AGREEMENT IN DANGER.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The announcement of the Union Pacific to the effect that it had reached no agreement with the Oregon Short line, coming close after the declaration of the executive officers of the Western roads that they would, after this time, hold the Union Pacific responsible for any further demoralization in transcontinenal passenger traffic, is not thought by the Western roads generally, to portend western roads generally, to portend any long observance of the agreement to maintain rates. With a strong line like the Union Pacific on the outside and in none the best of humor over the manner in which it has been treated the Western Passenger. by the roads of the Western Passenger association, it is only a question of time to have been settled at the last meeting of the association will be brought out once more. All of the roads that out once more. All of the loads that are direct competitors of the Union Pacific are watching it very closely, and on the first reduction of any rate by that line they will lose no time in following suit. This is admitted by the general passenger agents of many of the Western roads, and they say they have no idea that the agreement for

The action of the Northern lines to-day in raising the rate on flour to New York, is said by the freight officials of the Western roads to be the first result of their meeting in this city within the last few days, when it was agreed that the rates in many parts of the West and Northwest were too low. It is ex-pected that other rates will be ad-vanced in the near future, and a strong effort will be made to uphold the rates all over the Western territory.

The informal conference which has been going on the past week between the traffic representatives of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Canadian Pacific, was practically ended yesterday, although Messrs. Kerr and Bosworth, of the last-named line, re-turned home a day or two ago.

This conference, which is a sort of an annual affair, was for the purpose of going over the business of the past season with a view to adjusting mat-ters which stood in the way of the otherwise amicable relations existing between the big lines, and to take steps to prevent in the future any disturbance of rates, demoralization, and, in fact, to insure the friendly main-tenance of agreements as to division

STATE HAS SOME POINTS To Be Considered in the Great Western Tax Question.

The case of the Great Western before the state railroad and warehouse com mission over the rate of tax they shall pay upon their gross earnings promises to be quite interesting when it is taken up next month. In a nutshell, as already published in this paper, the road contends that by virtue of certain provisions in its charter it should not be required to comply with the general laws of 1873, which provides that after the first ten years of operation a railroad in this state shall have its tax on gross earnings in-creased from 2 to 3 per cent. It is understood that the Great Westin will contend that under the chartern will contend that under the char-ter of 1854, granted to the Minnesota. Northwestern, and amended two years later, that road was called upon to pay an annual tax of 2 per cent, and should be asked to do only this despite the general law passed by the western when that line did not build or operate any line from 1856 until the fall of 1885, when the line was completed to Austin. Again the point will be raised as to whether the Great Western, incorporated in Illinois, can avail itself of the charter granted to the Minnesota & Northwestern, which was a Minnesota institution, duly incorporated in this state. The case is set for Nov. 1.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Oct, 7.—It is now regarded as settled that the Great Northern will build the line from Fosston to connect with the cid Duluth & Winnipeg at Deer river in time to move the next frop. New steel, weighing seventy-five pounds to the yard, has been laid on the Fosston line this summer, when the local traffic only required light rails, and Great Northern engineers and right of way men are now at work in the intervening territory. All possible preliminary work will be done this fall, and it is expected that grading and track laying will be begun as early in the spring as the season will permit.

Killed the Section Foreman. ROCHESTER, Minn., Oct. 7.—August Wenland, foreman on a section at Plainview on the branch road of the Chicago & North-western Railroad company, feil from a hand car and was killed almost instantly. He was standing facing the motive lever of the car and was assisting his crew in going at a rapid rate of speed toward the town. In some way his foot slipped and he fell backward onto the rail. The car passed over the length of his bedy, crushing in his breast bone and ribs. Before the car could be stopped and the men had returned to pick him we life had become evited.

Bishop Hurst gave a touching account of his own early struggles and efforts to gain an education and entrance to the ministry. This afternoon Mary C. Her account of the work among the women of India and China was especially well received. Rev. R. That Story of the Hot Meeting of the Capitol Commission.

WINONA, Minn., Oct. 7.—State Commissioner Lamberton, of the capitol board, does not give encouragement to the idea that there has been a warn meeting of that organization relative to the matter of alleged bribes. The story, as spread by the Twin City pa-pers, has caused considerable talk in Winona. Commissioner H. W. Lamberton was today seen in regard to the story of the stormy meeting and asked relative to its truth.

"There is not a shadow of truth in the story about such a stormy meet-ing," said Mr. Lamberton, energetic-"There was never any discussion or intimation in any board meeting at any time that a member had been approached. I have attended every meeting of the board with the exception of one in July and one in August, while I was away. The trial committee in the case against Rev. C. E. Mr. Harwood, banker, of Barnesville, testified before the committee this afternoon. His evidence was all in favor of the defendant. Decision on this case will be reached tomorrow.

The standing committees for 1897 as announced are as follows:

Conference Stewards—T. F. Allen, William No. D., Oct. 7.—Much to the disappointment of those particularly interested, the scheme to issue $20,000 in state bonds in connection with the Soldiers' home at L sbon, N. D., for the purpose of taking up the old outstanding certificates of indebtedness issued several years ago for purchasing the site and errecting the building, now amounting to about $12,000, and building a hospital, the plans for which were prepared by Hancock Bros., of Fargo, and approved by the board, has fallen through in consequence of it having been discovered that such proceedings would be filegal, because the debt limit of the state would thereby be exceeded. Although it was recently decided to postpone the erection of the hospital building until next summer, yet it was intended to sell the bonds, and thus have the proceeds in bank for future use. While this might not have benefited the taxpayers, somebody might have been in luck's way. Bonds Can't Be Sold.

Big Lumber Cut Promised. DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 7.—The lumber f the Duluth district this season will double that of last winter. Prosperity has returned in full force and effect to the lumbermen of this section. The average increase of wages for woodsmen this winter is 20 per cent. or frem $3 to $5 per month, and if the present searcity of labor continues there may be a sharp increase later. Labor has not been so scarce in Duluth and vicinity in years as at present. It was anticipated that after harvest there would be plenty of men to fill all demands, but thus far there has been jittle relief. Let this order be forthwith served by malling copies thereof to said insolvent and to all the creditors who have filed their by Mrs. Luetgert. She was positive Luetgert's heavy features, which had been contorted by his habitual frown augmented by physical pain caused by an atmospherical change, relaxed some-what as he caught sight of Mrs. Christine Feldt. The big sausage maker smiled, then an expression of scorn shone in his eyes. Mrs. Feldt is the woman who loaned Luetgert money, and who on the witness stand remark-ed that she was very sorry for hav-ing done so. Luetgert wrote her many letters of a tender and supplicating character soon after his arrest last sives to the prosecution. To Luetgert's consternation, the letters confronted him in court and he was compelled to listen to the expressions of endear-ment he had addressed to the widow. There was a story in circulation at one time that Luetgert intended to marry Mrs. Feldt, and that was the reason he desired to be rid of his wife. Police Officer, Charles Griebenow was called to the witness stand to testify to certain dates of material events in the case, in contradiction of witnesses for the defense.
