

VOLUNTEER'S STORY.

Private Roy Keator's Experience with the Army Commissariat.

Member of B Co., First Illinois Volunteers—Disabled by Bad Water and Exposure—Was Seized in the Clutches of Bright's Disease—Dodd's Kidney Pills Released Him.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—A victim of circumstances was Roy Keator, of B Co., First Illinois Volunteers, Shafter's Army of Invasion. He served three months in the Cuban war. The water in Cuba is a circumstance that few north-bred Americans can withstand. Roy Keator fell a victim to it, and it nearly cost him his life. That he is alive today, he owes to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Keator was thrown into a fever which developed into Bright's Disease. Bright's Disease is the most severe form of Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills are said to be the only medicine that will cure it and the proprietors assert that it has never failed in a single case where it has been tried. When Keator came home he commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and in a few days he felt better. He says about his case:

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29, 1899.

The Dodd's Kidney Pills, Buffalo, N. Y. Gentlemen:—After serving three months in the Cuban War, lying in trenches full of mud and water day after day, and drinking water full of disease and eating when I got the chance I was finally thrown into a fever and this located in my kidneys, developing into Bright's Disease. I was in a serious condition for some time after my return. Dodd's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by one of our company who had suffered the same trouble I had, and he had been cured; therefore I took Dodd's Kidney Pills and in a few days I am well again. I credit Dodd's Kidney Pills for restoring my health, and recommend them to any one suffering from Kidney troubles. I am very gratefully, ROY KEATOR.

SONGS OF THE NATION

MR. LOUIS C. ELSON'S FINAL LECTURE DELIVERED TO GOOD AUDIENCE

NATIONAL AIRS OF AMERICA

The Lecture Gave Some Interesting History About the Military Side of This Music—American Rough Riders Had Even Sung "A Hot Time" into National Significance—"The Star-Spangled Banner."

The third lecture of Mr. Louis C. Elson on "Music" was given last evening at the People's church to the largest audience he has yet addressed. His theme was national songs.

There was national music, he said, descriptive of home scenes and times of peace. But for the present he would confine his remarks to music treating of war, of the military side of national songs. All wars of recent years had given birth to much music, which, in a sense, might be termed national in character. From the struggle of the recent Spanish-American struggle had come one, "A Hot Time in the Old Town." American rough riders had sung this catchy air into national significance.

In the Crimean war "Annie Laurie," a song of peace, had been taken up by the Scotch highlanders, and sung as a song of triumph, and then it had found its way into the English and Irish regiments until the whole allied forces were singing Annie Laurie to encourage a battle charge or relieve the tedium of a weary march. In various armies it had been found necessary to prohibit the singing by his soldiers of a certain melancholy Swiss air. It had seemed to be the rule to surround the bloodiest scenes of history with the lightest, liveliest music. This had been noted during the war in France in response to this call. As they marched northward they sang this song and it became known as the song of the Marseillais. Its ringing notes had inspired all through the reign of terror and men had gone to the guillotine singing it. Marie Antoinette had heard it on her dismal journey to death.

It appears that the French at that time actually believed that the queen was to blame for conditions in France than was the king. Consequently they named her Mme. Veto. They claimed that when she was being taken to the guillotine she sang this song and she was the good of the people the queen had vetoed it.

Mr. Elson then devoted the rest of his address to the music more distinctive of his country. In the time of the colonists this country was musically a desert. There was a wide distinction between pilgrims and puritans. Puritans held to the church of England, and the pilgrims were outsiders. The only music tolerated by the latter were psalms in rhyme, and sung to five tunes, of which Old Hundred was one and Yorktown another. In an address given in this country, Mr. Elson had been known where the pilgrims had added a syllable to words, as in rhyming "bretheren" and "children."

RAMSEY COUNTY GRAND JURY SENDS FOR THE MAYOR TO TESTIFY

MORAL CONDITION OF CITY

Its Condition is Such as to Suggest to the Grand Jury the Necessity for Looking into the Policy Now Pursued in the Regulation of the Social Evil in St. Paul—Troubles of a Minneapolis Man.

