

SAINTS WERE SNAPPY

PLAYED IN SPLENDID FORM AND ALL AROUND THE BREWERS

VAUGHN ON THE INITIAL BAG

Accepted Ten Chances Without a Single Slip, and in Four Times at Bat Made Three Hits and Two Runs—Kattol Picked Good Ball, but Was Touched Up in the Seventh for Three Singles.

St. Paul 8, Milwaukee 5.
Milwaukee 7, Kansas City 6.
Indianapolis 9, Buffalo 4.
Detroit 11, Grand Rapids 2.Played, Won, Lost, Per Cent.
Milwaukee .33 .55 .28 .591
Detroit .31 .48 .35 .427
Grand Rapids .30 .44 .34 .451
St. Paul .32 .42 .50 .454
Buffalo .30 .40 .50 .404
Kansas City .34 .38 .56 .404GAMES SCHEDULED FOR TODAY.
Milwaukee at St. Paul.
Kansas City at Minneapolis.
Indianapolis at Buffalo.
Detroit at Grand Rapids.

A crowd of 300 fans braved the cold and dark weather yesterday to welcome the Saints at Lexington park in their opening game with Milwaukee. It must be said that, at the beginning of the game, the enthusiasm was not very noticeable. The long string of defeats abroad was enough to dampen the ardor of any rooter, and it was not certain that the tide would be turned at home, but it was. The Saints played ball all around the Brewers, outbatted them and outfielded them, ran the bases well and played generally in splendid form. Yesterday's game would have won fully ten of the thirteen games lost away from home. Vaughn, Comiskey's new first baseman, showed up well. A barehanded play reached all of them. In the sixth inning he accepted ten chances without a slip, and in four times at bat made three hits and two runs, and his hits brought in two additional runs.

Shugart was the bright, particular star of the game. He played the short field in his old time form. He had eleven chances and at the end of the game had not even a fumble to his credit. At times his throwing was just a trifle off, but Vaughn reached all of them. In the sixth inning he was the middle man in a double play that was on the sensational order and one of the fastest that has been seen on the local field.

In the second inning he placed the ball away over Congalton's head for four bases. Vaughn, too, batted in his old form, getting two singles and a three-bagger in three times at bat and sacrificing once. With the exception of one inning Kattol pitched beautiful ball. In the seventh he was touched up for three singles but he was able to get away from Vaughn. It is possible that even then no runs would have resulted but for an error by Lally, who let a ground ball to the field get through him. Kattol also had his eye with him, getting two corking singles in four times at bat.

BREWERS WERE OUT OF IT.
While the Brewers apparently played a snappy game of ball, they were outclassed. Viox, Speer and Congalton were the only men who could connect with Kattol's delivery, and twice did their hits avail them anything.

In the opening inning Barnes made a hit after Waldron had gone out on a fly to Lally, but Congalton and Weaver both hit high ones. For the Saints Burke struck out and Geler flew out to Waldron. Glenavlin hit the ball by Weaver for three bases, but could get no further. Lally going out from St. Paul to St. Paul.

Both teams began their run getting in the second. Gray flew out to Lally and Stafford was given a free ticket and sent around to third on a line hit by Viox. Reddy ended the inning with a high foul to Spies. Vaughn opened the second inning for the Saints with a high infield hit that should have been an easy out for Reddy, but he handed the responsibility over to Gray and that gentleman could not get in in time. Isbell plunked a slow grounder down the middle of the field to Stafford and was put out while Vaughn was getting to second. Shugart was next up and he landed square on the ball. When it reached the plate it was behind Waldron and Congalton. Vaughn was tearing around the bases like a race horse, and he reached home before the ball could be held in. Spies went out from Gray to Stafford. Kattol made a hit, but died on first. Burke going out on a foul fly to Speer. The third inning for Milwaukee was identical with the first for St. Paul. In that Congalton made a three-base hit with two men out and perished on third. The Saints added one more tally to their total to third on a line hit by Viox. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

In the fifth inning both three Brewers faced Kattol. Reddy struck out and Waldron and Barnes were thrown out at first. Shugart, for the Saints, hit a home run off first on an error by Barnes and stole second. Geler drew a base on balls and Glenavlin advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

In the fifth inning both three Brewers faced Kattol. Reddy struck out and Waldron and Barnes were thrown out at first. Shugart, for the Saints, hit a home run off first on an error by Barnes and stole second. Geler drew a base on balls and Glenavlin advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

