The School of Experience.

That men will learn in no other school than the school of Experience is an old truth, and it is well, because experience is the most thorough and competent of all teachers. Experience has taught Mr. Babcock, of Northfield, Minn., that DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT is worth more than

I hope you will excuse me for not reporting my case sooner, as you requested, but I thought I would delay until I could report a complete cure. Your belt has done me the only good I ever received from doctoring. It has done everything you claimed for it. I had weak kidneys and sciatica and other pains as well, and I am now a well man. You can refer any one to me, for experience has taught me that your belt is worth much more than all medicine. Kindly excuse me for hesitating such & long time before sending in a report, but I wanted to be certain that I was completely and pemanently cured. I give you all the credit for completing this cure. I have recommended your belt to several of my friends. Dr. Sanden's Belt is the only one to buy, for it is worth its weight in gold. Yours very truly, Lecomotive Fireman.

Northfield, Minn.

If you are ailing in any way get the Belt without further delay, and your experience with it, too, will be eminently satisfactory. Dr. Sanden's book, "Three Classes of Men," tells all about it. It will doubtless interest you. It is free at the office or sealed by mail.

NEWS OF RAILROADS

EFFICIENCY OF WESTERN PASSEN-GER ASSOCIATION SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN OVERRATED

CUT RATES ARE OBTAINABLE

Brokers Selling Transportation Say They Are Able to Secure Tickets Over the Strong as Well as the Weak Lines - Say They Are in Touch With Sources of Supply and Can Get Tickets.

There is no doubt that the Western Passenger association is useful, but St. Paul railroad men are beginning to real ize that its efficiency may have been overrated. The present conditions and the situation which have prevailed for the past two months between the strong Chicago lines and the three weaker roads has opened the eyes of the passenger officials to the fact that while the association can issue mandates, its powers of enforcing them are limited. On July 1 the association issued an agreement to which all the Chicago lines, with the exception of the Visconsin Central, Great Western and linneapolis & St. Louis were parties, which ordered the restoration of normal commissions, and made provisions for the enforcement of rules against the sale of cut rates. Previous to this move, while Chairman Caldwell was still at the head, the association made a strong effort to arrive at the ends hoped for and had failed. Fredictions were liberally made upon the accession of Chairman McLeod to the throne that rates would be adjusted, small commissions restored and the competition between the powerful Chicago lines and other weaker competitors equal-went into effect, there has been scarcely a day when cut rates were not obtainable on Third street. The brokers selling transportation repeatedly affirmed that they were able to secure tickets over the strained, an agreement was entered into between themselves partially checking the extreme low rates. Then the passener association came to the front with the announcement that unless the Great Vestern, Wisconsin Central and Minnebe precipitated and matters made decidficial of the Great Western in a position to know the inside movements of the rival roads, made the statement that his road movement was made with a view of cur tailing their business and forcing them to be content with the little end of the Chicago passenger traffic. The brokers affirmed that rates could be made over any of the Chicago lines. The final result of the situation was a session in Chicago at which nothing was accomplished, and another adjournment. The final result amounted to little beyond that the Wis-censin Central refused to enter into an agreement to which the two other weak lines were not parties.

The effect of the failure to adjust matters among the officials of the St. Paul Western Passenger association's effectiveness has been considerably shaken.
Matters stand at present in exactly the same position as three months ago and the dire outcome predicted on the refusal of the weak lines to be good in the first instance has persistenely refused to materialize. Still the merry war goes on. A Third street broker stated yesterday that he was able to supply transportation over two of the strong lines at $ He alleged that he was in touch with the sources of supply and could procure straight passenger tickets without troub-

FIRST OF THE SERIES POPULAR

MANY PEOPLE TAKE ADVANTAGE OF MERCHANTS' AND WHOLE. SALERS' EXCURSION

CAME FROM OUTSIDE POINTS

Noticeable Fact That Every Town of Importance in the State Was Represented - With Few Exceptions the Excursionists Came as Buyers and All Business Houses Felt the Influence of the Visitors.

Twin City merchants and wholesalers have in prospect a heavy increase in Northwestern sales as the result of the series of special merchants' excursions being run by all lines into the cities. The first of the series closed yesterday. The number of people taking advantage of the low rates offered was in excess to the anticipations of the Twin City and Northwestern Merchants' association, under the auspices of which the project was initiated. The second of the series will be held Aug. 17 to 23, inclusive. Rates of a fare and a fifth will be made on all roads on the certificate plan. The Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Soo will sell tickets beginning one day later, from Aug. 18 to 23, inclusive. These rates wil be good returning until Aug. 29, while those of the other roads will be ent parts justify the prediction that the road's wheat business this fall will be heavy. Though the crop is light in many good returning until the 30th.

Secretary Townsend has completed a list of those from outside points who took advantage of the excursion which ended yesterday. A noticeable fact was that not only was every town of any importance in Minnesota represented, but merchants from Wisconsin, North and South Dakota and Iowa also availed themselves of the chance to visit the cities. The excursionists, with few exceptions, came as buyers, and almost every business house in the cities has felt the influence of the trade thus se-cured. In addition to this advantage the Twin City merchants have succeeded in bringing the merchants of points in touch with them. The visitors have been granted every courtesy and special care has been taken to point out to them the advantages of St. Paul and Minneapolis as buying points. Wholesalers predict that the excursions will result in orders continuing for many months, and increased movement in the relations between the city and out-of-town merchants. The last of the excursions will be held during state fair week. Those from out of the city who came in on the excursion which ended esterday are:
