH'S SALARY.

Action to Secure What Was Cut is on Trial.

Ex-Corporation Attorney Darragh's suit against the city for $722 back salary, alleged to be due him, was tried before Judge Bunn yesterday. While the case was not formally decided, the court remarked that, like the justice of the peace, he would probably find for the plaintiff.

Mr. Darragh sues the city to recover the 10 per cent of his salary of $5,000 a year, withheld by the terms of a council resolution. The reduction in the salaries of certain city officials was made by a resolution of the council which, however, was not compulsory at that time as to city officials whose salaries were fixed by state law. Mr. Darragh did not accept or assent to the reduction as declared by the evening paper which is endeavoring to try the case for Judge Bunn. On the contrary, Darragh declined in a speech delivered before the common council, to accept the cut. In proof of this, City Clerk Jensen took the stand before Judge Bunn yesterday and testified that Darragh had openly informed the council that he would not stand the reduction. During the remainder of his official term Mr. Darragh accepted 90 per cent of his full salary every month and upon going out entered suit for the balance.

Court Calls Today.

Jury-Judge Willis, Brill, Lewis-85, 70, 75. Court-Judge Olin, Hunn, 53, 73, 81. Chambers-Judge Kelly. Probate Court-Judge Willrich-Chambers. Supreme Court-149, 146, 152.

Lad Was Seized.

Christopher Anderson, the youth arrested by Officer Hanley for searching on South Robert street, was found in the police court yesterday. Sentence was deferred until the lad's father, who is ill, can appear.

O'Brien's Change of Luck. John O'Brien experienced a change of luck in the municipal court yesterday, and was acquitted of the charge of disorderly conduct, upon which he was arrested by Officer Twoby Wednesday night. It was the first time in the last year, the greater part of which O'Brien has spent in the workhouse upon

HAS ONE LESS LINK

LINCOLN LANG HAS A SCHEME FOR A LIGHT-RUNNING LOCOMOTIVE.

TRIED A MODEL YESTERDAY

AND ST. PAUL RAILROAD MEN PRAISED IT AS A GOOD THING.

TRIAL IN ACTUAL SERVICE

Will Be Given It as Soon as the New Link Scheme Can Be Built.

The blood of George Stephenson flows in the veins of Lincoln A. Lang, of Yule, N. D., and that may account for the fact that, although Mr. Lang for the past seven or eight years has been leading the life of a cowboy, he has always manifested a great aptitude for the science of locomotive engineering.

Mr. Lang is now registered at the Windsor hotel. He came to St. Paul to complete arrangements for the practical working test of a wonderful new invention of his own which he worked out and perfected during spare moments on his ranch.

Mr. Lang has had something of a romantic career, take it all in all. He was born in Scotland less than thirty-five years ago and early developed a great taste for scientific studies.

When a lad, Mr. Lang used to haunt the railway stations of Scotland and watch the engines for hours. His father, after he grew up, decided to send him to the College of Locomotive Engineering in Dublin, which delighted the heart of the young man, however, the programme to carry him to the least.

His father owned extensive ranch lands in the great American wilderness, as it was called, in England, and when twenty-four or twenty-five years of age the young man was sent out to North Dakota to look after the ranch.

For eight years he lived among the cowboys, being one of them and carrying on the same life. The cowboy life he took up for the purpose of refreshment, at the conclusion of which the literary programme will follow.

Five years ago he made up his mind that even on the plains he could, perhaps, work out some invention and set himself about the task. In his love for a locomotive, Mr. Lang had often noted its complicated mechanism and it occurred to him about five years ago that the "link motion" of the modern locomotive valve gear, or eccentrics, was far more complicated than it might be made and forthwith he commenced to study out some means of simplifying the mechanism. He noticed that the reversing gear of an engine could be reversed by a simple chinery, and that to reverse a locomotive an engineer was compelled to lift or depress a complication of gearing which weighed 300 or 400 pounds.

So Mr. Lang erected a shop out there on the prairie. During the short winter he worked on the ranch, but when needed, he worked out his idea. Successive failures met his efforts, but he persevered. Last winter he was called to the city to look after a conditional skill with the use of certain tools and mechanical devices that he could work out his ideas himself, so he went to the city and set up a workshop for six months in order to perfect himself in the mechanical arts. Then he returned to his prairie workshop and made a model of his invention. If his working model down to St. Paul and tested it in one of the great railroad shops in this city. The model worked perfectly, and the result was that Mr. Lang will complete a full sized mechanism and it will be tested on a heavy locomotive.

The preliminary test on Wednesday was a great success. Mr. Lang is not yet ready to give to the public a detailed description of his invention. However, he says, it is a simplified link motion. It does away with one of the links entirely.

