Both Mafeking and Kimberley Reported to Have Been Succored by British Troops.

INDICATES THAT STIRRING TIMES ARE AT HAND.

London Disbelieves the Dispatch, Which Is Published by the Natal News as Coming to It via Delagoa Bay—Gen. Methuen Known to Be in Helio-graphic Communication With Kimberley, Which Indicates That His Forces Pushed Forward After the Battle of Belmont.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A special dispatch from Durban, dated Friday, Nov. 24, says the Times, of Natal, has received news by way of Delagoa Bay that both Mafeking and Kimberley have been relieved.

The Spanish-American war, was wounded in the arm by a dum-dum bullet. The hospital train arrived at Orange River in the middle of the time from Cape Town and was sent to Belmont.

FULL OF PERPLEXITIES. LONDON, Nov. 25.—The position in Natal remains full of perplexities, which the general public has not reached.

GERMANY'S POSITION DEFINED. BERLIN, Nov. 25.—That portion of the press in touch with the foreign office assiduously denies that the South African situation was discussed by Emperor William and British statesmen during his visit to the hospital.

GLOOMY FOREBODINGS. From no other point can even a semblance of success be reported. Mafeking is apparently in worse plight than the Boers have hitherto cared to admit.

ORDERED TO SHOOT OFFICERS. ORANGE RIVER, Cape Colony, Friday, Nov. 24.—In all 107 wounded, including several Boers, have arrived here from Belmont.

THE REPORTED SILENCE OF THE BRITISH GUNS also again rouses fears of a shortness of ammunition.

BOERS POUND IN FORCE. MOOI RIVER, Natal, Friday, Nov. 24.—A reconnaissance in force in the direction of Highland has compelled the Boers to use arms with their father, who is a prisoner.

A CAPE TOWN DISPATCH received at a late hour tonight reports that the enemy has blown up a railway bridge between Rosemead Junction and Middelburg.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—Recruiting for the Boer army, it is alleged, is being conducted in the city.

FARMERS JOIN BOERS. The gravest news from Cape Town today comes from the northern part of the colony, where it is now evident that numbers of Dutch farmers have risen and joined the invading Free State forces.

TEXAS STORM. FEARS ARE FELT FOR MEMBERS OF HUNTING PARTIES. DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 25.—Alarming reports come from the lower Gulf coast of Texas, where a severe storm has been raging.

TREACHERY CHARGED. An incident similar to the one which occurred at Belmont, when an officer was shot by a wounded Boer, is reported by the London Times correspondent at Belmont, who says that Lieut. G. G. Green, a British officer, was shot by a wounded Boer guard.

COL. DAVIS DEAD. He Was Director General of the World's Fair. CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Col. George R. Davis, former director general of the World's fair, died at his home in this city tonight after a short illness.

BANK ROBBED. Safe-Brokers Secure Between $3,000 and $5,000. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—The Troy Exchange bank, at Troy, Ill., eighteen miles from St. Louis, was wrecked by safe-breakers about 2:30 a. m., and everything of value that was in the bank was taken.

TRANSVAAL WAR DWINDLES. The Transvaal war becomes of momentary interest compared with the tremendous possibilities dependent upon the exertions, which are now occupying the diplomats of Europe, and the war itself has now reached a stage where British interest itself somewhat flags.

RESULTS OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE UP TO DATE.

TIGERS' CLAWS SHARP

TORE THROUGH THE LINES OF THE SONS OF ELI FOR TOUCH-DOWN OF SEASON

POE'S GREAT KICK DID IT

Play That Will Ever Bear a Bright Spot in the Annals of Princeton Football—Yale Had the Game Well in Hand, and Was Playing on Defensive When Unexpected Blow Came—Princeton Delighted.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 25.—Just one short minute before the close of one of the greatest football contests ever played between Princeton and Yale, little Arthur Poe, Princeton's right end, a member of the famous Poe family, dropped a beautiful goal from the field, and won the game for the Tigers by the narrow margin of 11 to 10.

With the score 10 to 6 in her favor, Yale played the second half almost entirely on the defensive, her line standing up grandly against the onslaughts of the Tigers. The play was almost entirely in Yale's territory in this half, although Princeton was never able to get beyond her opponent's fifteen-yard line. It was little wonder, therefore, that Poe's kick, which will probably live forever in Princeton's football annals, coming when the entire Tiger crowd had almost given up hope, should have electrified the Princeton cohorts to such a degree that they went fairly crazy with joy.

YALE ON DEFENSIVE

With the score 10 to 6 in her favor, Yale played the second half almost entirely on the defensive, her line standing up grandly against the onslaughts of the Tigers. McBRIDE'S WORK

McBride, Yale's star punter, sent the ball just to the right spots, as the right moments. Wheeler, on the other hand, while kicking as strong as his opponent, was unfortunate enough to have one of his punts blocked, enabling Yale to score. But while the punting was excellent on both sides, the two field goals were the sensations of the game. While the odds were decidedly in favor of punting, the Princeton's forwards and running backs proved much the stronger, especially in the first half. McBride's long punts were carried over the goal line, which gave the blue a number of free returns.

CAPTURE OF BUENCAMINO

Bueno, the brains of the Filipino insurrection, is locked up here, in charge of Brig. Gen. Edward B. Williston, the provost marshal. When Tarlac fell, Buencamino fled northward with Aginaldo's son and an old lady, supposed to be the mother of Aginaldo's confidential servant, Thomas Maxarino, and a guard of 100 soldiers.

Aginaldo Deserted by His Soldiers and Abandoned by the Politicians Who Had Expected Favors at His Hands—Is Himself a Fugitive in the Mountains, Supported by a Few Hundred Men—Former Adherents of the Dictator of the Filipinos Flocking to Manila to Partake of the American Feast.

