

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY

ST. PAUL PUBLIC SCHOOLS GENERALLY OBSERVED THE OCCASION

DEWEY WAS NOT FORGOTTEN

Programmes at Some of the Institutions With Patriotic Features—Prof. Bryant, at the Central High School, Delivers an Address on the Importance of Forests—Prof. Smith Honored by Gorman School.

Arbor and Bird day was generally observed in the schools yesterday with appropriate educational exercises and tree planting. In many of the schools patriotic features were included in the programme, in honor of Dewey day. Several hundred trees, vines, etc., were planted yesterday in the yards of the different schools of the city.

At the Central High school the senior class planted a large vine on the Tenth street front of the building, following the exercises in Assembly hall. Prof. B. Lange made an interesting address upon "Minnesota Birds." He told about the destruction of wild birds, and in brief the birds of other countries.

Miss Mary Doyle read an essay on trees. Prof. J. C. Bryant read the lamentations of Gov. Lind and Mayor Klefer and the law passed by the last legislature creating a state forestry commission. Principal Bryant said in part: "Forests are of the greatest importance in the general economy of the globe, influencing the humidity of the air and soil, mitigating the extremes of heat and cold, affording shelter to man and beast and enriching the soil on which they grow. Trees supply lumber and fuel to man and furnish him with a vast variety of economical products, such as gums, dyes and articles of food.

Germany has taken the lead in developing a wise forest administration. France, Italy, Sweden and Russia have successfully established forest academies, and now the conservation of woodland occupies the legislature of almost all civilized lands. In forest science Germany is far advanced. Every tract is carefully surveyed and treated on a working plan with great exactness as to actual details and expected growth; care is always taken in high forests that there is a good stock of self-sown trees before the old growth is entirely cut off. In the forest observation and experiments are made as to the rate of growth and the best soil for each variety of tree. It is unnecessary to dwell further on the importance of forests from the standpoint of protection of climate, of commerce and the industries. To us, as citizens of a naturally beautiful city, which needs very greatly the care and forethought of its people, comes the duty to do our best to stem the tide of lawlessness and disregard of the sanctity of the woods, say nothing of meeting nature half way by beautifying every yard and boulevard. But we must understand another thing, that it is that city life alone is but half life. Every boy and girl should enjoy the country during the long summer vacation. Some one has said that it would be hard to find a great who was not in touch with nature, and that the influences of the country. Emerson says that all natural leaders come from the country, and that the children go back to learn the secret of their father's power, and Victor Hugo makes the statement that "woods and fields make the education of all great men. Wordsworth says:

"One impulse from a vernal wood Can teach you more of man Than all the ages can."

FRANKLIN SCHOOL. "Arbor and Bird day" was observed by all the rooms of the Franklin school. After the exercises were concluded in the two eighth grade rooms the pupils marched in procession to the grounds surrounding the building, and sang the chorus "Woodland and Valley" which they were then planted, each pupil contributing a handful of earth, and the ceremony was concluded with the song "America."

GORMAN SCHOOL. At the Gorman school a unique programme was carried out in the open air. The children planted a tree partially budded on the grounds in front of the school. The scholars named it the "A. J. Smith tree" in honor of the late mayor, without any solicitation or suggestion from the principal. The following programme was carried out by the seventh and eighth grades: "Origin of Arbor Day," Harry Poduski; "The Maple Tree," John Costello; song, "Arbor Day," Alice and Mabel Peterson, Alice Anderson, Ethel Robinson; recitation, "Arbor Day Tree," Howard Lake; paper, "Destruction of Birds," Annie Eberhardt; reading, "The Woodpecker," Alfred Peterson; song, "Brother Robin," fifth and sixth grades; reading, "In Forty Years From Now," a play by the same group.

CLEVELAND SCHOOL. At the Cleveland school several trees were planted by the high school pupils on the green terrace in front of the high school entrance. Appropriate exercises were held in the grades, of a patriotic and educational nature.

YAN BUREN SCHOOL. Six box elders were planted by the scholars of the Van Buren. Miss Hand prepared an interesting programme, and the little folks of the lower grades enjoyed the exercises with much interest. The primary children and kindergarten children at the Sibley held exercises attending the planting of two elms. Miss Martin gave an interesting talk on the sentiments of the children the children the story of Dewey and his wonderful victory at Manila.

SIBLEY SCHOOL. The Sibley school confined its exercises to the building. Each room carried out a programme of music, concluded by a talk by the teacher upon birds and trees. The primary children and kindergarten children at the Sibley held exercises attending the planting of two elms. Miss Martin gave an interesting talk on the sentiments of the children the children the story of Dewey and his wonderful victory at Manila.

WHITTIER SCHOOL. The Whittier school took the record, planting a large tree in front of the building.

