

AROUND THE CITY HALL

Mayor Kiefer puts in a Day Writing About the "Great Disaster."

Mayor Kiefer denied himself to callers yesterday afternoon and devoted his entire time to the preparation of the able state paper sent to the assembly last evening on the "disaster" to the Sixth street bridge.

Now that the statement published in The Globe several days ago as to the appointment of Aid. Donahower as an assistant to the attorney general has been confirmed there is a hard pulling of wires.

A member of the board of aldermen stated last evening that "Doc" Schiffmann would in all probability be chosen to fill out the unexpired term of Aid. Donahower.

George Gerlich, custodian of the city hall, was mentioned in The Globe yesterday as a member of the Lincoln club. Said Mr. Gerlich yesterday: "I demand a retraction in The Globe. As a matter in justice to myself and the Lincoln club, I want to say that I am not a member of the club. It doesn't mean to cast any reflection on the club."

Mayor Kiefer some time ago started an investigation for the purpose of ascertaining why the theaters had paid no license. A careful search of the council proceedings and the cash book of the city treasurer brought out the fact that both the Grand and Metropolitan had paid the license fee for 1898 months ago.

Comptroller McCarty requests the thirty-nine judges and clerks who served during the recent election and have not drawn their pay to step in and get their money.

City Engineer Runder has presented to the board of public works an estimate for the macadamizing of Como avenue, from Dale to Rice street. The total cost is estimated at $42,715, which does not include the nineteen-foot strip used by the street railway company. No action will be taken until the master has been submitted to the park board for its consideration.

Assemblyman Dix, speaking in favor of the contract for gas and electric lighting being awarded to the St. Paul Gas company, spoke of the "good old Democratic days when $150,000 was spent for the contract. The record, however, shows that in 1892 and 1893, when the "reform" Republican administration took charge of the city, the tax levy for lighting was $100,000 and the tax levy for the same purpose was $158,500.

W. P. Murray, one of the directors of the park commission, stated yesterday that there was a possibility of the park board looking to taking the ground now occupied by the workshop for park purposes. The workshop is owned and operated by the city. Murray said about the resolutions passed by the park board looking to taking the ground now occupied by the workshop for park purposes.

A meeting of the soldiers' reception committee was held at the mayor's office yesterday. Present were Mayor Kiefer, comptroller McCarty, Maj. Eddy and A. S. Tallmadge. Bills were presented by Mr. Tallmadge, and after discussion were referred to the mayor and comptroller for audit.

Building inspectors, in conjunction with Health Commissioner Stone, has written to the leading plumbers, architects and sanitary engineers requesting that if they have any suggestions as to amendments to the present plumbing ordinance, they should present them to the health commissioner to change the present plumbing ordinance so as to conform to sanitary measures, and particularly as to the putting in of vent pipes in buildings.

Stole a Fine Pink Coat. Edward Regelsberger, salesman for the C. G. Lewis Co. company, notified the police yesterday that he had been robbed of a pink coat overcoat had been stolen from the company's office. Mr. Regelsberger and a friend advised the police of the loss of the coat.

DR. WURTH'S OPINION OF THE NEW DISCOVERY IN MEDICINE.

A Remarkably Successful Remedy for Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Stomach Troubles.

Dr. Wurtz in commenting on recent discoveries in medicine said: There is none which is certain to be so valuable as the new discovery in medicine, the new stomach remedy; I say far reaching, because people little realize how important a sound stomach and vigorous digestion is to every man, woman and child.

Although former Gov. Yale had said that he would not ask the First district a caucus of the district has been proposed to be held in the city from outside points and to discuss affairs with the Hennepin county senators. Today he will come to St. Paul for a like purpose and will remain in the Twin Cities until Sunday.

Lyndon A. Smith, Montevideo, Hennepin county, is endeavoring to consolidate the milling interests of the country, returned from Europe by the steamship Majestic. Mr. McIntyre declined to make a statement as to his success or failure, or to endorse assertions made in this regard by friends or others.

TO GO FOR GUTTERSON

SAID THE THIRD DISTRICT WILL INDORSE THE BLUE EARTH MAN STAPLES TO ENGINEER IT

Grondahl's Friends May Make a Fight—Ramsey's Caucus is Decried to Get a Chance to See in Which Quarter the Wind Lies—Interesting Gossip of the Coming Session.

Ramsey county's leaders gave it out last night that the Fourth congressional district Republican legislators would not hold their caucus tomorrow night, as originally planned, but had decided to postpone it until Monday, on which night the Third and Fifth districts are also scheduled to meet.

No reason was assigned for the change in these save the convenience of the members, but a possible explanation is found in the rumor that the

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS OF THE STATE NORMAL BOARD

"Hush, Hush, Hush! Here Comes the Bogie Man." —St. Paul Dispatch.

Third district at its meeting, proposes to go to Guttererson, the Blue Earth county candidate.

The story goes that Representative Staples, of Dakota county, has promised to deliver the district, and while the friends of Grondahl, of Goodhue, may not relish this, it is probable that they will not make a very aggressive fight against the indorsement of Guttererson if Staples request it.

