THE FINAL SESSION OF THE ANNUAL CONVENTION HELD AT MINNEAPOLIS

found beside the road, near Coon Creek, in Anoka county, the body of a man of middle age, of light complexion, with a light mustache. The clothes were of a dark texture and he was presumably a farmer. He did not make any further investigation, as he was too much agitated by the unexpected find, so that he is unable to give any light upon the important question of how the body happened to be there. He quickly resumed his seat upon his wagon and hurried as fast as his team could carry him to Minneapolis. The matter has been reported to the Anoka authorities.

WANTED HIS MONEY.

Bold Attempt Made to Hold Up a Minneapolis Faro Game.

George Stark, of Wahpeton, N. D., last night made a daring attempt to recover some of the money lost in a faro game at 323 First avenue south, Minneapolis, at the point of a revolver. Stark arrived in town a week ago from North Dakota, where he had been working as a farm hand, and immediately began to buck the faro game, with rather poor success. Last night he visited the First avenue place, and after playing for a time with varying luck, drew a gun, stood off the dealer and rifled the cash drawer. As soon as he had all the money in the drawer Stark started for the door, flourishing his gun as he went. John Goodrich, the doorman, saw him coming and locked the door, so that Stark would be obliged to go down the front stairs. As soon as he passed the door Stark turned for an instant and leveled his revolver at the crowd and then started to run up to Fourth street, turning on First avenue, and darting up the alley back of the Onedia block. Goodrich, Louis Wiley and Officer Gingsras, who happened to be there, started in pursuit up the alley, just in time to see Stark disappear. As the pursuers turned the corner of the Guaranty Loan building they saw Stark walking down Third street as coolly and calmly as if nothing had occurred. When Officer Gingsras placed him under arrest he submitted without any trouble, and in less than five minutes after the hold-up had occurred Stark was in the lock-up.

When searched the revolver and $235 was found on his person. Stark is about thirty years of age, and was dressed with more care than the average farm hand. When seen in his cell he said that he was just sobering up, and hardly realized what he had done, but that it was all right anyway, as he had been losing his summer's earnings there for the last seven years, and he thought that he would take a "long shot for his money," as he considered it needed it worse than those who had it.

QUEER COMPLICATION.

No One Knows How to Get Lindquist into the Workhouse.

The case of John Lindquist, who is under sentence to the Minneapolis workhouse for running a blind pig at Canada place, is causing the police court officials all kinds of trouble. Lindquist was sentenced and remained one day in the workhouse, when a stay was secured from the supreme court. The supreme court sustained the decision of the police court, and the difficult question is, how to get him in again. If the remittitur comes to the police court instead of the workhouse complications will increase.

Boy Accidentally Shot.

Edward Day Smith, the eight-year-old son of John Day Smith, of Minneapolis, was accidentally shot by Frank P. Nichol, across the street from the Nichol residence on Pillsbury avenue. The Nichol boy was standing near by. Student Smith was discharged and a twenty-two-caliber rifle was taken through Edward's arm, above the elbow. The wound is not serious.

The funeral service will be private, and occurs tomorrow at the family residence, 12 Florence court. Mrs. McCord will accompany the remains to Baltimore tomorrow.

The deceased was a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and was known as one of the most successful men in his line.

Dentists Will Resist.

MR. GILBERT GETS IT

THE AWARD TO THE ST. PAUL ARCHITECT IS INDORSED AT WASHINGTON

DEFEAT FOR BOSS PLATT

The Efforts of the Republican Leader to Secure a Reconsideration of Plans for the Custom House at New York Without Avail—Final Action Taken by Secretary Gage After Consultation With McKinley

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Cass Gilbert, of St. Paul, has been confirmed as architect for the new custom house at New York. As Secretary Gage was leaving the White house after the cabinet meeting, he was asked if the matter had been considered at the meeting and he replied in the affirmative.

"What was done?" was asked next.

"The award of commission was confirmed," was the reply. This settles the controversy and means for Gilbert the neat sum of $25,000.

Mr. Gilbert said, when he had been informed of his selection:

"I entered into the contest in good faith and presented the committee selected by the secretary of the treasury with the best design for a custom house that I was capable of making. Had I been aware at the time that such a fight was going to be made against my selection by Senator Platt I never would have entered the contest. I have been informed that Secretary Gage has seen fit to confirm the action of the committee and I will carry out the work assigned me to the best interests of the government."

