FOR MCKINLEY'S VISIT

COMMITTEE TAKES PRELIMINARY STEPS TOWARD ORGANIZING FOR WORK

MAYOR ELECTED CHAIRMAN

All the Required Number of Committees Will Be Secured Intended to Make It an Elaborate Affair, but What Form It Will Take Is Still to Be Settled With Other Questions.

The committees appointed from the chamber of commerce, Commercial club and Jobbers' union to arrange for the reception and entertainment of President McKinley met at the mayor's office yesterday morning.

Mayor Kiefer was elected chairman, and C. P. Stine, of the Commercial club, secretary. Present were A. S. Tallmadge, L. C. Cushing and O. L. Taylor, of the chamber of commerce; G. R. Finch, D. R. Noyes and Henry Hazenwinkle, of the Jobbers' union, and J. E. Gregg, Chester R. Smith and C. P. Stine, of the Commercial club.

It was decided to take only preliminary steps toward forming the organization, and then an adjournment was taken to Wednesday morning. At this meeting subcommittees of four each will be named to take charge of the arrangements for the reception and entertainment. The committees will be eight in number, as follows: Programme, finance, decorations, invitations, reception, speakers, music and carriages.

FOR PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS

WOMAN'S CIVIC LEAGUE GETS THE MOVEMENT FOR CITY CHILDREN A START

One Site Is Already in Prospect, and It Is Hoped to Locate One or Two More Very Shortly.

The first meeting of the public playground committee of the Woman's Civic League was held yesterday afternoon. Those present were: Mr. A. W. Guttridge, secretary of Associated Charities; P. J. Smalley, president of the school union; Miss Sarah C. Brooks, primary supervisor of St. Paul public schools; Principal George Weibrecht, of the Mechanic Arts high school; J. C. Bryant, principal of the Central high school; J. M. Hanson, of the St. Paul Commons; Mrs. Kate Deacon, principal of the Franklin school; Miss Hughes and Mrs. Bond, of the Cleveland school; J. D. Bond, principal of the Madison school; Mrs. Blakeley, Miss Martha Gilliland, Miss Gertrude Kirk, Miss Anita Farness, Miss Clara Sommers, and Mrs. Conde Hamlin.

A report was made by Mr. Hanson to the effect that a piece of property at Ninth and Jackson street had been offered, free of charge, for a playground during the summer months. A small amount of money was also offered, and Mr. Hanson stated that he could command some volunteer service for putting the grounds in order. He said that he considered a playground in that district a necessity, and spoke of the large number of children who at present were finding their chief diversion in the neighborhood of the livery stables and saloons in which the neighborhood abounded.

An urgent plea was also made for a playground in the vicinity of the Lafayette school, and a petition was read, signed by the teachers of that school and addressed to the Civic league, asking that one might be located in that neighborhood.

The committee voted unanimously to equip the Jackson street playground first and after that other localities will be considered.

Plans for raising the necessary money were discussed, and Prof. Weibrecht reported that the pupils of the Mechanic Arts and Central high schools would give a concert at the Central high school the evening of May 29, the proceeds to be devoted to the opening of the public playground fund.

It was decided to obtain the aid of the Franklin School union, the teachers and pupils of the Franklin school and the Lower Town Mothers' club for the establishment of a playground in their vicinity.

An offer was made of the baths of the St. Paul Commons, in case proper supervision could be guaranteed.

The question of the employment of a representative play ground superintendent was discussed, and the committee also received an offer of the services of a number of the younger society women, who pledged themselves to help in the playgrounds during the summer months.

HE CONSENTS TO REMAIN.

In Response to the Solicitation of His Numerous Patrons.

Sir James Randolph's honorable and straightforward business methods have created favorable comment and established a reputation for him in this city that he may always be able to refer to with pride. The sound advice and consistent offered by this gifted man has been instrumental in promoting the interests, restoring harmony, guiding the erring one, and inspiring hope in mind of many a man and woman who seemed to have halted at the parting of the ways and were on the brink of financial disaster or domestic turmoil. Many happy husbands and wives whose imaginary ills have caused disorder in their homes owe their change of heart to Sir James. Truant lovers have been brought together, business changes have been effected, and hundreds of other matters of every conceivable nature have been considered and disposed of in a highly satisfactory manner through the occult power and superior ability of this man whose ability to peer into the past, present and future events in the lives of others is unquestioned. Sir James had intended leaving the city before this time, but owing to the urgent solicitation of his many patrons, has consented to remain another week longer and can be found at the usual place, 136 West Fourth street, near Rice park.

Attorney McGehee Having Fun With the County Legal Department.

