

INVALIDS ARE HOME

SICK MEN OF THE THIRTIETH MINNESOTA AT HOME WITH FRIENDS ALL ARE FAST IMPROVING

Lieut. Bunker is Much Better Than When He Left Manila—His Wound is Giving Him Much Trouble, However—Sea Voyage Back Did the Men a Great Deal of Benefit.

Roland H. Hartley, private secretary to Gov. Clough, arrived in St. Paul yesterday morning with a special car attached to the morning train from Omaha, for the comfort of the invalided soldiers from the Thirtieth Minnesota volunteers.

The boys were delighted with their treatment since they reached the American continent again, it being in marked contrast with that of the other soldiers, as Minnesota was the only state which sent an official representative to meet the invalided soldiers here that was possible, the state attending to everything.

We left two Minnesota men at the hospital at the Presidio, Walter J. Cork, of Company L, of Minneapolis, and Clarence L. Rice, of Company B, of Duluth, who are suffering from a fever and Rice was badly shot in the lower limbs. Both men thought they had scarcely started to make the trip and preferred to remain in the hospital and their request was granted.

The other troops were less fortunate on the boat started with 147 soldiers and eight dead. The boys were welcomed by a band of music which was playing in the streets. Three bodies were entombed and brought to America and buried at Nagasaki.

Lieut. Bunker, who was shot in the wrist in the battle at Manila, is recovering from a great deal of pain, although the sea voyage did him a world of good in abating his fever. His father, General Bunker, is in Omaha.

Singularly enough, too, the train which brought the invalids into St. Paul had an engineer, the father of Sergeant Walter K. Neale, one of Col. Hartley's passengers.

The train was an hour and a half late in arriving, but the delegation from the auxiliary waited. It included Thomas Cochran, L. A. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Delamere, H. P. Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lee and Benjamin Mack.

BOYS RETURN TO ST. PAUL TO BE MUSTERED OUT OF SERVICE

ARE COMFORTABLY HOUSED Citizens' Committee Unable to Procure Enough Cots for Temporary Use—Appearance on the Streets Didn't Create the Enthusiasm That Was Manifested During the War.

The Fourteenth regiment is once more encamped in St. Paul, but not in a tented camp. The men are housed in four buildings in the central part of the city, and there they will remain until the final roll call. The men began to arrive by the early morning trains and they continued to come all day.

The largest train load was the Omaha special from Duluth, which brought three companies. It was in charge of George M. Smith, general agent of the Omaha at Duluth. The train arrived at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon, having made the run from Duluth in four hours and forty-five minutes running time.

Companies F, L and M arrived by the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific in the morning. Companies F and M marched to the Market house and L went to the building on Third street. As soon as they had deposited their blankets and accoutrements, the men marched to the Temperance coffee house and breakfast.

Company M went to the New York kitchen. The Red Cross rooms in the Endicott arcade will be kept open for some time and for the time being will be headquarters for Wisconsin fire sufferers' supplies.

The Red Cross rooms in the Endicott arcade will be kept open for some time and for the time being will be headquarters for Wisconsin fire sufferers' supplies. The following letter was received from S. W. Sparlin, of Almond, Minn., in response to the same the Red Cross society will gladly receive and forward any donations sent in for the Wisconsin people.

It would take a book to write you the exact condition of the people here, but I say it is a sad state of affairs. Many have lost all they possessed in the world, and they are out of money. I have seen many who had enough to carry them safely through the winter had it not been for the war, but now they are without money, without bread, and without friends who are able to help them.

The only thing in the line of staples for the thirty-five destitute families I have assigned to this place is the thirty sacks of flour and five barrels of pork donated by H. Lohrman, and the thirty sacks of flour just received from the Wisconsin relief committee. It seems to me that the relief committee, it seems to me. About one hundred families are in need of clothing. It seems to me that the relief committee, it seems to me.

Again I thank your friend, Gollerup, for the interest you have taken in this matter. The Red Cross and the Wisconsin relief committee are doing a good work and I trust that the good work will go on, I trust.

Chairman Turtle Lake. The Red Cross rooms will be fitted up with a few day rugs and some decorations and will be ready for the society members when shopping. The union station work still goes on and yesterday a number of men were engaged on the fourth floor of the new building. They were cared for at the shelter house until they can join their regiment today. Mrs. J. S. Shurlock was at the desk yesterday.

GUARD OF GOOD BASIS RETURN OF THE TWELFTH AND FOURTEENTH TO CIVIL LIFE

AMENDMENT TO THE CODE It Will Give the Governor the Power and Money to Equip the New Fourth Regiment, Whether the Boys of the Old First Return or Not—Several Companies Already Mustered In.

