

HOUSEKEEPERS, TAKE NOTICE. Our grand wind-up six day spot cash... NEW ENGLAND FURNITURE & CARPET CO.

GRAND HANDS GIVEN Women Should Remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills should be taken with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

GAS LIGHT PUZZLE JOINT COMMITTEE ON GAS IS STILL WRESTLING WITH THE PROBLEM. TO REDISTRIBUTE THE CITY IS ONE OF THE POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS WHICH IS BEING CONSIDERED.

Housekeeper Bros. HOUSEKEEPERS' DAY. Of course you know what that line means to economical people.

WHO GETS THE BAIL?

ROBERT S. WALLACE, UNDER INDICTMENT, SAID TO HAVE LEFT TOWN.

RELEASED ON $1,000 CASH.

BEFORE JUDGE ORR RULED THAT THE COURT HAD NO AUTHORITY.

TO RECEIVE CASH IN SUCH CASES.

Attorneys Think Clerk Conroy Will Have to Return the Money Whence It Came.

Robert S. Wallace, who was arrested about a month ago on the charge of stealing stamp money from the firm of Farwell, Ozmun, Kirk & Co., in whose employ he was, has been indicted by the grand jury.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued, which day has not yet arrived.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

When Wallace was arrested on a warrant issued from the municipal court, some friends deposited $1,000 in cash with Clerk Conroy to secure the appearance of Wallace on the day which his case was continued.

The deputy sheriff Miesen visited the young man's home, he was informed by his mother that Wallace had left the city some days ago to visit friends.

NORTHERN MINNESOTA FORESTRY.

An Excellent Paper by the Late Warren W. Pendergast.

The following is an abridgment of the paper read by the late Warren W. Pendergast before the Forestry association at its last meeting.

The whole country is so interested in the fact that its author was but twenty-one years of age, and had received his training at Minnesota schools and the college of forestry at Michigan.

Minnesota is a state in which commercial lumbering has advanced far enough to call the attention of the public to the fact that the lumberman should pay attention to the forest.

It is a state in which there is still left so great a domain of virgin forest that it is a field for the application of a system of forest management perhaps unequalled by any other.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

It is a state in which the lumberman has not yet learned to look upon the forest as a mere source of profit, but as a source of wealth and as a source of pleasure.

Marked Yesterday a Pleasant One in the Annals of the Social Set.

The parlors of the Central Park Methodist church, in fact, the whole church, was the scene of a truly brilliant reception last evening, which was given to the pastors of the Methodist churches by the city union of Epworth leagues.

While the reception was an annual event, last night's function was of particular interest owing to the number of new pastors who were the honored guests.

Plans for the reception had been carefully laid and ably carried out by the entertainment committee, which was composed of twenty-four members, two from each of the twelve churches.

The members of this committee who had charge of the decorations were: Misses E. Miller and Holmquist; Messrs. Jones and Campbell.

The results of their work were unique and artistic, each of the spacious parlors being appointed for a special function.

The room into which the guests were first led was made beautiful with emblems of patriotism; here a "Regina" of exquisite tone discoursed national airs, while near by stood Miss Miller, attired in a fancy flag costume with a star-spangled cap and as "Columbia" greeting the guests and presenting them with plenty of bouquets.

Over the flags and ferns and palms softly shaded lamps shed a subdued light. After Columbia had been saluted, the guests might wander into the library, where great spreading palms, fragrant flowers and handsome banquet lamps cast the spell of perfect rest; or they might go into the main reception room, where the pleasant hum of voices, the happy combinations in the floral decorations, and more than all, the perfect sociability, bespoke the entire success of the committee's efforts.

On the receiving committee were: Misses Miller, Krieger, Harper, Montgomery, Koenig, Wallace, Curry, Wilson, Rogers, Messrs. Spindler, Wolever, Mann, Lackey and Lathrop.

By the time the guests had all arrived it was found necessary to open the audience room of the church, as there was not room enough for the four hundred guests in the parlors and lecture room.

When in the auditorium the following improvised programme was carried out: Address of welcome, by Dr. W. K. Marshall, the presiding elder of the district; solo, "Abide With Me," by John Koch; response to address of welcome, by Rev. B. Longley, the new pastor of Central Park church; solos, by Mrs. McCree and Mrs. Krieger; address by Rev. J. J. Fitzpatrick, programme was in charge of Mr. Lackey.

