FIVE IN THE BOX

NEARLY HALF THE JURY CHOSEN IN THE CASE AGAINST THE TIMES.

SIXTEEN MEN EXAMINED.

DEFENSE APPARENTLY TRYING TO GET ILLITERATES IN THE JURY BOX.

DURNAM'S COMING MOTION.

The State Hopes to Be Ready for the Hearing Saturday—Mrs. Robber Dead.

Five jurors in the box was the record for the first day of the proceedings in the trial of the case of the state against William E. Haskell, manager of the Times, for criminal libel.

From the way the case started in the morning it looked very much as if it would take several weeks to select the jury. Mr. Jackson, for the defense, insisted upon asking the first juror regarding his acquaintance with every member of the complainant company, and when the examination of the first witness was completed an hour had been spent. The examination lived up somewhat after that, however, and when the court finally adjourned sixteen jurors had been called and examined, a very small number for the work of a whole day. It seemed to be the effort of the defense to obtain jurors who are illiterate as possible, in order that they may not understand the evidence, which will be quite intricate in the way of figures and business methods. It was apparent that this was what the defense was after, for the reason that every man who appeared to be poorly educated or a foreigner who might not be well up in business matters was passed over. The defense without challenge, and it was the state that was obliged to question and show ignorance of the English language and customs. It is hoped that the jury can be completed today and the taking of the evidence begin Thursday morning.

Some little feeling cropped out during the morning on the part of Mr. Jackson, but he was promptly called to time by Judge Nelson, who insisted that the case should be tried in a dignified manner and without insinuation. Mr. Jackson said: "I received notice yesterday afternoon that the state had determined to move for trial the case against William E. Haskell. I think I am justified in saying that counsel for the state have practically agreed with us in the conclusion that under the present indictment against the corporation is not tenable; and that is the reason why the case against one of the individual parties indicted is brought forward, instead of the indictment against the Times Newspaper company, on the ground that there is no authority of law for any indictment and that the indictment does not charge any offense known to the law; and that, in as much as no trial can ever be had under the indictment, the state is not allowed to stand. I move that the indictment be quashed and the case dismissed. Mr. Peterson—It is not the point, it would suggest that the matter stand as it is and we may conclude to ask for a dismissal of the indictment on this point. Mr. Jackson—I have no particular objection, if the court please, if it would suit the convenience of my friends on the other side, to let the matter be passed temporarily, but I should wish to have understood that it should be taken up and disposed of at any convenient opportunity, notwithstanding the fact that other cases are in progress. The court—That is satisfactory. Mr. Peterson—That is satisfactory. The court—Let us rest with that understanding. The jurors so far chosen are Edward Aber, a house mover; W. J. Dean, farm implement dealer; Joseph M. Hall, a flour maker; Felix McNamee, an insurance agent and one other.

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL.

Durnam Matter to Come up on Saturday.

County Attorney Peterson and his assistants are making extraordinary efforts to have things in readiness for a hearing on Durnam's motion for a new trial on Saturday, and it is barely possible that they will be successful. Several of the affidavits which are to be used in the case are now ready and some of the interesting features of the case are being discussed. Juror Armata, whose citizenship has been questioned, has refused to sign a statement that he has no prejudice in the case, and that line of the defense appears exceedingly weak. Mr. Armata also absolutely denies that he has any prejudice in the case and declares just to the opposite. The state will submit affidavits upon that point from the juror in question, and the court will have to decide whether to grant the motion for a new trial. The state will also try to show that certain of the affidavits for the defense were not persons to whose words much consideration is due, and the allegations that the state is making are being shown that the law permits a sentence of ten years for the offense for which Durnam was convicted.

MRS. ROBBER DEAD.

