

MINNEAPOLIS.

OFFICE 29 SOUTH FOURTH STREET.

SAW THE MILL CITY

Many visitors from southern Minnesota enjoy the Sabbath day.

ANOTHER OF THE EXCURSIONS

By which the people are made acquainted with the twin cities.

OFFICER FERM SUED FOR $1,000.

Peculiar affair for which action for false imprisonment is brought.

The usual Sabbath yesterday, and from the appearance of the downtown streets it appeared that carnival week was at hand.

It was the second excursion of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad, which afforded the farming classes of southern Minnesota and northern Iowa an opportunity to take in the metropolis of the Northwest.

WAS PUT BEHIND BARS. For this indignity Edward Melvey wants $1,000.

Officer E. Ferm, of the First precinct police, has been made defendant in a suit for $1,000 damages for false imprisonment brought by Edward Melvey.

This the complainant failed to do and the case was continued a day. Melvey, in the meantime, had secured his freedom on bail, and when the man charged with the crime was brought into court on a subpoena, he said that Melvey had told him that the matter had been settled, and thus he was not in any way aggrieved.

MINNETONKA'S WATER CARNIVAL.

The great attraction of unusual importance at Lake Minnetonka will be the arrival, so-called, at Lafayette hotel, this evening, of the water craft of the lake.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Salma Jensen, aged twenty-five, died yesterday. She leaves a husband and three children.

J. H. Harrington, a train dispatcher from St. Paul, was arrested Saturday morning on the charge of assault.

STILLWATER NEWS.

Patton Motor to be Tried on the Cedar Falls Street Railway.

W. H. Patton, inventor of the Patton system of storage battery electric motors, left last evening for Cedar Falls, Iowa, to propose to be made a put in line. Whether or not a line will be put in here has not been decided.

Thirteen barrels of logs were taken out of the St. Croix last week. Shipments are holding up, and the remainder of the season promises to be busy.

Prickly heat cured by Dermatology Woodbury, 127 Main street. It is pure, and does not contain any of the poisonous elements of Woodbury's Facial Soap or Cream.

who has resided in Stillwater for many years, died last Saturday night of a cancer of the stomach. Deceased was sixty-eight years of age.

Members of Stillwater lodge of Elks and their ladies enjoyed an excursion to the city of Stillwater on Saturday.

The case of the heirs of Julius Duell vs. the Stillwater Building and Loan association and C. Henningsen, for the recovery of a piece of property on Chestnut street, Judge Williston, of the district court, has made a decision in favor of the defendants.

FAMOUS MALMAISON IS RESTORED.

Splendor of Josephine's Day Given Back to It. Malmaison, the Trion of Josephine, the asylum of her sorrows, the last corner of France in which Napoleon, given to bay, and upon his knees, repented to the English and Prussians who advanced upon Paris, is soon to become the property of the state through the munificence of a citizen who has spent the last years of his life in the study of the history of the French empire.

According to the memoirs of Constantine, the first consul passed at Malmaison the most delightful years of his life; he spent there, before he became emperor, every moment that he could spare from his public duties.

But even in the days of his glory, before Napoleon gave his body and soul to glorification and ostentation, there was a canker in his heart. He had already enemies, and these he had to contend with.

Josephine gathered about her at Malmaison many objects of art of great value. Upon her death, several pictures were given to the state, and the remainder was sold to the Emperor of Russia for $160,000.

The large portrait of Josephine, by Gerard, which hung in one of the salons is now in Munich. There is also a collection of Greek vases, of antique bronzes, and of pictures from Pompeii, painted upon stucco, given to the King of Naples, which is in the Louvre.

The statues of marble which ornamented the facade are also to be seen in the Louvre. The restoration, by figures in terra cotta. On the park side, in front of the drawbridge, are two large Egyptian obelisks, which were taken from the chateau of Richelieu by Josephine, who wished to surprise Napoleon with these Egyptian relics when he returned from his Oriental campaign.

There are also still standing some temples and fountains and a gothic chapel built by Louis XV. The entrance lodge, formerly occupied by the aides-camp of the guard, nothing remains but the walls and the grilles. One of the gates, which Napoleon had opened when, after Waterloo, he fled to the chateau, his last refuge, to go to Rochefort.

Only One Fare

For round trip to points in Southern states on Aug. 17th, Sept. 7 and 21. See E. A. Whitaker, Albert Lea Route, Ticket Office 395 Robert St.

