Avis Mewcon, the six-year-old daughter of John Mewcon, residing at 2017 Portland avenue, died last evening as the result of injuries sustained while riding a bicycle. The child was riding on Portland avenue, near her home, when she lost control of the machine, and fell, sustaining a fracture of her arm near the elbow. Although this was set and the child appeared to be able to recover, the shock of the accident is supposed to have caused her death.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS ACTIVE.

Take Steps for Reorganizing Their Club.

The Young Men's Democratic club, of Minneapolis, which has been quiet sinc the close of the last campaign, renewed its activity last evening at a meeting held in the Kasota block. The meeting was well attended when it is considered that there is a lack of political issues at present.

The principal discussion of the evening was pertaining to the position of the club on public questions. The following committee was appointed to prepare an address setting forth the position of the club: H. A. Lund, Lee Coombs, William H. Daniels, Grant Stringham, R. D. Eastman, William Baldwin. This address will deal with the following topics: Tariff, currency, foreign relations government by inforeign relations, government by injunction, income tax. The address will also contain a general invitation to young men to become members of the club. Lee Coombs and William Baidwin were appointed as a committee to secure permanent quarters for the club. The meeting was presided over by William Baldwin, while Ralph Eddy acted as secretary. The next meeting will is being excavated in the middle of the street, and when the work was commenced the removal of the tracks of the Bloomington avenue line to one side was necessitated. Several trolley poles were also temporar ly removed, and this left the wire hanging for some distance with very frail support.

The men had scarcely clambered out of the ditch when the noon hour whistles blew, when, without a moment's warning, the big power wire snapped and the ends after sputtering and curling in mid air for a while finally dropped into the trench. If the accident had happened a few moments before, loss of life would certainly have re sulted, as the men would have been powerless to escape from contact with the wire and its deadly current.

One end of the wire got tangled up with the post of a gas lamp, and in a short time the electric current had melted the pipe and ignited the gas which blazed high in the air and con-tinued to make things warm in the neighborhood until the main was finally shut off. The planks along the sides of the ditch were also fired.

It was not until several hours afterward when the street railway pany had fixed up the wire and all scource of danger had been removed, that the laborers could be induced to go back to work.

VICTORY OF THE STRIKERS AT TURTLE CREEK IS ALMOST COMPLETE.

FEWER MEN IN ONE CAMP.

THE NUMBER AT PLUM CREEK RE-DUCED TO ONLY THREE HUNDRED.

WEARING TIMES FOR DEPUTIES.

Surprise Promised the Men as Yet Has Failed to Put in Any Appearance.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 5.-Out of the 2,000 strikers who camped at Turtle Creek last Saturday, barely 300 now remain at Camp Determination. In addition to the large number of men who were turned out of camp and cut off from the free lunch distribution yesterday, many were drafted to Plum Creek, where the great struggle for supremacy between the strikers and the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal company will be carried on.

At Turtle and Sandy Creeks the strikers have practically won. Turtle Creek mine, known as No. 4, is closed down as tight as the strikers can ever hope to close it by their present peaceful means of agitation. It is true that a few men are still at work in the pit. but they are not pulling out any coal. The same holds good at Sandy Creek. Reports from Plum Creek are conflicting. Supt. De Armitt claims that 255 men are still working, while the strikers say they counted but thirty going into the pit this morning.

going into the pit this morning.

The deputies at Plum Creek are having a hard time, many are complaining and a number have resigned. There is no such thing as uninterrupted rest for the deputies, and they are under a constant strain. All the mines are connected by private telegraph and telephone wires and every stranger or body of strangers moving along the highways is immediately reported to the nearest office by scouts and, when the foremen or managers of the pits get notice at the points upon which any march thus reported seems to be directed, there is a stir among the deputies. As these marches are matters of almost daily occurrence day and night in all directions, the deputies are in a state of apprehension and activity. The feeding and lodging facilities are limited and are not adequate to the demands made upon them. Early the morning Superintendent Samuel De Armitt had a brush with quate to the demands made upon them. Early th's moraing Superintendent Samuel De Armitt had a brush with the marchers. They were on the march and as he approached they opened ranks for him to pass through. When they neared the end of the road leading into the Murraysville road, he stopped them, saying the road was the private property of the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal company. The men held a consultation and concluded to march on which they did. De Armitt marched with them, threatening them with arrest, but no arrests were made.

