

Fresh from highly successful engagements in both Cincinnati and Minneapolis, the Neill Stock company comes to the Grand opera house...

The prices for the summer season will be popular, the same as prevailed at the Metropolitan last summer and the same as were in vogue in Minneapolis during the Neill season there.

A happy selection was made in choosing "Shenandoah" for the opening bill. There never was a career perhaps never will be a conflict of arms that gives the dramatist such a rich field as the late Civil war in the United States.

An actor, his career perhaps never will be a conflict of arms that gives the dramatist such a rich field as the late Civil war in the United States.

The story of "Shenandoah" is intensely interesting, giving scope for many thrilling scenes, and like the best of all great plays, it is simple and clear.

Mr. Neill has promised to bring here the most complete company he has ever had. In the organization and direction of stock companies Mr. Neill has probably had a larger experience than any man in the business today.

As an actor, his career perhaps never will be a conflict of arms that gives the dramatist such a rich field as the late Civil war in the United States.

Mrs. Edythe Chapman, who began her connection with the Neill company any man in the business today, favorable impressions of her capable and conscientious actress, particularly valuable to a stock company.

because she has quick dramatic instinct. Whether in emotional, light or forceful roles, she is always consistent. Sweet magnetism and sympathy that appeal to the heart. Miss Chapman's first experience was in "Held by the Enemy." Subsequently she was leading lady as Dick Van Doren in "The Charitable Ball," "Sweeney in Trilby," "The Count in 'The Banker's Daughter,'" Henri Beaulieu in "Diplomacy," and on and on the best performances in the history of the Grand Opera House.

Herschel Maynard, the heavy character man of the company, is a handsome young man of athletic figure, strongly marked personality and fine stage presence. Besides these attributes, he has a magnificent voice which lends dignity to his otherwise excellent elocution. He has filled engagements with standard companies, and joined Mr. Neill last summer in St. Paul. He made particular hits in "The Charitable Ball," "Sweeney in Trilby," "The Count in 'The Banker's Daughter,'" Henri Beaulieu in "Diplomacy," and on and on the best performances in the history of the Grand Opera House.

Miss Grace Scott, the soprano and ingenue, is a pretty young woman, whose setting has won her praise only equalled by the admiration aroused by her exquisite goodness. Her work is dainty and refined and has been compared that of Edie Shannon.

The light comedian is Charles Wynard, whose first stage experience was gained that of Edie Shannon.

Robert Sears, J. B. Everham, Agnes Maynard and Emmett Schakelford were with the company in St. Paul last summer, and their reliable work renders further comment unnecessary.

Following the production of "Shenandoah" at the Grand, the Neill company promises an attractive novelty in the initial presentation on any stage of a new farcical comedy by Grant Stewart, entitled "Mistakes Will Happen." The play is to be presented by special arrangement with Jacob Litt, whose property it will become, in the event of its meeting with the success anticipated.

presence of a player of stellar prominence. In the person of Charles Dickson, the well-known light comedian of "Innocent" fame, who has been especially engaged to create the leading role in the piece.

Kate Osterle, another special member, is an actress who has met with pronounced success in German dialect roles. Her successful engagements with Sol Smith Russell, "A Fair Rebel," with several of Charles Frohman's productions and other attractions.

Recent advices from London state that Mrs. Leslie Carter's health is giving the management of "The Heart of Maryland" company, now playing at the Adelphi theater, a great deal of anxiety. She has now been playing continuously for forty weeks, a most arduous record, and her physical strength as well as exceptional nervous energy. It is hoped, however, that she will be able to continue to the end of the season, which, it is estimated, will be about four weeks longer.

One of the most distinctive individual features of the present New York season is that of Howard Kyo as David Bartlett, the hero of "Way Down East," which has been playing for over 100 nights at the Manhattan theater. Mr. Kyo's performance has been well known professionally by his work in classic and legitimate roles, he having played in various times in the support of Madame Modjeska, Julia Marlowe, Margaret Mather, and others, whose repertoire consisted largely of Shakespearean plays.

The tri-star combination of Lillian Russell, Della Fox, and Jefferson De Angelis, which has been one of the most successful combinations of the season, closed last Saturday night at the Broadway theater. The combination, originally formed over a year ago, has been one of the best money makers in the city, and it is predicted that the three stars could not work together. That the unique combination now separates is a fact which is not surprising, considering the fact that each of the stars has had the center of the stage all of the time instead of one-third of the time.

It is reported that the season has closed a little more definite information regarding the future plans of the stars has been divulged. Miss Russell's future plans are to go to Europe to sing in Berlin, and will sail from America with one of the next sailing. If she likes Berlin, she may remain there over the winter. The Neill company will be especially augmented by this occasion by the growth was obtained by entering credits on the books at least. This has been going on for some time and reflects a very satisfactory condition in mercantile circles. The season for early discount banks is at hand and some business is being done in this line, but not enough to count in general results. The better banks so well supplied with cash that they are in a better position than ever to endure over the summer season.

For the week showing that five of the six clearing institutions placed the bulk of their cash in the hands of the banks, which have heavy interior connections gained three-fourths of the increased deposits. Seven banks to be named, and were in the 173,000,000 of specie reported last week.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Yesterday's sharp rise in the price of stocks brought in a heavy volume of buying orders to the commission houses this morning, especially in the grangers and Brooklyn Rapid Transit.

The sharp dip in only feeble rallies, notably in Sugar and the grangers, Louisville and Southern had been conspicuous sufferers and to account for the decline in the grangers' lower level. There was not the same urgency demand from the interior as was the case yesterday, and a lot of considerations unfavorable to a rise in prices were given to the market.
