

THE ST. PAUL GLOBE

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1893.

We Aim to Be Accurate.

The Globe Prints the Associated Press News.

CITY SUBSCRIPTIONS table with columns for carrier, month, and price.

COUNTRY SUBSCRIPTIONS table with columns for mail, month, and price.

Entered at Postoffice at St. Paul, Minn., as Second-Class Matter.

Address all communications and make all remittances payable to THE GLOBE CO., St. Paul, Minnesota.

Anonymous communications not noticed. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Act of October 3, 1917.

BRANCH OFFICES:

- New York, Chicago, St. Louis, etc. branch office addresses.

The Democratic State Ticket.

Governor JOHN LIND, Brown county; Lieut. Gov. J. M. BOWLER, Reville Sec. State J. J. HEINRICH, Hennepin Treasurer ALEX. MCKINNON, Polk Auditor GEORGE N. LAMPELLER, Clay Attorney General JOHN F. KELLY, Ramsey Clerk Supreme Court Z. H. AUSTIN, St. Louis Judges THOMAS CANTY, Hennepin Supreme DANIEL BUCK, Blue Earth Court JWM. MITCHELL, Winona

TUESDAY'S WEATHER.

Fair and warmer. By the United States Weather Bureau...

YESTERDAY'S TEMPERATURES.

Temperature table for various locations like Duluth, Superior, etc.

YESTERDAY'S MEANS.

Mean temperature table for various locations.

RIVER AT 8 A. M.

River gauge table for various locations.

ATLANTIC LINERS.

ST. JOHN'S-Arrived: Siberian, Glasgow. LIVERPOOL-Arrived: Sylvan, Boston. ANWERP-Arrived: Westernland, New York. LIVERPOOL-Sailed: Tauric, New York. PHILADELPHIA-Sailed: Bohemia, Hamburg. BREMEN-Arrived: Koenigstein, New York. GIBRALTAR-Arrived: Vera, New York for Naples and Genoa. HAVRE-Arrived: La Nerva, from New York.

ASSEMBLY HALL SCHEDULE.

Tuesday-Plumbers' union. Wednesday-Stonemasons' union, stonemasons' union, retail clerks' union. Thursday-Bricklayers' union. Saturday-Pressmen's union. Sunday-Typographical union, 2 P.M.; hack-drivers' union, 8 P.M.

TODAY'S EVENTS.

METROPOLITAN-Dorothy Morton Opera company in "Mikado," 8:15 P.M. GRANDS-The Commodore, 8:15 P.M. Palm Garden-The Gay Girl from Paris, 8:30 and 8:45 P.M. Democratic convention, Market hall, 10 A.M. Willard W. C. T. U. meets, Clinton Avenue. E. E. Church, 8 P.M. Populist county convention, Assembly hall, 10 A.M. Public health committee meets, Mayor Kiefer's office, 4 P.M. Lutheran league meets, Memorial English Lutheran church, 8 P.M.

A Western town has started a letter chain to secure golf links.

Gov. Brady and the miners both favor license in Alaska, but it is not the same kind.

Good Americans are gathering extensively at Paris just now, and without any previous demerit.

If Aquinaldo wants to have his congress the real thing, he should put in a bid for Speaker Reed.

The attention of the Republican managers is called to the wreck of that carload of elephants in Virginia.

If the Roosevelt element make up the rough riders in New York politics, the Black faction must be the immunes.

McKinley's administration may not have restored commercial confidence, but the trust idea has been amply developed.

Gen. Alger's determination to stand pat on his record argues a previous experience with two deuces and a stack of blue checks.

The French cabinet has decided to reopen the Dreyfus case and now is wondering what sort of a jack-in-the-box will pop out.

President McKinley's advice to the war investigation commission summed up was not to use whitewash, but to spread something on thick.

Aguinaldo has addressed a plea to the powers for recognition of belligerency and independence. You are too late, old man. Uncle Sam is going to have a great deal to say about what you are to get. In the meantime, be good and keep away from the typewriter.

Argentina does not at least propose to be caught napping. At the very hour at which she was signing an agreement to submit the boundary dispute to arbitration she was sanctioning a measure for the mobilization of 50,000 troops.

