MINNESOTA VOLUNTEERS EAGERLY AWAIT MARGHING ORDERS

THIRTEENTH GOES TO MANILA

ONE MINNESOTA REGIMENT TO BE SENT WEST

Gov. Clough Notifies Col. Reeve to Get Ready to Go to the Philippines-Some Comment Because the Order Was Not Transmitted Through Col. Bobleter-Men Are Pleased to Leave Camp Ramsey.

The Philippines is the destination of the Thirteenth regiment, and it will start for San Francisco perhaps tonight. Its departure may be delayed until tomorrow, but it is believed that the men of that regiment will spend

Sunday on the train. The first intimation that the regimentwould really go to the assistance of Admiral Dewey was conveyed in a telegram which Col. Reeve received in the morning from Gov. Clough. It

Col. Reeve, Camp Ramsey: Thirteenth regiment ordered to San Francisco for Philippine islands. Get ready as fast as possible and wait further orders. It is not expected you will be fully equipped and armed, but as much as resources will permit. Clothing, camp and garrison equipments to await regiment in San Francisco.

-D. M. Clough, Governor. Immediately upon receipt of this telegram, Col. Reeve notified his staff and the several captains of the regiment, and directed them to make preparations to move at the earliest moment. An order was issued that no passes would be granted for a later nour than 8 p. m., and then only upon urgent business. The men were directed to pack up.

It did not take the news long to pass around the camp, and the men of the other regiments were greatly disappointed that they were not called out also. A number of men in the Twelfth and Fourteenth regiments tried to get transferred to the Thirteenth, being willing to exchange places with any who did not care to go to the Philip-pines, but that was forbidden. Besides, there were none in the Thir-teenth who expressed a desire to leave their regiment.

The company commanders directed their men to take down the interior decorations of their barracks, and in a short time the flags and banners and pictures that ornamented the company quarters had all disappeared, and the barracks were as bare as when the regiment took possession of them COL. BOBLETER IGNORED.

There was at first some question in camp as to the authenticity of the camp as to the authenticity of the governor's telegram to Col. Reeve. The point was raised by several clicers of high rank that Gov. Clough is no longer in command of the tropp in camp, but that they are United States soldiers, and under command of Erigade Commander Col. Bobleter. An order for a regiment to move, it was argued, should come from 'he war department to Col. Bobleter, who should transmit it to the regimental commander. In this instance, Col. Bobleter was completely ignored, and Gov. Clough communicated directly with Col. Reeve. This was considered a breach of military etiquette, and it was not until it was ascertanced that Gov. Clotgh received his authority to issue the order from Adjt. Gen. Corbin, in Washington, that it was accepted in some quarters as official.

Adjt. Gen. Muchiberg visited the camp in the afternoon and said the Thirteenth regiment would start for the coast as quickly as a train could be gotten to transport it, but strangely enough he did not call upon Col. Reeve, nor did he give Col. Bobleter any definite information as to the governor's plans.

So there was considerable uncertainty about the movement of the regiment. All kinds of rumors were afloat! during the day. It was said the regiment to dike proposed and the regiment of the regiment.

about the movement of the regiment. All kinds of rumors were afloat during All kinds of rumors were afloat during the day. It was said the regiment would certainly start in the morning, but it was pointed out that no travelling rations have been delivered at camp and the regiment cannot be sent away without food. It was the opinion of many whose judgment is good that the regiment might spend Sunday in camp, though that is not probable. The nien are now living on camp rations, which cannot be taken on a train. They must have canned goods for food on the way to the coast. Canned corned beef, canned beans and liquid coffee constitute the staff of life or route. None of these things have as yet arrived at camp, though they are expected daily. OFFICERS ARE PLEASED.

The officers who made an effort to have the regiment sent to the Philippines were jubilant when they learned that their plans had met with success. Maj. Bean was particularly pleased. Maj. Bean has been anxious for a long time to possess a winter residence at Manila and now he sees a probability of realizing his ambition.

Every man in the other regiments was envious of the good fortune of the Thirteenth. They are all anxious to get away from the camp. They are weary of the monotony of camp routine and they want a charge. weary of the monotony of camp routine and they want a change. They do not care whether they go to the Philip-pines or Cuba as long as they go somewhere soon.

The order to get ready to move put life into the quartermaster's department of the Thirteenth, and the men employed there were put at work looking over the regimental equipments that have not yet been distributed. On every hand there was increased animation, and when taps sounded lest over n, and when taps sounded last evening all the men were prepared to go at an hour's warning

Those who are arranging a demonstration in honor of the men as they pass through St. Paul to take the trains will be disappointed, for it is the in-tention of the commanding officers and the wish of the men to board the trains at the fair grounds. The men do not ant a long march through the They marched to camp and that was enough pedestrianism for them. They want to get away with as little fuss as possible and nearly all prefer not to go through St. Paul. The officers object to the media. to go through St. Paul. The officers object to the march and accompanying demonstrations on account of the effect it would have on the men. They say it would be demoralizing to discipline for several days, and to the men's spirits, and they want to keep them in good temper for the trip.

