

EXHIBITS IN PLACE

MARKET HALL GRADUALLY GETTING IN SHAPE FOR THE EXHIBITION

MANY HANDSOME DISPLAYS

Names of Those Forming the Reception Committee—Programme for the Opening Thursday Evening—A Number of Addresses Will Be Made, After Which the Exhibit Will Be Declared Open.

The manufacturers' and the auxiliary to the manufacturers' exhibition will open in Market hall Thursday evening. Gradually there is coming out of chaos on both floors of the old market and many handsome displays went into place yesterday.

On the upper floor Mrs. Henry Schurmeier has in place a splendid display of posters. The remainder of her exhibit, illustrating bookbinding and lithographing, goes into place today.

Mrs. Adamson, who has charge of the committee on arts and paintings, has already had hung some handsome pieces in water colors, oils and pastel.

The exhibition in the fine arts rooms is not in yet, but the toning of the walls is most effective and the beautiful things which are to be placed in this room.

The attention of St. Paul authors is called to the fact that any books by St. Paul people will be given space, a sample copy of each book being desired.

The reception committee is very large and for the reason that every branch of the exhibit will be represented. It is as follows: J. B. Johnson, president Manufacturers' association.

The guests of the evening will be Mayor Kiefer, the common council, delegations from the Commercial club, Jobbers' union, Retailers' union and the trades and labor assembly.

Prof. Morris' Free Lectures in Relief Hall, 24 East Ninth street, St. Paul, Oct. 17, 18, 19 and 20. For ladies only, Monday and Tuesday evenings. For gentlemen only, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Action for Foreclosure. Suit was begun in the district court yesterday by Frederick E. Bird against the Pa-

James A. Meade was born Oct. 30, 1864. His boyhood was spent in Canada and his early education was received there. At the age of 17 he removed to St. Paul, and has since made his home in this city. Mr. Meade was for a time a dry goods salesman, but turned his attention to real property, and while so engaged took the law course at the state university. Four years ago Mr. Meade was admitted to the bar, and has since devoted himself to the practice of his profession. He has never held any public office.

Individual, who can easily be found, that he had been promised a deputyship under Irish in case of the latter's nomination and the ordering of the tickets is easily traced back to Charlie Chapel and Irish.

The candidacy of Sauer is not intended to cut any figure in the campaign, and it is doubtful if he will ever get beyond the announcement stage. He is not even known to be a party to the deal himself, and only Haas' appearance in ordering the tickets proves the

the fire board when it was a Democratic body, and it has just commenced to come home to us that this man Arosin must be a narrow-minded partisan or he would never have taken the position that he did. Jackson is far and away the best man that ever presided over a fire department in this part of the country. He was thrown out simply because Arosin wanted to frame the department up for his own use politically. There is a lot of people in this town who will make this matter personal, and we will show Arosin that he laid the way for his own defeat when he forced John Jackson out. I'm not a member of the board now, and I never held any political office, but I am interested enough in this affair and in the welfare of the city to do the best I can to keep a man who showed the disposition that Arosin showed out of an office where he might do more real harm."

There is a general kick by all parties against city and county employees being appointed as judges and clerks of election, particularly in the Fifth ward. In the Twelfth precinct of the Fifth ward Street Foreman Sladek, who runs a grocery store in connection with his duties as street foreman, is named as an election judge. In the Seventh precinct Henry Mandor, who conducts a cigar factory at the Seven corners and who is also employed in the health department to inspect garbage, at a salary of $50 per month, but who devotes most of his time, it is said, to canvassing for his cigars and politics, is named as a judge of election. It is contended and justly, too, that no city or county employee should be permitted to draw double pay from the city, when so many men are idle and only too anxious to be appointed to these positions. Engineer Rundlett and Health Commissioner Stone and other city officers should make a note of this, and not permit their departments to be run in the interest of any particular party, or the city council will be called on to do so.

A peculiar way of catching votes was inaugurated two years ago in the Fifth ward by some of Representative Barta's particular friends. Instead of purchasing the flowing lager and sending it around to the various precincts, as is the custom in this ward, they sent around buckwheat in ten-pound bags. Barta's friends will have to produce something more substantial this time in order to defeat John Ives. Barta is known now as Buckwheat Barta, of the Fifth.

It is currently reported that Secretary Selb's record in connection with the Seven corners' band has been sent to Washington. Why not send Parker's, too?

The men in the Omaha shops will oppose Thawwald almost to a man. They claim, and it is backed up by facts, that he was instrumental in defeating Walter Fischer for alderman four years ago.

J. Watson Smith and a few others of the opulent candidates on the Republican ticket, are putting up for a blow out of the new and farrow performance tonight at Mozart hall. The Smith campaign is so fast and so well supplied with funds that he had a band out to a Third ward meeting that was run by Sam Lowenstein Monday night, and he will have another band out tonight—in this spite of the fact that the meeting is to be held outside of the district in which he is a candidate.

The Republican county committee has given it out that the members are supposed to confine their attentions to the county campaign and let Stevens make care of his own affairs. The consequence is that Mr. Stevens and J. Watson Smith have joined forces and are running a campaign of their own. The action of the county committee was taken in consequence of the state central committee taking in hand the work of providing the spellbinders for the local campaign in order that their work should not be handicapped by the uniting of their candidates with the congressional candidate in the district.

J. H. Meade, the Democratic candidate for clerk of the courts, has been assured by more than nine-tenths of the members of the local bar of their support in the campaign and has let- ters from almost all of these committing themselves not only to support him, but to take the stump if necessary.
