rom any serious cases of illness since being mobilized at the fair grounds, but yesterday the surgeons discovered some of the patients who were in the hospital symptoms of typhoid fever. None of the cases had reached that stage where there could be no element of doubt as to the diagnosis but the symptoms were so pronounced that no chances were taken, and the men who were under suspicion were men who were under suspicion were emoved to the hospitals in Minneapo removed to the hospitals in Minneapolis and St. Paul. Their removal was a precautionary measure for the protection of the other members of the regiment. Dr. A. W. Miller and Inspector Sinks, of the city health department, were notified of the situation. They went out to Camp Ramsey in the foremon and inspected carefully the sanitary condition of the camp. All sources from which typhoid could arise were especially examined, and samples of from which typhoid could arise were especially examined, and samples of water from all sources of supply were taken to be tested for the germ at the bacteriological laboratory of the health department. None of the cases have yet developed any dangerous features, and it is quite probable that being nipped in the bud the disease will yield more easily to treatment than would otherwise have been the case. Those removed to the city hospital at Minneapolis were Butalla, of Company A, and Tollefson and Williamson, of Company K. Those in the St. Paul city and Tollefson and Williamson, of Company K. Those in the St. Paul city hospital are Vought, Burmeister, Norman and Kindred, of Company H; Wacouta, of Company K, and Young, of Company I. There are between twenty and thirty cases altogether which the surgeons think may develop into typhoid. Orders were immediately issued for the men to drink no water until it had been boiled, and every precaution possible was taken to prevent the spreading of the disease. While the situation was generally known throughout the camp yesterday no one exhibited any alarm over it. It is proper to state that those who are sick are those who have been troubled most severely with the prevailing stomach malady.

Private Lord, of Company M, who ran away from the guard house last week while he was undergoing punishment, was released from custody yesterday, having served out the full time for which he was sentenced. Lord was then taken before Lieut. Ccl.
Leonhauser for an explanation of his conduct in running away from camp. He probably expected and perhaps deserved to be severely dealt with. If so he was agreeably disappointed. The commanding officer gave him a good fatherly tak and some soldierly advice and restored him to his company. If Lord is made of the right kind of stuff the experience he has had will be a lasting lesson to him, and he will be a better man and seldier for having gone through it. If he is the other kind of a fellow it is only 400 miles to the Canadian line.

GREAT ARMY REVIEWED

FEATURE OF THE DAY AT CHICKAMAUGA PARK

Gen. Breckinridge Pronounces the Appearance of Forty Thousand Men in Line as Highly Satisfactory - Fourteenth Minnesota Engages in a Sham Battle Under Direction of Col. Van Duzee.

CHICKAMAUGA, Chattanooga National Military Park, Ga., Aug. 9.-Not since Gen. Sherman reviewed the Granl Army at the close of the Civil war, has there been such an imposing and magpificent military pageant as that wit-rificent military pageant as that witnessed on the historic fields of Chickamauga park today.

"Since I came here, a week ago, I have visited the hospitals, and now, in order to form an immediate acquaintance with my command, its needs and demands, have had the well men come to me."

These were Mai Gen Breckingidge's

These were Maj. Gen. Breckinridge's These were Maj. Gen. Breckinridge's words tonight, meant to be in explanatory in part, of the reason for holding the great review at Camp Thomas this afternoon, in which the entire army of 40,000 men took part. The regiments were grouped by divisions, and each division was accompanied by its ambulance train. At 8 o'ciock all the commands, numbering about 40,000 men, ferined in line of regiments in columns of masses. The First division of the Third corps, commanded by Brig. Gen. The Second division of the Third corps, under command of Brig. Gen. Campson, formed on the left of the First division, all troops facing the west. The Third division of the First corps, under Brig. Gen. Sanger, formed on the east side of the Lafayette road, its right resting just south of the McDorald house. The Second division of the First corps, under Brig. Gen. The economy shown in these figures The Fourteenth Minnesota has made a hit with all who witnessed the sham battle that was directed by Col. Van Duzee. It is frankly admitted by the officers here that the Fourteenth is as thoroughly up in tactics as any of the aid.