In the fifth inning both three Brewers faced Kattol. Reddy struck out and Waldron and Barnes were thrown out at first. Shugart, for the Saints, hit a home run off first on an error by Barnes and stole second. Geler drew a base on balls and Glenavlin advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

In the fifth inning both three Brewers faced Kattol. Reddy struck out and Waldron and Barnes were thrown out at first. Shugart, for the Saints, hit a home run off first on an error by Barnes and stole second. Geler drew a base on balls and Glenavlin advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

In the fifth inning both three Brewers faced Kattol. Reddy struck out and Waldron and Barnes were thrown out at first. Shugart, for the Saints, hit a home run off first on an error by Barnes and stole second. Geler drew a base on balls and Glenavlin advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

In the fifth inning both three Brewers faced Kattol. Reddy struck out and Waldron and Barnes were thrown out at first. Shugart, for the Saints, hit a home run off first on an error by Barnes and stole second. Geler drew a base on balls and Glenavlin advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

In the fifth inning both three Brewers faced Kattol. Reddy struck out and Waldron and Barnes were thrown out at first. Shugart, for the Saints, hit a home run off first on an error by Barnes and stole second. Geler drew a base on balls and Glenavlin advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

Congalton opened the sixth for the Brewers with a cannon ball single to the right field. Vaughn hit the ball to the right of second base and Glenavlin fielded it perfectly to Shugart, who cut off Congalton. Burke scored on Lally's long fly to Waldron, and Vaughn went out on a pop-up to Barnes, leaving Geler at third.

seventh on hits by Stafford, Viox and Speer and an error by Lally. The Saints regained the two runs with interest in their half. Geler, Glenavlin, Lally, Vaughn and Isbell all drew clean singles in a row and these five, with another by Kattol, a sacrifice by Burke and errors by Stafford and Viox, netted four runs. Both teams were blanked in the eighth.

In the ninth the Brewers were allowed a little lee way and improved it to the extent of two runs, with hits by Viox and Speer and an error by Geler. Stafford new out to Isbell and, after the hits by Viox and Speer, Chech was called in to bat for Reddy and reached first on an error by Geler, which also scored Viox. Speer scored on an error by Isbell and that ended the run getting. Waldron going out from Geler to Vaughn, and Barnes from Shugart to Vaughn. The score:

St. Paul	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Burke, rf	4	1	0	0	0	0
Geler, 3b	4	1	2	1	1	1
Glenavlin, 2b	4	1	2	1	1	1
Lally, lf	4	1	1	0	1	0
Vaughn, lb	4	2	3	10	0	0
Waldron, c	4	0	0	0	0	0
Shugart, ss	4	1	1	3	8	0
Spies, cf	4	0	1	4	0	0
Kattol, p	4	0	0	2	0	0
Totals	35	8	13	27	13	3

Milwaukee	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Waldron, rf	5	0	1	1	2	1
Barnes, ss	5	0	1	1	2	1
Congalton, cf	4	0	0	0	2	0
Gray, 3b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Stafford, 2b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Viox, 1b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Speer, cf	4	1	2	4	1	0
Isbell, lf	4	0	0	0	2	0
Chech, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	1	2	9	24	10

*Batted for Reddy in the ninth.
Earned runs, St. Paul 4, Milwaukee 1; three-base hits, Congalton, Waldron, home run, Shugart; wild pitch Kattol; bases on balls, off Kattol, Stafford 2, off Reddy, Waldron, 1; errors, Kattol, Viox, Speer, Weaver, by Milwaukee; double play, Congalton, Shugart, by Vaughn; sacrifice hits, Burke, Glenavlin; stolen bases, Viox, 1; attendance, 300; umpire, Cantillon.TREND OF THE GAME.
The second game of the series with Milwaukee will be played at Lexington this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. For the Saints either Denzler or Fisher will be in the box, and either Huston or Chech will do the twirling for the Brewers.

Vaughn made a good impression with the fans on his initial appearance. He is a strapping big fellow and he resembles Isbell in that he drags the balls in from anywhere. Several were thrown wild to him yesterday, but he got them all. He also hit the ball good and hard.

Shugart played his old-time form at short yesterday. To accept eleven chances without a slip is a record to be proud of and with a home run added to that, well, Shugart will do.