The First has not declared, but is expected to be genial to the ambitions of Mr. Gale, of Winona.

There was not a little disappointment on the part of some of the non-arrival of Lieut. Gov.-elect Lyndon A. Smith last night. He was expected in the city, but failed to appear.

Attorney General-elect W. B. Douglas, of Moorhead, was in his prospective office yesterday for the first time since election. He confirmed the announcements made several days ago that W. J. Donahower, of St. Paul, and C. W. Somerby, of Minneapolis, would be his assistants.

O. K. Dahle, of Spring Grove, announced himself as a candidate for one of the assistant clerkships in the house. He was second assistant in 1897.

Gen. George P. Wilson, of Minneapolis, is very likely to be placed on the senate committee on corporations.

Lyndon A. Smith, Montevideo, Hennepin county, is endeavoring to consolidate the milling interests of the country, returned from Europe by the steamship Majestic.

He was expected in the city from outside points and to discuss affairs with the Hennepin county senators.

Today he will come to St. Paul for a like purpose and will remain in the Twin Cities until Sunday. I simply want to get acquainted before the legislative meets," he said, "and, having a few days to spare from my law business, I am going to talk over matters, so that I may be ready for business when the legislature convenes."

WILL MEET EARLIER.

Eighth Ward Precinct Chairman Will Meet Tonight, Chairman Peter Metadori and Secretary Aune announce that there will be a meeting of the precinct chairman of the Eighth ward Democratic organization at 814 Carroll street this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing a ward chairman, secretary and treasurer.

CLEVELAND SCHOOL UNION Holds a Meeting, After Which a Mothers' Club is Formed.

The meeting of the Cleveland School Union last evening for the purpose of effecting organization and instituting a mothers' club, was attended by a number of ladies and a very slight sprinkling of gentlemen.

Some Idea of the Nature and Extent of His Indorsements—If He Should Land It, It is Believed That Gen. Pope May Draw Something Else—The Old Soldiers' Anti-Eustis Club.

It is reported that the exceptional strength developed by J. U. Barnes, of Minneapolis, for public examiner, is affecting the general expectations regarding that place not a little, and is causing Gov.-elect Lind deep reflection.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

BARNES MAY BE IN IT

THE MINNEAPOLIS CANDIDATE FOR PUBLIC EXAMINER DEVELOPS SURPRISING STRENGTH MAY YET PROVE A WINNER

Some Idea of the Nature and Extent of His Indorsements—If He Should Land It, It is Believed That Gen. Pope May Draw Something Else—The Old Soldiers' Anti-Eustis Club.

It is reported that the exceptional strength developed by J. U. Barnes, of Minneapolis, for public examiner, is affecting the general expectations regarding that place not a little, and is causing Gov.-elect Lind deep reflection.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

When circumstances seemed to call Mr. Ringland there, public examiner naturally "called" for Gen. Pope. But if indorsements from the banks have as much influence as they might be supposed to have, Mr. Barnes' application at this fortified is immense.

The banks indorsing Mr. Barnes, state in the letter to Gov. Lind, which is signed by about thirty such institutions, "a person of special fitness by long and varied experience in banking lines, should be chosen."

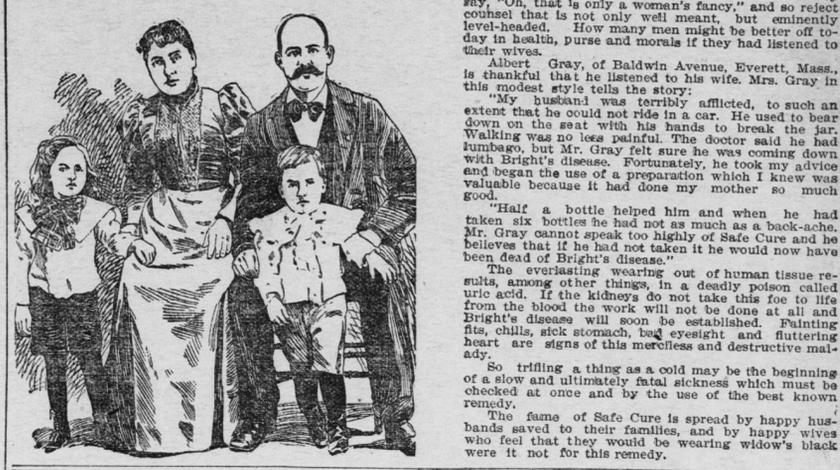

Four additional expense lists were filed with the governor yesterday by the members of the congressional caucus.

Dr. O. S. Pine, Democratic candidate for coroner at the recent election, is willing to buy cigars for electors, but he draws distinction between the fragment perfects intended for persons who did vote for him and the ordinary kind that graced the mouths of his political opponents.

Dr. Fine charges up $20 for cigars for those who did not vote for him and $15 for cigars for those who did. Judge Pillsbury says that he expended $55.96 in the congressional race and $100 in the Fourth, spent $65.96 in his campaign.

WIFE'S ADVICE.

And the Gratifying Result Has Been—A Happy Family.

