

MINNEAPOLIS. BALTIMORE IS NEXT

William Dougherty was arranged in the police court yesterday morning charged with an order continuing the sale of the collected accounts of the insolvent firm of Jacob & Mikolas to the New England Bottling company for the sum of $1,000.

Theodore T. Patton, a bill clerk heretofore in the employ of the Great Northern in Minneapolis, has been appointed cashier of the Montana Central railway at Butte, Mont. He leaves for his new position today.

May Greiner has commenced an action in the district court against William Greiner for divorce, asking for the custody of their one child, a boy of six years. The complaint alleges adultery and cruelty. The hearing has commenced a similar action against Aegle Theroult, alleging desertion.

The Marie Bell opera company scored a decided hit in the double bill presented at Lake Harriet this week. The first part of the entertainment in the evening drama was an uproariously funny skit. For the second part, "Cavalleria Rusticana" is given. The double bill will continue for the week.

Rev. Dr. Pleasant Hunter and family will leave today for the Pacific coast over the Soo and Canadian Pacific, as the guests of W. R. Kinney, general assessor agent of the former road. The trip will include stops at Vancouver, Victoria and other points.

The sum asked for by the gas committee for lighting the city streets will be expended as follows: One hundred and twenty-five electric lights to be burned all night, $1,250; 1,434 moonshine gas lights to be burned all night, $1,434; moonshine gas lights, $3,000. The remainder will be used for repairs and incidental expenses.

TOWNE ISN'T CONVINCED. Silver Theorist Gives His Views on Present Conditions. Six-Congressman Charles A. Towne, of Duluth, one of the high priests of the free silver faith in this country, has given to the press a statement regarding the relations of silver to the world's commerce.

Mr. Towne is an optimist. Speaking of the campaign of 1896, he said that he was with silver as the principal battle cry, as in 1896. He talks very entertainingly about the silver movement in the face of the present pronounced movement toward better times.

A NORMAL CONFERENCE. Prof. Kiehle Reads an Interesting Paper at the University. Before the congress of normal schools, held in the new building at the university yesterday, Prof. D. L. Kiehle read a paper based on the report just issued by the committee of twelve, appointed by the national educational association to inquire into the best methods of interesting the normal department with the rural schools.

Entertained the Scribbs. Dr. and Mrs. George E. Dennis gave an informal, at their home, 2409 Ninth avenue south, last evening, for the members of the local newspaper men, with whom the doctor's capacity as coroner, comes in daily contact.

Burglars were housebreaking still another daylight housebreaking Tuesday afternoon in the city. The residence of A. Z. Cole, 3300 Park avenue, was broken into during the absence of the family, and a quantity of clothing, which might easily be disposed of, the burglars ransacked the house for cellar to attic.

Farms for Mail Carriers. The mail carriers of Minneapolis to the number of fifteen are taking claims in the "Lakes" country, says the Crookston Times. As far as the claims are concerned, they come up and die on claims. Today four of the members of the party went on a trip across the big lakes, returning in ten days since and where, under the direction of Capt. Danahy, who is scouting them, they have chosen a farm for each.

Swindled a Cycle Dealer. A young man giving the name of Charles Lee, represented that he wished to purchase a bicycle at the Sixth street store. He paid $5 down and a check for the balance, given him as 227 Twenty-fifth street east, and stating that he was employed by the Washburn-Crosby Commission company. Fred M. Elmer, from whom the wheel was secured, made a few inquiries and found that both name, address and employment were fictitious. He reported the loss to the police.

PHARMACISTS DECIDE TO MEET IN THAT CITY NEXT YEAR.

The importance of the convention of the American Pharmaceutical association, now in session at the Lafayette, Minnetonka Beach, is probably not fully appreciated by the residents of the twin cities. As has already been intimated, it is probably the wealthiest and most influential association of its kind in the world, including in its membership residents of many foreign nations, England, France and even Eastern Africa being represented. One needs only to attend one of the sessions to appreciate the fact that the average druggist is not only a successful business man, but a student of his profession and strictly up to date in current affairs, and that the success of this profession means indirectly the good of every one under the necessity of buying medicines.

Yesterday's session was devoted entirely to the commercial section, which was called to order by Chairman Lewis C. Hopp, of Cleveland, who immediately introduced Dr. R. Noyes, of St. Paul, who, in turn, extended the greetings of the Wholesale Druggists' association.

Chairman Hopp then read his report, in which he stated that for years the nabulum on which the commercial section had been fed was that of out of price. He thought that another question worthy of attention was that of trade marks on foreign compounds, and that this question should be handled by a committee, whose duty it should be to formulate a plan for permanently disposing of this vexing question.

A communication was read from the National Proprietary association making reference to the American Pharmaceutical association for some plan of settling the matter of cutting prices. It was here that the animus of the retail druggist toward the proprietary price cutter and the department store bobbed up. At first it was voted to entirely disregard the overtures of the manufacturers and allow their communication to find a resting place in the waste basket, but the counsel of wiser heads prevailed, and it was decided to send a courteous, but firm refusal to confer until the manufacturers had some definite plan to propose.

The committee on the chairman's address reported favorably on the recommendations, with the exception of the 50 per cent tincture, which, having been condemned by the American Medical association, is not to be considered by the A. P. A.

Mr. Torbert, of Iowa, then took the floor to discuss the cut rates of patent drugs, which, like Bangs's ghost, would not do away with the patent. Joseph Jacobs, of Atlanta, Ga., was nominated and elected chairman of the committee on the rest of the day.

CO-OPERATIVE KLONDIKERS. Party of Fourteen on the Way From Chicago. CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—A party of thirteen men and one woman, who are on their way to the Klondike, left Chicago this evening for the Alaska gold fields. The expedition is co-operative, each member agreeing to share equally with the others in the gold that may be secured. The party is led by Harry Gard, one of the party, who has been a prospector in the Klondike for several years. The party is expected to reach the Klondike in about ten days.

PROSPECTIVE KLONDIKERS. The biggest crowd of prospective Klondikers is to be found camped along the trail all the way from the bay to the summit. I think very few men will get through this year. Over at Dyea, there seems to be very little prospecting. The trail is much steeper, but horses are not yet up to their necks in mud and slush. Many men are going very lively at the town, and on the bay just now. At first it has all tents, but frame buildings are rapidly going up. Next week a saw mill will be in operation. Men are already at work setting out lumber for the new buildings. Six stores carrying stocks of mixed goods have started up and are doing very well.

WHOLESALE POISONING. SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 25.—The steam collier Willamette brought an account of a wholesale poisoning case at Sitka, which, it was feared, would result in the death of several Indians. The case is being investigated by the police. The poisoning was caused by the use of a poisonous substance in the preparation of food.