The Saints played a good, gingery game. Everybody but Burke hit the ball, and while Isbell and Vaughn got a hit, he made one pretty sacrifice and got his share of the runs.

It is expected that Stout will arrive this morning and will be seen in the center field today. Just what will be done with Coleman if he comes is not known.

Such a game as the Saints put up yesterday would have won many of their games away from home and brought them back near the top of the ladder.

St. Paul won its first series of the season yesterday, its victory being the tenth since Milwaukee. The latter has won six from St. Paul, and there are still two games to play.

The Kansas City and Milwaukee teams have a fourth of July game to play off with no good prospect of working it in anywhere. It would be a great scheme to have double-header here on Thursday. For instance, the Kansas City team could come over and play a game with Milwaukee, beginning at 1:30, going from here to Minneapolis immediately after the game, the contest in the Flour City to begin at 4 or 4:15. St. Paul could finish out the day with its regular game with Milwaukee. An arrangement of this sort would be so novel as to draw a crowd. The ladies might also be invited to see this unusual double-header.

Yesterday was the fifth straight game lost by Milwaukee.

Congalton is erratic. When he's good he's very good, but when he's bad he's horrid.

Vaughn struck the crowd very favorably. He covered first bag in splendid shape and made three timely hits.

Shugart played one of the great games of his life. He accepted eleven chances, and smacked home run down through center garden.

The Anostes threw away a run in the third and another in the seventh by foolish base running.

Isbell's error in the ninth was a questionable one. Speer hit the sphere over the second, and Isbell ran in for it. He fumbled it an instant and Viox ran home. Isbell hit into that field, however, is generally regarded as good for a runner to make home on from second. A perfect stop and throw would, of course, have cut off the man at the plate. On the other hand, a barehanded throw would not only have failed on the man going home, but permitted the other base runner to go to second.

Eddie Burke had a rather indifferent day of it. Nobody hit anything out his way, and he didn't hit anything anybody else's way.

Glenavlin hadn't much to do in the game, but he was smashing the ball around at a great rate.

Lally put out four of the first six men, and then the Brewers began to hit him elsewhere.

Kattol is a great pitcher, but who suggested to him that it is a good thing to wear blue underwear?

Two of Viox's hits were lucky "dunks." Ordinarily they would have been easy outs.

MINNEAPOLIS WON.
Took Ten Innings to Decide Game With Cowboys.
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—It took ten long innings to decide the game between the Saints and the Cowboys. The Saints were able to wrest the game from the crippled Blues. The 1,200 fans who risked a wetting to see the contest were amply rewarded for their wait, as the game began at the beginning of the game until the winning run was made in the tenth that either side appeared to have the call.

George Carey was very much the hero of the day. He not only lined out two corking doubles, both of which counted for runs, but he won the game finally with a long home run over the left field fence. But every one of the Minors was in evidence at some time during the game. Newt Fisher was another bright particular star, catching a pretty game and being responsible for three of the seven runs made by the locals.

Danny Friend pitched a steady game, and while he was hit rather freely, and his wildness was in two runs by his wildness, he was generally effective when men were on the bases. He was helped out by glib-edged fielding, with the exception of a fumble by Fisher.

The Blues also put up a fast game, and it was evident that most of them were playing for a record. They did not make a single misplay in the field, and the Minors had to earn every one of their runs by clean hits and daring base running.

The Blues started off with a rush in the first inning. With one out Geler lined out a three-base hit, and Miller and Geler drove out singles which scored two runs. They talked another in the third by grace of Friend's error, and things looked a little doubtful for the Minors, but the latter were just getting warmed up to their work. Abby started the work in the third by beating out a bunt, and managed to get around the sacks by a sacrifice and an outfield fly. The locals tied the score in the next two innings, and George Carey started the sixth with a sacrifice and a home run. Abbatichio couldn't do anything to help along, and with two out and Carey still on second the chances for a run looked dark. But Carey hit a home run, and the visitors won the game. The outfield of the Blues a chance to display their sprinting qualities. Newt was resting on a middle strike brought the ball back and Danny Friend surprised all his friends by hitting out a three base hit. That put the locals two in the lead, but Danny's long run to third was too much for the Saints apparently, and the fans had heart disease several times during the next two innings. Gear got in the way of a pitched ball and walked to first, and Ruffness got in a single. Miller tried to sacrifice, and bunted one just in front of the homeplate. Fisher fumbled the ball and the bases were filled. Gangel forced Miller out at second but Gear got across the plate. The rubber monowall. Reilly made a clean single and Stricklett cracked out a double, scoring two more. Wilson and Pardee retired the side by bunt and the visitors were in the lead again.