And now it seems that Teddy Roosevelt is not a resident of New York state, and the Black people propose to beat him out of the nomination for gov-error because of that fact. There is something wrong in the Republican party when such a very small affair as a lack of legal residence is allowed to enter into the question when the naming of a candidate is to be considered.

Picking the Winners.

If all signs do not fall, the convention that is to meet this morning in Market hall will name the officials of Ramsey county for the next two years. The star of the Democracy is in the ascendant, and it only needs that the convention select men peculiarly fitted for the offices to which they aspire in order that the Democrats may carry the county.

Ramsey county is naturally and traditionally Democratic. For the first time in some years the Democracy is ascendant, and it only needs that the convention select men peculiarly fitted for the offices to which they aspire in order that the Democrats may carry the county.

A candidate must be named for sheriff who will insure honest and fair administration of that office in opposition to the candidate of the spoilsman named by the Republicans. A candidate for treasurer who will administer the finances of the county as they have been administered for the last four years, at least, and who will keep the hands of the heelers out of the public treasury must be nominated.

The convention must name a candidate for county attorney who will insure the conduct of the office of public prosecutor on such lines as will free it from the odium that has attached to it for two years. Other candidates for the offices must be selected who will have such personal fitness for the places to which they aspire that the mere contrast of the men with the Republican candidates will be enough to convince the honest voter. A judicial ticket must be nominated including men learned in the law and of such high personal character that a proper rebuke may be administered by them to the attempt to make the judicial office the reward of the practical politician.

These things are very important. They should be well considered by the Democratic party in convention, and the men elected to the convention should consider themselves personal guaranties of the intention of the Democracy to advance only such men as are capable, efficient and reliable. They should be well considered by the Democratic party in convention, and the men elected to the convention should consider themselves personal guaranties of the intention of the Democracy to advance only such men as are capable, efficient and reliable.

The Legislative Ticket.

The Democratic convention must consider well the nominations for the legislature. It is extremely important that the men nominated to the law-making body be capable and honest. They must also be men sufficiently acquainted with public life to know how to avail themselves of opportunities to secure legislation that is desired by their constituents. The weakness of the Republican ticket consists very largely in the fact that the nominees are not capable of making themselves felt in any deliberative body. They were nominated in payment of obligations under which the candidates for county office lay to them. They are generally ward politicians. The people of the county will remember very distinctly that a single Democrat in the house did more effective work in the capitol matter, for instance, than did the entire Republican delegation. That was because he was a man who knew how to make his presence on the floor of the house felt.

It will be no great matter for the Democratic house to name today for the senate and house who will tower above their Republican opponents. The people of St. Paul are pretty thoroughly tired of sending men to the legislature who pass the whole session in lobbying for private bills, or men so far identified with particular interests that the public are overlooked. Pick broad, hard men who are not only honest, but capable of fighting for the rights of their constituents. The people will see to it that they are elected.

Reviving the Chauncey-Wass Case.

The Albert Lea Standard, nominally Democratic-Populist, but yielding its good sense to the environment that surrounds a local candidate, goes back a long way to find an objection to Judge Mitchell's Chauncey-Wass case that created such an uproar some fifteen years ago. That decision constitutes, in its judgment, sufficient cause for defeating Judge Mitchell and electing Mr. Lovely. The years that have passed since Mr. Lovely prosecuted the Standard for criminal libel have had that mollifying influence which time exerts on the memory of the wrong which was perpetrated. This is the case with the Chauncey-Wass case. It is so with the case of the Standard. The Standard is now a different creature from the Standard of fifteen years ago. It is now a manly, independent, and honest paper. It is now a paper that is worthy of the respect of the community. It is now a paper that is worthy of the respect of the community.

Remains of Columbus.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.-At 9 o'clock this morning the official examination of the remains of Columbus took place in the presence of Gen. Blanco, Secretary Govin, the civil governor, the highest of the cathedral and other authorities.

Three Killed.

ST. CATHARINE'S, Ont., Sept. 26.-A cyclone struck Terrill, three miles from this city, with terrific violence this afternoon, killing three persons and doing much damage. The dead are: Clara O'Neill, 75 years old, in the Lincoln park villa; Mrs. John Nickley, Frank Moffat.

WOMEN IN WOMAN'S REALM.

and views and to an impartial dealing with all organizations.

WOMEN IN WOMAN'S REALM.

