NEW RELIGIOUS LIFE

REORGANIZED Y. M. C. A. PROPOSES TO GIVE IT AN IMPETUS HERE

NEW QUARTERS DEDICATED

Notable Gathering of Christian Workers at the Dyer Block, Where the New Organization Has Located its Reading Rooms and Gymnasium—Prominent Clergymen Participated.

There was a very large attendance at the dedicatory service of the Young Men's Christian association lecture hall in the Dyer block yesterday afternoon. The hall was decorated for the occasion with potted palms. Those occupying seats on the platform were: Rev. G. E. Grace, Rev. H. F. Stillwell, Rev. F. B. Cowgill, Bishop M. N. Gilbert, Rev. A. B. Melram and Edward Grace, secretary of the local association.

The service opened with the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" by the audience, and then after a prayer by Rev. H. F. Stillwell and readings from the Scriptures by Rev. G. E. Grace and Rev. F. B. Cowgill, Secretary Grace introduced Rt. Rev. M. N. Gilbert as the speaker of the occasion.

"The very gathering here of so many young men consecrated in a way to the service of God is of very great interest to me," said Bishop Gilbert. "This work is a work for the master and for the nation. Anything that takes us by the hand and leads us up out of the worst part of ourselves is in its nature blessed, and that is just the work the Y. M. C. A. is accomplishing. This work looks into the future. We have left the old past behind us. We cannot live it over. Let us cast our eyes on the future.

"Do you know that it is a providential thing that this opening should have fallen on this day? There is an especial appropriateness about it. It was not arranged. This work inaugurated today means a new impetus to our linking ourselves with this work. I count it an honor to speak to you on such a day and such an occasion.

"But in painting the bright future it would not be becoming for me if I did not also point out the possible dangers that confront us in this new year. There is always the danger of making the work too one-sided. We must not erect the standard of our own individualism. This is our great danger. It is the emphasizing the subjective side. Don't let a spirit of narrowness get into this association. Remember it is not a Christian association of young men, but an association of Christian young men. We expect them to be Christians, but we expect them to be young men whom we can assist towards Christianity. Because a man is not of the same type as ourselves it does not follow that he may not be as good a Christian as ourselves.

"Another danger is that of having too much of a spirit of indifference. It is setting to think that an effort is enough to satisfy God. That is not right, because there is nothing good enough for God. Don't let the seeds of indifference grow into you, because it will take away your power of personal enthusiasm that is so necessary in this work.

"There is still another danger. It is represented by the men brought up in Christian homes, with clear eyes, clear heads, and warm hearts, but who repress any expression of their belief. I do not believe in the abolition of feeling. When you believe that God is present in your heart, I believe you should give the fact expression that others may be lifted up. Every man who has the slightest of Christ's love in his heart should let it shine. He should feel like going out into the highways and byways and inviting others to come and enjoy the spiritual life.

"The last five or six years in the city of St. Paul have been years of spiritual poverty. The minds of men have been so absorbed in their own concerns that they have neglected the welfare of the soul. I do not believe St. Paul is worse than other cities, but I do know that we have not reached the spiritual standard that we ought to have reached. Nothing can go on without righteousness, and the only way we can help the city that we love is to aid in this work for the master and the man."

At the conclusion of the service Mrs. C. J. Hall gave a charming contralto solo. The opening reception of the Y. M. C. A. will be held from 3 p. m. until 10 p. m. today, and the friends of the association will be welcomed at headquarters by the board of directors and officers. In the evening there will be a speaker, a musical program, and the city unions of the Epworth league and Christian Endeavor society will serve refreshments.

NEW YEAR'S RECEPTION.

A general invitation to the public association to visit the association rooms tomorrow, between the hours of 3 and 10 p. m. The occasion will be the annual New Year's reception of the Epworth league, Christian Endeavor societies of the city, in connection with the Y. M. C. A.

The large apartments of the Y. M. C. A. in the Dyer block on Fifth street will be thrown open, and the afternoon and evening programs will be furnished by the young people of the various church societies, all of which will have a representation at the gathering.

TEACHERS ARE GRATEFUL.

President Bond Expresses Thanks of the Educational Association.

President J. D. Bond of the State Educational association, stated to the Globe yesterday that he desired to publicly thank Gov. Clough for his courtesy in allowing the association the use of the senate chamber and in the heating apparatus of both houses during the session. The work was rapidly pushed to completion under orders given by Gov. Clough.

Mr. Bond said that the courtesy of the state house extended the association made it possible to hold the annual gathering of state teachers in St. Paul from year to year. There were eight sections of the association, each had a large place for its meeting, and the state house, Central church and high school building being all within a close distance just supplied the needs of the association.

MONEY IN HIM.

With Ross It Was Not a Speculative Possibility, But Truth.

Duff F. Ross, a member of the Third United States infantry, overtaxed his capacity, in Hilger's saloon, 69 West Seventh street, last evening, by swallowing a glass of beer, a silver half-dollar and a quarter. When the coins got to clinking around inside of him, Ross felt uncomfortable, and soon began to experience severe pains in his stomach. He was taken to the central station, where Dr. Weirick endeavored to relieve him. A stomach pump was brought into use, when the soldier was made somewhat easier. Dr. Weirick says Ross is in no danger.

Week of Prayer.

IN A NEW STRUCTURE

ST. ANTHONY PARK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SPENDS A TRULY "HAPPY NEW YEAR"

IS READY FOR DEDICATION

Formal Services Will Be Held During the Present Month, but They Will Not Be Any More Joyful Than Were the Exercises of Yesterday—It Has Its Own Field of Christian Labor.

