AROUND THE CITY HALL

MAYOR KIEFER ASTONISHED.

"Have you selected appointees for the fire board, school board or water board?" inquired a Globe reporter of Mayor Kiefer yesterday afternoon.

"Why, my good fellow," said the mayor, seemingly astonished by the query, "I have made no appointments to these positions for the reason that there are no vacancies. If it should happen that there would be vacancies on the boards you mention it would then be my duty to make appointments, but until there are I can make no appointments."

It is understood that the owner of the Dispatch intends to demand a recount of the vote by which the paper was ejected out of the city printing press last week.

City Engineer Ruedtger says it will be the middle of April before the bridge on the Sixth street bridge is opened again for travel. Bids for the construction of the two new spans will be opened by the council about Jan. 15, and it will be two weeks later before the contract can be awarded.

Mayor Kiefer yesterday affixed his signature to the resolution passed by the council fixing the tax budget for 1899.

GOV. LINN'S RUN-TIME

HE SPENT YESTERDAY IN ST. PAUL, PART OF THE TIME WITH AUDITOR DUNN.

This Morning He Starts for Iowa to Pursue His Investigation of the Methods Employed in Conducting State Institutions—Fact That Labor Cannot Agree on a Man May Lose the Commission.

Gov. John Lind spent part of yesterday in St. Paul. He came in from the East at 8 o'clock, and later spent some time at Democratic headquarters in the Merchants' hotel. Then some work was put in on his message.

In the afternoon the governor-elect went to the office of Auditor Dunn, and some time in conference with State Auditor Dunn. The recommendations contained in the state auditor's report, as exclusively made by Dunn, are being Wednesday, are understood to be along the lines of Gov. Lind's ideas, and it was to consult Mr. Dunn that the governor called yesterday afternoon.

The canvassing board represented by the state auditor's report, as exclusively made by Dunn, are being Wednesday, are understood to be along the lines of Gov. Lind's ideas, and it was to consult Mr. Dunn that the governor called yesterday afternoon.

Gov. Lind left for his home at New Ulm at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and this morning will leave for a visit to the state institutions of Iowa, where he will follow out the same work of investigation he pursued in Wisconsin. He will not be in St. Paul again until next week.

An indication of the interest in the state reform cause, further than has been shown in The Globe references to the reform press, was furnished yesterday at Democratic headquarters by the call of the press by C. H. Sullivan, of Dawson, the former one of the strong Democrats of that part of the state, and the latter cashier of the Commercial bank here.

Eric Olson and Secretary Hanley, of the State Farmers' Alliance, are pushing for a large attendance at the coming meeting, and their reports indicate that the meeting will be well attended.

There were some important developments yesterday regarding candidates and applicants for the office of labor commissioner, and the relation of organized labor thereto. It appears that the hope that organized labor would unite on some one to receive the post of labor commissioner, is being abandoned.

A delegation from the First congressional district was present on behalf of Judge Allen, state librarian, in the delegation being former Congressman W. H. Harris, of Caledonia, and G. F. Crise, county treasurer-elect, of Winona.

It is gossip, as between Judge Allen and Maj. Hotchkiss, of Freston, for librarian, that Maj. Hotchkiss may be asked by Gov. Lind to take the command of the state militia.

Minneapolis was little in evidence yesterday, but County Chairman E. L. Murphy, County Commissioners Ed Egan and Ed Conroy, and other members of the appointment of Luther Barlow as game and fish warden for Hennepin county, quite an important office. They are several other dates, among them E. A. Chisholm, Geo. Cooke, the latter for the Silver Republicans, and P. Anderson, Chairman Murphy also appearing on behalf of M. Bresler, for surveyor general.

GOV. GIBBS IS THOROUGH, EFFICIENT ORGANIZATION.

The Crookston Times says: "S. A. Farnsworth, one of the prominent educational statesmen of the state, of the Crookston schools, now connected with the Cleveland high school in St. Paul in the same capacity, is said to be the head of the list of those from whom choice will be made for superintendent of public instruction for Minnesota."

J. B. Johnson, of Brainerd, chairman of the board of trustees of the Crow Wing county, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Johnson is an enthusiastic advocate of the appointment of S. A. Farnsworth as superintendent of public instruction for Minnesota.

J. C. Jensen, cashier of the State bank, has drafted a bill for presentation to the legislature, providing for the call of the state militia.

Dear Sir—I gather from recent issues of your paper that Mr. Louis Nash, an editor spoken of in connection with the office of labor commissioner under the Lind administration, is a person of some standing.

It is to be regretted that the system of keeping open until 9 and 10 o'clock, which is the credit of the early closing movement, not only in St. Paul, but in every Western state, when the boys and girls are out of school, has been found to be a failure.

The state normal school board held its annual meeting for the year yesterday at the state house, and received the report of the investigation of the affairs of the Winona normal school.

The committee, in its report, avoids anything of the charges of bad faith against Mr. Shepard, and does not refer in a satisfactory way to the methods pursued by Mr. Shepard to secure the removal of Prof. Freeman, but only asserts that it was within the province of the president to make the change.