Major Harrison will address the united study class of the Chicago Woman's club, which meets Oct. 28. The subject of the mayor's talk will be "Some Fundamental Problems of the Woman's Organization." The "Round Table," of Boston has asked permission to use the programme of the united study class as a guide for their own work.

Mrs. Charles Hendrick will entertain Mrs. William B. Lowe, of Atlanta, Ga., during the convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs in this city, Oct. 18 to 21.

Mrs. Regina Watson will open the convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, with a lecture on "Modern Russian Music," with illustrations on the piano.

A cooking school, conducted by Mrs. H. M. Dunlap, is one of the features of the Illinois state fair. It is estimated that 50,000 or more women will be in attendance during the week of the fair.

In the industries department sweating prices are most vividly and strikingly brought to the attention of the public by the sale of shirts, pinnafores, and underclothing of various kinds having the actual price paid to the worker affixed. A child's pinnafore fairly well made and involving the labor of several hours obtained a sum of one cent.

The Order of the Torch was conferred exclusively upon women, and it was created in 1148 at the siege of Tossa, as a reward to the women who followed their husbands into the field of battle and fought shoulder to shoulder with the men, their courage shining like a torch- hence the name of the order.

Even in Turkey an order exists exclusively for women. It was founded in 1850 by Sultan Abdulmehid, and is a fine and youngest of the orders for women. It was first awarded to a simple Turkish girl, who enlisted in the army instead of her brother, the sole support of the family, and served three years with distinction. She was the only woman to bear upon a wreath. In the center of the star is a circular band containing the words, in Turkish, "Love of man," "Help," and "Charity."

Napoleon made a special provision when the Cross of the Legion of Honor was founded in 1802 that women should be admitted to the right of winning it; but when it first came to the notice of a young girl, Virginie Chesquiere, who disguised her sex, and enlisting in the place of her invalid brother, distinguished herself on the field of battle, she was refused the honor. She was, however, eventually admitted, and she was the first woman to bear upon a wreath.

This order of merit was conferred upon a little ten-year-old American girl in 1892, the year of the Centennial. The child, Jeanne Caroy, of Muckford, Ill., noticed one day while walking along a country road that a railroad bridge was on fire and that a train was rapidly approaching. Duffing her little red cap, she ran and rushed forward just in time to save the train. It was full of passengers bound for the Chicago exposition, and there were several lives in jeopardy.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

RECEIPTION TO BE GIVEN HONORING THE WOMEN WHO ASSISTED.

All the women of St. Paul who have in any way assisted in the work of caring for the soldiers who have gone away or returned to the city will be invited to a reception to be given in the Commercial club. All members of the Red Cross societies, of the Soldiers' Society, of the High School, and other organizations which have in any way contributed toward the work, or any individual who has assisted in the work, will be invited to the reception.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

RED CROSS IN SOCIETY.

Cardy. The following committees were appointed: Entertainment, Mrs. R. A. LaPrairie, Mrs. C. F. Mahler and Mrs. A. A. Cratsch; Reception, Mrs. R. H. Hildebrand, Mrs. E. J. Stillwell and Mrs. J. J. McCarty.

Willard W. C. T. U. meets today in Clinton M. E. church.

An all-day meeting will be held today in House of Hope.

The first of a series of suppers will be given Thursday evening in the parlors by the Ladies' Aid Society, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. E. C. Mason and Miss Mason will write in Washington.

Mrs. B. H. Ogden, of Holly avenue, is in Grand Rapids.

The guests of Mrs. J. H. McAllister, at the Ryan, St. Paul, are Mrs. Manton, Mrs. De Coster's guests, and Mrs. E. J. Stillwell.

RECEIPTION TO BE GIVEN HONORING THE WOMEN WHO ASSISTED.

All the women of St. Paul who have in any way assisted in the work of caring for the soldiers who have gone away or returned to the city will be invited to a reception to be given in the Commercial club.

The first of a series of suppers will be given Thursday evening in the parlors by the Ladies' Aid Society, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. E. C. Mason and Miss Mason will write in Washington.

Mrs. B. H. Ogden, of Holly avenue, is in Grand Rapids.

The guests of Mrs. J. H. McAllister, at the Ryan, St. Paul, are Mrs. Manton, Mrs. De Coster's guests, and Mrs. E. J. Stillwell.