Was Afflicted With What the Doctors Called Hydrophobia. Mrs. Louis Robber, wife of Leut. Robber, of the Minneapolis fire department, died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning at her home, 274 Franklin avenue. About two months ago Mrs. Robber was bitten by a strange animal that found its way into her chicken coop. The animal was not a dog in all probability, but a fox or some other animal, which she had not seen. She stated that it was a mink. About two weeks ago or a little less, Mrs. Robber was taken violently ill and three physicians who attended her stated that she showed symptoms of having hydrophobia. At times she would rally and she would be able to eat and talk, but for the last few days she has been sinking rapidly and the end was momentarily expected. It has been claimed by some that she had been bitten by a hydropic, and that her trouble was more a case of spinal meningitis. From the fact that she could not take water and had violent spasms, her physicians insisted that she was suffering from the effects of the bite from the strange animal, and predicted that she could not survive for a few days. Mrs. Robber has been confident all the time that she would recover.

Says Whitecomb Was Sane.

Judge Simpson today filed his conclusions of law and fact in the case of James E. Whitecomb against Le. H. Hardy, Jennie A. W. Hardy, James W. Griffin and the Minneapolis Trust company. The plaintiff, it seems by the record, served a certain division of property and signed notes and executed a mortgage on the property, and in various parts of the city, and afterwards claimed that when he did so he was in possession of his faculties. He wanted the division set aside, and the notes and mortgages canceled. Judge Simpson finds that the defendants in each particular and assesses costs against Whitecomb.

Miss Russell Weds Mr. Sammis.

The marriage of Miss Alice Russell and Frederick C. Sammis was celebrated last evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. M. Green, 2523 Pleasant street. The house was decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums. The ceremony was read before the guests and music in the parlor and other places were used about the rooms and to draw the bride and groom to the altar. The dining room was in red. Brilliant red carnations formed the centerpiece upon the table and a series of five to be given during the winter. Among the St. Paul guests present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. U. M. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones, Henrietta Reiff and Minna Reiff.

Another Brother Arrested. Michael Schmidt, brother of Charles and Joseph Schmidt, alleged to have been tampering with mail boxes, was arrested yesterday morning for alleged complicity in the robbery of the brothers who have a hearing at 2 o'clock before United States Commissioner Abbott. In the meantime they are held at the county jail.

Deserted Her Husband. Papers have been filed by John Dunklee asking for a divorce from his wife, Emma Dunklee, who left him a wealthy man at Janesville, Minn., in 1882, and, according to the allegations of the complaint, the wife deserted the husband in May, 1888.

All Plead Guilty. Gustave Anderson, Frank Marshall, John Evans, John McGrath, William McGuire, Theodore Kelly and John Smith, all indicted for grand larceny in the second degree, pleaded guilty before Judge Smith. They will receive sentences tomorrow.

LUETGERT CASE.

Opening Addresses to the Jury by Both Sides. CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—After two weeks spent in securing a jury, the second trial of Adolph Luetgert, the burly sausage maker, accused of murdering his wife, Louis, was commenced before Judge Gary today. The court room was crowded when the case was called.

The prosecution, as in the former trial, was represented by State's Attorney Deneen and his assistant, Mr. McEwen, while Luetgert had at his side as his defenders, Attorneys Harmon, Rieck and Kibbe. The assistant State's Attorney McEwen made the opening address for the state. At the close of Mr. McEwen's address an adjournment was taken until afternoon at the request of Attorney Harmon. In asking for this adjournment Mr. Harmon said that certain points in Mr. McEwen's address new to the defense needed a detailed answer, and to get material for rejoinder time was required for a consultation with the defendant. Judge Gary said the request was a reasonable one, and the hearing went over. At the adjourned session Luetgert's side of the case was presented to the jury.

ZANOLLI ARRAIGNED.

Barber Charged With the Murder of His Fourth Wife. NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Charles Zanolli, the barber, who has been held on suspicion of the murder of his fourth wife, was arraigned in police court today on the charge of homicide in causing the death of Jennie Sumner, his fourth and last wife, by the use of poison or some other means. The charge was based upon the result of the preliminary examination upon the body of Jennie Sumner, which was exhumed yesterday. The death certificate of that woman gave typhoid fever as the cause. The cursory investigation made by the experts yesterday proved that the fever was not a direct cause of death.

