ITS CLAIM IS SCALED
 ASHURY HOSPITAL A LOSER NEARLY $500 BY THE GOVERNMENT'S ACTION
CARING FOR SICK SOLDIERS
 Surgeon General Rejects the Item of the Bill for Medical Attendance—Dedication of a New Church—Death of Mrs. Wyman—Soldiers Sent to San Francisco—Passing of a Pioneer—Minneapolis News.

GLOBE'S MINNEAPOLIS OFFICE,
 20 WASHINGTON AV. SOUTH.
 The claim of $414 against the government held by the Asbury hospital has been disallowed by Surgeon General Sternburg. The army officials say the contract with the hospital authorities provided that each sick soldier should be cared for at a rate of $10 per week. The Dyspepsia.

 Geo. S. Sealy, of 75 Nassau St., New York, says: "For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia, and it came to the conclusion to try your pills. I immediately found great relief from their use; I feel like a new man since I commenced taking them, and would not now be without them. The drowsy, sleepy feeling I used to have has entirely disappeared. The dyspepsia has left me and my rheumatism is gone entirely. An satisfied if any one so afflicted will give Radway's Pills a trial they will surely cure them, for I believe it all comes from the system being out of order—the liver not doing its work."
Radway's Pills
 cures all Disorders of the Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Rheumatism, Constipation, Piles, Sick Headache, Female Complaints, Biliousness of the Liver, 25c per box. At Druggists or by mail, Radway & Co., 55 Elm Street, New York. Be sure to get "Radway's" and see that the name is on what you buy.

414 additional is for medical attendance, which the surgeon general says should have been provided by the hospital under the contract.
Passing of Mrs. Wyman.
 Mrs. J. T. Wyman, of Minneapolis, died yesterday at her home, 1029 Fourth street southeast. About two weeks ago she suffered a paralytic stroke, from which she never recovered.
 Mrs. Wyman was born in Dubuque, Io., six years ago. She was the daughter of Rev. Lemmon, Methodist minister. The family later moved to Northfield, Minn., at which place she was married to Mr. Wyman twenty-five years ago. Mrs. Wyman was a graduate of the state normal school at Winona. Mr. Wyman is president of the Metropolitan bank and a well known manufacturer of bank and doors.
Church to be Dedicated.
 The St. Anthony Park Congregational church will be dedicated today. President Northrop, of the state university, will preach the dedicatory sermon and Rev. J. H. Chandler, of Owatonna, of the first church of the city. Rev. H. A. P. Rissler, of St. Paul, Rev. P. Herlick, Rev. J. H. Morley and Rev. S. V. S. Fisher, of Minneapolis, will take part in the exercises.
After the Editors.
 Minneapolis may have an opportunity to entertain the members of the National Editorial association for a day or two in June. A committee of the Board of Trade will meet Monday to devise means to have about eight hundred editors make a stop on their way to the convention to be held in Portland.
Students Sent Home.
 The general faculty yesterday decided to expel from the state university six of the seven delinquent students reported by the freshmen faculty. A committee of Professors Downey, Jones and Woodbridge was appointed to arrange for the commencement exercises.
Old Resident Dead.
 Redmond Doyle, of 309 East Eighteenth street, one of the oldest settlers in Minneapolis, died Friday. The funeral will be held from St. Stephen's church, corner Clinton avenue and Twenty-second street, today, at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Doyle's wife died but a few weeks ago.

MINNEAPOLIS BREVITIES.
 Seven recruits for the regular army left Minneapolis last evening for San Francisco, en route to Manila.
 The Gould and Larson cottages at Spring Beach, on the west shore of Lake Calhoun, were totally destroyed by fire Friday night.
 John Byrnes, who has been a court officer in attendance at the municipal court for twelve years, has been dismissed. No cause was assigned. His successor has not been appointed.

 Irving E. Howe, street engineer in the city engineer's office, has resigned. He was first assistant city engineer under F. W. Cappelen.
 Ralph McDonald, son of J. L. McDonald and brother of Eva McDonald Valerich, died Friday at the family home, 1877 Sixteenth street south, aged 23 years.