The annual meeting of the St. Anthony Park Congregational church was held in its new church home, Raymond and Wheeler avenues. The new church was turned over to the contractors but a fortnight ago, and the dedicatory exercises will be held in the edifice some time late in the month.

William M. Liggett read the report of the building committee appointed last spring to accept a design and call for bids for the new building. The committee had met with most flattering success in its work of raising the amount necessary to pay for the new building, as the amount now in sight in the way of pledges would be sufficient to enable the congregation to discharge its indebtedness incurred in the construction of the new building. Including the furnishings, pulpit and glass, the edifice cost $4,008.99. The work had been skillfully and satisfactorily executed by the contractors, and Mr. Liggett added that the circumstances attending the committee's labors had been none other than gratifying.

The new building met all the requirements of the church work, as the old building gave ample room for the Sunday school work, and the auditorium of the new building would seat a large audience. The church debt was secured, Mr. Liggett explained, by notes of $100 each, payable in one, two and three years, the balance having been already paid on the obligation, leaving the debt about $2,000.

Rev. E. S. Prender, pastor, supplemented the remarks of Col. Liggett, and stated that he would on the following Sunday deliver his annual sermon and review, and a special offering for the church since its organization, paying particular attention to the events of the past year, which had brought them a new church building.

E. C. Hall spoke briefly on the completion of the new building of the church had paid a good deal of money, and he asserted that the church as an institution of God owed a much greater debt to the people who were not Christians. He therefore urged that such a prayer be observed, and that the beginning of the new year signalize a renewal of activity in church work.

W. S. Harwood spoke briefly of the new church building, and it should mean to every member working in the field of God's vineyard. As an influence for good in the community it had taken a new lease of life, and its spirit should ever be symbolic of the church as a whole, and should be always kept as such by its members.

A. J. Reeves spoke of the church as a businesslike methods in transacting all of the business of the church. Prof. S. B. Green, in a fifteen-minute talk, "The Church as a Community to a Church," making a practical application of his subject to the conditions existing at the park and the relations existing at the park and the relations existing at the park and the relations existing at the park.

The election of officers occurred, resulting as follows: Deacon for three years, Isaac Anderson, Assessor, Arthur Burghart, clerk, H. Hunter; Sunday school superintendent, E. C. Hall. Reports were given by the church treasurer, clerk, and other officers. A consensus upon the progress of the pastorate during the year. Twenty-five were received into the church during the year, and the total membership of the church is now 1,200. The net gain in membership for the year was eighteen. The Sunday school superintendent reported that $50 in excess of the collection for the year previous was raised by the school. The treasurer's report showed that the current expenses had been less than the previous year, and the balance taken together, the treasury was in much better condition.

ONE LONE FLAG FLOATED.

Mayor Kiefer's Suggestion Didn't Even Entertain the Custodian.

Yesterday was Mayor Kiefer's flag day. His highness promulgated an order on Friday setting for yesterday as a day when the citizens of St. Paul could vouchsafe their patriotism by the display of the Stars and Stripes. Less than three should be some out as a personal patriotism, his majesty penned the following gem, urging all his loving subjects to observe the day:

To the People of St. Paul: On Sunday next, Jan. 1, 1899, the flag of our nation, the Cuban flag, and the flag of the United States, shall be hoisted on the roof of the building on the corner of Broadway and the island is there forever free.

By this evacuation Spain loses her last foothold on the Western hemisphere. In honor and commemoration of this historic event, thanks to the Cuban flag, and the American flag, cannot be more fittingly given than by the display of our public and private buildings of our glorious flag.

It is hoped all patriotic citizens will join. A. R. Kiefer, Mayor.

SECOND-HAND STORE LOSS.

Burglars Raided Samuel Lipwitz's Establishment.

Burglars broke into Samuel Lipwitz's second-hand store, 168 East Seventh street, Saturday night and stole a number of cheap watches together with a dozen gold rings. The thieves secured an entrance by breaking the glass out of a rear window. The most valuable part of the stock of jewelry was in the safe, consequently the burglars had only the cheaper articles to choose from. They ransacked the store thoroughly, however, scattering about the contents of show cases and mirrors, but from a monetary standpoint secured little of value.

Concordia's Christmas Tree.

The St. Paul Concordia Singing society held their annual Christmas entertainment at Mozart hall last night. The programme opened with the chorus "Christus, Evangelium," by Abt. by the society, after which Saxia Claus, impersonated by George Meyers, distributed presents from the Christmas tree to the children present. After the singing of Reinhardt's "First Song" by the male chorus, the ladies' chorus presented Prof. L. W. Harnsen with a handsome meerschaum pipe. Supper was served during the evening, and dancing closed the festivities.

A Ratifier's Warning.
I have read a good many descriptions of the sound made by a rattlesnake, and I can assure you that I know of that duplicate, and that is the peculiar rustle made by pouring rice into a silk paper sack. Try it some time, and if you ever heard a rattlesnake you'll be startled. I had my attention called to the fact, at a little crossroads store up the river while out bird hunting not long ago. The place was gloomy, and in looking around for a seat in the corner I stepped on a coil of rope. At the same instant the storekeeper began pouring out some rice for a negro customer. Seized! Well, I could have taken my heart out of my mouth and looked at it. I gave a yell that shook the shingles