GOV. CLOUGH HAD THE SAY. It was learned during the afternoon hat the Thirteenth owes its agging that the Thirteenth owes its assignment to the Philippines to Gov. Clough. The authorities at Washington allowed

Gov. Clough to choose the regiment which the telegram from Washington said would go from St. Paul to San Francisco, joining other regiments and be taken to Admiral Dewey in transport steamers.

Gov. Clough immediately telegraphed Secretary of War Alger that the Thirteenth regiment was ready to move at a moment's notice, as soon as the quartermaster provided transportation Last

Secretary of War Alger that the Thirteenth regiment was ready to move at a moment's notice, as soon as the quartermaster provided transportation. Last night he received the following telegram in reply:

Your telegram reporting Thirteenth regiment to move to San Francisco received. The quartermaster general will give instructions as to its transportation, and commissary general has been instructed to provide travel rations for regiment.

By order of the secretary of war.

H. C. Corbin, Adjutant General. The last telegram leaves the matter in a somewhat indefinite state as far as moving the troops is concerned, except that it is evident that the government is hurrying the matter as fast as possible. The government officers have been instructed to provide for transportation, and they will undoubtedly have some definite information to give out today. The railroad companies were asked yesterday to submit bids before night, for hauling the regiment, and it should not take long to secure travel rations. There is hardly a possibility that the regiment will s'art for San Francisco today or tonight, but there is every reason to believe that it will move tomorrow, or Sunday morning at the latest.

"If I had the say in the matter I could get the troops out Friday night," said Gov. Clough to a reporter for The G I o be last night. "The Thirteenth regiment is practically equipped now. I have received a telegram from St. Louis which says that 300 of the new tents I ordered will be here Saturday morning, and 156 more Sunday morning, and 156 more Sunday morning, and then the Thirteenth regiment will lack nothing but uniforms, as there are enough guns for two regiments. I secured more uniforms today. What they lack in that direction they will get in San Francisco. Of course I cannot tell how soon the government officers will act, but I should judge that they will lose no time, and all there is to do is to arrange for transportation, for the regiment will have its things packed by the time that is secured."

KEEP THE WIRES HOT.

KEEP THE WIRES HOT. Gov. Clough also received another mportant telegram last night, as follows:

Orders require that volunteer regiments shall take with them all arms and equipments they have, and which the state can get, and the United States will then furnish the remainder as per instructions in General Orders No. 31, a copy of which was mailed you today. Supply of equipments very limited and must be husbanded. Provision has been made only for fully arming and equipming at San Francisco and Chickamauga, and it is nearly impracticable to make other arrangements. Danger is that if stores are shipped to regiments elsewhere, they will have moved in the meantime and not receive stores. Have not information in regard to what you require.

The last sentence in the above is quire. —Flagler, Chief of Ordnance.

The last sentence in the above is rather amusing, as Gov. Clough and Capt. Swigert have telegraphed to Washington from one to six times every day, a full list of supplies the state had, and a telegraphic acknowledgment was received Wednesday.

The foregoing telegram indicates an earlie, -departure of the Twelfth and camp.

SOCIETIES ARE BUSY.

The ladies of the Red Cross society yesterday sent to the several regimental headquarters bundles of books and magazines for the entertainment of the officers and men. The literature was appreciated.

The ladies of St. Luke's Society of St. Paul's Church, St. Paul, sent a quantity of condensed milk and canned quantity of condensed milk and canned goods to the hospital for patients. Chief Stewart Grau expressed thanks for the donations. He said the condensed milk was particularly welcome. Yesterday was pay day for the Twelfth regiment. In the afternoon Adjt. Vogel, with Lieuts. Bullis, Smith and Nicholsen, went to the city and drew $6,565 for the regiment. Of that amount over $3,000 was in silver and the four officers had a heavy burden. The money was distributed among the captains, who in turn paid the men, and last evening the officers of the regiment received their pay also.

Sergeant N. E. Gates, of Company F, Thirteenth Menand was married yesterday.

Sergeant N. E. Gates, or Company F. Thirteenth regiment, was married yesterday in Minneapolis, to Miss Julia Wigg, of that city.

Mrs. E. S. Person, wife of Maj. Person, of the Fourteenth regiment, was a visitor at camp yesterday. Maj. Person's home is in Zumbrota. son's home is in Zumbrota.

MEN IN THE HOSPITAL.

The following named men are now in the hospital:

The dootors will be glad when the troops are all sent away from camp, for, as the hospital records show, typhoid and pneumonia are prevailing to an alarming degree among the men in the barracks. As long as the men are exposed to the draughts that sweep through the barracks at night and through the cracks in the floors, they will catch colds. The men in the tents have been free from such a sickness as the list shows. Only two Twelfth regiment men are in the hospital. The others are all from the Thirteenth.

