The fourth was a case of one, two, three, with the visi-tors, and the fifth amounted to as much, Raymer making his accidental at its close Errors by Shugart and Geier, the latter's an "easy" muff, put the third man on a base in the sixth and seventh, but he was caught before reaching second in each case. The eighth was longer. Rothfuss opened with a bunt, but after Miller fouled out to Isbell, was caught between first and second. Raymer bunted and Isbell muffed Katoll's throw. A low ball sawed Reilly's ankle, but both runners were left when Boyle drove an easy one at Isbell, and the side was retired. The ninth was another case of one, two, three, and Katoll had tried his best to win his game

SAINTS FOUGHT HARD.

Meantime the Saints had been making valiant but futile effort to overcome the handicap. Pardee, the bridegroom, was a puzzle for the first three innings. Isbell's bunt in the second being the only Isbell's bunt in the second being the only safe hit made off him during that por-tion of the game. But the fourth was more hopeful. Glenalvin put one through Hulen's corner, slow and low, and beat it to first base, Lally following with a fine three-base drive just inside the left foul line that looked as though it might have been a bomer. Isbell betted a slow have been a homer. Isbell batted a sh one at Raymer and went out, and Lai did not come in. Shugart batted a sh fly to Rothfuss, and the play was close the plate, Lally sliding feet first. Ganzel made a fine stop of Shugart's hot one to first, but could not get a double on Isbell at second. The latter, however, was thrown out at the plate trying to get home from second on Hoffmeister's short fly, which Ganzel fielded—on the bcund. Spies followed with a fine twobound. Spies followed with a fine two-bagger down right field, and Hoffmeister scored, making it apparent that Isbell's impetuous haste had been untimely. As it turned out, it possibly lost the game. Katoll walked, for Pardee was an aero naut, that is to say, he was up in the air, in the terse but expressive parlance of the diamond. While he was still up there and two were on bases, Preston swatted the ball a good one to center, and drove in another run, but Geier put

HUSTINGS A HUMMER

He Kept the Millers Guessing From Start to Finish.

The Milwaukee team pitched Hustings, just from the University of Wisconsin, at Nicollet park yesterday, and defeated the Minneapolis nine at that. He had the Millers guessing from the start, and at no time was there a show for them to win. Kid McNeely started in to pitch for Minneapolis, but the Kid was not feeling well apparently, and after the fourth inning he retired to the stable to nurse his wing, while another Wisconsin man, Southpaw Bandelin, was pitted against his college mate. The southpaw did good work while he was in the box, and had he been put in in the beginning of the game might have won it. Only two scores and three hits were made off his delivery in the four innings that he occupied the position of honor, and one of those runs was due to yellow work in