WRITERS OF PLAYS.
 They Are Usually Paid a Percentage of Gross Receipts.
 Wonderful stories are told of the amounts paid to dramatic authors, says J. W. Henderson, in Scribner's. If they were true they would prove that the quickest way to get rich was to write a successful play. It takes about two years, however, for a skilled dramatist, like Bronson Howard, to make a play, and he cannot guarantee that it will be liked by the unfathomable public. I do not know what Mr. Howard receives, but the typical pay of a dramatic author is 5 per cent of the gross receipts weekly. But there is no fixed standard of payments. Some playwrights get a certain sum down and the usual royalty of 5 per cent. Others are paid on a sliding scale. One noted pair of collaborators received for one of their productions 6 per cent of the gross receipts up to $6,000 and per cent additional of each $1,000 over that figure.
 As their work drew $10,000 a week for the first six weeks their manager had to pay them $700 a week for the use of their work. Others are usually such poor fellows that they are usually paid a fixed hackwork smaller prices are paid, and the rate is often fixed at so much a night, $35 being a good fee. For adaptations royalties are seldom paid in this country. A manager usually hires a hack dramatist and pays him a lump sum for his work. For operetta adaptations very small prices are paid; that is why the adaptations are usually such poor trash. No man who can do good work can afford to accept the terms. Original operettas, if successful, pay both managers and authors very well. D'Oyly Carte offered Gilbert & Sullivan $10,000 down for the exclusive rights to the "Pirates of Penzance." They declined the offer, accepted their customary royalties and got $12,000.
Music With Meals.
 Everywhere now in London people take music with their meals. Soft string bands drown conversations at all the restaurants. Zingari musicians are to be found at afternoon tea shops, and even at the public bars one takes a "small bitter" to the melody of a penny-in-the-slot musical box.

ISLANDS ARE TRICKY
 THEY TRAVEL ALL ABOUT AND SOMETIMES THEY STEAL LIVE STOCK
PECULIAR TO PENNSYLVANIA
 Residents of Wayne County in the Keystone State Responsible for Some Tall Stories as to the Oddities of the Floating Islands—No Faith to be Reposed in These Natural Nomads.
 New York Sun.
 "I read about the floating islands off the mouth of the Mississippi the other day," said a man from Honesdale, Pa. "That reminded me that my own little county can boast a few islands of the sort. What county? Wayne, young man. You'll find it on the maps due north of Pike county. You city chaps have an idea that all of Northern Pennsylvania is Pike county in expansion, but you were never so much mistaken about anything in your lives. Pike county is all very well in its way, but its way runs to fish and llars and rattlesnakes. Now, Wayne has none of the latter, but the former—well, talk about Pike county fishing! Young fellow, Pike county isn't a marker to Wayne when it comes to downright, honest, clean-cut piscatorial sport. Pike may lie about it better, but when you come to sift the facts from the fiction before an investigating commission you'll find that Wayne catches the biggest trout and the lightest bass every time, and don't you forget it.
 "But I started to tell you about the floating islands in the old county. Way back in the twenties the Delaware and Hudson Canal company gouged a channel in the face of the earth from Rondout to Honesdale and called it a canal. For reservoirs and feeders to this canal the level of ponds and lakes along the route was raised by means of dams from twelve to twenty feet. While the dams were in process of building the timber about the ponds was felled up to the artificial water line, and in many cases really valuable lumber was left to decay where it fell. The dead trunks formed, when the water rose to its new level, the BASIS OF THE FLOATING ISLANDS which may be found in so many of the lakes of Wayne county. Intertwining branches and twigs of the trees themselves and large quantities of underbrush served to bind the logs together in something like a solid mass, thereby forming rafts of more or less buoyancy and size. In the course of time water weeds of various kinds attached themselves to the raft and eventually became a part of it. Gradually a light thin mold accumulated on the island, and in this mold birds planted seeds and grain, which, sprouting, growing and finally dying and rotting, did their part in the making of the whole. All of the larger islands were from one to a score of trees, many of which have attained a considerable growth; so large, in fact, that they could scarcely be described as saplings.

