

The St. Paul Globe

Table with subscription rates: Daily only, Sunday only, Foreign, etc.

Entered as Second-Class Matter, July 16, 1878. Postoffice at St. Paul, Minn., under No. 100. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Act of October 3, 1917.

BRANCH OFFICES. New York, 110 Spruce St. Chicago, Room 60, No. 87 Washington St.

WEATHER FOR TODAY.

Minnesota—Threatening Monday; probably showers in western portion Tuesday; southerly winds.

Wisconsin—Threatening Monday; showers and cooler Tuesday; variable winds.

ST. PAUL. Yesterday's observations, taken by the United States weather bureau, St. Paul, P. F. Lyons observer, for the twenty-four hours ended at 7 o'clock last night.

Table with weather statistics: Highest temperature, lowest temperature, average temperature, etc.

YESTERDAY'S TEMPERATURES. Battleford, 72; Bemarck, 72; Chicago, 70; Duluth, 70; etc.

WHAT THEY HAVE GAINED. Gustav Theden became an American through the process of expatriation from Sweden and our naturalization courts.

Such an appointment as this will be acceptable to the grain growers of the state, and unless it is in every sense acceptable to them, it should be acceptable to no class of citizens whatever.

THE LATEST TRUST REMEDY. The latest proposal for the effectual control of the trusts has occasioned a good deal of comment. It is to adopt an amendment to the constitution, placing the trusts under federal jurisdiction.

There is a great variety of reasons why this proposal to amend the United States constitution, taking all jurisdiction on the subject of trusts away from the several states and placing it exclusively in the general government, should not be adopted; and we doubt whether there is an intelligent reason that can be advanced why it should be done, aside from the desirability of taking the subject out of politics.

The disposition toward concentration in business is merely a social and economic phenomenon. With the tendency, society may or may not deal. It may undertake to regulate it within certain well-defined legal and economic lines; but to proceed with reference to it on the theory that it is inherently mischievous is simply absurd.

ing because they had not all got some appointment with a salary attached. Evidently Theden thinks whoever elected the governor made a bad mistake.

MR. CLAUSEN'S SUCCESSOR. The resignation of A. C. Clausen as grain inspector, coming so quickly on the heels of his reappointment, must, of course, be regarded as controlled by partisan political considerations.

What shall be the immediate result of Mr. Clausen's resignation ought to be determined by the farmers of the state. His successor should virtually be their appointee. His fitness for the place, from the purely expert standpoint, should be recognized as quickly as his appointment is announced.

Such an appointment as this will be acceptable to the grain growers of the state, and unless it is in every sense acceptable to them, it should be acceptable to no class of citizens whatever.

THE LATEST TRUST REMEDY. The latest proposal for the effectual control of the trusts has occasioned a good deal of comment. It is to adopt an amendment to the constitution, placing the trusts under federal jurisdiction.

There is a great variety of reasons why this proposal to amend the United States constitution, taking all jurisdiction on the subject of trusts away from the several states and placing it exclusively in the general government, should not be adopted; and we doubt whether there is an intelligent reason that can be advanced why it should be done, aside from the desirability of taking the subject out of politics.

The disposition toward concentration in business is merely a social and economic phenomenon. With the tendency, society may or may not deal. It may undertake to regulate it within certain well-defined legal and economic lines; but to proceed with reference to it on the theory that it is inherently mischievous is simply absurd.

EPITILES TO ST. PAUL.

One hitherto unpublished story of the recent military encampment at Lake City has caused County Auditor Johnson much tribulation and expense. It appears that Little Billie went down to the camp at the command of the commanding officer, Mr. Johnson was given some exceptional privileges that were only shared by a few.

It was not until Col. Roosevelt came under the evil spell of Senator Platt's influence that he gave positive evidence of his willingness to place the ends of his political ambitions above his understanding of official duty.

W. A. Lang, of the St. Paul Fire and Marine, is fond of fishing and all the little things that go with it.

"I see," said the young man who never eats veal, "that there is a growing disposition to take the saloon out of politics."

Every man and every corporation is supposed to do all he or it can to push forward his or its business in all legitimate ways. One of the Minneapolis cemetery associations has taken the law with the American notion of push.

THE NEILL STOCK COMPANY. The Neill stock company gave an admirable presentation of Piner's charming comedy, "Sweet Lavender," to a highly appreciative audience last night at the Metropolitan.

Mark Hanna and Congressman C. H. Grosvenor, prominent political luminaries of Ohio, are to meet in conference in London, where the fog comes from. If Mr. Grosvenor cannot figure it all out satisfactorily to Mr. Hanna, his mentality is paralyzed and his notorious table of logarithms has lost its cunning.

Not having been entirely successful at lacrosse, the St. Paul team might try a game of "Kalamazoo."

GREATEST OF THEIR KIND.

The largest dwelling house in the world is the Frohhaus, in a suburb of Vienna, Austria, containing in all between 1,200 and 1,500 rooms.

The largest history ever published is "The War of the Rebellion," issued by the United States in 129 huge octavo volumes of 1,000 pages each, with a gigantic atlas in thirty parts.

The greatest distance that a shot has been fired is a few yards over fifteen feet. The range of Krupp's well known monster steel gun, firing a shot which weighed over a ton.