HENDRICKS SCHOOL

Owing to the inclemency of the weather the Hendricks school were not put in place yesterday, but will be set out today. The school now has a beautiful lawn and the trees will add greatly to its appearance. The teachers have made several flower beds.

Those Who Were Fortunate in Escaping the Cold Were Stricken With the Dreaded Scoury, and Return Miasm Legs or Arms—Relief Expedition Reports—Urgent Need of Saccor.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 1.—Sixty prospectors arrived here today from Copper River, Alaska, on the steamer Excelsior. They brought with them a repetition of the stories of privation and death, and many bore evidence on their bodies of the ravages of the cold. One named Young hobbled to the vessel on the stumps of two legs. Another named Alex Powell had but one foot.

F. C. Goodwin, of Oakland, Cal., whose legs are black with scurvy and whose knees are bruised by contact with the ice, tells an interesting story of his experiences, which were similar to those of the others. While camped in the interior his partner, Wesley Scheidecker, of Grand Ridge, Ill., fell sick with scurvy, and soon became unable to travel. Goodwin strapped him on a sled and started for a doctor. After four days of almost herculean labor he arrived at the mouth of Chitina river, but his partner was frozen stark and stiff to the chest and arms in the snow. Continuing his journey to the coast he came across a tent in which there were two men sick with scurvy. They were Dixon Hutton, of Memphis, Tenn., and T. B. Rawlings, of Chicago, Ark. Another man happened along at the same time, and he and Goodwin put Rawlings and Hutton on sleds, and dragged them to the coast. Others are reported sick, but their names are lacking.

Just before the Excelsior left Valdes a big slide was reported on the glacier, but no particulars were learned. It is rumored that a party was coming out from the interior, and it was feared they might have been caught in the slide.

The government expedition, under Capt. Abercrombie, were arranging to begin the construction of a road into the interior when the Excelsior left. Relief parties with provisions and actual details had been sent into the interior.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Acting Secretary McKelvey, of the Interior, is commanding the expedition investigating the Copper river route to the Yukon country. The report comes from Capt. Robinson, from Seattle, Wash., who says that the following message was handed him by the purser of the steamer Excelsior, which arrived yesterday from Valdes, Alaska:

"My expedition disembarked today, April 28, at Hospital organized for the care of destitute miners who are now coming out of the interior by the route you contemplate. The Indians report the worst as the destitute are concerned the worst is in the interior. 'Abercrombie, Commanding.'"

SKAGWAY, Alaska, April 2, via Seattle, Wash., May 1.—The Chilkat Indians are on the war path. Last Sunday twenty bucks, armed with rifles, gathered from their several villages along the Chilkat river, and marched to the Point, eight miles from Haines Mission, where eight white men were blasting rock for a trail to Klakwan, a distance of twenty-five miles. The Indians fired the whites away. Word was immediately sent to the United States marshal and commissioner at Skagway, and to Capt. Cheatham, in command of the troops at Dyersville. Sixteen soldiers under command of a sergeant were at once sent to Haines Mission. It is understood that parties who are opposed to the construction of the new trail have incited the Indians to make trouble. The Dominion Telegraph company is making rapid progress with its line from Haines to the Point. The line has been located fifteen miles down Lake Bennett, and poles have been distributed almost to White Horse Rapids.

EDITOR WARNED

Gen. Ludlow Sees an Effort to Embroil Soldiers and Police.

HAVANA, May 1.—During the last few days some of the local papers that are printed in English have published sensational stories regarding the disputes between the soldiers and the Cuban police, evidently with the intention of preventing an understanding between the two. Without doubt, there have occasionally been instances when both the Americans and Cubans have been blameworthy, still there has been nothing to justify the reports as here appeared and consequently Maj. Gen. Ludlow, of the Havana division, summoned an offending editor before him and warned him that he must cease trying to embroil the soldiers and Cubans.

"If you refuse, I know of two ways to compel you. One will be to put in the military regulations and send you to the guard house; the other will be to send you before the local judges for the application of the law. You will, naturally, you may abuse me as much as you like, but for the future you must abstain from your present methods in other matters."

Gen. Ludlow complains that one of the principal difficulties Havana is now suffering from is the presence of many worthless mercenary men who come here virtually to change their usual sphere of action.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Ten of the fourteen Republican members of congress from Illinois met in caucus here today and unanimously decided to support Congressman Albert J. Hopkins, of Aurora, as speaker of the national house of representatives. Congressman Walter Reaves, who presided over the caucus gave out the following:

"After consultation a majority of the delegation appearing to be for Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Cannon suggested that the will of the majority be made the action of the delegation, and that that action be made unanimous, which accordingly was done."

GRAIN-O BRINGS RELIEF

To the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in, and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee, but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee upsets the stomach, ruins the digestion, affects the liver, and causes the whole nervous system. Grain-O tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-O. It can't be otherwise. 15 and 25 per package.
