NOW COMES TROUBLE

MAYOR DORAN'S PARTISANSHIP IN THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS SQUABBLE BEGINS TO BEAR ITS FRUIT.

PROPERTY OWNERS ASK THAT ASSESSMENTS LEVIED BY COMMISSIONER COPELAND BE DECLARED ILLEGAL AND VOID.

Assessment for a Sewer Questioned; Also One for Cost of Wooden Sidewalk.

What was at the time regarded as Mayor Doran's partisan obstinacy, as well as that of the common council in refusing to recognize the board of public works until the supreme court compelled them to, is beginning to bear fruit in the courts. Actions have been begun by a number of property owners to set aside assessments levied for the construction of sewers and wooden sidewalks, on the ground that they are illegal, because the preliminary steps were not taken by the board of public works as required by the charter, but by the commissioner of public works, who was in reality not a legal officer.

Another case of the same kind will be heard tomorrow, the action being one to set aside an assessment for wooden sidewalks included under estimates No. 5 and 6. As in the case of the sewer, these sidewalks were built and laid on final orders sent to the council by the commissioner of public works some time last August, or during the early fall.

The charter requires that in ordering any public improvement the council shall first send a preliminary order therefor to the board of public works, whose duty it shall be to report whether it finds the proposed improvement necessary or proper. In case it is so found, the board of public works must submit a final order to the council.

In the cases now before the court the preliminary orders were sent to the commissioner of public works only, the council seeing fit to ignore the board of public works, which body had rented quarters across the street after being driven out of the court house, and was ready and willing to transact any business referred to it. It is true that the board of public works, after its reinstatement under the decision of the supreme court, confirmed the assessment levied for the improvements, and in these cases, but the question as to the validity of these assessments, the lawyers say, is a close one, notwithstanding, inasmuch as there was in reality no such officer as a commissioner of public works.

FIVE MORE DECISIONS.

Supreme Court is Clearing Its Table Up Rapidly.

The supreme court yesterday handed down the following decisions:

In re Proceedings to Enforce Payment of Taxes Remaining Delinquent in Morrison County, St. Louis, Mo., plaintiff, vs. Samuel R. Thayer et al., defendants. The defendant owned lots in the city of Little Falls, Morrison county, which were assessed and taxed upon a basis of equality and uniformity with other real property in said city, the value thereof being assessed and taxed at one-third of its cash value.

That as defendants were charged with only their just proportion of taxes, compared with valuations generally on the same assessment roll, they were not liable to be defended against proceedings to enforce payment of taxes, as they were not injured, and therefore, the judgment was affirmed.

Conceding that a municipal corporation cannot legally contract with private parties to refund the amount of taxes which the property is assessed its just proportion, the contract does not render the taxation invalid even if the agreement is void, such as 3. Evidence considered and held sufficient to sustain the findings of fact of the trial court. Affirmed. —Buck, J.

Minnie Stevens et al., appellants, vs. Samuel R. Thayer et al., respondents. Evidence considered and held sufficient to justify the findings of the trial court. Order affirmed. —Buck, J.

First National Bank of Brainerd, plaintiff, vs. Northern Trust Company et al., defendants. Fred Hunsicker, petitioner, appellant. Evidence considered and held sufficient to justify the order of the trial court in denying the petition for a writ of habeas corpus and permit him to become a party to the action. Order affirmed. —Buck, J.

ALLEN VS. ALLYN.

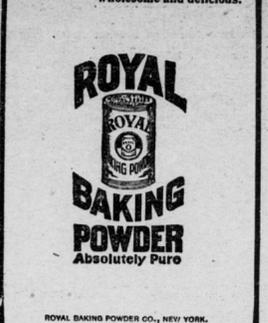

The Troubles of a Family Told in Court.

The suit of William Allen, by his deceased wife's estate, against the Minnesota Loan & Trust company, of Minneapolis, is on trial before Judge Kelly and a jury. The action is to recover some $3,000 held in trust by the defendant company for Edith M. Allyn, who is alleged to have eloped with Mrs. Allen's husband, Miss Allyn came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Allyn when but a girl nine years of age. That was in December, 1887. She remained with them until March, 1888, when she was married to a man in Denver, Col. Miss Allyn left Denver presumably for Minneapolis, where she had a sister living. The same day Mrs. Allen departed on a visit to her home in Nebraska, while she supposed Mrs. Allen was going to St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Allen has never set eyes on her husband or Miss Allyn since they were in Denver. She heard that both were in St. Louis soon afterwards. At present they are believed to be in Florida.

Mrs. Allen is now suing to recover compensation for the board and lodging of Miss Allyn for a period extending from December, 1887 until March, 1888, at the rate of $25 a month, the total sum claimed being about $3,000 in round numbers. Mrs. Allen has also commenced suit against Miss Allyn for $10,000 damages for alleged alienation of her husband's affections.

