

SAINTS CANNOT WIN

GAME WAS LOST THROUGH RAGGED FIELDING AND STUPID BASE RUNNING

THE HOODOO CUT NO FIGURE

Had Isbell Pitched a Steady Game the Result Might Have Been Different—By a Lucky Chance He Escaped the Consequences of Three Hank Errors—Millers Made Six Sacrifice Hits Yesterday.

MINNEAPOLIS ST. PAUL 5.

GAMES SCHEDULED FOR TODAY.

St. Paul at Minneapolis. Buffalo at Grand Rapids. Detroit at Indianapolis.

There may have been one or a dozen hoodoos hovering about Lexington park yesterday afternoon, but they cut little or no figure in the outcome of the second tilt with the Millers. The Saints lost the game through an excellent exhibition of ragged fielding and the stupid kind of base running.

Katell had been selected to pitch, but he has been under a physician's care for some time, and as a result of his exertions in last Saturday's game against the Cowboys he was not in condition yesterday and Isbell was substituted.

Isbell pitched two good games of ball at Lexington since he was transferred to the center of the diamond, and yesterday he outpitched Menefee so far as the number of hits off him were concerned, but he gave no less than five bases on balls, while Menefee gave none, and he made a woeful exhibition of himself in holding his position.

Had Isbell pitched a steady game it is more than possible the score would have been at least a tie at the end of the ninth inning, for three of the five tickets to the Millers resulted in runs. One of the most peculiar things in the game was the lucky manner in which Isbell escaped the consequences of three errors made by him in one inning.

It was in the seventh inning, and Abby bunted to the center of the field, and Isbell pitched to Vaughn. Fisher sacrificed and reached the initial base in the selfsame manner, and then came Menefee with a sacrifice to Vaughn, who had a fairly good drive squarely in Shugart's hands and a double play resulted, for Fisher was off the bag and could not get back. But for Brennan Shugart had not pitched a line drive for the ball down to first like a cannon shot before Menefee could get back, but Brennan refused to allow it.

While the ball was in the air, Abby tried to throw a double steal and the latter was caught at the plate.

It was in the seventh inning that Smith had a heart on what Isbell and Abby sent an easy one to Hart, who threw it slow to second only to see it dropped by Shugart. Fisher sacrificed in Peter's direction, and Isbell pitched to Hart. Then came Menefee and the bad play by Hart. Menefee hit an easy one to Smith, and he had a world of time to cut Smith at the plate, while he put out a fairly good moment and threw the ball to second, and before Shugart could field it anywhere Smith had crossed the plate and Menefee was out.

Menefee hit a pitch to Vaughn, and that Perry Werden, who was on the coaching line, was the direct cause of the play, as he had called out to Hart to throw the ball to second, and the play had been carried through a double would have resulted and no runs would have been scored, but a moment later Abby crossed the plate.

The entire team mixed up errors with brilliant plays in such a manner that, while praise is due for the good work, no amount of credit can be given to the badness. Shugart had thirteen chances at short, and marred his play with two errors, and Geler at third also let three balls get away from him. And there was plenty of bad judgment in running bases. Several times runs would have resulted, but for this. Heine Spies made two hits, but he was wasted in trying to make them too far.

ONE IN THIRTEEN. A detailed account of how the runs were made would fill a small book, for there were errors and misplays galore. This is plainly shown from the fact that of the thirteen runs scored but one was the thirteen runs scored but one was earned. The only reason that the particular feature of the home team's play was Lilly's home run in the fourth inning. He pounded the ball far out into the field between left field center and right across the plate. Houtz and Vaughn also showed up well with the stick for the first time on the home grounds, but their home runs failed to play at the wrong time. The score:

INDIANAPOLIS. Yesterday the Millers won. This brings their totals a little nearer each other in the percentage column.

opening game in the Western league, but it is more than a possibility that he will fill the position with good satisfaction. He is a constant man in the company and steady down a trifle. He gives evidence of developing into a good man with the stick.

Eight errors, coupled with five bases on balls and stupid base running, will lose almost any game. Yesterday's exhibition was certainly on the ragged order to perfection.

Shugart's double unassisted was a pretty exhibition, but it should have been a triple, and would have been but for Brennan. Brennan caught his bad judgment with that of Cantillon's yesterday and the result was awful.

The records show that on Aug. 14, 1898, last three years ago Monday, Deener lost to the Millers by a score of 12 to 9. Certainly Roger is up against it when he goes out after a Minneapolis scalp.

The Millers pulled off six sacrifice hits yesterday, something out of the ordinary in a base ball game. But then there were several things in the game out of the ordinary.

Lally's home-run drive was a pretty one, but it was the only time that he connected with the ball in the game.

Once more the St. Paul team demonstrated its ability to hit the leading eleven safe singles to the Millers. The locals have made ninety-five hits to the visitors in sixty-three innings.

