Meeting Place Changed to Century Hall Because of the Big Attendance—Buffalo Right in the Fight for the Convention of 1893—Cincinnati and Indianapolis Also Want It—Minneapolis News.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 16.—The meeting place of the National convention in ninth annual session tomorrow, has been changed from K. of P. hall to Century hall. This action was deemed necessary by the committee of arrangements, owing to the large number of delegates who have arrived, and the many who are expected this morning.

S. K. Jackson and E. N. Reul, the room clerks at the West hotel, were kept busy yesterday assigning the delegates to their apartments. The flow of arrivals began early in the morning and kept up till late at night. The most prominent arrival was President Thomas H. Bowles, of Milwaukee, accompanied by Mrs. Bowles. The convention was met at the depot by the committee of arrangements and escorted to the West hotel. He spoke upon the growth and prosperity of the organization, and stated that he would have much to say in this regard when he addressed the convention today.

National Secretary E. W. Christy brought his early arrival, bringing with him stacks of books and papers, which told at a glance that his place was not a very easy one. G. Russell Howard, official secretary, accompanied by Mrs. Howard, came in early prepared for business. F. C. Oviatt, editor of the Intelligencer, Philadelphia, and F. L. Miner, Insurance Post, Chicago, were the advance guard of the pencil pushers, of whom there will be about twenty.

The man that came the greatest distance was P. A. Wood, of the National Life on the Pacific coast. He came from San Francisco, and will be the only delegate from the Golden West. Hon. Willard Merrill, first vice president of the National Life, and N. F. Norris, superintendent of agencies, arrived last night.

A great deal of amusement was created by the delegation from Western New York. They marched into the hotel wearing badges bearing the inscription, "Put me off at Buffalo, 1893," thus giving out the idea that they were after the convention for that city for next year. Cincinnati and Indianapolis are also mentioned as candidates for the honor, and a hot fight is anticipated by the Buffalo men. Further advanced their claim last night by placing a banner across the corridor of the West announcing Buffalo for 1893. Minneapolis delegates who attended the year and Indianapolis lost the convention.

Several delegates, accompanied by their wives, arrived, and many of them brought their children. The children along. Every one seems intent on making the present convention the finest in the history of the organization. Though it is not yet a week since the welcome to the convention this morning on behalf of the state; Mayor Pratt for the city; F. N. Joyce for the local association. In the afternoon the visitors will be taken to the city hall and upon the return will be met at the depot with carriages and taken for a ride over the city.

F. N. Joyce, state agent of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company, of Newark, N. J., gave a banquet last night at the West to the agents of the company in this city. It was the seventh annual reunion of the agency, and the spread, which was very elaborate, was heartily enjoyed by those who attended.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—According to present plans, Lafayette, the French hero, who came across a desolate colonial days with word and money to aid the birth of liberty on American soil, will have his grave marked with a $25,000 monument—a tribute from the patriotic school children of America. President McKinley has approved in the plans proposed by Ferdinand Peck, commissioner to the exposition of Paris, for the unveiling of this beautiful monument in Paris, in July, 1900. It is to be the centenary of the "United States day" at the exposition. At the commissioner general's office it is announced that the president will soon make a special message designating a date, presumably Oct. 19, as Lafayette day, for observance in every school district throughout the United States. On this date, which is the anniversary of Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown, historical exercises will be held in every school in the country, at which there will be a nominal address. Millions of pennies and dimes, received from the rising generation of American patriots, will be added to the monument fund. With 100,000 schools and 30,000,000 patriots, it is believed that enough will be realized to erect a monument that will be the pride of two continents.

Secretary of the Treasury John G. Thompson, who is acting as custodian of the fund, and it is said, officially has signified his willingness to do all that he can to aid to the success of the enterprise. Designs for the monument will be submitted next week.