Zanolli has already pleaded guilty to the charge of defrauding an insurance company, but has positively denied that he was in any way responsible for the deaths of his four wives and the other persons whose insurance he obtained. The report of Rev. Currie, delegate to the National Dairy Union meeting, followed this meeting, he said, it was thought best to concentrate all of the union's influence towards securing legislation in Illinois against the manufacture and sale of fraudulent dairy products.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Officers Chosen in Thirteen Cities of Massachusetts. BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 14.—Municipal elections were held today in thirteen cities of the state, thus completing the list, with the exception of Boston and North Adams, which do not choose their municipal officers until next week. The contests in several instances were sharp over local matters, but in many cities the party lines were broken in making the nominations. Not one of thirteen cities reversed the license vote of last year, seven cities voted for the license and six against. In Cambridge, which for many years was the banner no license city, the license vote was reduced from 1,881 last year to 597.

TO MOTHERS OF LARGE FAMILIES.

Mr. Pinkham's Advice Free. In this workaday world few women are so placed that physical exertion is not constantly demanded of them in their daily life.

Mrs. Pinkham makes a special appeal to mothers of large families whose work is never done, and many of whom suffer and suffer for lack of intelligent aid. To women, young or old, rich or poor, Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., extends her invitation to all women to not let your lives be sacrificed when a word from Mrs. Pinkham, at the first approach of weakness, may fill your future years with healthy joy.

Mrs. A. C. BUEHLER, 1123 North Albany avenue, near Humboldt Park, Chicago, Ill., says: "I am fifty-one years old and have had twelve children, and my youngest is eight years old. I have been suffering for some time with a terrible weakness; that bearing-down feeling was dreadful, and I could not walk any distance. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash and they have cured me. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

WAR ON HAECKER

FIGHT AGAINST HIM THE FEATURE OF THE DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION IN SESSION AT NEW ULM.

FIRST DAY DEVOTED TO REPORTS AND THE DISCUSSION OF PAPERS.

STEELE COUNTY OUT IN FORCE.

Delegation to Urge the Election of Crickmore as Secretary of the Association.

NEW ULM, Dec. 14.—Today's interest in the twentieth annual meeting of the State Dairymen's association was divided between the reports that were presented and the movement directed against the man of Secretary Haecker. Charges have been made formally by delegates from the southwest part of the state against Secretary Haecker, and a strong effort will be made to change the officers. It is asserted that the organization has become practically a machine to further the personal ambition of some of the officers, and that the funds at its disposal have not been used to encourage the dairy interests of the state, but that that part which has not found its way into the pockets of the secretary and his relatives and friends has been squandered on objects for which it was never intended.

The dairyman has been used to educate the farmer in dairying, and to get material for rejoinder time was required for a consultation with the defendant. Judge Gary said the request was a reasonable one, and the hearing went over. At the adjourned session Luetgert's side of the case was presented to the jury.

It is alleged that the responsibility for the present unsatisfactory condition of the affairs of the association rests almost entirely on Prof. Haecker, the present secretary, and those making the charges have selected as a candidate to succeed him Robert Crickmore, the man of Steele county. He was the manager of the dairy exhibit at the state fair a year ago, and discharged the duties of that position in such a manner as to win for him the confidence and esteem of every one who had anything to do with that department.

The meeting was called to order by President Ames, of Itasca, at 10 o'clock, and the first business was the reading of a letter from Turner hall. The attendance from abroad is large, and a full corps of speakers is on hand. After an invocation by Rev. Buzzel, Mayor Weschicke delivered a brief address of welcome and urged the visiting delegates to take advantage of the popular German habit of drinking beer with pleasure. Jonathan Freeman, of Austin, responded in a good-natured vein at some length.

Treasurer Short read his annual report. Receipts of the year amounted to $4,209; and expenses to $3,505. At the opening of the present convention, the society numbered 230 members.

The report of Rev. Currie, delegate to the National Dairy Union meeting, followed this meeting, he said, it was thought best to concentrate all of the union's influence towards securing legislation in Illinois against the manufacture and sale of fraudulent dairy products.

Jonathan Freeman, delegate to the Wisconsin meeting, read a lengthy report, in which he made an interesting comparison of the dairy industry in the two states, Minnesota, in twenty-two southern counties, has 234 creameries and about 69 cheese factories; Wisconsin, in eight county, has 432 creameries and 623 cheese factories. The total number of creameries and stations in Minnesota he placed at 507; in Wisconsin at 951. In Minnesota there are but 69 cheese factories; in Wisconsin 217.