 "You might suppose that to walk upon or to fish from one of these islands would be a source of some danger, but aside from an occasional wetting of the feet no accidents from this cause have ever occurred, so far as I have been able to learn. The sensation produced by walking on a floating island is very similar to that which you feel as you run across it, sometimes sinking nearly a foot, and then, with the next step, rising to meet you, possibly throwing you and perhaps giving you a ducking? Well, it's the same way with the floating islands, but with the danger eliminated. It HAS THE SAME FASCINATION.
 "Strange as it may seem, very few of these floating islands have become permanently anchored to the bottom of the lakes. They are as nomadic and as unsettled in their habits as the Arab. They lack what we country people call stick-to-it-iveness. They're the contrasted cusses that ever happened. Sometimes a mere breath of wind will send one of them scooting from one end of the lake to the other, and again you couldn't budge that same island with a hundred-ton, compound freight locomotive and a political pull. Once thoroughly domesticated, however, they make excellent weather vanes, for they invariably seek the lee shore.
 "I recall a peculiar thing that happened years ago to the island in White Oak pond, near Aldenville, some eight or nine miles to the north and west of Honesdale. By the way, this particular island is the largest of the lot; so large, in fact, that the center rises fully ten feet above the water line. The farmer owning this island proposed erecting a summer house on the elevation, but was obliged to give it up owing to his inability to lay a proper foundation without driving piles, and to do that would result in nailing the island to the bottom. Well, as I was going to say, this island one day eloped with a southwest zephyr, which promptly deserted as soon as it had got its consort INTO THE MIDDLE OF THE LAKE.

 There it floated in a sultry summer sun, with no means of motion in itself, and milking time approaching. Presently the edge of a little breeze from the northwest struck the wanderer on the port quarter and things began to look a little brighter. Unfortunately for the island, however, at about the same moment that the first gust landed a wind of equal intensity came up from the southeast, and its edge caught the island on the starboard bow. In less than a minute these two contrary winds had that island spinning around like a top. You may believe this or not, as you like. I can show you the island any time that you'll come up to the old county.
 "It's a common thing for one of these islands to turn sheep or chicken or pig thief; in fact, it's almost a nightly occurrence on one or another of the lakes. After an island has stayed by a farmer for months, or maybe years, without showing any signs of a restless spirit or a desire to be up and going, the honest, horse-abiding confidence in the supposedly reformed nomad. In so doing he frequently buys a gold brick. He trusts, allowed his domestic animals to be fowls to camp out at will upon the island, to his later undoing. Some night he'll go to bed conscious of a hard day's work done, only to awaken in the morning to find that his island has sailed while he slept, with a deckload of his critters. Put not your trust in floating islands."

taste is said to be disagreeable at first, the effect on beginners being a sense of oppression in the head and a desire to take hold of something.
 After a few cigarettes have been smoked by one of intense exhilaration. Physicians claim the effect on the nerves of continuing smoking tea cigarettes is as deleterious as drinking absinthe. The first step toward a cure is a cup of strong tea.
Three Nelly Boys—Walter Gordon, Matthew O'Connor and Willie Ramsey, three small boys, were arrested last night by Special Officer Gavin, at the Grand opera house, for making a disturbance. The latter of the trio of juvenile offenders is an old-timer with the police, having been arrested several times for different offenses.
Costly Coffin.
 Mrs. Tan Jook Kim, lady of Singapore, is buried in a $20,000 coffin. It was decorated with silk, gold and precious stones, and was the most costly coffin ever constructed in the Straits Settlements.
World's Healthiest Spot.
 The healthiest spot in the world seems to be a little hamlet in France named Aumone. There are only forty inhabitants, twenty-five of whom are eighty years of age, and one is over 100.

Lazy Liver
 "I have been troubled a great deal with a torpid liver, which produces constipation. I found CASCARETS to be all I need for them, and secured relief the first trial, that I purchased another supply and was completely cured. I shall only be too glad to recommend CASCARETS whenever the opportunity is presented."

MADE OF TEA
Are the Cigarettes Which London Women Smoke.
 The fierce crusade against tobacco cigarettes in London has developed the tea cigarette, which is particularly patronized by women. Undoubtedly some of them will soon find their way to feminine Anglomaniacs in New York.
 The cigarettes are made of a coarse grade of green tea, which has the honest, dust, and is composed of unbroken leaf. This is dampened so that the leaves may be stuffed in the paper cylinders, but not sufficient to affect the paper. The