The Twelfth and Fourteenth regiments' companies will be allowed to immediately reorganize their old national guard companies at their home towns, if they so desire. There is a possibility among the members of these regiments to perpetuate the old national guard, although they are not anxious to resume drill immediately.

With the new Fourth regiment, Minnesota will doubtless have the best organized guard in a history shortly after the first of the new year. Adj. Gen. Muehlberg will complete the organization of the Fourth regiment next week. Eight of the ten companies called for by the governor have been mustered in and fully organized as state militia companies.

Companies I and K of Brainerd and Mead respectively, by the governor in tomorrow evening by Adj. Gen. Muehlberg and Gen. W. B. Bend, completing the organization of the regiment with the exception of the election of regimental officers.

The companies which have been mustered in are as follows: Company A, Capt. Henry Ehrmantraut, St. Paul; Company B, Capt. Albert Holter, St. Paul; Company C, Capt. G. E. Emery, Minneapolis; Company D, Capt. Washington Smith, Minneapolis; Company E, Capt. Francis H. Cobb, of Minneapolis; Company F, Capt. John Phillips, Lake City; Company G, Capt. C. H. Stearns, Owatonna, and Company H, Capt. George Van Smith, Rochester.

The new Fourth regiment, to all intents and purposes, takes the place of the Thirtieth regiment now at Manila, and as expected has not been for some time to come. The Fourth will make complete the organization of the N. G. S. M. In the meantime an amendment may be secured to the military code, which will give the chief executive of the state to include the Thirtieth back in the guard, if they desire to continue after their return.

An election of the regimental officers of the regiment will take place some time the latter part of next week. The regiment will be complete tomorrow night, and Adj. Gen. Muehlberg will have a date called in the week when the officers may come to St. Paul and select those who will be authority over them.

Conde Hamlin, president of the Commercial club, has been elected to the rank of colonel, because of the fact that Gov. Clough appointed him before he discovered that under the military code the company officers select their regimental officers. C. H. Marsh, of Litchfield, has also been suggested as lieutenant colonel. Owing to the recent organization, but little has been said about the officers of the new regiment. Dr. Thos. McDevitt, of St. Paul, who accompanied Col. Hartley to San Francisco to accompany home the sick of the Thirtieth, was also mentioned as mentioned as chief surgeon of the Fourth regiment.

None of the Fourth regiment companies have been mustered in, but the state will experience but little difficulty in securing arms, as regiments are being mustered out every week by the war department and this of necessity leaves a surplus on hand.

THEY RANK WELL. Secretary Jackson's Estimate of Institutions in Northern Minnesota. Secretary Jackson, of the state board of corrections and charities, returned yesterday from a trip through the northern part of Minnesota, where he visited county institutions, such as jails and workhouses, and a half dozen counties, as well as the branch of the school system at Grand Rapids. Mr. Jackson says this farm is doing a grand work for the northern part of the state, inasmuch as it has been able to produce a "cut over," or "burnt over" land, though the agency of this farm it is being determined that the department has accepted one, and his honey and cheese also gave him a first place among his brother tillers of the soil from other states.

NATURE'S WAY FOLLOWED In Making Pre-digested Grape-Nuts The delicious food. STARCH CHANGED Into Grape Sugar as Nature Does It. Starch (a Carbo-hydrate) is passed out of the stomach into the duodenum or second stomach and there treated by the pancreatic juices, when in time a microscopic fungus is grown from a part of the grain, (if that has been eaten), and these elements with moisture, heat and time, transform the starch into grape-sugar, which is the first act of digestion.

CHANCE FOR A ROW. Collision of Dates at the Armory is Causing Ill Feeling. There is a quarrel between Battery A and Companies E and F of the old First regiment, and Company I of the new Fourth regiment, over the ball which the battery and the two companies of the First have arranged to give Nov. 25. It was intended that the ball should be given at the armory, but the battery, who lost part of his hand during a salute, the departing Thirtieth regiment last May, but the armory was needed for the ball for the Fourteenth regiment, and the ball postponed and merged into that of the two companies.

The horse and buggy were recovered.

THREE GUESSED IT. At the Manufacturers' exhibit last week it will be remembered that the shoe manufacturers, who made a joint display of their products, had on exhibition not only shoes but also a quantity of leather used by them in their factories, and a present of a pair of shoes was offered to the number of ladies who would guess the contents in such exhibit. The amount was contained in three ladies, to wit: Mrs. E. J. Dorr, Mrs. J. E. Biddleman, and Mrs. J. E. Jazard.