There was some talk of the Fourteenth changing camp, but that has been abandoned, as Col. Van Duzee is of the opinion that the present camp is as good as can be found.

Conference of State and Provincial Board Members at Detroit.

Modest.

Quietly, and in marked contrast with some of its contemporaries, the Chicago Great Western has just placed two royal new trains into service between Chicago and St. Paul, green and gold in colors, with red roofs and trucks, and simply Aladdin Interiors. The new trains are Pullman palaces, built after special designs born in the Chicago Great Western general offices. The interiors are mahogany, richly inlaid, and the furnishings harmonious carpets and draperies. The club cars of these splendid new limited trains are something entirely new and novel under the sun. They have flat cellings and resemble rooms more than cars. They have high-backed, luxuriously cushioned settees at the ends and in the corners, like those in the new Grand Pacific bar, with a mahogany center table, lamp-illumined, with rich canopy shades, and surrounded by easy chairs. The windows are diamond-shaped prismatic-glass lattice work, after the ancient German style. The club car has all the appointments and conveniences of the metropolitan club. At the front end is a conductor's room, with desk and lamp, where he can transact his ticket assorting unseen and undisturbed. The Chicago Great Western has excelled itself and contemporaries in the introduction of these imperial trains, but proposes to let them be discovered by the traveling public, hence their noiseless inaugural. DETROIY, Mich., Aug. 9.-Many address congratulatory to the Michigan state board of health were heard at the quarter centennial celebration of the board held in the Hotel Cadillac today. The celebration was a sort Cadillac today. The celebration was a sort of preliminary to the conference of state and provincial boards of health of North America which will convene tomorrow. Upwards of a hundred health authorities were present. After welcoming addresses by Maj. Maybury and Health Officer Gibbes, papers reviewing sanitary progress throughout the world and particularly in Michigan, were read by Dr. A. N. Bell, of Brookin, editor of the Sanitarian; by Dr. A. B. Reynolds, health commissioner of Chicago, and by Prof. Kels'e, expresident of the Michigan board of health. Prof. Lindsley, dean of the medical faculty of Yale college and president of the American public health association had an interesting paper on Michigan's progress in sanitation. He said Michigan was the first state to provide a state board of health, and that the board's work since was not surpassed by that of any other state. Dr. Benjamin Lee, of Philadelphia, president of the national conference, gave the assembly much advice on how to conduct sanitary conventions.

Red Men and Knights of Pythias

Had the Floor. OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 9.—The weather men today kindly handed out a special brand of beautiful weather for the benefit of the delegations of Red Men and the Iowans who wear the badge of the Knights of Pythias. A delightful breeze from the south sprung up just before the trains bearing the Iowans crossed the big bridge, and the weather has been delifghtful. In addition to the several thousand visitors who crowded every street car and bus running from the railway stations there was another lot of visitors who were noticed on the streets for the first time. They were members of the Rosebud tribe of Indians, from the government's congress of Indians at the expection grounds. Capt. Mercer has arranged a sham battle between members of the Order of Red Men and the Indians under his charge for Thursday evening. The latter will burn a white man at the stake. The show yesterday did not bring the country cousin in to any great exhert. The show went with the city people and about 19 colors went with the city people and about 19 colors with in the two performances. The 10,000 that were present at night can scircly be said to have seen the show for it is not altogether visible at night, in spite of the fact that Col. Cody dipped into the effect Eart long enough to add a private electric light ing plant to his Wild West combination. A couple of electric scarch 1 ghts helped maters some, but they did not dispel the dark ess—they made the more effective the spectaces in the lanes of light, though. And the enormous crowds were handled with much greater ease than they could have been at a circus. The form of the great crossury helped in this matter, and the practice that Supt. Bill McCune has had in the handling of thousands would make him a worder in the getting of the army out of Cuba for instance. the getting of the army out of Cuba for instance. Last night he so to 10,000 people out of a tent in fifteen minutes without an accident.

