EUCHRE PARTY AT ASHLAND

Another of the noteworthy Social Events of yesterday—Dayton Avenue Presbyterian Church to Mark With a Large Reception the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Dr. M. D. Edwards' Pastorate.

The marriage of Miss Annie Marie Tallmudge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Tallmudge, and Mr. Robert John McLenahan took place last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride, on Dayton avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Herman Randall, of Grand Rapids, Mich. A pretty color scheme of green and white was carried out in the formal decorations in the various rooms. The ceremony was performed in the main parlor, the bride party standing in the bay window under a curtain of smilax starred with white roses. Miss Maynard Force, of Minneapolis, the maid of honor, entered the parlor first. The flower girl, Alice Drake, followed, carrying a basket of white carnations. The bride entered with her father. The party were joined in the parlor by the groom and his best man, Mr. Arnold, of Spring quette, with piano accompaniment, played Mendelssohn's march during the entrance of the bride party. During the ceremony the intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" was played.

PLANS FOR EXTENSION

ITS DISCUSSION OCCUPIED THE EVANGELICAL CONFERENCE FOR SEVERAL HOURS

NO DECISION WAS REACHED

Committee on Ways and Means Has the Matter in Charge to Await Developments as to the Resources of the Church—Extension of Pastoral Time Limit to Six Years Refused.

A spirited debate upon the subject of the organization of an extension work committee was held at the morning and afternoon sessions of the Evangelical conference at Emmanuel church, Van Slyke court and Pine street, yesterday. The subject was brought up by a voluminous resolution, presenting a carefully detailed plan, by which the support of the movement would be carried out by the reading of the resolutions. The reading of the resolutions which continued intermittently during the morning and through the entire afternoon. The committee on ways and means took charge of the resolutions, but did not return them to the conference yesterday. Since the last general conference there has been a well defined feeling among the members of that body that the methods of church extension work at present in effect have not been adequate to the needs. The resolutions presented yesterday were the result of this growing conviction, and were presented in the hope of making this department of conference work more effective, and enabling it to place itself on an equality with the work of other denominations.

MORE STORIES OF BRUTALITY IN THE STATE PRISON AT STILLWATER

Reported That Thirteen Convicts Were Put "in the Hole" for Assaulting a Single Guard, Who Yet Lived.

The board of managers of the state prison at Stillwater will meet at the prison this morning. There has been some talk of an investigation into the recent chaining up of some convicts for days on a diet of bread and water. The Globe is informed that thirteen convicts were chained up in connection with the assault on Guard Conroy, although only two or three of them had actively participated in the assault, the grievance against the others seemingly being that they said they did not know anything about it.

BISHOP POTTER SAYS THE NEW YORK DIVINE WAS DEPOSED SUNDAY

Further Than This He Declines to Discuss the Resignation of the Rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist.

A telegram from New York states that Rev. Dr. Benjamin F. Da Costa, formerly rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, has resigned from the priesthood of his church. His action, it is claimed, is the outcome of the controversy over the admission of Dr. Charles A. Briggs to the priesthood, in which controversy Dr. Da Costa was one of the leaders of the minority.

FIRE DEPARTMENT NEEDS

Board Estimates That an Aggregating $207,300.

The board of fire commissioners devoted most of the time at last night's meeting to a discussion of probable expenditures for next year, in an effort to prepare an estimate to go into the tax budget. Owing to a number of extensions of the board, there are more funds for the maintenance of the department next year than it did for the year drawing to a close. There is a probability of a new engine house being built on the West side, while quite a sum will have to be spent in repairing the old houses. There is also need of extensive repairs in the fire alarm system, and the service of an additional electrician is necessary. After much discussion the board decided that the following itemized estimate would about meet the needs:

Nothing is better, Impossible to Manufacture a Better Remedy.

St. Paul People Make Good Writings of the Success It Has Achieved.

Nothing is better becoming than the correct shape in hats—the Gordon.