The grand jury reconvened yesterday and spent the day in examining witnesses in regard to the system of licensing vice that was instituted by the present administration. In response to the subpoena of the grand jury, the municipal court, submitted a report showing the number of unfortunate women who are paying the $15-a-quarter fines into the city treasury and the location of their rooms. Among the witnesses examined were Chief Goss, Chief Schweitzer, Lieut. Boerner, Detective Christian, who "trounded up" the women, and "Deacon" W. L. Wilson. A subpoena was served on Mayor Kiefer, and he was also requested to bring up the record kept in his office showing the pedigrees of the licensed prostitutes.

The troubles of George Slocum, of Minneapolis, proprietor of the knitting works at University avenue and Avon street, that were burned the night of the riots, Cooper & Co. fire, who claims to have lost $250 in the course of a night's enjoyment at the Palm Garden theater, in this city, are under grand jury inquiry. Witnesses in the case were examined yesterday, but the grand jury has not made any report.

The annual reports of Clerk of Courts Rogers and Gates A. Johnson Jr., of the county surveyor, were received and filed, and a committee from James E. Jackson, secretary of the board of corrections and charities, offering his services in considering any plans for the erection of a new jail was referred to the committee on public buildings.

The committee on records and reports reported having examined and found correct the report of County Treasurer Arosin for October, November and December.

A resolution by Commissioner Lott was passed, permitting Brown, Treacy & Co. to change their bid on county stationery for the probate court to read $51.25, instead of $21.25, because of a clerical error.

WILL MAKE ALLOWANCES. High School Board Grants Concessions to the Normal Schools.

The state high school board yesterday made some concessions to the state normal school board in the nature of a compromise on the requirements to be exacted of applicants for positions as teachers in the public schools.

The normal board has held that as long as the normal school system was maintained it should be recognized as a part of the state school system to the extent that its advanced course diplomas should be sufficient to authorize the employment of an applicant in the high schools of the state. The high school board has insisted hitherto that they should have a college education, and has also refused to accept the diploma of the course in pedagogy given at the university.

After a full discussion of the subject yesterday, however, the high school board assured the normal board representatives that in the future the standard required would be a first grade professional teaching certificate of the state, and for places in the graded schools a second-class state certificate, but in passing examinations for these normal graduates would be given credit for their work in branches in which they had successfully passed in the normal.

The board had something of a sensation in the afternoon referring to the resignation of Alton Hankin, for investigation charges against a principal who is accused of permitting his pupils to see examination questions, or preparing them for the examination before the examination.

TO BRING CONVENTIONS. Commercial Club is Making a Hustle for the City.

The new committee on conventions of the Commercial club, consisting of John Caulfield, chairman; D. F. Reese, M. E. Clay, J. C. Robinson, private secretary to the chief clerk of the treasury department, arrived in the city yesterday and will spend the next two weeks in figuring out how much furniture will be required for the new federal building. Upon Mr. Sawyer's estimates and recommendations will be based the call for bids, which will be issued as soon as the inspector completes his work.

"We expect to have everything ready by May 1," said Mr. Sawyer yesterday. "The furniture will be according to the standard that is followed by the government. All desks and chairs purchased by the government are alike as regards pattern and construction and all bids will be based on the standard plan."

"Of course, as regards the office fittings, the railings, etc., there will be a difference, but in the desks and chairs the patterns will be alike, and the only difference is in the finish. In the mahogany finished rooms the furniture will be in mahogany. I expect to complete my work and have my recommendations ready for the department in about two weeks."

MAYOR KIEFER SAYS THE OLD JAIL IS NOT MORE THAN HALF THROUGH

COUNTY BOARD RESTS EASY

Report of Building Inspector Haas is Indefinitely Postponed—Special Meeting to be Held Saturday to Consider Subject of the Tax Clearance Sale to be Held in the Spring.

At the meeting of the board of county commissioners yesterday morning there was an informal discussion of the clearance tax sale passed by the last legislature, and it was decided to hold a special meeting of the board next Saturday morning to consider the subject. A number of the commissioners were of the opinion that the law is faulty, and that sales made under it will be invalid.

In a discussion on the question of the advisability of erecting a new jail, in view of the building inspector's report that the present structure is liable to fall, Mayor Kiefer put himself on record very decidedly.

"The old jail has stood for forty years, and it will stand for forty years more," he said.

It was decided to postpone the matter indefinitely.

The annual reports of Clerk of Courts Rogers and Gates A. Johnson Jr., of the county surveyor, were received and filed, and a committee from James E. Jackson, secretary of the board of corrections and charities, offering his services in considering any plans for the erection of a new jail was referred to the committee on public buildings.