After the addresses the guests were invited to the basement, where, in a room handsomely decorated in smilax, red ribbons and carnations, refreshments were served by young ladies, two from each church. Miss Hare was chairman of the refreshment committee. As a whole, the reception was one to be pleasantly and proudly remembered by the members of the Epworth leagues.

Mrs. F. H. MacMichael, of Summit avenue, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Pontus H. Conradson, of Franklin, Pa., and to introduce her daughter, Miss MacMichael. The parlors and dining room were decorated with red roses, carnations and ferns. There were about 250 guests during the afternoon. In the evening Miss MacMichael received her young friends, Miss Fulton, of Pittsburgh, assisting the hostesses in receiving at the evening function.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Frank A. Clarkson, of Duluth, and Mrs. Jennie Gardner Greene, at the residence of the bride's father, Higgins W. H. Gardner, of Duluth. The ceremony was performed yesterday, Rev. Robert Forbes, of Duluth, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson will be at home after November 1, at 482 London road, Duluth.

At St. James' Catholic church yesterday morning Miss Sarah S. Keogh was married to J. D. Ryan, of Duluth. Rev. J. J. Burke, of Bloomington, Ill., cousin of the bride, presided at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. Fitzpatrick. A wedding breakfast followed at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan left on the evening train for Duluth.

A special to the Globe from Winona says: The marriage of Miss May McMillan, of this city, to Mr. P. L. Miller, of St. Paul, took place at 8:15 o'clock, Rev. Father Gallagher officiating. The ceremony was a simple one, and was presided over by the Rev. Father. The bride was given in marriage to Mr. Miller by her father, Mr. J. J. McMillan. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Miller. The bride and groom will be at home after November 1, at 482 London road, Duluth.

Mrs. F. H. Orton, of Ashland avenue, entertained a hostess at a reception yesterday afternoon, and was assisted by Miss Messrs. Johnson and Jackson, presided. The tea room, where Russian tea was dispensed throughout the afternoon, was decorated with yellow and blue. The reception was a success, and was presided over by Mrs. F. H. Orton, who will entertain the remaining Thursdays of this month.

Mrs. J. P. Larkin, of Virginia avenue, entertained the Kangaroo club last evening. The Ladies' Social Circle of Park Congregational church gave a silver tea yesterday afternoon.

There was a moderate attendance at the reception of the Woman's Christian home yesterday afternoon. Besides the social hour there was a business meeting at which the treasurer's report was read, showing receipts for the year to be $3,267.25; expenditures, $1,244.42; leaving a balance in the treasury of $2,022.83. The actual cash in sight with the board undertakes for the new year the management of a work demanding an expenditure of $125,000. Coffee and sandwiches were served during the afternoon.

Mrs. Follow, of John street, entertained the Idle Hour club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Pascal Smith has returned from the West.

Miss Lou Griffith, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Vign of the Abbot, for two months, will return to her home in Marshall, Mich., Monday.

C. S. Day, B. S. Hayes, F. S. Rollins and F. L. Ricker, who have been guests at the GRAND MUSICAL SERVICE.

Harvest Home Is Observed at St. Paul's.

The interior of St. Paul's Episcopal church presented a beautiful appearance last night, the occasion being the harvest home festival.

The church was prettily garnished with sheaves of grain, and miniature displays of fruits and vegetables of the festival season.

The decoration was attended to by the altar guild, the cereals secured through the courtesy of the Canadian Emigration company, being especially attractive.

Opening notes of the Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser, on the great organ, the pretty church was filled to its capacity.

The vested choir came in under the direction of Choirmaster Thomas Yapp on the chorale "Come Ye Thankful People, Come," and filed into the choir stalls by Rev. John Wright, officiating, assisted by Revs. H. M. Hood, who intoned the cathedral service, W. C. Pope, Ernest Dray and Henry H. Gibson.

The musical portion of the service was of an excellent quality, and included the anthems, "Fear Not, O Land," by Claire; "Man Geth Forth to His Work," by Camall; "Rejoice in the Lord," by Toulson, and "The Hymns, and the details of the evening church service. The work of the men and boys was most commendable, the attack being excellent, the shading and expression well brought out.

