

EXERCISE.

Mark Twain is said to have noted the value of the exercise found in the use of the Buck Saw and by telling his man of all work from this part of his employments to have saved himself out of thirteen distinct ailments. Now, this is no joke in one sense of the word. With wood saws scarce and at $2.00 a day had you better take a little exercise? It's a good exercise.

TEACHERS WILL WAIT

FEDERATION OF GRADE TEACHERS DISCUSS THE SALARY SITUATION AT LENGTH
TWO COMMITTEES ARE NAMED
One to Thank the Board of Education for Its Stand in Their Behalf and the Other to Look Up the Legal Status of the Case—Are They Now Under Contract?—Action Postponed Till Nov. 17.

At a meeting of the Federation of Grade Teachers, held yesterday afternoon in assembly hall at the Central high school, the salary question, raised by the failure of Comptroller McCurdy to audit the pay rolls, was considered, and after some discussion the board of school inspectors was indorsed for its "strength and status."

Two committees were appointed. One is to confer with the board of school inspectors, to extend the cordial sympathy and co-operation of the teachers, and to make an expression of the appreciation of the teachers of the many attitude taken by that body. The other committee was appointed to look up the legal status of the pay roll question, and if Mr. McCurdy continues to refuse to arbitrate the matter, the strong arm of the law will be the last resort. Adjournment was taken until Nov. 17, two days after pay day, and it was decided that the committee does not change his position something is to happen.

Miss Robb, the chairman of the grade teachers' meeting, explained that at the recent meeting of the school board a member of the federation had been on hand. After the meeting President Zimmerman represented to the board that the federation that the board was with the teachers, that it was planning for their best interests, and would continue to do so. The board would stand by the teachers in the matter, as President Zimmerman and she gave it as her opinion that the board of school inspectors was worthy of the utmost confidence, and that all matters should be left in their hands until further developments.

"Has Comptroller McCurdy said officially that he would not audit the pay roll?" inquired the speaker.
"No one seemed to have a clear understanding on this point, except that the roll had been returned to the school board. Some one moved that the board be asked to bring a case to the courts. Objection was made to this."
"That would be interfering," somebody suggested. Then a proposal to have the federation commence legal proceedings was made, and finally defeated. It was argued that the high school teachers and principals were just as much interested as the grade teachers, and there was no reason why the federation should stand the expense of a suit.

Some one here raised the point of the validity of the contracts, making the statement that the city had not contracted with the city could be given by any decision that might be given by the courts. The chairman here took the position that the publication of the names of the teachers in the contract was a violation of the municipal corporation, and it was like one part of a corporation suing another part. This was not thought to be legal by the speaker.
"We are all at sea until we know what the comptroller is going to do," asserted another teacher in the back of the room. "I think a committee ought to be appointed to find out who are the parties to commence legal action against the city." On this point there was argument pro and con, resulting in the appointment of a committee consisting of Miss Virtue, Miss Kennedy and Mrs. Flagg, to inquire into the legal phase of the question.

The best flour in the world—that which contains the greatest percentage of gluten and phosphorus—is made from the wheat grown in the Red River Valley of North Dakota. It is the best flour in the world, and is used by the world-renowned Gold Medal Flour Co. in making all its flour. The output of this brand is over 6,000,000 barrels a year.

PROBLEM OF GARBAGE

DISCUSSED AT DIFFERENT MEETINGS AND FROM DIFFERENT STANDPOINTS
ADVANTAGES OF A CREMATORY
The Agent of a Destructor Tells How the Work is Done and What a Plant Would Cost—Dr. Ohage's Plan for Abolishing the Contract System and Having the Work Done by His Department.

The special committee appointed under the resolution of the council to consider the question of the removal and disposition of garbage and street cleaning held a session at the mayor's office yesterday afternoon. Present were Mayor Kiefer, City Engineer Clausen, Health Commissioner Ohage, City Comptroller McCurdy and Ald. Knauft, of the committee, and Rev. S. G. Smith, Mrs. Conde Hamlin, John D. Ludden and Gustave Willis.

