

THE ST. PAUL GLOBE

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1899.

CITY SUBSCRIPTIONS. Daily only 1 mo 1.00 3 mo 2.75 6 mo 5.00 12 mo 9.00

COUNTRY SUBSCRIPTIONS. Daily only 1 mo 1.50 3 mo 4.00 6 mo 7.50 12 mo 12.00

Entered at Postoffice at St. Paul, Minn., as Second-Class Matter. Address all communications to THE GLOBE CO., St. Paul, Minnesota.

BRANCH OFFICES. New York, 10 Spruce St. Chicago, 107 N. Dearborn St.

THE WEATHER.

FORECAST FOR TODAY. Minnesota—Fair; brisk northwest winds.

Yesterday's observations, taken by the United States weather bureau, St. Paul, P. F. Lyons observed, at 7 o'clock last night.

HIGHEST TEMPERATURE 31. LOWEST TEMPERATURE 18. WINDY FROM NORTHWEST.

TEMPERATURES.

St. Paul, Minn., High, 36. Chicago, Ill., High, 36. Boston, Mass., High, 36.

Washington time (7 p. m. St. Paul time).

The Globe wishes to say to all contributors that it cheerfully prints their letters, only asking that they be brief and concise.

STUDYING THE AMERICAN NAVY.

Had any one a year ago advanced the idea that European powers would send to this country naval officers to study, in detail, the American navy, he might have been the victim of considerable ridicule.

CHURCHES AND THEIR WORK.

A reception will be given to Bishop and Mrs. Isaac W. Joyce in Central Park Methodist Episcopal church this evening.

MR. DAGGETT REWARDED.

Assemblyman Daggett, of the Wisconsin legislature, has received his reward. Mr. Daggett, it will be recalled to mind, is the Badger state statesman who introduced a bill to prohibit tick lacing.

MR. DAGGETT REWARDED.

Assemblyman Daggett, of the Wisconsin legislature, has received his reward. Mr. Daggett, it will be recalled to mind, is the Badger state statesman who introduced a bill to prohibit tick lacing.

MR. DAGGETT REWARDED.

Assemblyman Daggett, of the Wisconsin legislature, has received his reward. Mr. Daggett, it will be recalled to mind, is the Badger state statesman who introduced a bill to prohibit tick lacing.

MR. DAGGETT REWARDED.

Assemblyman Daggett, of the Wisconsin legislature, has received his reward. Mr. Daggett, it will be recalled to mind, is the Badger state statesman who introduced a bill to prohibit tick lacing.

MR. DAGGETT REWARDED.

Assemblyman Daggett, of the Wisconsin legislature, has received his reward. Mr. Daggett, it will be recalled to mind, is the Badger state statesman who introduced a bill to prohibit tick lacing.

lacing dude—and there are such things—fell under its sweeping inhibition equally with the society belle and the society dowager.

Well, Mr. Daggett has been rewarded. Recently his deek was the center of attraction. For there was a show window tag-out that eclipsed anything ever before witnessed in the capitol building at Madison.

The attraction—and the word is used advisedly—was nothing more nor less than a handsome, tightly-laced corset filled full and running over with a profusion of beautiful flowers, the fairest, the choicest, the most expensive to be procured from the Madisonian conservatories.

To Mr. Daggett this was a tribute at once so unique and unqualifiedly original that one cannot help but pause in silent wonder and admiration of the genius which inspired the choice of the gift. It came from the ladies of Watertown, Wis., and was accompanied by a note expressive of their hearty appreciation of Mr. Daggett's efforts to give freedom and full play to the beating hearts and pulsating lungs of the whole feminine contingent of Wisconsin.

FATE OF THE THIRTEENTH.

Toward the close of last week's legislative business Senator Horton introduced in the senate a concurrent resolution requesting President McKinley to order the immediate return from Manila of the Thirteenth regiment, Minnesota volunteers.

Paradoxical as it may appear, "Gas" Addicks is extremely ponderous. Is that Brooke over in Cuba to be allowed to go on forever?

EPISTLES TO ST. PAUL.

Sam Fullerton, from his experience as game and fish warden, is naturally profuse in fish stories, and nothing pains him more than to have anyone spin a tougher yarn than his.

"I can well remember the old days, when the catfish used to be so large and numerous in the Mississippi river that they were known as the 'steamboats'."

"Huh!" observed Mr. Fullerton. "You all have heard of old Catfish Pete, who used to live in the United States, and to the state of Minnesota, that they may be mustered out of the service of the United States."

"Well, Pete had a monstrous catfish that lived in his stinky water tank and that he used to use to follow him about on land and water, like a dog."