The locals couldn't score in their half, but in the eighth, with two out, Abbatichio walked. Fisher again got out of the rubber monowall. Reilly made a clean single and Stricklett cracked out a double, scoring two more. Wilson and Pardee retired the side by bunt and the visitors were in the lead again.

St. Paul	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Burke, rf	4	1	0	0	0	0
Geler, 3b	4	1	2	1	1	1
Glenavlin, 2b	4	1	2	1	1	1
Lally, lf	4	1	1	0	1	0
Vaughn, lb	4	2	3	10	0	0
Waldron, c	4	0	0	0	0	0
Shugart, ss	4	1	1	3	8	0
Spies, cf	4	0	1	4	0	0
Kattol, p	4	0	0	2	0	0
Totals	35	8	13	27	13	3

Milwaukee	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Waldron, rf	5	0	1	1	2	1
Barnes, ss	5	0	1	1	2	1
Congalton, cf	4	0	0	0	2	0
Gray, 3b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Stafford, 2b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Viox, 1b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Speer, cf	4	1	2	4	1	0
Isbell, lf	4	0	0	0	2	0
Chech, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	1	2	9	24	10

*Batted for Reddy in the ninth.
Earned runs, St. Paul 4, Milwaukee 1; three-base hits, Congalton, Waldron, home run, Shugart; wild pitch Kattol; bases on balls, off Kattol, Stafford 2, off Reddy, Waldron, 1; errors, Kattol, Viox, Speer, Weaver, by Milwaukee; double play, Congalton, Shugart, by Vaughn; sacrifice hits, Burke, Glenavlin; stolen bases, Viox, 1; attendance, 300; umpire, Cantillon.TREND OF THE GAME.
The second game of the series with Milwaukee will be played at Lexington this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. For the Saints either Denzler or Fisher will be in the box, and either Huston or Chech will do the twirling for the Brewers.

Vaughn made a good impression with the fans on his initial appearance. He is a strapping big fellow and he resembles Isbell in that he drags the balls in from anywhere. Several were thrown wild to him yesterday, but he got them all. He also hit the ball good and hard.

Shugart played his old-time form at short yesterday. To accept eleven chances without a slip is a record to be proud of and with a home run added to that, well, Shugart will do.

The Saints played a good, gingery game. Everybody but Burke hit the ball, and while Isbell and Vaughn got a hit, he made one pretty sacrifice and got his share of the runs.

It is expected that Stout will arrive this morning and will be seen in the center field today. Just what will be done with Coleman if he comes is not known.

Such a game as the Saints put up yesterday would have won many of their games away from home and brought them back near the top of the ladder.

St. Paul won its first series of the season yesterday, its victory being the tenth since Milwaukee. The latter has won six from St. Paul, and there are still two games to play.

The Kansas City and Milwaukee teams have a fourth of July game to play off with no good prospect of working it in anywhere. It would be a great scheme to have double-header here on Thursday. For instance, the Kansas City team could come over and play a game with Milwaukee, beginning at 1:30, going from here to Minneapolis immediately after the game, the contest in the Flour City to begin at 4 or 4:15. St. Paul could finish out the day with its regular game with Milwaukee. An arrangement of this sort would be so novel as to draw a crowd. The ladies might also be invited to see this unusual double-header.

Yesterday was the fifth straight game lost by Milwaukee.

Congalton is erratic. When he's good he's very good, but when he's bad he's horrid.

Vaughn struck the crowd very favorably. He covered first bag in splendid shape and made three timely hits.

Shugart played one of the great games of his life. He accepted eleven chances, and smacked home run down through center garden.

The Anostes threw away a run in the third and another in the seventh by foolish base running.

Isbell's error in the ninth was a questionable one. Speer hit the sphere over the second, and Isbell ran in for it. He fumbled it an instant and Viox ran home. Isbell hit into that field, however, is generally regarded as good for a runner to make home on from second. A perfect stop and throw would, of course, have cut off the man at the plate. On the other hand, a barehanded throw would not only have failed on the man going home, but permitted the other base runner to go to second.