Killed by a Cigarette.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth Callahan, 43 years of age, was killed by a cigarette on Saturday morning in a West Thirty-third street boarding house, died today from her injuries.

Dying Farewell to Humbert.

ROME, Aug. 15.—Signor G. Costa, minister of justice, died shortly before he left for his home in Rome. He was a friend of the late Humbert, and his death is regarded as a great loss to the government.

See Line Tin-Bits.

Buffalo, N. Y., and return, $16.00.

GAME ALL AT ONCE

REVIVAL OF ACTIVITY IN THE STOCK MARKET SURPRISING TO SPECULATORS.

EVERY ONE WANTS TO BUY.

TRADING IN STOCKS EXCEEDS ANYTHING KNOWN SINCE THE EIGHTIES.

RAILROAD EARNINGS SHOW WELL.

They Tell the Story of Increasing Prosperity—London Slow to Respond.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—In his weekly review of the financial situation Henry Clews says:

The readers of our weekly advice will not need to be reminded of our continuously repeated foreboding of a great upward movement in the market for securities. We have now the realization of our forecasts, and upon a scale of activity and volume the most sanguine observers.

The market appears to have come all at once to a solid conviction that the recovery predicted in both trade and finance is a positive reality, and not the mere hope of sanguine optimists; and with this conviction comes an entire change in the attitude of the market for securities of all kinds.

Within a few years the rapid disappearance of the old signs of the golden age and the new signs of the silver age.

OUT OF DATE

Are Drug Store Signs That Were Once Generally Used.

Within a few years the rapid disappearance of the old signs of the golden age and the new signs of the silver age.

London's credulity in holding aloof from buying our stocks will prove a sorry thing for the market. It will be held up on this side until London meets a buyer on a large scale.

BATTLES IN INDIA.

European Women and Children at Cherat Flee to the Hills.

BOMBAY, Aug. 15.—A telegram from Cherat says that sharp firing was heard last evening in the direction of the city of Peshawar.

KNEW A THING OR TWO.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth Callahan, 43 years of age, was killed by a cigarette on Saturday morning in a West Thirty-third street boarding house, died today from her injuries.

avoidable, and become as crazy to buy them as they have been crazy to sell them continuously since 1890, at the time of the Baring panic.

LONDON MARKETS.

Strong on Better Outlook for American Stocks and Crops.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The week has witnessed a revival of interest in the money market. Discussion of the money market has been contributing to this being the decline in New York exchange and the rise in wheat in the United States, with the certainty that Europe will take a large part of the American product.

SILVER PURCHASES FOR INDIA ARE SMALL.

The little alteration in what values in the market, which is depressed by the news from India and the unsettled conditions of the money market, has been a very much less than during the previous week.

BIG COTTON CROP.

Outlook is for a Maximum of Nearly 10,000,000 Bales.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 15.—Mr. H. M. Neil, the well-known cotton statistician, has issued a circular on the growing crop. After giving an estimate of the crop for the year ending in July, 1897, of the crop of that season, Mr. Neil says:

Manchester Mills.

MANCHESTER, Aug. 15.—The situation in the cotton trade is not so bright as it was a week ago. Yarns are firm, but business is only moderate and prices show but trifling changes.

Foreign Wool Market Quiet.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The wool market during the week was quiet. There were a few inquiries for the business, but no sales.

ARE DRUG STORE SIGNS THAT WERE ONCE GENERALLY USED.

Within a few years the rapid disappearance of the old signs of the golden age and the new signs of the silver age.

ODD INSTANCES.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

RESULT OF AN AFTERTHOUGHT.

I had an amusing experience of the same nature with the general of the army just before he started for Europe.

STEEL GOES UP $2.

Another Advance of $2 Expected From the Combine.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 15.—An advance of $2 a ton in the price of structural steel has been made at the mills in this city within the last few days.

New Chimes Are Blessed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—With elaborate and solemn ceremonies the new chimes of St. Patrick cathedral in this city were blessed this afternoon by Archbishop Corrigan.

Felts Is In No Hurry.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 15.—V. B. Felts was detained today from making his usual morning trip to the city by a snow storm.

Another Advance of $2 Expected From the Combine.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 15.—An advance of $2 a ton in the price of structural steel has been made at the mills in this city within the last few days.

New Chimes Are Blessed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—With elaborate and solemn ceremonies the new chimes of St. Patrick cathedral in this city were blessed this afternoon by Archbishop Corrigan.

Felts Is In No Hurry.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 15.—V. B. Felts was detained today from making his usual morning trip to the city by a snow storm.