PATHER MATHEW'S BIRTHDAY

IT WAS OBSERVED YESTERDAY BY THE CATHOLICAL AB-STINENCE SOCIETY

Judge William F. Keane, of Minneapolis, was the guest of honor at the anniversary of the birth of Pater Mathew, the Irish apostle of temperance, which was fittingly celebrated by the Catholics last evening at Central hall.

Every seat was taken and, although some of the speakers were pessimistic in speaking of the progress of temperance, the enthusiasm of the audience indicated that the cause of temperance here in St. Paul is not dead. L. McKernan presided at the meeting. Seated on the stage with him were Judge W. L. Kelly, Rev. Father Keane, of Minneapolis, and Rev. Father Lawler.

Miss Hope's orchestra played an operetta after which Father Lawler addressed a few words of welcome to those present and delivered a brief eulogy of Father Mathew. Miss McQuillan played "The Polish Dance" and Miss Elizabeth Barnes recited in a very spirited manner a temperance selection. Mr. McKernan then introduced Judge Kelly, who delivered a vigorous address on "Father Mathew's 'Longfellow's Psalm of Life' has taught us," said the speaker, "that there is always a reward for well doing. For the men whose efforts have been strong for the right there is no such thing as death. It has been said by some one that that man, who by his industry causes the smallest of acres to grow where none grew before, is a benefactor to his race. How much more is that man entitled to the crown of immortality who has his man, his intellect and his best work of the Creator, from the depth of misery."

The speaker gave a brief sketch of the life of Father Mathew from his birth, Oct. 10, 1790, in the county of Tipperary, in the west of Ireland, to his death, Oct. 10, 1851, in the county of Tipperary, in the west of Ireland. He was the son of a poor farmer and was educated in the Order of Franciscan Fathers, the beginning of his temperance work and his ceaseless fight in the face of all superhuman difficulties, until the wonderful life was cut out.

"We may well do honor to one of God's noblest men," concluded the speaker, "but honor alone is not sufficient. We must learn to walk in the footsteps of the great apostle of temperance." A short musical programme consisting of songs by Mrs. Harris, Miss Millie Potter, and John P. Cahill, followed. The singers were excellent voice and each was obliged to respond to an encore.

Rev. Fr. Keane, of Minneapolis, took for the subject of his address the life of Father Mathew but the great moral monument in Ireland that is so indissolubly connected with his name, "Happy Home," which he built on the ruins of the ideal is not the war hero but the man of noble deeds. The career of Father Mathew is less interesting as a biography than as an example to the nations. The story of the temperance movement in Ireland is wonderful. Inspired by one man. Men of all faiths, young and old, protested that it was impossible. Ireland was in that day a drinking nation. Men had been in the habit of signing pledges and then breaking their entrance to get around those pledges. Father Mathew's courts, however, made them firm and the moral uplifting of the Irish begun. But in spite of all that has been done, and is being done in the cause of temperance, Father Keane affirmed emphatically that temperance was in the increase. American women, he said, are not only acquiring the habit, but are becoming the strongest and was fast becoming prevalent among the middle and lower classes.

THE REPUBLICANS ARE WORRIED. Want to Know How to Offset the Popularity of Gov. Lind.

The Republican state central committee met last evening at the headquarters in the Exchange Arcade. The meeting was a representative one, and matters of importance were talked of relating to the coming campaign. Among those present were Congressman Stevens and Morris State Treasurer Koerner, A. N. Dare, A. F. Ferris, W. W. Slivright, William E. Lee, O. H. Myron, C. A. Rasmussen, August Pitzer, N. O. Warner, C. H. Fiers, W. A. Funk, P. P. Quist, Ole O. Holman and M. M. Williams.

Chief of the troubles that beset the committee was how best to offset the Republican losses, which were reported from various localities by the members present, as a result of the popularity gained by Gov. Lind's administration, notably in connection with the taxing of the state board of equalization.

The matter of basis of representation for the next state convention was also considered, and it was the consensus of opinion, though no formal vote was taken, that the representation should be based on the vote for Eustis in 1898, and that the committees which cut the head of the ticket should be punished for their disloyalty, or rather that the solid districts should be rewarded for their fealty.