Eddie Burke had a rather indifferent day of it. Nobody hit anything out his way, and he didn't hit anything anybody else's way.

Glenavlin hadn't much to do in the game, but he was smashing the ball around at a great rate.

Lally put out four of the first six men, and then the Brewers began to hit him elsewhere.

Kattol is a great pitcher, but who suggested to him that it is a good thing to wear blue underwear?

Two of Viox's hits were lucky "dunks." Ordinarily they would have been easy outs.

MINNEAPOLIS WON.
Took Ten Innings to Decide Game With Cowboys.
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—It took ten long innings to decide the game between the Saints and the Cowboys. The Saints were able to wrest the game from the crippled Blues. The 1,200 fans who risked a wetting to see the contest were amply rewarded for their wait, as the game began at the beginning of the game until the winning run was made in the tenth that either side appeared to have the call.

George Carey was very much the hero of the day. He not only lined out two corking doubles, both of which counted for runs, but he won the game finally with a long home run over the left field fence. But every one of the Minors was in evidence at some time during the game. Newt Fisher was another bright particular star, catching a pretty game and being responsible for three of the seven runs made by the locals.

Danny Friend pitched a steady game, and while he was hit rather freely, and his wildness was in two runs by his wildness, he was generally effective when men were on the bases. He was helped out by glib-edged fielding, with the exception of a fumble by Fisher.

The Blues also put up a fast game, and it was evident that most of them were playing for a record. They did not make a single misplay in the field, and the Minors had to earn every one of their runs by clean hits and daring base running.

The Blues started off with a rush in the first inning. With one out Geler lined out a three-base hit, and Miller and Geler drove out singles which scored two runs. They talked another in the third by grace of Friend's error, and things looked a little doubtful for the Minors, but the latter were just getting warmed up to their work. Abby started the work in the third by beating out a bunt, man by Bates 5; hit by pitched ball Quinn; struck out, by Bates 1; wild pitch, Bates; time, 2:30; umpires, Lynch and Connolly.

St. Paul	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Burke, rf	4	1	0	0	0	0
Geler, 3b	4	1	2	1	1	1
Glenavlin, 2b	4	1	2	1	1	1
Lally, lf	4	1	1	0	1	0
Vaughn, lb	4	2	3	10	0	0
Waldron, c	4	0	0	0	0	0
Shugart, ss	4	1	1	3	8	0
Spies, cf	4	0	1	4	0	0
Kattol, p	4	0	0	2	0	0
Totals	35	8	13	27	13	3

Milwaukee	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Waldron, rf	5	0	1	1	2	1
Barnes, ss	5	0	1	1	2	1
Congalton, cf	4	0	0	0	2	0
Gray, 3b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Stafford, 2b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Viox, 1b	4	0	0	0	2	0
Speer, cf	4	1	2	4	1	0
Isbell, lf	4	0	0	0	2	0
Chech, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	1	2	9	24	10

*Batted for Reddy in the ninth.
Earned runs, St. Paul 4, Milwaukee 1; three-base hits, Congalton, Waldron, home run, Shugart; wild pitch Kattol; bases on balls, off Kattol, Stafford 2, off Reddy, Waldron, 1; errors, Kattol, Viox, Speer, Weaver, by Milwaukee; double play, Congalton, Shugart, by Vaughn; sacrifice hits, Burke, Glenavlin; stolen bases, Viox, 1; attendance, 300; umpire, Cantillon.TREND OF THE GAME.
The second game of the series with Milwaukee will be played at Lexington this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. For the Saints either Denzler or Fisher will be in the box, and either Huston or Chech will do the twirling for the Brewers.

Vaughn made a good impression with the fans on his initial appearance. He is a strapping big fellow and he resembles Isbell in that he drags the balls in from anywhere. Several were thrown wild to him yesterday, but he got them all. He also hit the ball good and hard.

Shugart played his old-time form at short yesterday. To accept eleven chances without a slip is a record to be proud of and with a home run added to that, well, Shugart will do.

The Saints played a good, gingery game. Everybody but Burke hit the ball, and while Isbell and Vaughn got a hit, he made one pretty sacrifice and got his share of the runs.

It is expected that Stout will arrive this morning and will be seen in the center field today. Just what will be done with Coleman if he comes is not known.