Miss Lawrence, who was to have sung the offertory solo, Lohr's "The Golden Threshold," was unable to be present, owing to the illness of her mother, George Danz Jr., who was to have played the organ, was unable to be present, owing to the illness of his mother.

Rev. W. C. Pope spoke briefly upon the meaning and significance of the harvest festival, dwelling on the appropriateness of chanting glad praises in song. Dr. John Wright, rector of St. Paul's, spoke at length on the occasion, and among other announcements, stated that the choir which had taken such a prominent part in the evening's services, would celebrate its tenth anniversary on Sunday by presenting Garrett's cantata, "Two Advents." The congregation was much edified at the singing of the choir, and listened with interest to the recitation of the recessional, "Praise to God" had died away. Following the doxology, Dr. Stainer's magnificent "Seventeen Amen" was sung, and the people were dismissed by the church, Prof. Tibbald played the great chorus from Elijah.

EACH SHOULD SEE. Claims Committee's Position as to Police Back Pay.

Corporation Attorney Markham gave the committee on claims from the board of aldermen an opinion yesterday to the effect that the claim for back pay against the city should be paid. Hanft was a member of the police force up to Sept. 30, 1896, when he was discharged by the mayor to make room for a railroad and was recommended Doran adherent.

The notice of the discharge of Hanft was sent to the council, but it was Nov. 6, 1896, that the council passed a resolution in the action of the mayor. Hanft filed a notice of his claim for services from the date of his discharge until it was given to by the council. Corporation Attorney Markham advised that Hanft be allowed pay for one month and six days, and that the controller send in a properly audited report of the police force on Oct. 31, 1896, and that the council, on that date, however, deferred action on the matter, and a majority of the committee was in favor of claims of this kind being brought before the courts before they were paid.

MINNESOTA'S Dairy Product Is in Great Demand.

The great drought which has just been broken through Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan has caused a temporary lull in the affairs of the Minnesota dairy board of trade, of St. Paul. The drought ruined the pasturage, and, as a consequence, the supply of butter in the four states named ran very short, so that all the butter now made in this country is being sold and sent East and South on these contracts, instead of being offered on the Minnesota board. Prices have gone up from 14 and 16 to 24 and 26.

Another reason for the large demand for butter in Illinois is that the new state law prohibiting the use of oleo has gone into effect, and the annual supply of 140,000,000 pounds of this stuff has been taken off the market, creating a demand larger than ever for pure butter. It is said that the production of this law will create a field in Illinois for 150 additional creameries.

CHANGE OF TIME AND NEW TRAIN TO Northern Wisconsin and Ashland.

Commencing Monday, 18th inst., day train of the C. St. P. M. & O. Railway for Northern Wisconsin points will leave St. Paul at 8:45 a. m., and St. Paul 9:25 a. m.

On Sunday, 17th inst., night train service to Ashland will be resumed with Sleeping Car between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Ashland.

WEST SUPERIOR MAN Who Has Been on the Klondike Tells His Story.

L. P. Gerrish arrived in St. Paul yesterday morning, coming from the Pacific coast over the Great Northern, and leaving in the evening for his former home.

Mr. Gerrish has spent the past two years in Alaska and has amassed a snug little fortune, a small portion of which he carries in a bottle as a specimen of Klondike wealth. His partner, W. H. Davis, of Tucson, Ariz., came to the states with him and thence proceeded to his home in California, where he has several claims in the Klondike country.

Mr. Gerrish was in Circle City district a year ago mining with indifferent success, when the news reached that place of the big strike near Dawson City, and he immediately hastened thitherward, getting in on the ground floor. He speaks of his good luck as the wealth of that country but like the tales of all other returning Klondikers, his recital of the dangers and hardships of the trip. He will return from hazardous the trip. He will return in the spring, and proposes to take up a general store of merchandise, believing that a store there will prove the best gold mine.

