It was the intention of Mr. Donaldson to leave his wife and daughters in California for the winter and to come back to Minneapolis in the spring. L. S. Donaldson left this evening for California. William was the second child in a family of two sons and two daughters. He was educated by excellent teachers in the village school, receiving classical education. At the age of 15 years he was apprenticed to a draper and served him four years. He then became a clerk in a store in Glasgow, his salary being 60 per year at the beginning. He remained there for two years during the eight years he was in this store, as promotions were made, until he was placed in the position of assistant in the establishment. He married Miss Mary Turner in Glasgow. After four months as an employer, he returned to his wife and children in the care of the parents of his wife and came to America, in company with L. S. Donaldson, in 1871. Both brothers were in 1871 in a dry goods house in Providence, R. I.

A few months later he began his career as a retail merchant in Minneapolis, opening a store at 210 Nicollet avenue, with a stock of women's and men's furnishing goods. He then had a most successful career, his earnings as an apprentice and clerk. Unable to renew his lease, he, in less than a year from the date of his purchase, sold the store to a department in the "Glass Block" erected by Colton & Co., and ran it at his own expense. TENDERFEEL HAVE MOST OF THE LUCK IN HUNTING FOR GOLD. BIG FORTUNES OVERLOOKED.

The Experts Pass Over Wealth, While Men Who Know but Little About the Art of Mining Locate Pay Dirt—Some Stories of Big Fortunes Won Without Experience for a Guide.

From the New York Sun. It is curious that the discoveries of rich gold and silver deposits in Colorado have been made with few exceptions by men who had little or no knowledge of mining or mineralogy. A tenderfeeler has stumbled upon fortunes which would enrich many men, and has trodden upon years and neglected in their search.

The lucky strike over at the new Dawson City illustrates the truth of this statement. The Dawson came from crop-raising Kansas about a year ago, and was at first regarded as a desirable household pet, but in the neighborhood of Regent's park, apparently enough, there is one often to be seen taking its walks abroad, securely muzzled, and in the charge of either a lady or a gentleman.

A Daily Mail representative called the attention of Albert J. Jantich, the naturalist of St. George street, to the fact, and asked him whether keeping wild animals as pets was taken, and if so, how. His reply was that while wolves were not popular pets among ladies, there were some very weird ones taken, and that he had seen a wolf in the jungle that nowadays found their way into a household.

It beats the device, these lucky finds by people who hardly know enough to keep a dog, and who start by starting away from him, and come down from Cripple Creek to look for gold, and find it. The man who had come down from Cripple Creek to look for gold, and find it. The man who had come down from Cripple Creek to look for gold, and find it.
