The festival of the Reformation, that great event which broke the darkness of the middle ages and brought life and liberty to light through the gospel will be celebrated by many of the Evangelical Lutheran churches of the country, it being the nearest Sunday to the 31st of October, the anniversary of a great event.

A series of biographical and historical sermons to be given at the Plymouth Congregational church, Rev. George E. Soper, will begin tonight with the subject, "Christ the Faithful One." The new English Lutheran church on West Sixth street, has fair to be a great improvement to that part of the city. The pastor, after a hard struggle, has secured enough to guarantee the erection of new front and the main room, but the sum of $4,000 is still needed to erect the Sunday school room and guild hall in the rear of the lot.

A specially interesting service will be held at the First Methodist church this evening, Dr. C. E. Riggs and Dr. H. H. Bessell will deliver a sermon on the general subject of the "Submerged Tenth." The public will recognize Dr. Riggs' qualifications for speaking of the causes of criminality, on account of the special lines of study and practice in relation to nervous disorders and abnormalities of every sort. Dr. Bessell has had official relations with the police and has especially investigated certain phases of criminality in St. Paul. Service will begin at 8 o'clock.

"Christ the Faithful One" is the subject of an address by Rev. Frank B. Cowgill, at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, 25 West Fifth street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

IN LABOR'S INTEREST.

Miss Keyser Speaks at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Miss H. A. Keyser, the organizing secretary of the Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor, will speak at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Twelfth and Cedar streets. Miss Keyser is making a tour of the larger cities in the interest of the cause she represents, and in each city where she speaks her idea is to organize a local branch of the society.

The society, as its name indicates, is in the interest of labor. It is an Episcopal organization and covering the entire country. Bishop Huntington, of Central New York, is the president, and most of the bishops are members.

Among its members and active workers are a number of representatives of organized labor. Its membership is divided about equally between men and women.

The leading lines of its activity are arbitration and mediation and sweat shops. It tries to bring together the employer and the employee in a friendly way, working with state boards of arbitration when they exist. It is so conducted that it aims to secure the confidence of the employer and the employee, so that both sides may receive its suggestions more readily. As to sweat shops, it works to secure good laws, and by careful inspection to have them enforced. It was the chairman of the cause when the law that made the charge that Kaid uniforms worn by the soldiers during the Spanish war were made in sweat shops, and he advised that when the law was made, the organization was formed in 1887, and its principles are:

It is the essence of the teachings of Jesus Christ that God is the father of all men and that the love of God is the sole possessor of the earth and its fullness; man is but the steward of God's gifts.

Labor being the exercise of body, mind, and spirit in the broadening and elevating of human life, it is the duty of every man to labor diligently.

Labor as thus defined, should be the standard of social worth.

When the divinely-intended opportunity to labor is given to man, and he is prevented from doing so, the cause of the present widespread suffering and destitution will be removed.

Miss Keyser speaks this evening in St. Paul's church, Minneapolis.