He left Dawson in company with his partner on August 27, and came down the Dalton river. They walked the distance of 400 miles from Rink rapids to Pyramid harbor on the Chilkoot river, and were thirty days on the road before reaching Dawson. From that on they had smooth sailing. They noticed many people coming down at the same time, fearing starvation if they remained in Dawson, but on the way they met several hundred head of cattle being taken up, and encouraged by this sight, the majority of them retraced their steps. "The country will go hungry this winter," continued Mr. Gerrish, "before we left the Yukon river, between Dawson and Circle City, we counted sixty-two boats, each having from two to five men, and all bound for Dawson. There is a population of from 6,000 to 7,000 people here now, and provisions enough for about 4,000. Of the population about 200 were women, and the great majority of these were of a decidedly doubtful reputation. Some of the people have neither money nor provisions; their prospects are indeed heartening. As an illustration of the prices, beef is selling for $1.50 per pound, and it is mighty poor beef, too. Lead pencils sold three for $1, and the boys who smoked cigars paid 50 cents each for a very indifferent weed.

"The Canadian mounted police are in charge of the place, and they are ruling with an iron hand, as, indeed, they are obliged to. No tents or buildings are allowed except on lots owned by the builder. The people there are all very indignant at Clarence Berry, the man who took $100,000 down to San Francisco from the mines as the result of five months' work, and made such a fuss about it that everybody in the place is looking for a subject and so docked to the Klondike."

BOYS ARE ARRESTED. Charged With Robbing a Grocery Store.

The grocery store of B. R. McCruden, East Seventh street and Bates avenue, was robbed of $10 and several packages of smoking tobacco during the absence of the proprietor Wednesday afternoon. Yesterday Theodore Johnson and Fred Pfeiffer were arrested on the charge of committing the theft. It is alleged that the youths were seen in the vicinity of the store during the absence of Mr. McCruden, and that the stolen property was found in their possession when arrested. The case was continued when the prisoners were arraigned in the police court until tomorrow, but there will likely be no hearing in the lower court, as the matter has already been called to the attention of the grand jury.

Muslin Underwear Dept.

For Friday—Empire Gowns, good quality muslin, embroidered front, with wide collar. Special. 50c

Ladies' White Aprons, with wide hem, hem and tucks or satin stripe. Special P. D. Corsets. $1.50

Notion Dept. Specials. Piano or Bric-a-brac Dusters, worth 10c each. Friday special. 5c

Cabinet Hair Pins, assorted, all styles and sizes. Special, 2 boxes for. 5c

Another lot of perfumed Talcum Powder. Special, per box. 5c

Fur Repair Notice. Standing room only. Our thanks are hereby tendered our patrons for the very liberal support of our fur factory, which compels us to announce that we are unable to complete incoming jobs until late in the season.

New Autumn Gloves.

Something new in the way of a warm Glove for Autumn wear—a neat fitting, good wearing Mocha, with 2-strut fastenings and silk linings, black and color. Ladies' Cashmere Gloves, with patent finger tips. Special, per pair. 35c

A 4-button French Glove P. & L. Glove, the best ever sold for. $1.00

Millinery Department. Friday specials—A nice line of the popular Cowboy Hats, plain and leather-bound, fine felts, former prices were $1.50 to $2. To close. 98c

Also a line of different shapes in felts, including sailors, suitable for misses and children for school wear. Special, 25c

Each. A table of stylishly trimmed Hats, suitable for the street and suit wear. Former prices were $6.00 to $10. Friday special. $4.98

ANOTHER LIFE ENDS

ABRAHAM GROVER, A MINNEAPOLIS MAN AND OLD SOLDIER COMMITS SUICIDE.

TEN GRAINS OF MORPHINE. IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN SPENDING HIS PENSION MONEY FREELY.

SAID HE HAD TAKEN POISON. His Companions Didn't Believe It Until He Began to Show Signs of It Later.

Abraham Grover, an old soldier, living at 248 Twenty-third avenue north, Minneapolis, while visiting a house on Hill street, in this city, last evening, took ten grains of morphine. The old man swallowed the poison about 8 o'clock, but it was nearly two hours later, after he had left the place, that it caused him to collapse, when he was sent to the city hospital, and died shortly before 11 o'clock. Julia Blakie, a colored woman, who lives at the house where Grover took the poison, is under arrest at the central station, but is held to await the investigation of Coroner Nelson, as it appears that Grover's death was purely suicidal.

