GODFREY MANNHEIMER PASSES AWAY AT HOTEL PLAZA, NEW YORK CITY

HAD FAITH IN ST. PAUL EARLY

He Built the Block on Third Street Which Bears His Name, and So Long Tenanted by His Brothers—Robert Mannheim Has Gone to New York to Be Present at the Funeral.

Word was received in St. Paul yesterday of the death of Godfrey Mannheim, the oldest of the Mannheim brothers, two of whom, Jacob and Robert, reside in St. Paul. Mr. Godfrey Mannheim was a retired merchant, and for twenty years has made his home in New York city, having apartments at the Hotel Plaza. His death occurred at 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Robert Mannheim left for New York yesterday afternoon on the fast mail, so as to be able to attend the funeral, which takes place in New York city Thursday morning. The deceased had large real estate interests in St. Paul and Duluth and elsewhere in the Northwest. He built the structure formerly occupied by Mannheim Bros., at Third and Minnesota streets. He leaves a wife and daughter to mourn his loss. He was 60 years of age.

The deceased was not a member of the firm of Mannheim Bros., having retired from active business two decades ago. He had, however, frequently visited his brothers in this city, and had many friends in the Northwest. Another of the brothers, Emil, died but a short time ago in the East.

THIRTEENTH REGIMENT AUXILIARY ASSOCIATION REVIEWS RECORD OF 12 MONTHS

DEATH LOSS HAS REACHED 39

But Only One Desertion Has Been Charged Against the Regiment—Resolutions Were Adopted Indorsing Gov. Lind's Action, and Thanking the Officers of the Association, Who Were Re-elected.

The Thirteenth Regiment Auxiliary Association held its first annual meeting last night at the rooms of the regimental club and re-elected its officers for another year's service. Annual reports were read and resolutions expressing sympathy and condolence with the families of Privates Keeler and Flynn, of the Thirteenth, who died in the service; indorsing Gov. Lind's action in recommending for promotion to major Capt. Noyes Robinson and the officers of the association for efficient services during the year were passed. Gov. Lind was to have been present at the meeting, but was unable to attend. Considerable discussion regarding the return of the Thirteenth was indulged in, but no definite information regarding the date of the arrival of the regiment in San Francisco was given.

In behalf of the executive committee Thomas Cochran, its chairman, read the annual report. The document gave a summary of the work of the committee during the year and of the efforts directed towards securing the speedy return of the regiment. Correspondence with Washington had developed that no change had been made in the date of the return of the regiment in the Philippines, and the committee were advised that no definite date could be announced. The concerted movement which has recently been put on foot in the Twin Cities towards bringing the regiment here to be mustered out was reviewed, and the report of a tabulated account of the amounts which would be lost in travel pay by being brought to the cities. For privates the loss would amount to $88.96 in all; for second sergeants, $110.18; second lieutenants, $420.12; first lieutenants, $448.28; captains, $560; majors, $748.52; major colonels, $822.74; and colonels, $1,047.60, making a total loss to the regiment of $2,812.44 by being mustered out in either St. Paul or Minneapolis. In case the regiment is mustered out at San Francisco the railroads will make a through rate to the cities for the soldiers returning home of $5, giving the soldiers a change of $100.00.

Gov. Lind has cabled the giving of the plans to receive them here, but has received no reply. The report advised that the governor is allowing the boys to make their own choice regarding their muster out. The governor has made an offer to cable, at the expense of the regiment, a message which the committee thought fit to send, but, awaiting a reply to the message sent advising the regiment of what had taken place, had not been taken charge of.

The report gave considerable attention to the future of the volunteers after returning home, advising that an effort be made to secure the appointment of a committee to look after the boys and that a history of their campaign be compiled and published. The secretary's report for the year showed that the total number of Camp Ramsey 1,337 strong. Since that time death has removed 23, 11 have been discharged, 1 has been dishonorably discharged, 26 of which typhoid claimed, 13 and smallpox 10. The four St. Paul companies have lost by death 14; discharge 27. The five Minneapolis companies have lost by death 13; discharge 27. The five St. Paul companies have lost by death 14; discharge 27. The five Minneapolis companies have lost by death 13; discharge 27.

IT HELPED TO DEFEAT HIM

FORMER COUNTY ATTORNEY ANDERSON SO CREDITS E. N. SAUNDERS' DISPATCH INTERVIEW

His Suit for Damages Against the Col Baron Came to Trial in the District Court of Ramsey County Yesterday.

Judge Kelly and a jury put in yesterday in listening to the evidence in the suit for libel brought by former County Attorney Anderson against E. N. Saunders. Mr. Anderson sues for $15,000 damages, alleging that an interview with Mr. Saunders published in the Dispatch April 14, 1897, libeled him and caused him great injury in mind and body, and was in a measure responsible for his political defeat at subsequent election.