The annual address of President Ames, this afternoon, was followed by talks from A. W. Trow and M. M. Currie. The session closed with a rather stormy

The evening meeting was in the hands of the women. The report of the secretary was followed by papers by Mrs. V. K. Wilcox, Mrs. J. S. Scott and Mrs. J. H. E. Butts, and Mrs. Childs. A strong delegation is expected from Steele county tomorrow, and most of these will aid the opposition to Secretary Haecker.

KEYSTONE MINE SOLD. The Property Was Owned by St. Paul Men.

KEYSTONE, S. D., Dec. 14.—The Keystone gold mine at Keystone has been purchased by a company composed of Chicago and Milwaukee men, who now have the principal part of the stock in the Holy Terror mine close by. The Keystone mine has been bonded for some time by an English syndicate, but the option has expired and is unexercised. The present management of the Holy Terror mine will have control of the property, which means that it will soon be made a paying property. The price paid for the mine was $225,000. For several months past the Holy Terror mine has been producing $200,000 worth of gold, and has been making a daily clean-up of $1,000 from a ten-stamp mill. The richest vein of ore on the fifth level has been traced 100 feet into the Keystone where it was found to be richer and stronger than in the Holy Terror. The forty-stamp mill on the Keystone property will be repaired and put into operation to handle the increased output of the two mines. This will permit the use and sale of mining property in the southern hills and will be the means of creating renewed interest in southern mines. The Keystone was largely owned in St. Paul.

OFFICIAL CLASH. Special to the Globe.

DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 14.—A clash between the police department and the city attorney's office was averted during the whole ceremony on the part of the latter to pull a gambling joint. The raid on the joint was not successful, and as the assistant city attorney, under whose direction it was made, emerged from the building, he was met by the chief of police, who was enquired, during which the chief told the assistant city attorney that he was acting under the instructions of the mayor and did not have to apply to the chief. The chief again told him he was interfering and ordered him to move on. This demand met with a refusal and the chief called a policeman and ordered the assistant city attorney placed under arrest. He almost immediately changed his mind, however, and left the scene. The trouble grows out of the allegations of business men that the police are protecting the gamblers and the business men are furnishing money to the city attorney's office to wage war on the card sharks.

"ASHES TO ASHES"

SERVICES OVER THE REMAINS OF THE MOTHER OF THE PRESIDENT.

NATURE'S TEARS MINGLED.

THOUSANDS AT THE CHURCH IN SPITE OF THE DISMAL RAIN.

TRIBUTES OF LOVING FRIENDS.

Church, Casket and Grave Robbed of Somberness by a Profusion of Flowers.

CANTON, O., Dec. 14.—Although it rained almost incessantly all day, the crowd attending the funeral of Mrs. Nancy Allison McKinley was numbered by thousands. The First Methodist Episcopal church, doubled in capacity by throwing open the Sunday school rooms and gallery, was filled to overflowing long before the beginning of the services. The great rostrum of the church was a bank of flowers. After the simple ceremony thousands passed through the church, each stopping an instant at the altar to take a last look at the remains. The procession was composed of 3,000 people, who had gained admission to the church, and thousands of others who stood outside in the rain, waiting the time when they could get in one side door, pass the altar and get out the other side. When this had continued an hour it was found necessary to close the side doors and remove the casket to the funeral car, as it was feared that the interment would be delayed until after dark.

During the services and until after the remains had been viewed the family and close friends occupied the front pews of the central section of the church. With the president in the first pew was his sister, Miss Helen, and his brother Abner, with their sister, Mrs. Duncan, of Cleveland. Immediately back of them was the aged sister of the departed, Mrs. Osborne, of Youngstown, surrounded by grandchildren and other near relatives. Back of these were members of the cabinet and of the Washington visitors, Congressman Taylor, representing this district; Hon. Whitlaw Reid, of New York; H. H. Kohlsaat, of Chicago, and many other intimate friends of the family from various points.