W. F. Morse, of New York, agent for a garbage destructor, was present by invitation and explained in detail the work of collecting and disposing of garbage refuse and ashes in that city. He advocated the disposal of garbage and refuse in St. Paul by a destructor. A furnace capable of doing this work could, he thought, be erected at a cost of from $10,000 to $15,000. The work could be best done by the city rather than by the contract system. Under the present system the city was paying $15,000 and only the garbage was removed. With a garbage destructor not only the garbage would be destroyed, but also all the refuse ashes, street sweepings and other matter would be taken care of. The cost would possibly be about $20,000 more, but the health of the city would be enhanced.

He called attention to the fact that with a plant costing $25,000, which would burn the garbage and other refuse, the city would have about 300 horse power to sell, or 240 horse power after reserving enough to operate the plant.

Ald. Knauft explained the crematory now in operation in San Francisco, which disposes of about 200 tons of garbage daily and used the garbage instead of fuel to cremate it.

When the city was ready to take up the question of building a crematory Mr. Morse said he would be ready to take a contract for a term of years to care for all the garbage and refuse, or make a proposition to put in a crematory.

HEALTH COMMISSIONER'S SCHEME.
Health Commissioner Ohage has forwarded to the mayor, members of the conference committee and common council a letter in relation to the collection and disposition of garbage for the coming year. Dr. Ohage wants to abolish the contract system of collecting garbage and have the work all done under his department. He proposes to collect the garbage for the work that is done, and next year it is going to cost $20,000. He thinks the change should be made immediately by the city. His plan has already been outlined in the Globe. Part of his communication is as follows:

If the collection of garbage be given in charge of this department I intend to have the barns on the city streets cleaned by the contractors are in different parts of the city and the material used is of a very inferior quality. The garbage is therefore a nuisance and source of complaint in every case where teams, twenty-five men, two additional garbage inspectors and a superintendent to oversee the stables, I am satisfied to oversee the work. It is a matter of much better to have the work done by the city, and to the entire satisfaction of the public.

The men are to receive $1.75 per day during the busy months, and $1.50 per day for November, December, January and February.

An excellent class of horses could be obtained from the fire and police departments, which, while unable to stand the long hours of the day, would be first-rate for hauling purposes.

The amount of garbage will be increased, under close inspection, at least one-third. The present contract system, or by this department, and this ought to be considered in the estimate.

COMMITTED DISCUSSION.
The committee on streets of the assembly took up the garbage question last evening. The committee had before it the resolution introduced in the council which allows the health commissioner to collect the garbage for the collection and disposition of garbage for 1900.

RESIGNED THE ORDER.
Park Board to Begin the Phalen Park Improvement Again.
The board of park commissioners at a meeting last night rescinded the previous order for the condemnation of Phalen park and passed new resolutions in the proceedings. This action was taken for the reason that under the previous order the assessment would have to be completed before Nov. 13, and this was not possible. The abstracts and data prepared by the board of public works for the condemnation of Phalen park in the new proceedings and the park board will meet tomorrow afternoon to take other formal steps as provided for by law.

RUST IN GRAIN.
Prof. Luggar Traces It to the Barberry Bushes.

Prof. Otto Luggar, of the state experimental station, has returned from the western part of the state, where he has been investigating the ravages of black rust.

He found the rust prevalent in patches of about twelve miles in diameter generally, and in every case where investigation was made it was found to come from the barberry bush. Upon the outer edge of the circle affected the wheat rusted, but as the explorations proceeded nearer the center it became worse, until there was practically no grain at all.

Prof. Luggar says that the rust can be prevented for the most part by cutting out these barberry bushes. It is of no real value to the farmer, but will always spread this disease among the grain. He says that on a windy day on the prairie another country of the black rust will blow for hundreds of miles. They come from the South, where the disease is common, and affect these barberry plants, and from them spread to the grain.