Another Advance of $2 Expected From the Combine.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 15.—An advance of $2 a ton in the price of structural steel has been made at the mills in this city within the last few days.

New Chimes Are Blessed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—With elaborate and solemn ceremonies the new chimes of St. Patrick cathedral in this city were blessed this afternoon by Archbishop Corrigan.

STATESMEN AT REST

LUXURIATING AT MOUNTAIN AND SEASIDE AFTER LABORS ON THE TARIFF.

SOME WARM WEATHER YARNS

IN REGARD TO THE DOINGS OF SEVERAL LEADING PUBLIC CHARACTERS.

AN EXPERIENCE IN NEW ENGLAND.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, Tells a Very Good Story About Circumstantial Evidence.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, Tells a Very Good Story About Circumstantial Evidence.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

Special Correspondence of the Globe.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—I have been traveling through New England seeing a number of statesmen in the dress of summer, and I can bear witness that no man relaxes so thoroughly as a congressman who has just finished off a job of tariff making.

correspondent to let the statement he had made that day in the house go unchallenged. The correspondent did so. That correspondent is today the first assistant postmaster general, and the public man who repudiated the interview is in private life a senator.

A QUESTION OF VERACITY.

Here is another authentic case which occurred in the last administration related to by a member of the senate a few days ago. A fellow senator, now in New England, came to him and quoted something outrageous which President Cleveland was reported to have said.

"He could not have said anything of the kind," said the first senator. "I shall ask him about it." Before the first senator could get to the White house, there appeared in a New York paper an interview with the second senator, in which he accused the president of making the offensive remark.

"I have seen the president and he has said that he never said anything of the kind." The next morning there appeared in a local paper an indignant denunciation of the interview published in New York. Senator No. 2 said the correspondent of the paper had misquoted and misrepresented him.

"I had a conversation with Benton McMillin, of Tennessee, recently and wrote it out that afternoon. When he said that the president had said that he never said anything of the kind, I have ever known you. You have written down everything I said and in my own mind I have seen the president and he has said that he never said anything of the kind."

"I had a long talk with Senator Jones, of Arkansas, the chairman of the Democratic national committee. The conversation turned to newspaper interviewing and the injustice of it. The senator thought some newspaper correspondent had done him. I told him that I was a man with the most honest intentions of any man in the country, and he said that he would be glad to see me."

SUICIDE AND THE SEXES.

It Is More Frequent With Men and Is Increased With Women.

At the present day man is much more prone to suicide than woman. This is true of man in regard to epilepsy, crime and other marked signs of degeneration. But it has been observed that the woman appears to be in her mode of life she also becomes more familiar with those abnormal conditions which have previously been the province of man.

Imitation far exceeds any other of what are called "trivial causes" of suicide, and asserts itself more in woman than in man. It is supposed that the destruction becomes epidemic, as it sometimes does, its prevalence very largely depends upon imitation. It is the most frequent cause of suicide, and Thomas Hood over "The One More Unfortunate" brought many a sentiment person to a watery grave in the Thames.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

Electric Power

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT generates double the power of any other Electric Belt made. The arrangement of the metals is upon the most approved scientific basis; the Voltaic piles, being coupled, so as to bring out a steady, powerful current perfectly insulated, so that, different from all other belts, the full force of the current is conducted into the weakened system in a continuous life-giving stream.

Hundreds of men are wearing these belts in the Twin Cities, and our office contains testimonials from thousands of men who have used it. We could all over the world a pocket edition of the celebrated electro-medical work, "THREE CLASSES OF MEN," illustrated, is sent free, sealed, by mail upon application.

DR. A. T. SANDEN

235 Nicollet Av., Minneapolis.

Office Hours—9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

SUICIDE AND THE SEXES.

It Is More Frequent With Men and Is Increased With Women.

At the present day man is much more prone to suicide than woman. This is true of man in regard to epilepsy, crime and other marked signs of degeneration. But it has been observed that the woman appears to be in her mode of life she also becomes more familiar with those abnormal conditions which have previously been the province of man.

Imitation far exceeds any other of what are called "trivial causes" of suicide, and asserts itself more in woman than in man. It is supposed that the destruction becomes epidemic, as it sometimes does, its prevalence very largely depends upon imitation. It is the most frequent cause of suicide, and Thomas Hood over "The One More Unfortunate" brought many a sentiment person to a watery grave in the Thames.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.

"I have not the most implicit confidence in circumstantial evidence," said the senator when we were discussing a criminal case now occupying a great part of the attention of the courts.