Charles I. Berg, secretary of the American Institute of Architects, arrived here from New York this afternoon. Mr. Berg said that a meeting of the institute was held Wednesday night in regard to Gilbert's selection for the new custom house. A communication, he said, was drafted at the meeting and sent to Secretary Gage to confirm the action of the action of the jury appointed by him. The resolutions telegraphed to him were to the effect that it would be for the best interest of the architectural profession and the public that the award of the jury be confirmed.

"No question was raised in our discussion as to the ability of Mr. Gilbert or his geographical status, whether he was a New Yorker or not. Some of the members thought the jury may have been a little injudicious in their method of arriving at a decision, and there seemed to some feeling that the jury's manner of arriving at a decision between Cass Gilbert and Carrere & Hastings was a little injudicious, but in voting to uphold the jury in giving the award to Mr. Gilbert the members were practically unanimous."

Senator Platt, on behalf of a New York firm of architects, has exerted his utmost influence to have the award made to Gilbert to have a new board of awards appointed and the award changed. He even went so far as to take the matter up with the president, but the president declined to interfere in the matter and it went back to Secretary Gage, of the treasury, who has also declined to change the award or to select a new board, insisting that it would not be good policy.

HEAVY PINE DEAL.

Options on a Purchase Involving Nearly a Million Dollars.

CHIPPEVA FALLS, Wis., Nov. 2.—Hon. J. S. Stearns, secretary of state of Michigan and the probable Republican candidate for governor of that state in 1900, spent Wednesday in this city, the chief of Frederick Weyerhaeuser, who here he left procured from him an option on all the pine lands of Mr. Weyerhaeuser in Onedia and Vilas counties. The deal will amount to $800,000, and is the largest transaction made to one party this season.

Mr. Stearns is one of the largest lumber manufacturers in Michigan, as well as one of the very rich men in the state. In Wisconsin Mr. Stearns has two large saw mills, one on the Onedia reservation, near Ashland. When the deal with Mr. Weyerhaeuser goes through he will build a large mill at Rhineland, near Superior, and will remain in the state until he has completed arrangements for an estimate of the timber upon which he has procured the option. When the deal is made he will put in a number of camps this winter.

FACULTY WILL ACT.

Punishment for Students Implicated in the Madison Affair.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—At the students' convention, held in library hall this noon, President Adams spoke on the recent escape of several hundred students indulging in a night riot parade, and breaking into the laundry at the ladies' hall and stealing over 200 garments belonging to the young ladies.

He said three things ought to be done in the matter: First, the students should, by public declaration, express their opinion in the matter; second, all the garments stolen should be sent to a laundry and returned to the ladies' hall; third, the faculty must show by proper disciplinary measures its abhorrence of this ignominious affair.

He further said: "The public may rest assured that the faculty will act with vigor as soon as it can have the facts at its command."

Declines to Settle a Port and Establish a Sphere of Influence—Will Be Satisfied With a Written Promise of Fair Treatment, Otherwise Will Compel China to Observe Strict Letter of Treaty.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A special dispatch from Washington asserts that the American state department recently asked France, Germany and Russia to give written assurances regarding the preservation of the "open door" in China, being dissatisfied with mere oral assurances, and rejecting a proposal that the United States should make some port and establish a sphere of influence in China.

"If these assurances are declined," says the dispatch, "the United States will insist upon China observing the strict letter of the treaty, giving the United States equal rights with other powers in China."

The Daily Chronicle, commenting editorially upon "this new departure in American policy, which will be fully approved in England," dilates upon its immense importance, and suggests that it "may affect the international politics of Europe in a very remarkable degree."

GEN. POPE'S STATEMENT.

He Has Been Showing the Mankato Council the Facts.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Times, in an editorial on the report of the Philippine commission, says:

"In proportion as America assumes proprietorship beyond the original limits of her territory it will become increasingly necessary that there should be complete unity in the attitude of the nation towards its acquisitions; and this necessity will manifestly tend toward an increase of the national or republican spirit in other directions. Nothing is more likely to put a stop to the desultory guerrilla fighting than a positive declaration on the part of the United States of their intention to carry the task they have commenced to a definite and satisfactory conclusion."

Comparing America's position in the Philippines with that of Great Britain in South Africa, the Times says:

"Every year must increase America's points of contact with other nations, and her share in the control of the destinies of the world. In the fulfillment of her appointed mission she can rely in the fullest measure upon British sympathy."