The notion that a wife's advice is not worth taking is unappreciated among some married men. They say, "Oh, that is only a woman's fancy," and so reject her advice, not only in the matter of health, but in every level-headed, but eminently wise, might be better off to-day in health, purse and morals if they had listened to their wives.

Albert Gray, of Baldwin Avenue, Everett, Mass., is thankful that the advice of his wife, Mrs. Gray, in this modest style tells the story.

"My husband was terribly afflicted, to such an extent that he could not ride in a car. He used to bear down with his hands to break the jar. Walking was no less painful. Only Safe Cure had lumbar, but Mr. Gray felt sure he was coming down with Bright's disease. Fortunately, he took my advice and began the use of a preparation which I knew was valuable because it had done my mother so much good.

"Half a bottle helped him and when he had taken six bottles he had not as much as a back-ache. Mr. Gray cannot speak too highly of Safe Cure and he believes that if he had not taken it he would now have been dead of Bright's disease."

The everlasting wearing out of human tissue results from the wearing out of the body. The wearing out of the body is the result of the wearing out of the body. The wearing out of the body is the result of the wearing out of the body.

So trifling a thing as a cold may be the beginning of a slow, but ultimately fatal sickness which must be checked at once and by the use of the best known remedy.

The fame of Safe Cure is spread by happy husbands and their families, and by happy wives who feel that their families, and by happy wives who feel that their families, and by happy wives who feel that their families.

WITH THE FIFTEENTH COMPANY ARE NOW COMFORTABLY LOCATED IN THEIR CAMPS NEAR AUGUSTA, GA.

VERY FEW MEN SICK NOW Several Who Have Been in Minnesota Join the Regiment—A Number of Changes Among the Company Officers—Some Personal News About the Various Companies in the Regiment.

Special Correspondence The St. Paul Globe. CAMP M'KENZIE, Augusta, Ga., Dec. 5.—The Fifteenth Minnesota regiment, since its arrival here, has been kept busy working to get the camp and immediate vicinity in something like old Snelling's neatness, and thanks to the whole-hearted way in which all the boys have worked the camp today has a model appearance.

The boys are all enjoying good health, thanks to the good sanitary arrangements which are now in vogue, and the doctors are having a comparatively easy time.

The Y. M. C. A. is now in charge of Corporal Cooke, of Company L. Corporal Cooke deserves much praise for the business-like way in which he has conducted the company's affairs.

The band gives concerts every Sunday at 3:30, and are well patronized, both by soldiers and people who come visiting from Augusta. Grand Little, one of Snelling's best, is laid up with a sore ear.

The band boys are expecting Snowball back almost any time now. The professor is away on sick furlough.

One of the most popular men in the regiment is found in the person of William McHenry, of Company K, who is a regimental postmaster for the past three months.

John L. Chauncey and Charles Smith have returned to their homes on furlough. Samuel Kelly is expected to return to his home in St. Paul, where he has been on sick furlough.

Robert H. Schwede is one of the latest arrivals from St. Paul, where he has been on sick furlough. Rob is so fat that the boys are thinking of giving him a pig for a pet.

Sergeant Kelly is the proud proprietor of a pet dog. Robert H. Schwede is one of the latest arrivals from St. Paul, where he has been on sick furlough.

Corporal Bourquin continues to charm the boys and also the possum with his banjo. Nels P. Nelson, of Grove City, Company C's general second lieutenant, is one of the latest arrivals from Minnesota, where he has been on sick furlough.

Corporal DeWey is the most popular man in the company. Jack is company cook. Private John Ryan has the reputation of being the best worker in the regiment to a considerable extent.

Lieut. Dewey is slowly recovering from a bad cold, contracted while en route from Camp Meade here. Sergeant Hutchins, of Minneapolis, returned Thursday from sick furlough, and is looking hale and hearty.

The following are the latest arrivals from Minnesota, and are all from Clayton: Thomas, Geo. Ziemann, Oscar Frek and Leonard Thomson. William Stewart, late first sergeant, who was promoted to second lieutenant, vice Jones, resigned, is anxiously awaiting the arrival of the shoulder straps.

Sergeant McLaughlin is looking as happy and contented as ever, and is anxiously awaiting news about the mustering out. Corporal DeWey is raising a mustache, which is increasing his popularity.

Sergeant Krider is just as popular with the Augusta girls as he was to be with the St. Paul girls when back home. Ruban Werthebeck, Nels Hoganson, Victor Swanson and Eugene M. Baylis are the latest arrivals to Company I from Minnesota, where they have been on sick furlough.

William Blackman is entirely recovered from the mumps. Fred Clark is looking just as well as ever. Fred is a general favorite. COMPANY G. Paddy Miller lost his overcoat in a poker game, and a 1 cent limit at that.

Advertisement for 'No Appetite? TRY THE IDEAL FRENCH TOOL FOR BODY AND BRAIN'. Includes text about 'The Paris Peace Commission' and 'Immediate lasting efficacious agreeable'.

Advertisement for 'Rheumatis Lumbag Kidney Dr. Sander's Electric Belt With Electro-Magnetic Suspensory'. Includes text about 'LATEST PATENTS! BEST IMPROVEMENTS' and 'SANDER ELECTRIC BELT CO.'.