At the trial yesterday W. J. Hall, representing the defendant, the Minnesota Loan & Trust company, moved at the outset for a dismissal of the case on the ground that William H. Allen's attorneys, Messrs. O'Brien, Cole and Albertson, had been authorized by him to stipulate for judgment for the defendant. Judge Kelly denied the motion and allowed the case to go on.

ROYAL makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

The defense first offered in evidence an affidavit signed by William H. Allen and dated in December, 1896, in which he swore he had no claim against the Minnesota Loan & Trust company for Edith's board and lodging, and also a release dated June 21, 1897, by which Mr. Allen released the trust company from any and all liability to him. Mr. Barton objected to the admission of the affidavit in evidence against his client, Martha L. Allen. Judge Kelly said he would take the objection under advisement as it was about time to adjourn court and announced his ruling the next morning. The only witnesses called by the defense yesterday was Miss Minnie Allyn, of Minneapolis, a sister of Edith M. Allyn. Miss Allyn testified that she and receipts that had passed between W. H. Allen and the Minnesota Loan & Trust company.

HOLDS UP THE MONEY.

Injunction Against the Municipality of South St. Paul.

Ellan Converse, a citizen and taxpayer of South St. Paul, has brought an action in the district court of Ramsey county against that municipality and its officials to restrain the latter from paying over certain sums of money to J. P. Nolan, the city recorder, ex-Chief of Police Follmer, and Chief of Police Broderick. The payment of the sum of $2,000 mentioned in the complaint was authorized by a resolution of the city council adopted on June 29, 1897.

In his complaint, Mr. Converse recites that J. P. Nolan, the city recorder, James Gahan, the city treasurer, Michael Gahan, the mayor, and Broderick, the chief of police, are all officers of the city of South St. Paul, in receipt of regular salaries, and that Michael Follmer was the chief of police of said city until February or March, 1897, and as such received his salary. Preceding, the complaint alleges that on June 29, 1897, the city council unlawfully passed a resolution authorizing the payment to the city recorder, J. P. Nolan, the sum of $70 per month for the past four and one half months in addition to his regular salary "for looking in some manner after a portion of the public money, and further ordering the payment to ex-Chief of Police Follmer, of the sum of $100, and to Chief of Police Broderick $25 "for overseeing certain street work."

Mr. Converse declares that these claims are trumped up and that the council has no legal right to pay these officers salaries. He asks for an injunction pending the date of the hearing which has not yet been fixed.

LOVE OF A MOTHER.

Pathetic Case Comes Before Judge Willrich for Disposition.

Pathetic scenes are not rare in the probate court room, but one occurred there yesterday that aroused more than passing sympathy. An infant and its unfortunate mother were the objects of sympathy. The question before the court was the appointment of a guardian for the infant child. The application was made by the children's home society, in whose care the babe was left a few days ago. Its mother, the secretary of the society informed the court was not a fit person to take care of the child. All eyes were directed toward the young mother, who seemed a mere girl of nineteen or twenty years. She told her story in a broken voice. She only looked at her baby boy, who was resting in the arms of a nurse, innocent of all that was going on about him. Tears filled her mother's eyes and coursed down her cheeks. Rising from her seat, she quickly crossed the room, and before the spectators realized it, she had the little one in her arms and was kissing the tiny face again and again. At last she returned the child, and went sorrowfully away.

It was the old song. A year ago last September a child was born to Hattie Geisenheimer. Last September the mother placed the infant in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Keener, of 225 East Sixth street, and for some months paid them regularly for its support and care. At last the payments ceased, but Mrs. Keener continued to care for the child until she was taken ill, and her husband finally placed the little one in charge of the Children's Home society, which has applied for the appointment of a guardian.

It appeared from the testimony in the probate court that the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geisenheimer, live in this city, on the West side, whereupon Judge Willrich inquired if there would be any objection to appointing the child's grandfather its guardian. Mrs. Keener informed the court that Mr. Geisenheimer had refused to have anything to do with the child.

Judge Willrich will grant another hearing in the matter today.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

South Dakota Man Thinks His Potatoes Were Stolen.

Israel Leipewitz, living at 128 Water street, was arrested yesterday, on the charge of stealing thirty bushels of potatoes from Thomas A. Croal, of Aberdeen, S. D. Leipewitz was arraigned in the police court and secured a continuance until today.

Mr. Croal alleges that the potatoes were in good condition when he shipped the car and that when he showed the potatoes to a local commission merchant, several hours after their arrival in the railroad yards, there was a lot of spoiled ones on top of the load. Leipewitz and a companion, it is alleged, offered to pick the potatoes over cheaply. After completing their task, two wagon loads were prepared for delivery to the commission merchant. According to Mr. Croal, Leipewitz and his companion ran away with the potatoes. Mr. Croal thinks the bad potatoes were put into the car after it reached St. Paul, to

AROUND THE HOTELS

W. A. UNDERWOOD, THE NEW YORK ATTORNEY, HERE ON PRIVATE BUSINESS.

NORTHERN PACIFIC TALK.