"The valves and eccentrics of a locomotive are as clearly identified with a link motion as the lungs are to the body," said Mr. Lang to a reporter for the Globe yesterday. "Up to the present time two eccentrics have been required to regulate the flow of steam into the cylinders at the proper time. My invention contemplates the use of but one eccentric to produce the same result. I propose to use a link which will be half the size of the old one. You will readily see that this means a saving of fully 75 per cent in friction. This is a great gain and its value cannot be overestimated. Another thing which the invention will secure will be a more even distribution of the steam.

"The remarkable easiness and promptness with which an engineer can reverse his engine, became apparent the moment we put the working model in motion. We made the conditions as nearly as possible to that of an engine in service, and I was able to reverse by using one finger. The reduction in the number of eccentrics, the lessening of the friction, per cent, and the doing away with the counterpoise makes the work of reversing the engine a simple matter. My invention, which will be tested within a few days in the presence of experts.

M. J. Dowling returned yesterday from Reville, accompanied by Mrs. Dowling, and is a great gain and its value cannot be overestimated. Yesterday an express man called at the hotel with an enormous bundle of old back-numbered shoes, the bundle being consigned from admirer friends in La Crosse to the bride and groom.

Charles J. Davis, of Duluth, is at the Merchants'. Frank J. Price, of Grand Rapids, is at the Michigan. Dan C. Davis, of Windom, is a guest at the Merchants'. C. H. Hagan, of Seattle, is at the Ryan. E. J. Hauser, Jr., of Helena, and Ella Hauser, are at the Ryan. L. F. Potter and wife, of Oakland, Ia., are at the Ryan. William D. Totten, of Spokane, is at the Clarendon. W. S. Wright, of Staples, is at the Clarendon. E. E. Cole, of Fargo, N. D., is at the Windsor. C. E. Richardson, of Duluth, is at the Windsor. J. R. Rhodes, of Milwaukee, is at the Metropolitan. Matt Coch, of Waverly, is a guest of the Hotel Metropolitan.

L. W. LeMay, of Duluth, is a Metropolitan guest. Robert McKean, of Detroit, was at the Metropolitan yesterday. Harvey McLaughry, of Strauss, N. Y., arrived in the city yesterday from the West. Every one in the sporting world knows McLaughry as one of the crack shots of America. He has been known to come expelling the virtuous of the gun he uses, which he finds more profitable than actual competition in swoopshooting tournaments.

WEDNESDAY'S THEM.

Requests Gov. Clough to Turn Down the '48ids."

Gen. Bend doesn't wish to have commissions sent to the officers of the various boys brigades through the state, and yesterday went to the office of Gov. Clough to state his objections to such action.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF MINNESOTA ATTEND TO THE COMFORT OF 172.

Annual Meeting Yesterday. Reports Submitted Showing the General Condition of the Organization.

With the Extremes of Life Are Those Engaged in the Work Brought in Contact—Annual Address Next Sunday.

The annual meeting of the Children's Home Society of Minnesota, was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The annual report of the superintendent, Rev. E. P. Savage, showed that 172 children had been cared for during the year, 23 of whom were in charge May 1, 1897; besides these 17 had been cared for in North Dakota between May 1, 1896 and Jan. 1, 1897, when North Dakota ceased to be under the charge of the Minnesota society, having organized a state board of its own.

The receipts of the year from contributions have been $7,608.97; from payments on expense and other sources, $202.19. The expenses have been $7,731.67. Besides these from the circulation of the Children's Home Society, receipts, $772.70; expenses, $688.84.

CARE OF THE YOUNG

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF MINNESOTA ATTEND TO THE COMFORT OF 172.

ANNUAL MEETING YESTERDAY.

REPORTS SUBMITTED SHOWING THE GENERAL CONDITION OF THE ORGANIZATION.

WITH THE EXTREMES OF LIFE

Are Those Engaged in the Work Brought in Contact—Annual Address Next Sunday.

The annual meeting of the Children's Home Society of Minnesota, was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The annual report of the superintendent, Rev. E. P. Savage, showed that 172 children had been cared for during the year, 23 of whom were in charge May 1, 1897; besides these 17 had been cared for in North Dakota between May 1, 1896 and Jan. 1, 1897, when North Dakota ceased to be under the charge of the Minnesota society, having organized a state board of its own.

The receipts of the year from contributions have been $7,608.97; from payments on expense and other sources, $202.19. The expenses have been $7,731.67. Besides these from the circulation of the Children's Home Society, receipts, $772.70; expenses, $688.84.

The workers during the past year have been Rev. E. P. Savage, superintendent; Rev. D. B. Jackson and Mrs. B. L. Russell, assistants; Mrs. E. P. Savage in charge of the Minneapolis office and Miss Sarah E. Northrop, St. Paul, assistant secretary. Rev. B. H. Braetel is superintendent of North Dakota.

MASONS ENTERTAIN TONIGHT.

St. Paul Lodge the Host at a Banquet.