Mr. Saunders was a member of the grand jury for the January term in 1897, and Mr. Anderson, who had been elected to the office of county attorney, took charge of the office Jan 1 of the same year. Mr. Anderson, as he claims, for the public good, called the attention of the grand jury to the officers of several banking institutions which had failed and closed their doors about that time. The jury failed to find indictments against the officers of one of the suspended banks, and Mr. Anderson had something to say as to the failure of the grand jury to return indictments. An interview was published with Mr. Saunders in which that gentleman, as a member of the grand jury, was quoted as saying some very sarcastic things about Mr. Anderson. The suit is heard in Ramsey county.

Mr. Anderson is represented by Judge C. E. Pindra, and W. H. McDonald and M. W. Scherer and Seymour, and appeared for the defendant. The jury selected to try the case consists of the following: John Prager, N. P. Bremer, August R. Redeske, Horace L. Pierce, N. L. Nicolay, John B. Ryan, Michael J. Needham, Andrew McGuire, D. F. Perkins, William C. Paul, Hans Peterson and Alexander K. Ross.

Witt K. Cochrane, of Chicago, formerly a reporter of the Dispatch, testified to interviewing Mr. Saunders and G. W. Dods, city editor of the paper, as to its publication. The plaintiff, Samuel A. Saunders, testified that the publication of the interview stunned him and caused him great mental suffering, aside from the injury to his reputation as a citizen and an attorney.

The defendant, Mr. Saunders, under the statute provision, testified that he was not aware of the publication until the receipt of the paper in the street. The trial of the case will be resumed this morning.

BIG TAX RECEIPTS.

May Was a Big Month at the County Treasurer's Office.

The receipts at the county treasurer's office on account of the tax collections from May 1 to May 30, inclusive, amounted to $307,573.39, as against $291,178.41 for the same period in 1898. The receipts for the month of May for that day were $698,011.88, and County Treasurer Arosin claims that the total for the same date this year will exceed last year's figures. It will be several days before the clerks have disposed of the receipts for May 31, and figured up the total on the first of the semi-annual tax payments.

FOOD IN LIQUID

Makes a Full Meal for a Book-keeper.

I am a bookkeeper in a large grocery store, and consequently meet a great many people. We find large numbers of customers who are troubled with effects of coffee. I know only too well how to sympathize with them, for I have suffered so much from stomach trouble caused by the use of coffee.

About two years ago, one of your representatives gave me a sample of Postum, and I was glad of the opportunity to try something that would furnish me with a good morning beverage, but not give me the trouble that coffee did.

The reason some people fail to make good Postum is that they undertake to get the good out of the cereals by a few minutes' boiling, whereas not less than twenty-five minutes should be used in making a good pot full of Postum. When it is properly boiled, it is a most delicious coffee, and a perfect drink in every respect. Often when I have had no appetite for solid food, I could partake of several cups of Postum, and feel plentifully nourished until the next meal. I have been glad to tell customers of the comfort and relief they could find in the use of Postum. Naturally we have augmented our sales greatly on it, until now we send out hundreds of packages in a year. One of our customers to whom I recommended it, has just been in, and tells me they have all grown very fond of Postum, including several members of the family who reside in different parts of the state. With best wishes, F. Latimer, 124 Market St., Oakland, Cal.

GAS CHOKING FATAL

CARL NELSON DIED AT ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL FROM CONGESTION OF THE LUNGS

SHERMAN HOUSE TRAGEDY

Nelson Paid With His Life the Penalty of His Roommate's Ignorance in Blowing Out the Gas—Conflicting Statements Made as to Which Is Dead and Which Lives.

Carl Nelson, one of the men asphyxiated at the Sherman hotel Monday morning, suffered a relapse from the effects of the gas after Dr. Marquis was almost certain of his recovery and died at St. Luke's hospital from congestion of the lungs. Nelson and Albert Grand came to St. Paul Sunday, and in the evening retired to the same room. Being unfamiliar with the operation of gas jets, Grand blew out the light upon retiring, and both men were found unconscious at 7 o'clock Monday morning. The physician was called and says he restored both men to consciousness by announcing to be about. Late that afternoon Nelson became worse and was taken to the hospital, where he died after several hours. The physician says Nelson's death was not due directly to the asphyxiation, but to a subsequent condition induced by the gas.

