

STILL MUSTERING THEM IN

FIFTEENTH MINNESOTA WILL SOON BE COMPLETE

Col. Shandrew Takes the Physical Examination and Passes With Flying Colors—Two More Companies in the Service—The Heat Was Pretty Strong Yesterday—Interesting Bits of Camp Life.

Despite the excessive heat at Camp Ramsey yesterday, there was an unusual amount of activity manifested by the soldiers. Rations for five days were issued to each company and hauled and packed to camp. Arms were issued to Company B and E, and a portion of Company K were issued uniforms, leggings and shoes. The delivery of these made business brisk up to the white tents this fall. Then the mail delivery was the largest of any day so far in the Fifteenth regiment, 234 letters and thirty pounds of packages and packages being distributed among the companies. Companies B and K were mustered in yesterday. Company I would have been mustered in but went over until today, as their muster rolls were not completed. Seven of the members of Company I took withdrawal cards and returned to help swell Gros Wendeschneider's majority in Le Sueur county this fall. The men who returned were: P. H. Kuller, J. H. Gilliam, C. D. Ekenson, Lew Davis, Henry Farrington, John Haley and Joe Krimik.

Col. Shandrew presented himself for examination yesterday, and the colonel passed with flying colors. For chest development and expansion he leads the regiment.

During the day Maj. Hand dropped in on Lieut. Donaldson and was mustered into the United States service. Lieut. Blacker of the Duluth fire department, presented Col. Shandrew with two ideal folding camp chairs. They are beauties. They are not only substantially made, but are constructed that they can be folded into almost as small a compass as one of the ordinary camp stools. They will accompany the Fifteenth regiment during all the vicissitudes that may be in store for it.

An elegant color stand adorned the front of the colonel's quarters yesterday afternoon, and was used for the regimental carpenter on the camp ground, and Quartermaster Coo, always with an eye to business, said that he saved the state $25 by having it made by regimental employees. The quartermaster certainly could not have procured a better one anywhere.

Lieut. John T. Jones, of Company M, yesterday was formerly notified by Gov. Clough of his release from the Fourteenth Minnesota volunteers. The lieutenant before receiving a commission in the Fifteenth, was one of the corporals of Company K of the Fourteenth. He is a son of one-speaker of the house, J. D. Jones, of Long Prairie.

The heat became so oppressive during the afternoon that general orders were issued by Col. Shandrew dispensing with the 430 p. m. drill. It was a popular order with the boys. There were only four soldiers in the hospital yesterday, although there were six or three responses to sick call in the morning. Most of them were suffering from the effects of the change of water.

By tonight the Fifteenth will be using 400 tents; eight tents will be used for headquarters; ten, 9 1/2 x 14, general headquarters; nine hospital tents with flys will be used as follows: Col. Shandrew one, Adj. Gen. Catlin 1, guard house and sick for hospital, the williamson headquarters for field and staff, and headquarters mess, and cook tent.

The understanding with Contractor Saunders was amicably adjusted yesterday. No one but Saunders suffers by this mistake. Col. Shandrew has adopted the old English army scheme for tent gun rack. Two lines are stretched from the front to the rear tent pole and the muzzles of the gun barrel are entwined between them, the butts resting on a board ground to receive them. This leaves a long portion of the line to be used by the inmates of the tent to hang clothing, etc., upon. The system is proving popular with the boys.

COMPANY K MUSTER ROLL.

The muster rolls of Companies K and H, who were mustered in yesterday, are: Captain—Thomas Leonard. First Lieutenant—Edward J. McMahon. Second Lieutenant—David D. Tenney. Sergeant—Albert Anderson. Quartermaster—Edward J. McCall. Sergeants—Frank C. Campbell, Charles F. Moore, Harry P. Boland. Corporals—Daniel W. Moore, Andrew Larsen, Howard H. May, James W. Raymond, Frederick A. Holmes, M. Kiefer, Alvin E. Grove, Charles H. Bostwick, Matthew M. Leonard, Leslie C. Bryant, Eldridge Price, John J. Kelly. Musicians—George M. Palmer, Robert Price. Scribe—Arthur B. Schaefer. Wagoner—Heuber Huber. Fryer—Albert Anderson, John Anderson, John S. Anderson, Thomas T. Brosnan, Justin A. Blichfeld, J. W. Boetner, Daniel Edward F. DeWitt, William H. Brunell, Foster F. Cartwright, Oscar F. Christopherson, R. E. Clark, Charles Colstrom, Patrick H. Cullen, John Cullen, Oscar Danielson, Ernest L. Dean, Charles C. Dignam, Benjamin Drake Jr., George W. Trees, Edward W. Tuller, John W. Darran, Thomas B. Gallagher, Charles Ginzler, Wilson A. Gerrard, Sidney B. Gerrard, William R. Grenier, John Hanson, Phil Hartman, Jacob J. Hozer, Charles A. Johnson.

THIRTEENTH AT HONOLULU

THE ISLANDERS ASTONISHED BY AN EXHIBITION DRILL

Transport Bearing the Minnesota Troops the First of the Third Expedition to Reach the Island—Nothing Spanish Sighted During the Trip, Despite Sensational Rumors Circulated Among Soldiers.