St. Paul has won but three of the eight games played here in this series. The problem was easy yesterday, however, the game being lost on "fielding" and "rocky" base running.

Hart made a double to second in the second inning when there was nobility there. This was his only bad break, however, and he added his position rapidly and hit well.

WADDELL OVERWORKED. "Rube" Pitched Just One Game Too Many on the Same Afternoon.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—"Rube" Waddell, the Grand Rapids pitcher, tried to work overtime today and paid the penalty. He won his first game, but was pitched by the Bisons in the second and lost. Waddell pitched a puzzle in the first, and the Buffalo sluggers failed to connect successfully with his easy stage of the proceedings.

In the second inning of the game, the Bisons found a way to reach him, and they batted his delivery all over the box, practically knocking him out with two men on bases, saved the home run, from a shut-out in the first game. Attendance, 1,500. Score:

Leaders Succumbed to the Progress of the Off Mighty Detroit Tigers. DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—The leaders of the Western league yesterday were victims of misplaced confidence, today, succumbing to the progress of the Tigers. Both pitchers were ineffective, Knepper, receiving the batter support, but Detroit hit opportunist and won by a narrow margin. It was an exciting game throughout. Attendance, 1,000.

MEKIN was NERVOUS. BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Mekin made his first appearance as the champion today and was a trifle nervous in the first inning, being hit for three singles, filling the bases. McKinnon, however, proved to be the winning run on an attempted double play. Boston took 12 to get one or more men on bases in every inning except the eighth, but could not score. OSHKOSH, Wis., Aug. 15.—The event of the Inland Lake Yachting association today was the first of a series of three races for club cups for twenty and seven-foot boats over the regular course. The start was delayed half an hour owing to lack of wind, which, however, sprang up suddenly from the east and blew fresh from the north.

ARGO FINISHED THE FIRST COURSE LESS THAN A MINUTE AHEAD OF ADERYN. Lassie, however, passed both on the run to windward to reach the post to Greater Gotham. In the articles of agreement Santry was forbidden to box anywhere after the date set for the St. Louis meeting, but he pleaded so hard and was so anxious for a chance at O'Rourke's little, dusky champion that the management of the Dubuque Athletic association finally withdrew its objection and allowed the race to go on.

THE SEVENTEEN-FOOTERS RACE. The seventeen-footers race, which was held at the start as though it was going to be a splendid one, drifted into a lazy drifting match. The race was given by the New York Yacht club as a fitting wind-up of its summer cruise, and cups were offered as prizes for the competing yachts.

The play was not particularly good, the features being the batting of Bellair, of the Belmont, and the bowling of Phillipot, of the Montreal, who took 8 wickets for 58 runs. Montreal was retired in the first inning, but the Belmonts only put together 52 runs in the second inning, 2 wickets had fallen for 40 runs when stumps were drawn today.

PAID FOR HIS CHICKENS. NEW ULM, Minn., Aug. 15.—Gust Brandt, son of the publisher of the Post-Empire, was arrested yesterday for the same reason as the man who was arrested for violating the game law. Five pairs of chickens were found in his possession and the sum of $3,000, imposed for each chicken, the fine being $3,000 for the entire Henningsen. A great quantity of practice was given to the birds brought to this place lately, but up to this time they had not been able to locate the guilty parties.

SASTRY'S STOCK UP. His Draw With Dixon Helps Him in Pugilistic Circles. DUBUQUE, Io., Aug. 15.—The gallant twenty-two pounder put up by Eddie Santry against George Dixon in New York last Friday night has done much to raise the stock of Santry in his country and was the first of a series of matches with Tommy White before the Dubuque Athletic association, as the second round of the night was postponed to August 23, 20 and 31. A story in this connection to lack of wind, which, however, sprang up suddenly from the east and blew fresh from the north.

BASE BALL BRIEFS. Grand Rapids is better than Columbus, but still the attendance is not what Lurline expects. He needs 1,000 people a day to break even.

There will be a big hole left in the Western league teams after the close of the drafting season. Such a hole would mean half dozen players have been sold, and agents on National league clubs are "sizing up" all the possible material in the country.

Scientific batting is fast pushing the Lurline club to the rear. Tommie Keeler, who is batting in the progressive order, will place the ball in the hands of the ball in different ways, thereby forcing the pitchers and fielders on the Lurline club to make a change in their batting.

Grandy becomes a better third baseman every day. His specialty is his accuracy of a high bouncer. Such a "rolling" ball is his accuracy in scattering the ball. He is accurate and speed in getting the ball to the base. He is accurate and speed in getting the ball to the base.

Managers Connie Mack, of the Milwaukee club, announces that he will follow the example set by manager Manly of the Kansas City club, in allowing almost an entire new line for next season.