"What became of it?" asked Mr. Dunn, who was in the interest.

"It broke its back jumping after a mouse," responded the story-teller. "It was getting gray, anyhow, and—"

"This new plan of naming the fire engines after the martyrs is going to be mighty popular," observed Abstract Clerk John Schultz yesterday to Jimmy Drummond, who is studying the maps.

"Why?" asked Drummond, with an appearance of interest.

"Well, don't you see, how pleasant it will be to have a fire engine named after a martyr?"

"That's all very well," replied Mr. Drummond, "but do you think it will be popular to have a fire engine named after a martyr?"

"Now, I'll tell you," said the man with the red puff necktie. "John Smith is not such a bad name to carry around after all. Your name's Smith, isn't it?"

"Yes, it is," admitted the young man, who was a member of the committee.

"But it's so common. I can't help thinking about the John Smith who got thirty days in the workhouse last week for first offense."

"Good gracious! That would—"

"Or Alger?"

"Great Scott! Let's change the subject to something pleasant."

Rev. J. T. Hartung desires The Globe to announce that the usual services will be conducted in St. Joseph's church on Sunday, March 19.

The Christian Temperance Federation will hold its mass meeting at Plymouth church next Sunday evening.

Probably no speaker who has visited West St. Paul in a long time has been able to play on the ridiculous and the grotesque as well as Mr. Hefner.

The first spring poem of the season came to The Globe last evening, presumably on the bosom of the breeze, from Lakeville, Minn.

According to the New Orleans Picayune, prize fighters who lack ginger should be sent to Jamaica. Prize fighters who lack ginger have been known to resort to oil of mustard.

A New York attorney accuses one of the best cloth in Philadelphia of having swindled him. Possibly this is one of the things that puzzled a Philadelphia lawyer.

Well, let's not have any spring, but start off with summer.

Gen. Joe Wheeler may wed Miss G. W.

Childs, widow of the Philadelphia philanthropist and publisher. Wheeler remains a bravo man to the end.

"Things for nerve are being advertised extensively just now. There are plenty of people around who don't have to take any of it."

Mr. McKinley has gone to Georgia for rest. We know of no other state where there is a larger variety of that commodity.

The bicyclist is chafing at a great rate for more worlds to conquer. By this time last year he had broken a few dozen records.

An economical suggestion: If the great state of Pennsylvania can get along with but one senator, why cannot others?

Nuba Pasha, who left a fortune of $20,000,000, knew better than to spend it for Philippine islands.

Those Republicans who are so anxious to fight Tom Reed would better get and get a reputation.

The people up around Crookston are going to hunt wolves. Can't they get a ticket to Chicago.

And then again perhaps spring is ashamed to spring itself so late in the spring.

Paradoxical as it may appear, "Gas" Addicks is extremely ponderous. Is that Brooke over in Cuba to be allowed to go on forever?

The Easter bonnet is something of a bird. It has a long bill.

This March, anyhow, puts all the others in a deep shade.

Sam Fullerton, from his experience as game and fish warden, is naturally profuse in fish stories, and nothing pains him more than to have anyone spin a tougher yarn than his.

"I can well remember the old days, when the catfish used to be so large and numerous in the Mississippi river that they were known as the 'steamboats'."

"Huh!" observed Mr. Fullerton. "You all have heard of old Catfish Pete, who used to live in the United States, and to the state of Minnesota, that they may be mustered out of the service of the United States."

"Well, Pete had a monstrous catfish that lived in his stinky water tank and that he used to use to follow him about on land and water, like a dog."

"What became of it?" asked Mr. Dunn, who was in the interest.

"It broke its back jumping after a mouse," responded the story-teller. "It was getting gray, anyhow, and—"

"This new plan of naming the fire engines after the martyrs is going to be mighty popular," observed Abstract Clerk John Schultz yesterday to Jimmy Drummond, who is studying the maps.

"Why?" asked Drummond, with an appearance of interest.

"Well, don't you see, how pleasant it will be to have a fire engine named after a martyr?"

"That's all very well," replied Mr. Drummond, "but do you think it will be popular to have a fire engine named after a martyr?"

"Now, I'll tell you," said the man with the red puff necktie. "John Smith is not such a bad name to carry around after all. Your name's Smith, isn't it?"

"Yes, it is," admitted the young man, who was a member of the committee.

"But it's so common. I can't help thinking about the John Smith who got thirty days in the workhouse last week for first offense."

"Good gracious! That would—"

"Or Alger?"

"Great Scott! Let's change the subject to something pleasant."

Rev. J. T. Hartung desires The Globe to announce that the usual services will be conducted in St. Joseph's church on Sunday, March 19.

The Christian Temperance Federation will hold its mass meeting at Plymouth church next Sunday evening.

Probably no speaker who has visited West St. Paul in a long time has been able to play on the ridiculous and the grotesque as well as Mr. Hefner.

In its effect on the two religious denominations to the late war with Spain, for the South, so the fight against the liquor traffic had united the two great religious sects.

Other speakers were Mr. J. J. Regan, state president of Catholic Total Abstinence League, and Mrs. J. J. Nolan.

AT THE THEATERS.

Frank Daniels and his opera company presented "The Idol's Eye" to a large and appreciative audience at the Metropolitan opera house last night.

The most popular of the romantic plays of the last decade is "The Prisoner of Zenda," which will be given at the Metropolitan in a week's engagement, beginning Sunday evening.

Manager Scott of the Metropolitan opera house, takes pleasure in announcing that he has secured Madame Modjeska for an engagement of three nights, April 6, 7 and 8.

The patrons of the Metropolitan will be given an opportunity to select from Modjeska's repertoire of roles, which are: "The Jew," "St. John," "Anthony and Cleopatra," "Camille," "As You Like It" and "Macbeth."

"Hogan's Alley" is full of wit, song, dance and vaudeville, and those who enjoy a good laugh will find it at the Grand.

The remarkable success with which the different visits of Black Patti have been favored indicated strongly the fact that colored comedy is decidedly popular with our audiences.

The first of the new comedies of three acts, which will mark the occasion of the initial visit here of Cole and Johnson in their comic novelty, "A Trip to Paris," will be given at the Grand.

Colored artists have made to present a play, and their efforts have been rewarded by success. The production is "Hogan's Alley," which is a comedy of the street in New York.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

tion fee will be charged outsiders who wish to join. Miss Gertrude Hall will have charge of the class.

The lectures will be delivered a lecture Tuesday evening at the Central high school on the care and culture of the voice from a scientific standpoint.

The Jolly Four gave a very enjoyable dancing party to a large number of their friends last evening at Sherman hall.

The Monte Sano Euchre club met with Mrs. P. C. Carson on Sunday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lehr and Mrs. Lindquist.

A card party and social will be given by the St. Paul Philological society Friday evening at their hall in Central block.

Mrs. George White and Miss Jennie Scott, of Brandon, Manitoba, are the guests of Mrs. W. H. Pierce, of Park place.

Mrs. C. P. Worthington, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., will spend a few weeks visiting St. Paul.

Miss Cornelia Welch, of Dayton avenue, is visiting in Gaylord.

Mrs. Morrison, of St. Peter street, has returned from New York.

Thomas J. Reid is severe on Democratic Winking at Fusion.

What is to be the future of the Democratic party in the state of Minnesota is a question that presents itself for solution to the mind of every self-respecting Democrat.

The party, anxious to secure a return to the Democratic party, is an unguarded moment to unite with Populists and Silver Republicans.

Many Democrats would not listen to the song of the siren, but with a few exceptions, they are the wisdom of their opposition is now clearly apparent.

As a result of that union the Democratic party finds itself disorganized and demoralized.

Our government, although nominated and elected by Democrats, claims to be allied with the party of the people.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

The appointments to office should not be the subject of discussion, but the wisdom of his official life are so reflective of his policy that we cannot ignore them.

WORLD'S EVENTS OF A DAY.

Sacramento, Cal.—The ballot for senator today showed no change.

Jefferson City, Mo.—The Missouri house today voted to let the 2-cent railroad passenger rate bill.

New York—Cleveland was selected as the meeting place of the American Bankers' association.

Victoria, B. C.—The steamer Dirigo was picked up by the Victoria steamer Tees today.

Plainfield, Wis.—A terrible blizzard raged here last night. The snow is drifting.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The Pennsylvania Tube company, employing several thousand men, today announced the wages of all employees 10 per cent.

Sydney, N. S. W.—The American steamer Albatross, Capt. Hayward, has sailed for San Francisco, having on board $1,000,000 in gold.

Washington, D. C.—The nature of a national bank examiner for Indiana, vice O. M. Packard, resigned.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The Pennsylvania Tube company, employing several thousand men, today announced the wages of all employees 10 per cent.

Cleveland, O.—The jury tonight returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Mrs. Edna Raymond, who was charged with shooting Mrs. George H. Hanson.

Atlanta, Ga.—The Sixth United States circuit court today ordered that a writ of habeas corpus be granted to a prisoner at Albany today.

Richmond, Ind.—A receiver was appointed today for the National Union, an endowment insurance company. Assets, $25,000; liabilities unknown.