When the cortege reached the cemetery the burial ground of the McKinley family was surrounded by an immense crowd, who seemed to give no heed to the inclement weather. A canvas canopy had been erected near the open grave for the shelter of the family and those assisting in the last sad rites. Here the beautiful wreaths of flowers which the president and Mrs. McKinley had placed upon the graves of the children they lost a long time ago and of the president's father, brother and sister were literally covered with the numerous floral offerings sent by sympathizing friends from all over the country. Hundreds of floral offerings included, besides the beautiful pieces sent by the cabinet and the Washington friends, large quantities of flowers sent by Canton post, of which the president is a member; a beautiful piece from the president's old regiment, the Twenty-third O. V. T., and another from the Knights Templars.

Promptly at 1 o'clock the carriages containing the family and immediate friends of the family began arriving at the church, and with difficulty a passage was made through the dense mass of humanity which surrounded the building for the pall bearers with the casket and sorrowing friends who followed them. At 1:15 to the strains of the great organ, the casket was carried to the front of the chancel rail. It was liberally covered with flowers, a wreath of lilies and violets being given the most conspicuous place.

Slowly the family were shown to the seats reserved for them in the front rows of the center section, as the palls of the organ slowly died away in a sweet harmony. Then the Aeolian quartette chanted "Still, Still With Thee." Rev. E. P. Henbruck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, senior member of the local clergy, by reason of the longest pastorate offered prayer, commending the sorrowing family to the Ruler of the Universe for comfort in this their hour of bereavement, bidding them not to look upon her as in the shroud and in coffin, but as in heaven.

After the prayer, Rev. B. Milligan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read one of the hymns of the Mother McKinley was particularly fond, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and it was sung by the quartette to a special quartette arrangement. He then read one of the hymns of the Mother McKinley was particularly fond, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and it was sung by the quartette to a special quartette arrangement. He then read one of the hymns of the Mother McKinley was particularly fond, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and it was sung by the quartette to a special quartette arrangement.

President McKinley occupied the first pew of the central section of the church directly in front of the pulpit. The same remarkable self-possession, characteristic of his whole life, was manifest on this occasion. He showed no outward evidence of the sorrow he experienced in this his hour of bereavement. He, with the other members of the family, sat with uncovered heads, ignoring the old-time custom for church mourners under which the immediate mourners during the whole ceremony with heads bowed down and covered with crepe-bound hats. Members of the immediate family were at either side of the president, and back of these were the members of the cabinet and the more distant relatives.

FUNERAL SERVICES. On behalf of the officers of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Hon. R. A. Cassidy, former mayor of the city, and one of the directors of the church, read a paper prepared by the board of officials, reciting briefly the life of Mrs. Nancy McKinley and her connection with the congregation. The singing by the quartette of "Lead Kindly Light" was followed by the eulogistic remarks of the pastor, Rev. Dr. C. E. Manchester. The doctor spoke briefly, but feelingly, of the woman so greatly beloved by the whole congregation and by the people of the city at large. Almost over-powering emotion was manifested in his voice, and, as he recalled the lovable traits by which the beloved woman was best known by her immediate neighbors, the eyes of all in the vast congregation filled with tears.

When the pastor had concluded his eloquent tribute to the departed, another hymn, of which Mother McKinley was particularly fond, "Nearer, My God to Thee," was announced by Rev. Robert, of the First Baptist church, and sung by the quartette. The undertaker then removed the lid from the casket, and opportunity was given the vast congregation to look upon the features of the departed. The dirge-like music of the organ, the crowd slowly filed past the chancel rail, gazed upon the sweet face and passed out of the church, and through another door, those who could not gain admission to the church entered slowly, past the casket and joined the multitude on the outside.

It was past 2 o'clock when the casket was uncovered. The rain which had fallen almost unceasingly all day continued, but, in spite of it, the long line of carriages and members of the cortege was followed by hundreds of pedestrians.

The exercises at the grave were very short and simple. The casket was tenderly lowered, and through the door of the pall bearers and the simple liturgy service of the Methodist Episcopal church was read responsively by President Elder E. D. Holtz, of the district, and Rev. E. C. Manchester, Rev. McAfee, of Columbus, pronounced a benediction.