Tim Kelly, the colored man who was indicted in district court Friday night on a charge of receiving stolen property, was arraigned before Judge Orr in municipal court yesterday morning on a complaint filed by his attorney, F. L. McGehee, and a plea of not guilty was entered in his behalf by the court. The case will be presented to the grand jury tomorrow on the advice of his attorney, F. L. McGehee, and a plea of not guilty was entered in his behalf by the court. The case will be presented to the grand jury tomorrow on the advice of his attorney, F. L. who is very much dissatisfied with the verdict of acquittal on the former charge. "I think that the verdict of that jury was in accordance more with the principles of Zulus or Filipinos than with civilized justice," said Mr. Zollman yesterday. "We have had about fifty cases where prostitutes have robbed men of sums ranging from $10 to $50. In nine cases out of ten the complaining witness has been spirited away, and the prosecution has failed on the account. Why he did get a man, as in this case who was willing to undergo the ignominy of the examination to which he must necessarily be subjected, the jury, in the face of the evidence, deliberately brings in a verdict of acquittal. It is very hard to say the least, for this office to endeavor to stamp out this class of crime under this condition. I can hardly find words to express my opinion on the action of that jury. Furthermore I want to say that the whole proceedings, including what occurred at the trial, and at the arraignment this morning, will be presented to the grand jury Monday. All the witnesses in the case have been subpoenaed. There has been sharp practice, and there may yet be sensational developments in this case."

NEW NORMAL SCHOOL COURSE

COMMITTEE TO MAKE THE REVISION MET AND DREW UP A REPORT

Standard of Admission and Course Elevated—Five Years Required to Secure a Diploma—High School Graduates Get Three Years Credit

President Ankeny, W. F. Phelps and Supt. Lewis, of the state normal school, constituting a committee to revise the course of study in the normal schools, met yesterday afternoon and drew up its report to be made to the normal school board at its meeting June 9. The changes recommended aim to elevate the standard of admission and the course throughout, and to make the normal school diploma mean what its name implies.

A straight five-year course was recommended to succeed the present course. Graduates of high schools who are credited with three years and will be allowed to enter the junior class and complete the work in two years. Hereafter the entire course of the normal schools will be practically three years of high school work and one of normal or professional instruction. The committee decided to recommend the standard for admission be raised and do away with much of the elementary work which properly comes within the high school course.

The committee will emphasize in its report the necessity of more attention along professional lines, and as has been frequently urged, less of the work done in high schools.

A reorganization of the model schools is also recommended in the report, so that pupil teachers will observe the highest class of instruction.

PRESIDENT PARSONS COMING.

Head of the National Letter Carriers' Association to Visit St. Paul.

John N. Parsons, of New York, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, has been called on to take a hand in settling the controversy that has arisen at the postoffice over the attempt by the carriers to secure the appointment of one of their number to supercede Superintendent of Carriers Hadlock. President Parsons is expected to arrive in the city tomorrow and will preside at a special meeting of the Minneapolis and St. Paul branches of the association to be held next Tuesday evening at Elks' hall, 243 Nicollet avenue. On the following day the president will be entertained by the local carriers.

It is expected that Mr. Parsons will be successful in pouring oil on the troubled waters and his visit is thought to have great significance. It is the first time he has ever visited the Twin Cities. Postmaster Smith said yesterday:

"When the story of the desire of the carriers to supersede Supt. Hadlock first appeared in the Globe a meeting was called by the authorities at Washington was called to the matter and a day or two later I received a letter from the department asking for the names of the carriers who had been most prominent. I learn from the Washington dispatches that a reprint is intended, but have no official knowledge of the matter. A letter I received from Washington enclosed the clipping from the Globe.

The committee of fourteen that was appointed to wait on the postmaster reported at a meeting of the carriers held last Thursday evening. The compromise suggestion of Postmaster Smith that the carriers suggest five men to be considered for appointment to the position of assistant superintendent was favorably considered and five men were nominated in an informal ballot. The list included President Goette, of the local association.

The recommendations of the postmaster will not be made until after a formal ballot to be taken at a meeting to be held within a few days. The postmaster stated yesterday that he had received no intimation of the wishes of the men.

The fact that the news of the carriers' actions as a body has leaked out came in for considerable discussion and it was suggested that some of the members must have talked of the matter. A resolution to the effect that any member of the association who should reveal any of the proceedings should be expelled was unanimously passed.

Fine Arts School Reception. The young men of the evening class at the school of fine arts gave a reception last evening at the studio in the Morse building. Palm and cut flowers made the rooms look very attractive. The Bostonian orchestra played during the reception, and later for the informal dance. The following young men had charge of the affair: Mr. Percy C. Brown, Mr. E. G. Van Shouck, Mr. A. L. Bohlen, Mr. F. G. Thomas, Mr. J. E. Steele, Mr. John Daniels, Mr. Clarence Cristadoro and Mr. Thomas Swan.

Mr. Conine and the following members of the board of directors assisted in receiving the guests, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Olmstead, Mrs. George M. Calk and Miss Gaultier. About 30 couples were present. Light refreshments were served during the evening.