There has been little change in the show. The same old Indians and the same old coarboys and the same old Cossacks are doing pretty much the same old thing—and you wonder as you see them again that they ever learned to do those things in the first place. At last night's performance they d'd a couve of things that are not on the bill, for Wally Weston failed to get a grip of the romm'l of his saddle just at the time the birking broncho was about to buck and Wally wis about to make his leap. The broncho dragged Wally a half block and then he had to limp off the arena. An old Mexican, known familiarly as Baldy, who was engaged with another gentleman in taming a flery broncho, forgot to get cut of the way of the flery one just as his friend mounted and the broncho threw him down and stepped on his heal so hard that the speciators in the grand stand, near which it occurred, experien ed a delightful thrill of horror as they waited for somebody to come up and carry off the body. "Baldy" has been stepped on that way before though and he got up after a moment, rubbed his head and escaped into the outer darkness. The Cuban heroes, who were introduced were not received with the acclaim that would have been accorded them if they had come on the scene just bfore the battle of Santlazo. The receitation of their services and the description of the many wounds they had suffered in their efforts to free Cuba did not even warm the crowd up much. The gentleman with one leg, who rode the hors he wis on, like a Centaur, and who, the people were assured by the stentor lunged person in the middle of the field, had lost his leg in the cause in which it was blown off.

Shows may come and shows may go, but as long as Buffalo Bill continues to arrive with his proof of the greatness of the horse ani proves to people that there is much in commone between some of the men of today and the heroes of the Ro and all forms of rupture, swelling enlargements, deformities of special organs; also weak, shrunken, atrophied or deformed organs (or parts) positively and quickly cured and restored to their natural power, health and vigor by our own special ELECTRO-MED-ICAL TREATMENT, which combines the two greatest factors of the healing art known to the medical world, Electricity and MEDICINE, by means of which these specialists are effecting cures that would be impossible by either medical or electrical treatment alone. Electric treatment alone will benefit a certain number of diseases and cure a few; medical treatment alone will cure a certain per cent; but when all the curative energies of each of these great curative factors are skillfully and scientifically combined and administered under the directions of the longest established, most successful and reliable specialists the world has ever known, it is plain to be seen that quicker and more satisfactory results are sure to be obtained; that prompt cures may be effected where either electricity or medicine alone has completely Iailed; and these specialists have effected complete cures of deep-seated and stubborn diseases after all other physicians and methods had failed even to give relief—all of which is perfectly plausible when you consider the combined curative energy obtained by their electro-medical treatment. There is a class of diseases in which this combined treatment is destined to accomplish a great and much needed good, and that is those classified under the head of Neurasthenia, or nervous debility, especially of men, whether the result of youthful follies or later indiscretions and excesses, accompanied by various forms of weaknesses, etc., producing a long train of symptoms so familiar to all. "I found that vaster progress in the region which is beginning to be known as East Russia, along the Pacific, and to which San Francisco is the nearest point of supply, rapidly developing, and I also found that the Russian manufacturers are allve to this fart and that Russian local industry is remarkably progressive. I was everywhere received splend:dly in Russia and found no prejudice against America or American manufacturers. But I did find a strong tendency on the part of the Russians to manufacture their own supplies and a vigorous encouragement on the part of the Russian government to ad in this respect. However, Americans will have as good a chance as anybody in supplying Russia with those manufactures and supplies which they could not supply themselves as well or as cheaply. Russia will build her own ships as far as they can, and will purchase a'so vessels ready made from other nations. She has also large vessels new building in St. Petersburg. There will be, though, a chance for American manufacturers to supply certain articles."