New York—Former Judge Henry Hill is reported to be critically ill at his home in New York. The nature of his illness is kept a secret by members of the family.

San Antonio, Tex.—The Texas legislature today passed a bill making it unlawful for the state to be used by the state in suppressing smallpox at Laredo.

Fort Smith, Ark.—The striking miners at Fort Smith have returned to work. Those who had returned to work today were with the operators and are returning to work.

London.—The principal English railway companies have resolved to dispatch agents to institute a private inquiry into the cause of the automatic couplings in the United States.

Trenton, N. J.—The International Air Express company, which has been reorganized, has changed its name to the International Post company, and increased its capital from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

New York—The directors of the Pacific Coast company declared the following dividend: 10 per cent on the first preferred, 2 on the second preferred and 1 on the common.

Columbus, Ohio.—Governor Allen today through Attorney General Jones ordered a decision that the members of the Ohio state bar should be allowed to practice law in the state.

Omaha, Neb.—Thomas H. Cooley, ex-governor of Nebraska, who was arrested today on information charging him with the defalcation of $150,000 company money.

Tahlequah, I. T.—Joe Henrichens, deputy United States marshal, was murdered today in Tahlequah, Indian Territory, by Matthew Craig, who had been arrested by the victim for selling liquor.

Marquette, Wis.—A heavy snowstorm raged here all night, about eighteen inches of snow fell. The snow is drifting.

Washington, D. C.—The secretary of the Patrons of Industry of America today announced that the senate has passed a bill allowing insurance companies to insure against loss by burglary or fire.

Washington, D. C.—The senate has passed a bill allowing insurance companies to insure against loss by burglary or fire.

Bloomington, Ill.—The Illinois-Wisconsin Retail Coal Dealers' association met in this city this afternoon. About 200 delegates from the two states were present.

Cincinnati, O.—A run was started on the Cincinnati Savings society today which will result in the run to the malice of a depositor.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 15.—The famous St. Clair county bond case, the feature of which has been a clash between federal and county courts for the past twenty years, took a new turn today when two of the St. Clair county judges, a quorum, were somewhere in the brush to evade service by United States marshals who are hunting for them to serve summonses for contempt.

The old county judges, Gill, Nevitt and Lyons, are reported to have fled to jail for contempt, as many of their predecessors had been before them. When their terms expired in January they were re-elected, the present being that their successors would qualify by United States court in their stead. Their successors, however, refused to qualify. Yesterday it was learned that they intended to qualify by a federal judge in St. Cloud who had post haste to get service on them. He found Peden and Nevitt, the judges-elect, and fearing they would take to the brush he went to make no inquiry, but served his summonses. Both men took the papers, but left them on a fence-post, and then went over to the court house and were there in the morning.

By the time Marshal Durham learned that he had served his summonses a few moments too soon the judges had mounted to the top of the courthouse tower. Today they sent for County Clerk Campbell and held court in the brush, thus outwitting the federal officers. However, as the morning of time now, however, when the marshal went to catch them, and then they will go up to jail until their terms expire.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 15.—After lying for ten months in a trance, without power of speech and unable to move her body, Mrs. P. Brochard today began recovering. She is now able to move her limbs, though her speech is still very imperfect.

New York, March 15.—Mr. Kipling was able to sit up in bed tonight and partake of a course dinner. He ate heartily of several dishes of a more substantial nature than any yet given to him. The improvement continues from hour to hour, and Dr. Dunham thinks his patient will be able to leave his bed tomorrow Sunday.

Mr. Kipling's Convalescence.

WORLD'S EVENTS OF A DAY.

Sacramento, Cal.—The ballot for senator today showed no change.

Jefferson City, Mo.—The Missouri house today voted to let the 2-cent railroad passenger rate bill.

New York—Cleveland was selected as the meeting place of the American Bankers' association.

Victoria, B. C.—The steamer Dirigo was picked up by the Victoria steamer Tees today.

Plainfield, Wis.—A terrible blizzard raged here last night. The snow is drifting.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The Pennsylvania Tube company, employing several thousand men, today announced the wages of all employees 10 per cent.

Sydney, N. S. W.—The American steamer Albatross, Capt. Hayward, has sailed for San Francisco, having on board $1,000,000 in gold.

Washington, D. C.—The nature of a national bank examiner for Indiana, vice O. M. Packard, resigned.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The Pennsylvania Tube company, employing several thousand men, today announced the wages of all employees 10 per cent.

Cleveland, O.—The jury tonight returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Mrs. Edna Raymond, who was charged with shooting Mrs. George H. Hanson.

</