Many of the phrases one uses or hears every day have been handed down to us from generation to generation for hundreds of years, and in many cases they can be traced to a quaint and curious origin.

How a Patron Accidentally Made Himself Universally Unpopular. New York Sun. The course of an extravagant and erratic man in a Broadway restaurant the other night nearly led to a disaster.

THE NEILL STOCK COMPANY. The Neill stock company gave an admirable presentation of Piner's charming comedy, "Sweet Lavender," to a highly appreciative audience last night at the Metropolitan.

Mark Hanna and Congressman C. H. Grosvenor, prominent political luminaries of Ohio, are to meet in conference in London, where the fog comes from. If Mr. Grosvenor cannot figure it all out satisfactorily to Mr. Hanna, his mentality is paralyzed and his notorious table of logarithms has lost its cunning.

Not having been entirely successful at lacrosse, the St. Paul team might try a game of "Kalamazoo."

SMART SHORT STORIES.

The old Duke of York, whose effigy looks down from the top of the columns in St. James' park, was once commander-in-chief and frequently entertained the officers under his command.

At a recent horse race at Perak, in the Malay peninsula, the sun blazed down on a field of hot, excited horses and men, waiting until the eccentricities of the starter and an even more eccentric horse should combine to get them in line.

Once upon a time sticks of lead were used for making marks on paper and wood, and the same has survived, though nowadays all the pencils are filled with graphite or plumbago.

Many of the phrases one uses or hears every day have been handed down to us from generation to generation for hundreds of years, and in many cases they can be traced to a quaint and curious origin.

How a Patron Accidentally Made Himself Universally Unpopular. New York Sun. The course of an extravagant and erratic man in a Broadway restaurant the other night nearly led to a disaster.

THE NEILL STOCK COMPANY. The Neill stock company gave an admirable presentation of Piner's charming comedy, "Sweet Lavender," to a highly appreciative audience last night at the Metropolitan.

Mark Hanna and Congressman C. H. Grosvenor, prominent political luminaries of Ohio, are to meet in conference in London, where the fog comes from. If Mr. Grosvenor cannot figure it all out satisfactorily to Mr. Hanna, his mentality is paralyzed and his notorious table of logarithms has lost its cunning.

Not having been entirely successful at lacrosse, the St. Paul team might try a game of "Kalamazoo."

RIOTING IN FRANCE.

TROOPS NECESSARY TO PRESERVE ORDER AT A MEETING AT MENDE.

PARIS, July 30.—Paul Drouot, president of the League of Patriots; M. Marcel-Habert, revisionist member of the chamber of deputies, and M. Millovoja, editor of La Patrie, addressed a patriotic meeting today at Mende, department of Lozere, declaring that the parliamentary republic was responsible for all of France's trouble.

Once upon a time sticks of lead were used for making marks on paper and wood, and the same has survived, though nowadays all the pencils are filled with graphite or plumbago.

Many of the phrases one uses or hears every day have been handed down to us from generation to generation for hundreds of years, and in many cases they can be traced to a quaint and curious origin.

How a Patron Accidentally Made Himself Universally Unpopular. New York Sun. The course of an extravagant and erratic man in a Broadway restaurant the other night nearly led to a disaster.

THE NEILL STOCK COMPANY. The Neill stock company gave an admirable presentation of Piner's charming comedy, "Sweet Lavender," to a highly appreciative audience last night at the Metropolitan.

Mark Hanna and Congressman C. H. Grosvenor, prominent political luminaries of Ohio, are to meet in conference in London, where the fog comes from. If Mr. Grosvenor cannot figure it all out satisfactorily to Mr. Hanna, his mentality is paralyzed and his notorious table of logarithms has lost its cunning.

Not having been entirely successful at lacrosse, the St. Paul team might try a game of "Kalamazoo."

SERIOUS AFFRAY AT RENNES.

Police Compelled to Intervene to Prevent a Nationalist Demonstration Aimed at Maitre Labori—No Case Against Du Paty de Clam—Counsel for Dreyfus Will Demand the Presentation of All Evidence.

PARIS, July 30.—Paul Drouot, president of the League of Patriots; M. Marcel-Habert, revisionist member of the chamber of deputies, and M. Millovoja, editor of La Patrie, addressed a patriotic meeting today at Mende, department of Lozere, declaring that the parliamentary republic was responsible for all of France's trouble.

Once upon a time sticks of lead were used for making marks on paper and wood, and the same has survived, though nowadays all the pencils are filled with graphite or plumbago.

Many of the phrases one uses or hears every day have been handed down to us from generation to generation for hundreds of years, and in many cases they can be traced to a quaint and curious origin.

How a Patron Accidentally Made Himself Universally Unpopular. New York Sun. The course of an extravagant and erratic man in a Broadway restaurant the other night nearly led to a disaster.

THE NEILL STOCK COMPANY. The Neill stock company gave an admirable presentation of Piner's charming comedy, "Sweet Lavender," to a highly appreciative audience last night at the Metropolitan.

Mark Hanna and Congressman C. H. Grosvenor, prominent political luminaries of Ohio, are to meet in conference in London, where the fog comes from. If Mr. Grosvenor cannot figure it all out satisfactorily to Mr. Hanna, his mentality is paralyzed and his notorious table of logarithms has lost its cunning.

Not having been entirely successful at lacrosse, the St. Paul team might try a game of "Kalamazoo."