It was only with the greatest difficulty that it could be learned yesterday which one of the strangers had died. At the hotel they said it was Grand, while the physician said the man's name was beyond question Carl Nelson. When the hospital matron was communicated with she declined at first to say anything about the man, but finally announced that she had no doubt the same as given by the doctor. Nothing further than this could be gleaned at the hospital. The woman, who said she was the matron, finally wound up her interview with the G. I. reporter by announcing that the hospital had no official record of the man's death nor his name. All she knew, she said, was that the physician probably knew the patient's name.

The doctor showed no hesitance in giving out the name. He said it was Carl Nelson, and that the stranger had been working in a factory in Duluth, Minn., where he had a half-brother, who would take charge of the body. Grand, if this is not the dead man's name, returned to his home yesterday.

HISTORY OF METHODISM.

It Is Being Cared for in the Library at Hamline.

The annual meeting of the Minnesota Methodist Historical society was held yesterday afternoon at Hamline university. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, E. R. Lathrop, Albert Lee; first vice president, J. W. Martin, Hamline; second vice president, W. A. Shannahan, Minneapolis; secretary and librarian, George S. Innis, Hamline; treasurer, G. F. Wells, Hamline.

A lecture was to have been delivered by Dr. C. Hobart of Red Wing, but he was unable to attend on account of illness. Dr. Brooks, of the same university, was delegated to read a paper before the next annual meeting, with J. W. Power as alternate.

Abraham Innis reported that the association had acquired all the Methodist discipline since the year 1780, for the library. William Moore, of Minneapolis, presented the society with a class book of the First Methodist class organized in the territory of Minnesota early in the year 1840.

Dr. Brooks, of the same university, was delegated to read a paper before the next annual meeting, with J. W. Power as alternate. Mr. Wentworth, aged 82 years, daughter of Mr. Hobart, the first class leader in the territory, was present.

THOMAS HORAN DEAD.

He Was for Several Years on the City Detective Force.

Thomas Horan, formerly a member of the city detective force, died at the city hospital shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Death was due to heart failure. Horan was taken to the hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, suffering from a state of high nervous excitement. It was hoped that the attack was not dangerous, but Horan failed to shake off the effects of his condition, and passed away.

Horan was 41 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. The family lives at 358 Rosabel street. He was twice appointed to the police force. The last time he was appointed a patrolman, June 28, 1898, and assigned to special detective duty. A year later he was promoted to regular detective. He left the force about three years ago.

LINCOLN CLUB'S CLUB NO NEW AS CONTRACTS YET

BOARD OF CAPITAL COMMISSIONERS HAS ITS HANDS FULL AS IT IS

Bids Were Called For for $150,000 Worth of Certificates of Indebtedness to Carry It Through the Year.

Much of the time of the state capital commission yesterday was devoted to a discussion of the prevailing business conditions, the best determination reached from an analysis of the figures in possession of the board being that an account of recent increases in price of building supplies especially the cost of certain branches of building work had increased 25 per cent over last year.

Architect Gilbert said the iron and steel market was high and somewhat excited, and the secretary of the board reported that they were employing all the men they really had room for, the board decided not to let any more contracts under the present condition.

Senator Hiller H. Horton appeared before the board in behalf of the St. Cloud contractors, who are anxious to furnish the security certificates for the new work. It was stated that the contractors of that city were willing to advance the necessary funds for the work and take a security certificate for the amount from the state until such time as the building was completed.

The board voted to sell $150,000 in certificates of indebtedness, in order to raise up funds to carry out the work of constructing the new state house. The board had on hand $69,000, but bills were presented which reduced the funds on hand to $21,337. Of the estimates allowed, one item of $57,721 went to Butler, Ryan & Co., general contractors. The remaining $31,000 in the treasury will be sufficient to pay another month's bills. With the $150,000 to be raised, the commission will have enough money on hand to carry on the work until October or possibly November. Cass Gilbert, architect of the capitol, estimates that the expenses of construction will not average less than $35,000 per month for the next few months. The cost of the new work is estimated to be about $1,000,000.

There has been spent on the new capitol for all purposes up to date the sum of $454,627.07. Of this sum $28,000 is being withheld from the contractors, according to the terms of the contract.

Gallant Conduct of a Careless Rice Street Cyclist.

An unknown bicyclist riding on Rice street last night about 7 o'clock ran into Mrs. A. Field, of 311 Rice street, near the Rice street bridge, knocking her down and injuring her severely. Mrs. Field was walking in the same direction at the time and was going at the time and no spring of any kind, she says, was given her until struck. She was riding at a very fast pace and either purposely ran into the woman or misjudged his distance in riding past her. The collision came with considerable force and the woman was thrown to the ground. The cyclist, instead of rendering the woman assistance, at once mounted his wheel and rode away as fast as possible.