The old man has been in St. Paul since last Friday, when he is said to have received $90 pension money. He has spent most of his time at the old soldier's home. Last evening they say he called early and asked for her. After some conversation with the woman she says Grover passed around a bottle of whiskey and then asked her for a glass, saying he wanted to take a little. She handed him a glass of some medicine. The woman says she got the glass and asked him what kind of medicine he was taking. Grover, she says, replied that it was quinine for a bad cold he had contracted and requested her to mix the medicine for him, at the same time pulling a small drugist's envelope from his pocket. The woman says she told him to prepare the medicine for him, and that he poured out half a glass of whiskey and emptying a white powder into it.

Shortly afterward four young men, one of them Paul Lawrie, of 231 Hennepin avenue, entered the place, and in a few minutes the old man left in company with the four young fellows. When the party reached the street, the young man said that Grover told them that he had taken poison inside, but they thought him joking, and paid no attention to his remark. The young man said that Grover began to grow stupid, and his companions walked him up and down the street, thinking he was drunk, until he fell into a gutter, where he was taken to the central police station and thence to the city hospital. He was unconscious when the institution was reached, and died within a few minutes.

The bottle which contained the whiskey Grover passed around at the Hill street place was found on his person, and a search by the police resulted in finding at the place the envelope which had held the poison. It was marked plainly "ten grains morphine poison." Grover was sixty-four years old, and is said to have a mother in Minneapolis and a married daughter in California.

FIRE ALARM SYSTEMS. Varnum Goes to Columbus to Inspect One There.

President Freeman and Commissioners Clark, Frendberger and Mitsch, of the board of fire commissioners, held an extended session last evening to consider the bids of the Gamewell and United States companies for furnishing a new fire alarm system for the department. The Gamewell company's bid was $7,990.25 for the automatic system, and $3,940 for the manual system, without the use of obscure or hindrance from business. NO CURE, NO PAY. Private disease, and all old, lingering cases where the blood has become poisoned, causing itches, blotches, sore throat, mouth, pains in the head and bones, and all diseases of the kidneys and bladder are cured for life. Men of all ages who are suffering from the results of years of indiscretions or excess of mature years, producing nervousness, indigestion, constipation, loss of memory, etc., are thoroughly and permanently cured.

Dr. Feller, who has had many years of experience in this specialty, is a graduate from one of the leading medical colleges of the country. He has never failed in curing any case, and his patients are all well. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Call or write for list of testimonials. Medicine sent by mail, and express everywhere free from risk and exposure.

DIED. LEECH—In St. Paul, at 3 a. m., Thursday, Oct. 14, at family residence, 272 Rice street, Marie, aged seven years, only daughter of Caroline and the late William Leech. Funeral from the above residence at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 15, services at the cathedral at 2 o'clock.

HART—At 11:15 p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 13, at his residence, 284 First street, of pneumonia, Wm. L. Hart, aged sixty-six years. Funeral from the above residence at 8:45 a. m., Saturday, Oct. 15, services at the cathedral at 2 o'clock.

CARRIAGES FOR FUNERALS, $2.50 at Cady Bros', stable, 475 Robinson street, between Eighth and Ninth streets. Telephone 500. All you want—our art.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES. ST. AGATHA'S CONSERVATORY OF Music and Art.

25 Exchange St., St. Paul. Plans, Violin, guitar, harp and mandolin taught. Lessons given in drawing and painting. Call or send for prospectus.

The Oldest and Best Appointed Studio in the Northwest. 1850 C. A. Zimmerman 1897

99 AND 101 EAST SIXTH STREET. (Opposite Metropolitan Opera House.) Exquisite Photography. "The New Photo." Outdoor and Commercial work a Specialty. Mr. Zimmerman's Personal Attention to Appointments. Telephone 1071.

Dr. Feller, 180 East Seventh Street, St. Paul, Minn.

BEER. 935 CALL 2 FOR A CASE OF BEER. THEY COMBINE TONIC PROPERTIES WITH EXCELLENT FLAVOR.

GRAND STRAIGHT FROM THE HEART. The Dramatic Spectacle. A play of Building, Rescue and Climaxes. Matinee Tomorrow. Next Week—"A BOY WANTED."

Court Calls Today. Jury—Judge Kelly and Otis, 55, 116, 71, 93, 152. Court—Judge Wilts, 28, 59, 63, 129, 161. Probate Court—Judge Wilts, 92, 129, 161. Supreme Court Call Today. Nos. 61, 64, 67, 164.