WAS KILLED INSTANTLY.

Fatal Accident in the Lower Bar-Hungton Yards.

Shortly after midnight an unknown man, while walking in the Burlington yards near the state fish hatchery, was struck by a Milwaukee train.

The man was thrown thirty feet through a barb wire fence and down into an embankment, and was instantly killed.

He had but one cent in his pocket and was carrying a tramp.

Papers in his pocket seemed to indicate that his name was James Kennedy and his residence Louisville, Ky.

It is thought he was loused by the light of the approaching train.

INVESTIGATING ALGER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.-The commission selected by the president to investigate the conduct of the war department held its first formal session today with all the members present.

The meeting was in the room of the fortification and ordnance board of the army, but it was found to be too small for the purpose of the board and it was announced that the next meeting would be held in apartments secured in the Lemon building on New York avenue.

Today's meeting was strictly secret and no newspaper representatives or others not connected with the board being admitted.

Today's session was confined to a meeting of two hours duration in the forenoon, after which an adjournment until 1 o'clock tomorrow was taken.

The proceedings were limited to an outlining of a general policy and the formation of letters of inquiry which will be made public tomorrow.

The commission decided to hold two sessions daily, one in the forenoon from 10 to 12:30, and the other in the afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Dr. Conner sat with the commission for the first time today. He arrived from his home in Cincinnati early in the day and called upon the president for a brief interview.

The president expressed his appreciation of the doctor's acceptance of the position, and outlined briefly the duties of the commission.

Dr. Conner found it impossible to remain with the commission at present and secured a leave of absence for two or three days, in order to return to Cincinnati to put his affairs in shape to be absent so long as the work of the commission may require.

WOMEN AND ORDERS OF MERIT.

The Order of the Torch was conferred exclusively upon women, and it was created in 1148 at the siege of Tossa, as a reward to the women who followed their husbands into the field of battle and fought shoulder to shoulder with the men, their courage shining like a torch- hence the name of the order.

WOMEN AND ORDERS OF MERIT.

Even in Turkey an order exists exclusively for women. It was founded in 1850 by Sultan Abdulmehid, and is a fine and youngest of the orders for women. It was first awarded to a simple Turkish girl, who enlisted in the army instead of her brother, the sole support of the family, and served three years with distinction. She was the only woman to bear upon a wreath. In the center of the star is a circular band containing the words, in Turkish, "Love of man," "Help," and "Charity."

Napoleon made a special provision when the Cross of the Legion of Honor was founded in 1802 that women should be admitted to the right of winning it; but when it first came to the notice of a young girl, Virginie Chesquiere, who disguised her sex, and enlisting in the place of her invalid brother, distinguished herself on the field of battle, she was refused the honor. She was, however, eventually admitted, and she was the first woman to bear upon a wreath.

This order of merit was conferred upon a little ten-year-old American girl in 1892, the year of the Centennial. The child, Jeanne Caroy, of Muckford, Ill., noticed one day while walking along a country road that a railroad bridge was on fire and that a train was rapidly approaching. Duffing her little red cap, she ran and rushed forward just in time to save the train. It was full of passengers bound for the Chicago exposition, and there were several lives in jeopardy.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

THE CLUB CORNER.

The Globe desires to complete, so far as possible, the list of members of the Commercial club. It will be indebted, therefore, to the secretaries of the organizations throughout the state, if they will forward to the editor of the department a statement of membership, the names of the members, and such other information as will form a valuable source of reference to the department, as well as to club women. The latest year book of each organization will be gladly received, and the names of the members represented in The Globe column, which is devoted to an interchange of news.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide the following bet: A and B agree to be at work at their desks at 8 o'clock. If either were late he or she would be fined $100.00. The loser is to be in position to work before he has finished striking. A claims B is late, that the clock does not commence striking until the hour is up. B claims it is not 8 o'clock until the last stroke of the bell. Who is correct?"

After a careful investigation of the subject the Philistine is authorized to decide that the clock does not begin to strike until the hour is up, and that the loser is to be discharged, however, on such a technicality, as Judge Hine might observe.

The Philadelphia has been busy for a day or two calling on the makers of Paul's leading watch makers and clock makers. The attention is not supererogatory by the near approach of the Yuletide season, but to the receipt of the following query from a town in the southern part of the state:

"Will you please decide