GAMES SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Indianapolis at Minneapolis.

It would be difficult to imagine a more sorry spectacle than that presented by the St. Paul Base Ball club yesterday.

Waddell's mastery of them at critical times was hypnotized or locked in regular proof safes, as far as any vicinity in their batting of the ball was concerned.

Reuben was put in by Loftus with malice prepense, and the leaders took another tumble in the percentage table, as he expected, although they still hold first place by a small margin over Milwaukee.

Once the locals had three men on bases and no one out. Did they score three runs? No. Did they score two runs? No. Did they score one run? No. They were whitewashed.

On another occasion they had two men on bases, before any one was out, yet they were equally abject in their slavery to the cunning of Waddell. Last Friday Glenavlin made a home run. He has made one hit since. He made it in the eighth inning yesterday. It was wasted on the desert air like the fragrant of a sandal wood silver in a theater's toe. If he had made it in the third inning yesterday, it would have meant one run. As it was he struck out. If he had made it in the fifth inning, when he came up with three men on bases, it would have meant two runs. He popped a foul to the Columbus captain. In the ninth inning a hit would have brought the score up a little closer, but instead a double play ended the game.

Buckley gave St. Paul one of their runs, and Waddell the other two. There wasn't a single good clean run batted out all day, on the St. Paul side.

McGill was batted hard in two innings, the fifth and sixth. Four fielding blunders were committed by the four in the ninth.

Willie opened the ball by walking Genins, who was forced out by Pickering, who stole second. Frank McGinnis and McGill threw Tebeau out easily.

Two infield grounders and a strike-out represented the stick work of the three Apostles who stand at the head of the list.

Bierbauer gave McGill a pop-up and Shugart threw out Glenn. Leewes gave Isbell a high one, and the ball went down the diamond with a ricochet movement that made both Waddell and Bierbauer put their hands in their pockets for fear they would get their fingers torn off.

Isbell played the hit and run finely, and as Tebeau moved up to catch Isbell, the ball went rolling through into left field. Lally went to third. Shugart struck out, but Spies hit a high foul and Dick Buckley got a base on balls. Isbell started for second and Buck threw the ball down. Lally came into the plate un molested. Swartz struck out and Dan had not gotten up to catch Isbell.

Geier threw Buckley out, and Waddell flew to Lally. Shugart cut Genins off.

Waddell walked McGill to start the third, and Bierbauer released the bases as though the locals ought to lengthen their lead a little. But Geier forced McGill out on a bunt, and Burke was caught at third on an attempt to steal. Glenavlin struck out.

Shugart ate up Pickering's liner, but McGill walked Frank. Tebeau forced him out, and after McGill hit Bierbauer one then gave Shugart a sharp drive which was finely deflected, and the visitors were still rudderless.

Lally flew to Frank and the next two fouls to get the ball out of the infield.

Leewes opened Columbus' fifth with a hard two-base drive high in Lally's field, and he went to third on Buckley's grounder, which he didn't catch cleanly, ought to have resulted in a double play. Waddell's fly to Burke should have scored him had he stayed on the base till the ball was caught, but that made no difference, as Genins batted a hot one at Shugart and beat it to first. Genins stole second, but Pickering flew to Tebeau.

That gave the visitors a tie, but when two bases on balls and Glenn's fumble gave the locals a lead, Tebeau was caught at the plate. Geier gave Bierbauer one equally as easy, and Swartz was caught at the plate, and with the bases still full Glenavlin gave Tebeau a miserable pop-up.

Frank drove a grounder by Glenavlin to open the sixth, and Tebeau's single sent him to third. Bierbauer flew to Lally, and Frank came in. Tebeau was caught trying to make second on the fly. Glenn lined one just inside the foul line for two sacks to left, although the decision was pretty close at first, and second, and Waddell hit Lally with a wild pitch. Isbell had a chance to drive them around, but gave Pickering a fly. Shugart had another chance, but struck out, striking at some that were over his shoulder.

In the ninth the visitors made assur-

BETTING ON BIG FIGHT. Fitzsimmons Rules Favorite at Odds of Two to One.

NEW YORK, May 24.—There has been quite a lull in the betting on the result of the battle between Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries. This is not strange, in view of the fact that the champion is such a hot favorite. Those who have followed Fitzsimmons' record think he cannot lose. In some instances this belief is shared by the admirers of Jeffries, and this alone keeps the betting fraternity from coming to the front. Commissioners, however, are arriving daily from out-of-town sports. In the West Jeffries seems to have the call, but the amounts wagered on him are surprisingly small. Billy Edwards has received about $50 to speculate on any way he sees fit. He picks Fitzsimmons to win. Edwards cannot say why the adherents of Fitzsimmons should be compelled to give exorbitant odds, however.

At Corbett's cafe, Harry Bulger made a wager on Jeffries of $200 to $400 with a Western man. Bulger wants to get down $50 more at the same figures. Leo Tolson says he will bet $100 on Jeffries today on Fitzsimmons. Robles says he was forced to give 2 to 1. A bet of $750 to $1,000 was recorded at the Hotel Marlborough. A man named Kline, of "Frisco," took the short end.