MANILA, Nov. 25.—The news which the steamship Brutus brings from Daguapan dispels all doubts that the so-called Filipino republic is crumbling like a house of cards. Aginaldo is deserted, or being abandoned by the politicians, and the army which, a fortnight ago, was entrenched at Tarlac and exercised a de facto government over nine-tenths of the people of Luzon, is fugitive in the mountains, with small hope of re-establishing the machinery of government.

There were no demonstrations over the victory. The flags are flying at half-mast out of respect for Vice President Hobart. The natives appear to be unmoved, and insurgents made feeble attacks upon Imus and the Seapote bridge. The large organized force of insurgents known to remain are those in the Cape province. Aginaldo began his retreat with 2,000 men, under Gen. Gregorio del Pilar. That force was probably reduced to its present proportions by desertion. The last definite news as to Aginaldo's whereabouts was that he passed through Trinidad, east of Aringay, toward Bayambang, escorted by 200 men of the Bulacan battalion, who had dwindled from 600 within a week.

Aginaldo's retreat was reported at Manila by Gen. Young to San Jose. The fate of Lieut. Thayer and his companions was not known until today, and fears prevailed here that they had either been killed or captured.

PURSING THE REBELS

Gen. Young, with the Macabebes and Chase's troop of cavalry, is still in the trail of the rebels. The men and horses are badly used up. Gen. Wheaton is trying to get reinforcements and supplies to them from the coast. Gen. Young left Tayug on Nov. 13 to connect with Gen. Wheaton with the Macabebes and three troops of cavalry. Two troops, commanded by Capt. Hunter and Lieut. Thayer, started through to Asingan. From that point Lieut. Thayer, with twelve men, pushed for San Fabian, where the chances of getting through the line to the enemy, who were supposed to be between Asingan and San Fabian. After a daring ride by way of Magalad and San Jacinto, he arrived at San Fabian, dashing through a considerable force of the enemy at Magalad. His undertaking was reported at Manila by courier from Gen. Young to San Jose.

AGUNALDO'S CLOSE CALL

Cronin's battalion marched to Poseorubio, there finding Gen. Young's forces, who had just learned that Aginaldo had passed through Asingan on his way to the rear guard. In the meantime, Gen. Wheaton sent the Fifteenth regiment to Santo Tomas and Rosario, two launches from the Oregon, Lieut. Niblack commanding, accompanying the launch along the shore. A hundred insurgents were found entrenched at Rosario. Buck's battalion and the lanciers drove them from the trenches and routed them. The Thirteenth regiment losing one man killed and three wounded.

ST. PETER SCORCHED

Town Set on Fire for the Third Time by Fire Bugs. ST. PETER, Minn., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—A disastrous fire occurred in this city this evening. The Lambert Lumber Company's yard, which carries a stock valued at $15,000, is totally destroyed. The residence of Mrs. M. M. Stark is totally destroyed also. It was valued at $2,000. The St. Peter furniture factory was saved by the work of the fire department. The fire was started by a fire bug, as the sheds and lumber were saturated with oil. This is the third attempt at setting fires within a month. The hydrant wrenches were missing from the engine house when the alarm was turned in, and it is supposed they were taken by the fire bug to delay getting water on the fire. The entire city was threatened for a time, but at 11 o'clock the flames were under control.

ANGRY MINERS

Refused an Advance, but Will Return to Work. BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 25.—A mass meeting of the striking day laborers at the block coal mines, in this district, was held here today, with many no discussions. A committee was selected and sent to the operators to present demands for an increase of wages which were refused and the committee returned in a very angry mood.

QUEENSLAND MINISTRY RESIGNS

BRISBANE, Nov. 25.—The Queensland ministry has resigned as a result of the vote by the assembly in connection with the construction of railroads. The government has summoned Mr. Dawson, leader of the labor opposition, to form a new cabinet.

After communicating with Gen. Wheaton, Maj. Marcus D. Cronin's battalion surrounded the village Nov. 21. Buencamino's guard had hidden their rifles and uniforms, and Buencamino surrendered without resistance. He had only a few clothes and $2,000 in gold. Gen. Wheaton kept the woman and child and sent Buencamino, from Gen. Otis, to the transport Brutus, in charge of Lieut. Smith, of the Twentieth infantry. He seemed cheerful and rather glad that his troubles had culminated. On the Brutus' arrival at Manila, this morning, Lieut. Smith took Buencamino to the palace. He was only a few minutes in Gen. Otis' office. The prisoner told Gen. Otis that he desired peace, and had a long conference with his influence for peace. Buencamino, he added, was retreating north with 2,000 men and two cannon. Gen. Otis then summoned Provost Marshal Williston, who, previous to driving away with Buencamino, received instructions to lock him up in comfortable quarters and allow no person to see him.

SKIRMISH AT IMUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The following telegram has been received at the War department from Gen. Otis: "Manila, Nov. 24.—Insurgents made feint on Imus last night. They enlisted men wounded, their loss two killed, one captured. Quickly withdrew. Additional 200 of the men were killed or wounded, that he had enough, and was going to the mountains."

OFFICIAL REPORT

Gen. Otis Informs War Department of Important Results

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The adjutant general has received the following cable from Gen. Otis: "Manila, Nov. 25.—Vessel from the Lingayen Gulf, dispatched by Gen. Otis, 23rd inst., brought in Buencamino, insurgent secretary, and a long list of arms and munitions. He was with Aginaldo and party, left Tarlac night 13th to be escorted north by 2,000 men. Killed one officer and several men. Reports of Buencamino's encouraging chief insurgent leader northward today. More sugar mills at work than at any time since revolution broke out. Government in operation well suited to conditions and working smoothly."