The large space in the center of the race track has been taken by the regimental commanders for skirmish drills. It is an excellent ground for such drills, as it is large enough to allow the men to spread out and deploy with effect. The Twelfth and Thirteenth regiments had skirmish drills yesterday. The commands were given by bugle calls, and, though it was the first time commands had been given that way, the men, as a rule, understood and obeyed them accurately. These drills are always watched with interest by large crowds of spectators and soldiers. The latter gather many valuable points by watching them.

HOSPITAL CORPS FLAGS

ANOTHER INTERESTING PRESEN-TATION AT CAMP RAMSEY

adies of Distaff Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Present Maj. Fitzgerald With a Complete Set of Colors for the Ambulance Corps-Tangible Expression of Patriotic Sentiment.

The ladies of Distaff chapter, D. A. R., have been greatly interested in the matter of presenting a flag to one of the Minnesota regiments. Some time ago, one of the officers of the chapter called upon the officers at the camp and was informed that only one flag could be carried by the regiment, and that one the national colors, which were furnished by the United States.

The ladies of the chapter were not lacking in patriotism, however, and when a report was made to the effect that they would be unable to furnish the troops with colors, they all agreed that something else ought to be done for the Minnesota boys who were to take the front. It was therefore decided to present the hospital corps with colors.

The members of the chapter all agreed that no more practical evidence of the patriotic sentiment of its members could be voiced than by such action, which would be strictly in keeping with the objects of the organization. Insemuch as the offer of the high tion, which would be strictly in keeping with the objects of the organization. Inasmuch as the offer of the high school students was accepted by the governor the ladies felt perfectly safelin going ahead with their plans. The project was to be kept a strict secret, as it was intended to make the presentation as a surprise.

True to its object, the ladies of the chapter kept the matter quiet, and yesterday, when work on the flags was completed, a trip to Camp Ramsey was taken by a dozen or more prominent members of the chapter. Maj. Fitzgerald, chief of the corps of surgeons, was found in the hospital quarters, where the ladies took him by surprise. The presentation speech was made by the regent of the Distaff chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and assured Maj. Fitzgerald and his corps that their hearts would ever be with them while in the field of battle. of battle.

Maj. Fitzgerald responded briefly.

After the little informal ceremony was over, the ladies were shown through the hospital by Maj. Fitzgerald.

The flags presented consist of one very large and handsome national emblem of regulation army size and four guidons for the ambulance.

The gift was particularly intende for the Thirteenth regiment, which is composed largely of St. Paul and Minneapolis boys.

TESTIMONIAL TO COL. REEVE.

His Minneapolis Friends Give Him a Handsome Present.

Col. Reeve was agreeably surprised yesterday in receiving a testimonial from some of his Minneapolis friends. It came without any ceremony, but it spoke volumes to Col. Reeve, and he was greatly touched by the kind words that will go with him on his journey into an unknown future. The communication, which Col. Reeve received, was as follows:

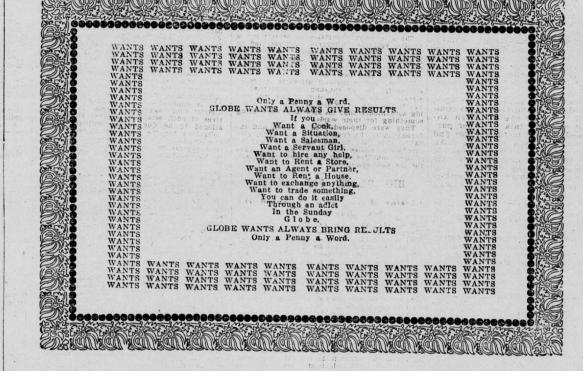

journey into an unknown future. The communication, which Col. Reeve received, was as follows:

"The undersigned friends of Cal. Charles McC. Reeve, wishing to evidence, by a slight testimonial, their appreciation of his labors in organizing the Thirteenth Minnesota regiment of United States volunteers, which has enrolled under his command in the national service, subscribe the amounts set against their names.

arrived at Camp Ramsey, there were several companies in the different regiments whose men were comparative strangers to one another. Men came from all parts of the state to be enrolled in the companies being organized in St. Paul.

One of the companies in which this condition existed was Company L, of the Thirteenth. Not twenty-five men of L personally knew First Sergaant Chas. R. Head, of L, a fortnight ago, yet today they all know him and like him. The sergeant was formerly a regular army man and his experience and army education has been a wonderful help to the officers and men of his company in teaching the recruits the routines work and drill. That they appreciate his efforts in their behalf was proven last night, when Capt. Morgan, in the name of the company, presented the sergeant with a splendid revolver. It was a complete surprise to Sergeant Head, but he responded in a happy speech, thanking the boys and the officers for the compliment and assuring them of his appreciation of it.