HAS HEARD ALL SORTS BUT CLAIMS TO KNOW NOTHING AUTHENTIC.

ACTING GOVERNOR GIBBS HERE.

Mayor Brown, of Crookston, Spending a Few Days in the City—Personal Gossip.

W. A. Underwood, the New York attorney, who has come to be known to the people of this city, and especially the railroad people, as the legal representative of Receiver Andrew F. Burleigh, came here yesterday from Gotham, and is registered at the Ryan hotel.

He is authority for the statement that he came on business of a private nature and in no wise connected with the big transcontinental line. Asked for the sentiment in New York about the Northern Pacific railroad situation, Mr. Underwood says that he has heard all manner of talk down East, but that few, if any, people save the Northern Pacific directors who have the matter in hand, are in a position to know any more how matters stand than the St. Paul folks do. Further than this he could say nothing. He will remain here several days and may possibly visit the West before going back to New York.

A Raymond tourist party returning from an Alaskan trip was quartered at the Ryan hotel yesterday between trains. In the party, which is in charge of C. A. Cooke, of Boston, are persons from New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Boston, Brooklyn, Buffalo and Cambridge. All hands left for the East via the Milwaukee night train.

Lieut. Gov. John L. Gibbs, returned yesterday from Hector, in Renville county, where he spoke at a meeting of the farmers of that section, and spent the night at the Merchants. He will return to his home this morning. He finds much encouragement in the present condition of the crops, and concluded with his friend, Mayor Brown, of Crookston, that the forthcoming crop is to be a big one.

M. R. Brown, who is the chief executive of the city of Crookston, is in the city for a few days and is registered at the Merchants. Mayor Brown, in addition to administering the affairs of his thriving town, is also a landed proprietor and does considerable real estate business in the bargain.

"The crops are coming on in a thoroughly favorable manner, he said to a reporter for the Globe, "the only difficulty is danger of an overgrowth of straw. Such ground as was not planted last year and has taken on all this recent moisture has caused the grain to grow rank and weak, but with good conditions we look for this to stiffen up and bear the fruit properly. The acreage is larger and the yield will be greater in Polk, Norman, Marshall, Kittson, Clay and Red Lake counties where I have been."

H. F. Greene, ex-city attorney of Duluth, was at the Ryan yesterday.

H. A. Read, of Philadelphia, was in the city yesterday, and registered at the Ryan.

Among the arrivals at the Ryan yesterday was Fred Peabody of Milwaukee.

B. F. French, of Boston, is at the Ryan.

F. G. Church, of Cairo, Ill., was at the Merchants yesterday.

Among those who registered at the Merchants yesterday was T. E. Adams, of Melrose, Minn.

William H. Briggs, of St. Louis, is a guest at the Merchants.

Blue Earth City was represented at the Clarendon yesterday by L. D. Evans.

F. M. Fowler, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., is at the Clarendon.

E. P. Barnum, of St. Cloud, clerk of court for Stearns county, registered at the Windsor yesterday.

R. E. Osborne, of La Crosse, Wis., is at the Windsor.

John L. Healy registered at the Windsor yesterday from Blain.

G. E. Frost, of Clear Lake, is a Windsor guest.

Among the Eastern arrivals at the Windsor yesterday were F. M. Kerr and wife, Bath, Mont., are at the Metropolitan.

Chas. C. Robertson registered at the Merchants yesterday from Miles City, Mont., the center of the stock raising district of that state.

E. K. Wheelock and wife, Duluth, registered at the Metropolitan yesterday.

Mrs. R. J. Haylett, Rockford, registered at the Metropolitan yesterday.

An Entertaining Agency.

The current issue of the Fourth Estate has an excellent article concerning the well-known advertising agency of Lord & Thomas, Chicago. In speaking of the firm, the Fourth Estate says: "Enterprise permeates the entire establishment, likewise a perfect system which is soon evident to the most careless visitor and circulation of different estimates on advertising."

The heads of the firm, D. M. Lord and A. L. Thomas, are two of Chicago's best known business men. They keep in personal touch with the details of their business. C. H. Erwin, C. H. Touzain, E. E. Kunkel, W. R. Emery, G. D. Kendall, J. W. Campbell, J. F. Ryan and C. D. Bertolet, constitute the soliciting force. They are carefully selected and competent bringers-in of business—a most important part of the personnel of the agency.

The advertising division of the business is the estimating department, conducted by E. E. Bullis. This department is devoted to the study of the head and sustained internal advertising mediums, and the preparation of estimates on advertising.

The order department, under P. V. Trow, is in charge of the entire system of handling advertisers' orders, from the first to the last insertion, being perfect. Lord & Thomas have offices in the eastern division of Eastern business in American Trust Society Building, New York.
