SETTLERS ALL WELL ARMED

Indians in That Vicinity Are Not Ugly, but on the Reservations Some of Them Are Still Savages uation in the Indian Country-The News of Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 9.-Dr. D. B. Newman, of Bemidji, which is in the center of the threatened Indian region, is a guest at Hotel Nicollet. Dr. Newman is, however, not conversant with Johnston. matters in the northern part of the state, having been in North Dakota for nearly two weeks. His knowledge of the Indians and conditions under ordimary circumstances is interesting

Dr. Newman has had considerable to do with the Indians on the various reservations. It was he who was called to render medical assistance during the shooting scrape a year ago, when Deputy Game Warden Charles Wetzel was killed by two bucks. The death of the game warden was instantaneous. him. Wetzel had, however, in giving up his life offered a desperate struggle, and had killed a squaw that took part in the fight and seriously wounded two bucks. It was to attend their injuries that Dr. Newman was called. Both recovered. On the body of Wetzel were found fourteen knife wounds, and any one of ten was a fatal stab.

Dr. Newman believes that if the fighting becomes general Bemidji will be able to take care of itself. In this espect it is better off than any other town in the region. The town lies on a former reservation, between the Casa lake, Red river and Leech lake reservations. The place has 500 inhabitants, and every quarter section roundabout has been settled. Every settler is well armed. In case of an attack they would come to town and would easily make up a force of 100 men. Dr. Newman states that the Indians are as a rule very peaceable in that region, although one cannot always tell just what is brewing. Their overt acts are rarely punished, as was the case with the two Indians that killed Wetzel. The county was too poor to prosecute them, and somehow or other the state would not take up the matter. As a result, the Indian murderers are

The Indians on the reservations are, however, not like those in and about Bemidji. Chief Bemidji, after whom the town is named, is a resident of the place and has quite an influence with his tribe. But on the reservations it is different. There the Indians are still somewhat wild. They speak but their own tongue, and only to some extent adopt the habits of the settlers. Sometimes this is overdone in a ridiculous manner. The Indian has his tastes, and when he once gets it into his head to become a dude he s a sight to behold. Dr. Newman is not at all apprehen-ave as to Bemidji and will not return