HONOLULU, July 6.—Four transports of the third Philippine expedition are at anchor in the harbor. The City of Para was first to reach port. It passed the reef at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and was followed four hours later by the Ohio. The Indiana came to anchor at 5 o'clock this morning, and six hours afterwards the Morgan City steamed in. The monitor Monadnock and collier Brutus made the run in ten days, and joined the gumbot Mohican on Sunday evening. Neither the Newport nor the Valencia has reached port. The island republic welcomed the fleet with banners flying and trumpets sounding. The steamer Maul met each transport off Diamond Head, and acted as escort into the harbor. Col. J. H. Cooper, chairman of the reception committee, represented President Dole. The Hawaiian band aroused the patriotism of the troops with a programme made up largely of American and Hawaiian national airs.

BITS OF CAMP NEWS.

B. R. Norwood, quartermaster sergeant of Company P, has no fear of a campaign in the tropics. He has been there before. He was with Admiral Gherard in the little drift boat, and he was with the United States over the seizure of the steamer Hay on Republic by Hippole, the insurgent governor of the island. Norwood was attached to the Pennsylvania.

COMPANY I, TWELFTH.

Albert Lea's Flag Flies Higher Than Any in the Park.

Special Correspondence The St. Paul Globe. CAMP THOMAS, July 13.—This is one of the dark and dreary days that we have in the months of October or November, in Minnesota, and it causes a little unpleasantness among the boys.

Woodville doing a thriving business in his retail store at the cook house, and he does full time of the boys.

Nothing looks more natural than to see Sergeant Edwards with his fountain pen, and away by his lonesome in the same old corner of his tent, scribbling his tales of woe of a soldier's life.

Company I received ten days' rations yesterday and the commissary seems to be filled to overflowing at present.

Fifteen of the boys are detailed today to do target practice and no doubt they will hold the record of the past.

COMPANY K, FOURTEENTH.

Long Prairie Men Discover They Have a Poet in Their Midst.

Special Correspondence The St. Paul Globe. CAMP THOMAS, July 13.—This is a rainy day, and every boy in the camp is writing to his best girl.

Corporal Hogan has a very interesting letter from Cornell, of Hewitt, Wis. Mr. Cornell who sent the "Hewitt" note to the boys.

Our company has a poet in Corporal Bert Thompson. We have not yet learned to repeat his last poem, but it is something about "Shorty" Lower always accommodates the quartermaster of Company I by letting him into the tent to do target practice.

A new fad struck the boys today while raining, so now they are all busy putting in their time in the kitchen and in the gymnasium. It floored for about $1.25 a tent and it well pays.

COMPANY A, TWELFTH.

Work of the New Uim Men at the Rifle Range.

Special Correspondence The St. Paul Globe. CAMP THOMAS, July 13.—Private Girvin, Manito, has invested in a kodak, and to see him strutting round with a camera pointing it at any one even smashes Company H's mascot.

The recruits feel the heat quite a bit, so they say.

Guard today: Sergeant Pope, Privates Seim, Stedolska, Siemens, Dan and Pete. Scores of boys in Company A members were: Runke, 27; Soule, 35; Stuenkel, 28; Siemens, Dan 18; Harries, 20; Siemens, Pete, 18; Stein, 22; Norman, 16; York, 22; Brown, 23; Brandt, 27. All made a better score than any other company.

Private Clark, M. D. was a string to the bow, and he will be a dollar to one of Iver's slapsacks he took Lockery and Pfeiffer, who are grubbing on a stump contract left unfinished.

Sergeant Frische has been quartered in the hospital after a week's sojourn from the hospital after a three weeks' sojourn from the hospital with the mumps.

Sergeant Lehman is raising the "beautiful" mascot of the company, a contract to an Eastern drug company for thirty cartons of hair elixir.

Private Stoum says he is struck on police work.

REVIEW OF ROUGH RIDERS.

Cowboys Under Command of Col. Grigsby on Show.

CHICKAUGA, July 15.—(Special.)—The Grigsby rough riders were reviewed today at the ceremony in the cavalry on the 15th anniversary of the day. The boys have been busy getting their horses in good condition for some days, and the cavalry made a fine appearance on review. The cowboys have been drilling regularly every day, mounted, and are rapidly becoming experts on their horses.

One of the most interesting characters at Camp Thomas is Maj. Hugh Gordon, son of the noted Confederate general, John B. Gordon. He belongs to the First Georgia regiment.

Today Maj. Gordon received a fine new horse, the gift of a friend.

The routine in the Twelfth took a slight change this week. The morning drill at 4:40 instead of 5, and drill commences at 6:30 a. m. instead of 7, recall sounding at 8:30, making the morning drill a living, breathing affair, which the boys appreciate very much.

Other changes throughout are made accordingly.

Maj. Mead, of the first battalion, and Capt. Wood, Company D, were detailed to act on general court martial held at First New Hampshire camp yesterday.

Maj. Wright, Second battalion, is slowly recovering from his illness.

Capt. Boyce left Thursday for his home in Fairmont, accompanied by his brother-in-law and wife.

Sergeant Maj. Kogh is recovering from his illness.

The Twelfth Minnesota volunteers stand at the head of the regiment in target practice. The members of the regiment are very much taken up with the work on the range, and these promises to be some hot fighting done in the near future when the regimental contest commences.

A regimental school of the guard is held every day in front of Col. Boepler's tent.
