Bring in the Erring Brethren. After a day of hard-fought battles. in Minneapolis, in which neither side spared the other, and which each declared at the outset must ultimately end in the annihilation of one or the other, the hosts of the People's party of Minnesota, the fu-sionists and the mid-roaders have made it all up and declare they love one another better than ever, if such a thing is possible.

Early in the day it became evident that the fusionists had the whip hand and were determined to press their advantage. The mid-roaders perceived that they were beaten, and gave in as gracefully as they could. Their abdica-tion of the position taken by them earlier in the month could not well be much more complete, and the fusionists are not unanimous in believing that

Mr. Donnelly, according to the reports from those present, begged to be reinstated in the good graces of the party. He promised that in the future he would be good. He told the committee that Tuesday night he had labored long and hard with the faction led by Dr. Chris Johnson and Dr. H. B. Fay, and had besought them to quit Fay, and had besought them to quit the fight and return to the ranks of the party. For his part, he promised that, personally and through the col umns of his paper, he would support the nominees of the party, regardless of the question of fusion. He would of the question of fusion. While the exposition meeting was in he was talking about when he promised to swing them into line. The resolutions passed by them are as combackdown as that made by Mr. Donnelly earlier in the day at the meeting of the state central committee It was decided that the olive branch so charily extended should be grasped while yet there was time, and the result is embodied in the following set of resolutions:

Resolved, That we thank the state central committee for rising to the full measure of their duty in their action today.

Resolved, That we will do our best to make the state convention of June 15 a splendid success, and we call upon all Populists to make special efforts to see that good and true men are elected as delegates to that convention, so as to resist all attempts that may be made to merge our party with any other organization.

Resolved, That this committee should not adjourn sine die, but should continue in existence as an adjunct and help to the state central committee in thoroughly organizing the People's party of this state.

Resolved, That the People's party is not dead, and is not going to die. It is today stronger in Minnesota than it has ever been before. Mass Meeting at the Expo Some thing of a Frost.

The mass meeting of the Populists at the exposition building last evening was not a monster by any means. HOSTILITY IN HAVANA.

It Is Shown in a Letter From an Officer on the Maine.

First Lieutenant Carl W. Jungen, one of the Maine's officers, who is reported as uninjured, is a brother of Frank Jungen, the well known Minneapolitan. He was appointed to the naval academy from La Grosse, Wis. in 1876, graduated in the regular period and has been for several years attached to the official staff of the Maine. In a letter to his brother, written a few days ago, he reveals a condition of things in Havana which might very easily have prompted some fanatic to undertake the destruction of the Maine. He says that great excitement pre-He says that great excitement pre-vails whenever the officers visit the shore, and that evidences of antagonism are not wanting. He enclosed a translation of a handbill headed a translation of a nanobil headed "Death to Americans," which had been freely distributed in Havana. That the feeling of unthinking hostility to Americans is by no means unanimous is proved by Lieut. Jungen's reference to a very pleasant banquet recently given to the officers of the Maine by one of the leading Havana clubs. The letter shows that, in the opinion of the writer, there is an element in Havana which would quickly make trou-ble if a good opportunity were provid-