St. Paul No. 3, A. F. and A. M., will this evening entertain the members of St. John's Lodge No. 1 Stillwater and Cataract No. 2, Minneapolis, at Masonic hall. After a short preliminary the assembled guests will repair to the banquet room for refreshments, at the conclusion of which the literary programme will follow.

Part of the entertainment has been the subject of careful consideration for several weeks by the committee on arrangements, and an admirable programme has been prepared. The programme is the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

WEDNESDAY'S THEM.

Requests Gov. Clough to Turn Down the '48ids."

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF MINNESOTA ATTEND TO THE COMFORT OF 172.

Annual Meeting Yesterday. Reports Submitted Showing the General Condition of the Organization.

WITH THE EXTREMES OF LIFE

Are Those Engaged in the Work Brought in Contact—Annual Address Next Sunday.

The annual meeting of the Children's Home Society of Minnesota, was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The annual report of the superintendent, Rev. E. P. Savage, showed that 172 children had been cared for during the year, 23 of whom were in charge May 1, 1897; besides these 17 had been cared for in North Dakota between May 1, 1896 and Jan. 1, 1897, when North Dakota ceased to be under the charge of the Minnesota society, having organized a state board of its own.

The receipts of the year from contributions have been $7,608.97; from payments on expense and other sources, $202.19. The expenses have been $7,731.67. Besides these from the circulation of the Children's Home Society, receipts, $772.70; expenses, $688.84.

The workers during the past year have been Rev. E. P. Savage, superintendent; Rev. D. B. Jackson and Mrs. B. L. Russell, assistants; Mrs. E. P. Savage in charge of the Minneapolis office and Miss Sarah E. Northrop, St. Paul, assistant secretary. Rev. B. H. Braetel is superintendent of North Dakota.

MASONS ENTERTAIN TONIGHT.

St. Paul Lodge the Host at a Banquet.

St. Paul No. 3, A. F. and A. M., will this evening entertain the members of St. John's Lodge No. 1 Stillwater and Cataract No. 2, Minneapolis, at Masonic hall. After a short preliminary the assembled guests will repair to the banquet room for refreshments, at the conclusion of which the literary programme will follow.

Part of the entertainment has been the subject of careful consideration for several weeks by the committee on arrangements, and an admirable programme has been prepared. The programme is the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

WEDNESDAY'S THEM.

Requests Gov. Clough to Turn Down the '48ids."

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF MINNESOTA ATTEND TO THE COMFORT OF 172.

Annual Meeting Yesterday. Reports Submitted Showing the General Condition of the Organization.

WITH THE EXTREMES OF LIFE

Are Those Engaged in the Work Brought in Contact—Annual Address Next Sunday.

The annual meeting of the Children's Home Society of Minnesota, was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The annual report of the superintendent, Rev. E. P. Savage, showed that 172 children had been cared for during the year, 23 of whom were in charge May 1, 1897; besides these 17 had been cared for in North Dakota between May 1, 1896 and Jan. 1, 1897, when North Dakota ceased to be under the charge of the Minnesota society, having organized a state board of its own.

The receipts of the year from contributions have been $7,608.97; from payments on expense and other sources, $202.19. The expenses have been $7,731.67. Besides these from the circulation of the Children's Home Society, receipts, $772.70; expenses, $688.84.

The workers during the past year have been Rev. E. P. Savage, superintendent; Rev. D. B. Jackson and Mrs. B. L. Russell, assistants; Mrs. E. P. Savage in charge of the Minneapolis office and Miss Sarah E. Northrop, St. Paul, assistant secretary. Rev. B. H. Braetel is superintendent of North Dakota.

MASONS ENTERTAIN TONIGHT.

St. Paul Lodge the Host at a Banquet.

St. Paul No. 3, A. F. and A. M., will this evening entertain the members of St. John's Lodge No. 1 Stillwater and Cataract No. 2, Minneapolis, at Masonic hall. After a short preliminary the assembled guests will repair to the banquet room for refreshments, at the conclusion of which the literary programme will follow.

Part of the entertainment has been the subject of careful consideration for several weeks by the committee on arrangements, and an admirable programme has been prepared. The programme is the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

The programme is to be reserved exclusively to the old guards and the interesting memorabilia of early Masonry in this jurisdiction. The past masters and past grand masters have taken hold of the program, and the best of the kind in the state, and they are in conjunction formed the grand lodge in 1853. The object of this gathering is to establish closer relations among the members of these pioneer organizations, and a general good time is assured to all, young and old.

WEDNESDAY'S THEM.

Requests Gov. Clough to Turn Down the '48ids."

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF MINNESOTA ATTEND TO THE COMFORT OF 172.

Annual Meeting Yesterday. Reports Submitted Showing the General Condition of the Organization.

WITH THE EXTREMES OF LIFE

Are Those Engaged in the Work B