RESPONSIBILITY FOR CUT RATES.

Ontside Roads Say That It Rests With the Lines in the Western Association.

The bottom fell out of passenger rates to Chicago yesterday as far as Italians are concerned, the Burlington road standing charged with having started off eighty-three for the Windy City at $2.75 each. This goes the Milwaukee rate of the night before one better, and leaves the Omaha people the only ones to stik by the agreeenint entered into some days ago to leave this business for the weaker lines to struggle with.

The eighty-three men came in from the West in the morning, and lost no time in starting out ticket "shopping." Stories as to what the different roads offered to take the business for are conflicting, but it is agreed that the Burlington limited bore them away to Chicago and at the figure mentioned. Inquiry at the city office of the Burlington brought out the information that the deal had been made at the company's general office.

The trouble is probably at an end, as the executive agreement is effective today, and will in all probability be observed at least until this Dago movement is over for this year. Hereafter the rate should be for parties of twenty or over, $8.05 between here and Chi-

A call was issued today for the reg-ular meeting of the central passenger committee, which will be held in this city next Wednesday. There is a long city next Wednesday. There is a long docket prepared for the meeting, but the majority of the subjects that will come before it are of a routin, nature. Most of the time of the meeting will be taken up with applications for reduced rates made by various interests.

The roads on the outside of the West ern Passenger association are claiming that the meeting of the Western lines which adjourned yesterday, proved that the lines in the organization and not those on the outside are responsible not those on the outside are responsible for the demoralization which has exist-ed in the territory of the association for the last three months. The repre-sentatives of the roads who are not members say that for the most part they sat still and listened to the charges and counter charges made by the association roads. They claim that charges and counter charges made by the association roads. STATE CHARGED. IN EFFECT. WITH MANUFACTURING EVI-DENCE.

DR. ALLPORT IS AUTHORITY.

SENSATION CAUSED BY THE AS-SERTION OF THE EXPERT IN OSTEOLOGY.

KEPT ON THE STAND ALL DAY.

Witness Trapped Into Contradictions by the State During the Cross-Examination

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 .- There was but one witness on the stand in the Luetgert trial today and at the conclusion of the session the state announced that it would probaly keep him on the stand for the greater portion of tomorrow. The witness was Dr. W. H. Allport, the expert, who testified for the defense yesterday, that the femur claimed by the state as the femur of a woman is in reality the femur of a hog. The state had prepared a warm cross-examination for him today, and toward the latter portion of the afternoon session it succeeded in confusing him and gaining several contradictions of his own evidence. The attorneys for the state have considerable feeling against Dr. Allport as his testimony more than once has been to the effect that, evidence was manufactured by the prosecution and they will leave nothing undone to break him down.

When Dr. Allport went on the witness stand again today he created another sensation by declaring that the temporal bone which Prof. Dorsey identified as human, and from its formation probably the right temporal bone of a female, is not human. Aliport emphatically remarked that there were no indications upon which to base the conclusion that the bone was from the skull of a human being. He believed it came from the skull of some lower animal. He also declared that the phalanges in evidence belonged to the lower animal kingdom.

Dr. Allport made a statement on the witness stand today that caused a profound sensation for a few minutes. He was examining the temporal bone which had been identified by Prof. Dersey, and pronounced by the latter not only a temporal bone, but the temporal bone of a woman.

"That bone is not a temporal bone either of a human or of the lower or-der of animals," declared Dr. Allport, gazing at the exhibit intently. "It is a composition of bones put together by artificial means. The trace here which Prof. Dorsey said was the outline of a facial nerve is a fibre of animal matter with which the bones are stuck to-The statement was received with something akin to dismay by the pros-ecution for a moment. Luetgert leaned back in his chair and laughed.

HOT CROSS-EXAMINATION. The cross-examination to which Dr. Allport was subjected was more severe than that which any previous witness has undergone. Assistant State's Attorney McEwen did the questioning and when court adjourned for he announced that he was not through with the witness and would recall him temorrow morning. Privately, he said Capt. Tom Powers, of the Eliza Anderson, returned from Dutch harbor on the Holyoke. He denies the report that the Eliza Anderson will leave her bones where she now lies, but says the old craft will be on the sound and Alaska run next season, and that a nounded by Assistant State's Attorney McEwen. The sensational statement of Dr. Allport, at the morning session of the court, to the effect that the temporal bone identified by Prof. Dorsev as being the right temporal of a female was in reality not a temporal bone at all, aroused the prosecution. The expert's conclusion that the ex-Light was several bones glued together, in the form of a temporal bone, sug-gested fraud and an attempt to manufacture evidence which the prosecu-tion did not relish.

The result was that Mr. McEwen went at Dr. Allport with a firm de-termination to learn if the witness really knew what he was talking about. Questions were fired at the expert with such rapidity that he became bewildered. Confusion led to came bewildered. Confusion led to contradicition and this developed sharper cross questioning, so that the two hours spent upon the stand were raught with nerve-testing anxiety or the witness. Prof. Dorsey, whose evidence Dr. Allport flatly contradicts, listened attentively to the cross-examination of the chief expert for the defense. He his own story and those of Prof. Balley and Dr. Pierce punctured by Dr. Allport with a smile of scorn. Later on Prof. Dorsey will go on the witness stand to substantiate his original testimony, if he can.

Mr. McEwen neatly caught Dr. Allport napping during the afternoon session. The expert was requested to name a portion of bone handed him. After a brief examination the expert said it was part of the skull of a monkey. Assistant State's Attorney McEwen immediately asked another question which led Dr. Allport to believe he had identified the exhibit at the first guess and he confidently en-tered upon a long disertation relative to the similarity of the skull in some portions to that of a human skull. After he had finished, Assistant State's Attorney McEwen reached for the bone the expert held and remarked: Well, that bone is from the skull of

Dr. Allport looked surprised, but recovering himself suddenly he observed: "Well, it might have been a monkey-faced dog." This was greeted with a laugh in which Luetgert joined. It is likely that the cross fire of the experts will be kept up for nearly another week. After they have finished Luetgert will be called. Attorney Vin-cent does not believe that Luetgert's evidence is essential. In the opening statement he told the jury that the big sausage maker would talk to them from the witness stand, and he said yesterday he would not disappoint the