It became rumored about among the campers today that President De Armitt had made arrangements to bring three hundred colored men to the mines from Virginia and that they would be here by Saturday.

The officials of the company, when seen, denied the rumor, and said that nothing of the kind was contemplated. TO DAM ARIZONA GORGES.

To Gather Water Where Rain Seldom Falls.

President Ripley, of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad has let a contract for the construction of two big dams of masonry in the Arizona desert, a region which is visited by gorges, twelve or eighteen miles distant from the railroad; one of them the gorge in which the cliff dwellers of a prehistoric age lived. One of the canons is about 600 feet wide at its mouth and the other about 300, but the walls of the latter are more precipitous—they are almost perpendicular—the decline from the mountain is not so sharp, and consequently it will hold nearly if not quite as much water. Each of these dams will hold 50,000,000 gallons of water—enough for the company's use along the Arizona division for eighteen months, including losses by evaporation and seepage. The dams will be forty feet high, constructed of sandstone quarried near by and laid in Portland cement. The outer face of the masonry will be in the form of the letter S, thus con-forming to the natural fall of water from such a height and avoiding the wear and tear of sudden precipitation. Between the two dams of masonry, which will be a long distance apart, will be constructed a smaller dam of iron. The cost of this dam will be much less in proportion than the stone reservoirs, but it will not last nearly so long, and it is to be put in as a comparative experiment. The stone reservoirs, ervoirs will cost about $200,000. The interest on this sum is about 33 1-3 per cent of the present cost of hauling the water to the tanks which they will sup-ply. The water will be piped from the reservoirs to the tanks on the line of the road. The enterprise has led to another experiment, which may result in a discovery of even greater value. In the valleys and on the mountain sides where the dams are to be con-structed are deposits of volcanic cin-ders, similar in color and apparently in ingredients to the lave cinders from Mount Vesuvius, from which was manufactured the cement in which was laid the meson y of the Colseum, aquelucts, and viaducts of Rome, which have withstood the ravages of time for more than 2,000 years. Twenty barrels of the Arizona cinders have been sent to Denmark, where the best Portland cement in the world is made. This lot will be tried in the manufacture of cement and if it should prove valuable works will be establish-ed in Arizona.

Chemists of the company will also experiment with ten barrels of the cin-ders at Topeka. A heavy portion of the expense, on account of long transor taken by the count of long transportation by sea and rail, of the construction of the stone reservoirs in Arizona will be the Portland cement, which goes from Belgium by sea to Galveston, and thence by rail to the place of use. If equally good cement can be manufactured on the ground the expense of construction will be cheapened 50 per cent or more.—San Francisco Chronicle.

As They Do in Kentucky.

In the summer of 1840 Henry Clay went to Kentucky on his vacation. Three nights after his arrival at a certain springs a sociable game began. In the game were Clay, Josiah Blackburn, John Hardin and Sam Clay, a cousin of the statesman, at thegan on Friday night and ran along withyarying luck. They were all old hands and had the nerve to back their cards. At 12 o'clock Saturday night Blackburn quit, a little ahead. He had been married only two months and was afraid his young wife would think him dead. Sunday morning at 9 o'clock some one rapped on the door. It was opened, and a negro g'rl stood in the hall. She had a clean shirt in her hand, and on the bosom was a note from Hardin's wife: "For Mr. John Hardin, whenever he can be found." Hardin changed his linen at the table.—Argonaut.
